SURPASSING LAST YEAR'S WIN TOTAL

Over the first ten games of the 2021 season, the Utes have surpassed the win total from the spring season. Utah has won five matches this season, one more than last year. During the spring, Utah went 3-6-2 in Pac-12 play. How many wins can this year's team pick up in conference play?

OVERTIME MATCHES

Utah is 27-12-45 in overtime games in program history. Utah has one draw this season when they tied then-No. 22 BYU 0-0 at Ute Field. Utah enters the matchup with the Cardinal tying the last two Pac-12 openers and have tied five since joining the Pac-12.

UTES AT UTE FIELD

Utah has played five home games this season, and they hold a record of 3-1-1 at home. The Utes are 2-0-1 over their past three matches and over that span, Utah has outscored its opponents, 6-0. During this span, the Utes tied No. 22 Brigham Young.

UTES RECORDING SHUTOUTS

Utah has tallied four shutouts this season, with both being back-to-back. Utah's first shutout came on August 29 when they shut out the Bears of Northern Colorado, 3-0. In the next game, they shut out Illinois State in Normal, Illinois. The Utes followed with a shutout of then-No. 22 BYU before shutting out Dixie State, 3-0. Three of the four shutouts for the Utes have come at Ute Field. Last season, Utah tallied three shutouts.

LAST SEVEN MATCHES

Over the Utes' last seven matches, Utah holds a record of 4-2-1. During this stretch, Utah has tallied four shutouts and outscored its opponents 10-6. The four wins are over Northern Colorado, Illinois State, Dixie State, and Utah State. The Utes tied then-No. 22 BYU 0-0 during this stretch.

UTES IN THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

Utah is looking for its ninth NCAA Appearance this season. The last time the Utes made the NCAA Tournament was during the 2019 season when they received an at-large selection. Utah made five-straight appearances from 2002 to 2006. The best NCAA finish was during the 2016 season when the Utes advanced to the Sweet 16.

NEW ERA FOR THE UTES

On May 27th, Utah Director of Athletics Mark Harlan named Hideki Nakada as the head coach of the women's soccer program. He became the third coach in Utah women's soccer history. Coach Nakada is no stranger to the Pac-12 as he spent the last seven years at Stanford as an assistant coach and the final three as an associate head coach.

In his seven years on The Farm, Nakada helped guide the Cardinal to two National Championships (2017, 2019) and five-consecutive Pac-12 Championships (2015-19). During his seven seasons, Stanford compiled a remarkable 132-15-10 overall record with a dominating 66-6-4 mark in the Conference of Champions with four College Cup appearances.

PAC-12 PRESEASON COACHES' POLL

On Aug. 11th the Pac-12 announced the 2021 Women's Soccer Preseason Coaches' Poll. Defending conference champion UCLA was picked as the preseason favorite to win the women's soccer title. Under first year head coach Hideki Nakada, the Utes were picked to finish 11th, one point shy of Arizona, who was picked 10th.

HEAD COACH

1ST SEASON

SAN FRANCISCO '05

5-4-1 (.550)

Hideki Nakada was named the third head coach in Utah women's soccer history on May 27, 2021, and will take the helm of his own program for the first time after spending the last seven seasons at powerhouse Stanford. He also spent the last three seasons as the associate head coach after being elevated on Feb. 23, 2018.

In his seven years on The Farm, Nakada helped guide the Cardinal to two National Championships (2017, 2019) and five-consecutive Pac-12 Championships (2015-19). During his seven seasons, Stanford compiled a remarkable 132-15-10 overall record with a dominating 66-6-4 mark in the Conference of Champions with four College Cup appearances.

The Cardinal won their third national title in 2019 thanks to their goalkeeper Katie Meyer, who saved two penalty kicks in the title-deciding shootout against No. 2 North Carolina. Stanford also set a school record that year with 102 goals while finishing with a 24-1-0 record.

During Stanford's second national title run, goalie Alison Jahansouz allowed just seven goals under the direction of Nakada. The 2017 squad also outscored opponents 91-8 while the Cardinal trailed a total of 8:59 minutes that season. Jahansouz's seven goals allowed in 2017 ranked fifth in program history while the Cardinal's .360 goals against average ranked fifth in the country that year. In 2018, she allowed just eight goals, which ranks eighth all-time, while the team's GAA (.490) in 2018 ranked seventh in the NCAA.

While on staff, Nakada helped Stanford earn NSCAA Pacific Region Staff of the Year in 2016 and was named the 2015 NSCAA Pacific Region Assistant Coach of the Year after helping the Cardinal to a 19-2-2 overall record.

Prior to his time on The Farm, Nakada spent the 2013 season at Oregon as an assistant – serving as the team's defensive coach and recruiting coordinator.

Nakada started his collegiate career at Idaho State (2006-08), where he spent three seasons, and led the Bengals to the 2006 Big Sky regular-season and tournament championships and NCAA Tournament appearance. Prior to his stint at Idaho State, Nakada served as an assistant coach for the George Washington High School soccer team in San Francisco.

He then went on to Marquette for four seasons (2009-12) and helped guide the Golden Eagles to the NCAA Tournament each year he was there. He also mentored Natalie Kulla to BIG EAST Goalkeeper of the Year and first-team all-league honors back-to-back years (2010-11). She finished her career as the program's all-time shutouts leader (43) and ranked first in career goals against average (.740). In his final year, the Golden Eagles tallied 19 wins – including a school-record 17 shutouts – to claim its fourth-consecutive BIG EAST American Division Championship and first-ever BIG EAST Tournament Championship.

His experience extends outside of the college coaching ranks as well. Nakada has been a member of the Region II ODP coaching staff since 2010. Beginning in 2012, Nakada was named to the US Club Soccer id2 National Camp coaching staff. He also joined the goalkeeping coaching staff at Elite Clubs National League (ECNL) Player Development Program in 2012.

Nakada played soccer at the University of San Francisco for two seasons (2001-02) and earned his bachelor's degree in sociology in 2005.
