With just three matches remaining in the regular season, Utah is looking to return to the Big 12 Conference Tournament for the second year in a row. The Utes have a tall task ahead of them, needing strong results against Arizona State and Kansas at home to get into the postseason picture.

Back-to-Back Clean Sheets

Utah recorded consecutive road shutout victories in conference play for the first time since 2015 when it blanked Houston and Arizona in back-to-back outings. The Utes won each contest 1-0 and held the two squads to a combined five shots on goal. Utah's back line held Arizona to just six total shots and did not allow a single shot on goal.

Bella Woods scored both of Utah's goals during the two-game stretch, the third and fourth game-winners of her collegiate career. Woods is the lone Ute to score multiple goals in conference play so far this season.

Show Up, Shut Out

Utah has been led by its defense so far in the 2025 season, holding 11 of 15 opponents to a goal or less. The Utes have posted six shutouts this year, the same total as in 2024. Since joining the Big 12 Conference prior to last season, Utah has recorded nine clean sheets in 17 league matches and has done so in three of six Big 12 matches this season. All six of Utah's shutouts last season came during conference play.

Woods Finding Form

Sophomore Bella Woods came up clutch for Utah in the wins over Houston and Arizona, scoring both of the Utes' goals as the Utes recorded back-to-back shutouts. A 2024 Big 12 All-Conference Freshman Team selection, Woods now has four game-winning goals in her career.

Big Moment Bullock

Kelly Bullock has proven she shines when the lights are brightest. Bullock has scored three times so far this season, with two of her goals being game-winners. Bullock knocked home the winning goal in the Utes' season opener at Gonzaga in the 81st minute, and the senior replicated that Pacific Northwest magic with an 84th-minute score to break a 0-0 tie at Washington. Bullock has tallied nine goals at Utah, six of which have been game-winners.

#ProUtes

A pair of former Utes are lacing up their cleats at the professional level, as both Katie O'Kane (2022-25) and Courtney Brown (2019-23) are rostered in the National Women's Soccer League.

Brown, a five-year starter for the Utes, played in 94 games and net 14 goals at Utah before being taken 49th overall by the Washington Spirit in the 2024 NWSL Draft. She helped the Spirit lift the 2025 Challenge Cup during her rookie season.

O'Kane wrapped her collegiate career last fall after starting all 54 matches in her three seasons in Utah, netting 16 goals and six assists. She became the first Ute to enter the professional ranks after the NWSL eliminated its draft when she signed with Racing Louisville FC in February and signed an extension to keep her in the 'Ville through 2027. O'Kane was recently called up to the U.S. U-23 Women's National Team.

National Test

The NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Committee announced its top 16 ranking on last week, and both of Utah's opponents from the past week were included in the rankings. Baylor was given the No. 4 seed, one spot ahead of TCU, while Colorado came in at No. 10.

2. Virginia (10-0-2)	10. Colorado (10-2-2)
3. Tennessee (11-1-2)	11. Michigan State (7-2-5)
4. Baylor (10-1-2)	12. Iowa (9-2-3)

7. Georgetown (10-2-2)	15. South Carolina (10-1-4)
8. Duke (7-3-1)	16. Wisconsin (10-3-1)

Utah sports one of the nation's best wins this season, a 1-0 victory over Washington, who now ranks fifth in the TDS Top 25 and eighth in the USC Coaches Poll. Utah is the lone team to beat the Huskies in 2025.

Series History

Utah sports an 8-6-4 record all-time against Arizona State and is 6-4-3 when the two sides meet as conference foes. Utah has dominated the series when playing on its home turf, sporting a 6-1-1 record, and is 2-1-1 against the Sun Devils under Coach Nakada.

Sunday marks the fifth-ever meeting between Utah and Kansas, with each side winning two of the prior matchups. Utah is 2-0 at home against the Jayhawks.

2024 In Review

Utah Soccer had its best season under head coach Hideki Nakada in 2024, going 8-6-5 overall in its first season as a member of the Big 12 Conference. The Utes were suffocating at Ute Field, going 6-2-3 in home games while outscoring opponents 18-8 on familiar ground.

The Utes sported a stifling defense in 2024, allowing just 19 goals in 19 games, which tied for the third-lowest mark in the Big 12. The Utes posted six shutouts last season, five of which came at home.

Lilliah Blum led the Utes and ranked fourth in the Big 12 with seven assists and tallied 11 total points, the most among Utah returners. She will lead Utah's offensive attack alongside Kelly Bullock, who leads all returners with 23 career points on six goals and 11 assists.

Next Up

The Utes will wrap up the regular season with a rivalry showdown against BYU at Ute Field on Thursday, Oct. 30. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m. on ESPN+.

HIDEKI NAKADA

HEAD COACH

5TH SEASON

SAN FRANCISCO '05

33-38-24 (.478)

Hideki Nakada enters his fifth season at the helm of the Utah women's soccer program in 2025-26. He became the third head coach in program history on May 27, 2021.

