RECORD ATTENDANCE

Clay Gould Ballpark saw its largest crowd on April 20, 2004, when 1,388 fans packed the park to see the Mavericks take on the Texas A&M Aggies. UT Arlington treated the home fans with a three-run ninth inning to beat the Aggies, 5-4.

UT ARLINGTON BASEBALL

CLAY GOULD BALLPARK

For years, UT Arlington has enjoyed playing on one of the most well-manicured baseball surfaces in the country. The Mavericks enter their 38th season at the same ballpark that has seen a few overhauls during its nearly four decades of housing the team.

Prior to the start of the 2003 season, renovations to the stadium were completed featuring a brand new grand entranceway and added seating to boost the capacity to 1,600. The facility received a new state-of-the-art lighting system, which allows the Mavericks the ability to play night baseball.

The facility was re-named Clay Gould Ballpark on April 26, 2003, after the former UT Arlington standout player and coach. The name change was at the suggestion of Dr. Allan Saxe, an associate professor of political science at UT Arlington, whom the ballpark was previously named after.

In front of a crowd of nearly 1,000 people, the name change officially took place and Gould's widow, Julie, and daughter, Logan, unveiled the memorial of Clay Gould on the outside wall of the main entranceway.

In 2009 a Daktronics ProStar® LED Display video board was installed and the center section of the grandstands also received an upgrade with approximately 345 new seats added.

Further additions to the stadium took place in 1999, when a three-foot high brick wall - that spans from dugout to dugout - was added, along with a new net backstop. Projects for the 2010 season included adding a "brag board" next to the scoreboard/video board.

The stadium was named for Saxe, after his overwhelming generosity made it possible for UT Arlington to continue its development of one of the finest facilities in the NCAA.

The stadium was originally opened in 1974 as the Mavericks hosted TCU in the UT Arlington debut of head coach Butch McBroom.

In 36 seasons, the Mavericks have established Clay Gould Ballpark as one of the toughest places for a visiting team in the country. Since 1974, the Mavericks have averaged 20 wins per season at home. In all, UT Arlington has won 703 games, while losing just 395 for a .640 home field winning percentage.

In 1986, the field was completely renovated. The entire field was sprigged with a fine natural turf (Hybrid Bermuda Tiff 419). A hydraulic powered irrigation system was installed while the surface was leveled and a new infield dirt mixture was applied along with the addition of a warning track surrounding the field.

UT Arlington's coaching staff serves as the head groundskeepers. With the help of the Maverick baseball players, Clay Gould Ballpark is now considered one of the finest playing surfaces in the Southwest. Besides UT Arlington baseball, the diamond has played host to the Texas State Junior College Tournament, the state American Amateur Baseball Congress Connie Mack and American Legion Tournaments and numerous high school playoff games. It also served as the venue for Major League tryout camps.

Nolan Ryan, Alex Rodriguez, Roger Clemens and Ozzie Smith have made appearances at the Ballpark for individual workouts, commercials, camps and clinics.

Clay Gould Ballpark also includes three remodeled astro-turfed batting cages and a 10-foot padded wall.

The field has dimensions of 330 feet down the lines, 380 feet into the power alleys and 400 feet to straight away center field.

CLAY GOULD BALLPARK

Clay Gould Ballpark, the home of UT Arlington baseball, has a new addition beyond the right-center field fence with a 27' X 36' brag board that sits next to the Mavericks scoreboard/video board.

The brag board displays UT Arlington's retired jersey numbers along with its former players who have made their Major League debut.

Maverick numbers that are retired include former head coach Butch Mc-Broom (#30), the late former player and head coach Clay Gould (#8) and the most recent retired jersey of former Maverick and former Kansas City Royals manager Trey Hillman (#1).