In 2024, Nakada led the Utes to an 8-6-5 mark that included a 5-3-3 record in conference that represented Utah's best performance in league competition since 2018. The team also crafted a 6-2-3 ledger at home, their best at Ute Field since 2016. Utah's defense of its home field in 2024 included a stretch of six straight undefeated fixtures to end the year, the last four of which were shutouts. Nakada also saw three of his players, Taliana Kaufusi, Kelly Bullock and Bella Woods, earn all-conference accolades from the Big 12. Kaufusi and Bullock were both named to the All-Big 12 second team, while Woods earned all-freshman team recognition.

Nakada also led in the development of Katie O'Kane, who wrapped her collegiate career in 2024 after starting all 54 matches in her three seasons in Utah. O'Kane net 16 goals and six assists in her Utah career and became the first Ute to enter the professional ranks after the NWSL eliminated its draft when she signed with Racing Louisville FC in February 2025. After appearing in 13 matches, including eight starts, and impressing early in her rookie season, she signed an extension to keep her in Louisville through 2027.

In Nakada's third season, the Utes were one of the toughest road teams in the Pac-12. The Utes started the season by going undefeated in their first eight road fixtures, the longest such streak in program history. The team's final road mark of 4-2-5 was the program's best since they went 6-2-1 away from home in 2005. Utah's list of home successes included a 5-0 trouncing of Utah Valley, the team's highest single game goal total since 2017, as well as an Oct. 26 defeat of No. 18 Arizona State.

On Jan. 12, 2023, Nakada saw midfielder Courtney Brown earned the chance to play professionally when she was taken in the fourth round of the NWSL Draft by the Washington Spirit. Brown became the first Ute selected in the NWSL Draft since 2016.

The Utes improved both their overall and Pac-12 win percentages in year two under Nakada's command compared to year one and they started the season by going undefeated in August, a stretch that included victories in each of Utah's first three home matches. The Utes started their Pac-12 schedule with a win as well, coming from behind to knock off Arizona, while also earning ties against No. 4 Alabama and No. 23 USC.

In his first match at the helm of Utah, Nakada earned his first career victory as a head coach with a 3-1 win over the Portland Pilots. Under Nakada's guidance, the Utes earned ties with national runner-up and No. 22 BYU and No. 3 UCLA. Nakada led the Utes to an increased win total from the previous year.

In his seven years on The Farm, Nakada helped guide the Cardinal to two National Championships (2017, 2019) and five-consecutive Pac-12 Championships (2015-19). During his seven seasons, Stanford compiled a remarkable 132-15-10 overall record with a dominating 66-6-4 mark in the Conference of Champions with four College Cup appearances. He also spent the previous three seasons as the associate head coach after being elevated on Feb. 23, 2018.

The Cardinal won their third national title in 2019 thanks to their goalkeeper Katie Meyer, who saved two penalty kicks in the title-deciding shootout against No. 2 North Carolina. Stanford also set a school record that year with 102 goals while finishing with a 24-1-0 record.

During Stanford's second national title run, Stanford allowed just eight goals. The 2017 squad also outscored opponents 91-8 while the Cardinal trailed a total of 8:59 minutes that season.

As a recruiting coordinator, Nakada was heavily involved in bringing in the No. 1 recruiting class four times during his time. He coached eight players who earned caps with U.S. Women's National team - Andi Sullivan, Catarina Macario, Sophia Smith, Tierna Davidson, Jane Campbell, Jordan DiBiasi, Alana Cook and Tegan McGrady.

While on staff, Nakada helped Stanford earn NSCAA Pacific Region Staff of the Year in 2016 and was named the 2015 NSCAA Pacific Region Assistant Coach of the Year after helping the Cardinal to a 19-2-2 overall record.

Prior to his time on The Farm, Nakada spent the 2013 season at Oregon as an assistant - serving as the team's defensive coach and recruiting coordinator.

Nakada started his collegiate career at Idaho State (2006-08), where he spent three seasons and led the Bengals to the 2006 Big Sky regular-season and tournament championships and NCAA Tournament appearance.

He then went on to Marquette for four seasons (2009-12) and helped guide the Golden Eagles to the NCAA Tournament each year he was there. In his final year, the Golden Eagles tallied 19 wins - including a school-record 17 shutouts - to claim its fourth-consecutive BIG EAST American Division Championship and first-ever BIG EAST Tournament Championship.

His experience extends outside of the college coaching ranks as well. Nakada has been a member of the Region II & IV ODP coaching staff since 2010. Beginning in 2012, Nakada was named to the U.S. Club Soccer id2 National Camp coaching staff. He also joined the goalkeeping coaching staff at Elite Clubs National League (ECNL) Player Development Program in 2012.