Hillman's jersey number was officially retired in a ceremony prior to the UT

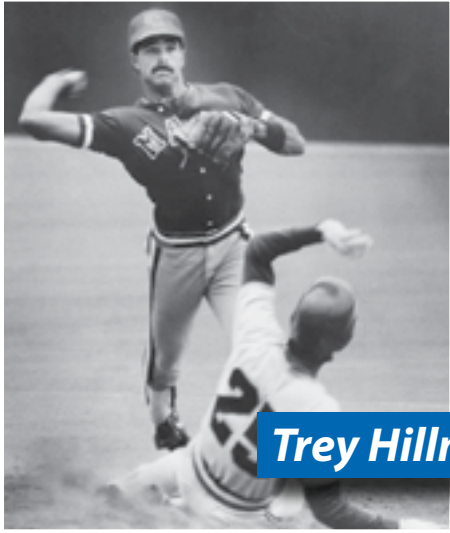

Arlington vs. Stephen F. Austin game on Saturday, May 8, 2010 with Hillman in attendance at Clay Gould Ballpark.

The remainder of the board includes "Major League Mavericks" which showcases the UTA players who have played/managed in the big leagues with the years they played at UTA listed beneath their names.

The list of Major League Mavericks include, Dave Owen (1977-79), Steve Foster (1987-88), John Lackey (1998), Dan Ortmeier (2000-02), Mark Lowe (2002-04), Ryan Roberts (2002-03), Hunter Pence (2003-04), Trey Hillman (1982-85), Adam Moore (2006) and Dillon Gee (2005-07).

UT ARLINGTON BASEBALL IN THE COMMUNITY

Being a member of the UT Arlington baseball program has always meant more than just studying and showing up to Clay Gould Ballpark in preparation for the upcoming season. Just as Maverick coaches have done in the past, head coach Darin Thomas has placed community service projects and mentoring high on his list of priorities for his program.

UTA players frequently visit with students at Swift Elementary School, located in the shadow of their home stadium at Fielder Road and Park Row Drive. Players talk a little sports and a lot about getting good grades and taking advice from their teachers and parents.

"Being involved in the community is an area we place a high importance on in the Maverick program," Thomas said. "It is important for our student-athletes to pay forward and give back to the community. This is an area we will continue to emphasize with our players."

The 2010 Maverick baseball team tied a UT Arlington program record by accumulating 19 wins in Southland Conference play while also continuing success in the classroom. The UT Arlington baseball program received a total of 34 selections to the UT Arlington Fall and Spring Athletic Director's Academic Honor Roll. In the spring semester, 15 baseball student-athletes were named to the Capital One/Southland Conference Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll. The Capital One/SLC Academic Honor Roll recognizes student-athletes who competed in league championship sports during the spring semester and maintained a 3.0 grade point average while enrolled in a minimum of 12 credit hours.

The Mavericks have posted a team cumulative grade point average better than 3.0 in six of the last seven semesters. In addition, 19 of the team's 34 student-athletes received honor roll recognition last semester.

MAVERICKS IN THE MAJORS

The UT Arlington baseball program has established itself as one of the top baseball factories in Texas. At the end of the 2011 Major League Baseball season, there were six former Mavericks on an MLB roster. Three former Mavericks — Hunter Pence, Ryan Roberts and Mark Lowe — made the MLB Playoffs.

Pence, made his second appearance in the MLB All-Star Game in 2011. Last year, the right fielder played for the Houston Astros before being traded to the Philadelphia Phillies. Pence hit .314 with 22 home runs and 97 RBI. He also had a career-high 38 doubles.

Roberts proved to be the breakout player of the group in 2011. After assuming a starting role early last year, Roberts went on to post career highs in several categories. He hit .249 for the Arizona Diamondbacks with 19 home runs, 65 RBI, 25 doubles and 18 steals. Roberts saved his best for the National League Divisional Series, hitting .350 with two homers and six RBI against the Milwaukee Brewers.

Lowe went 2-3 with a save and a 3.80 ERA in 2011 for the Texas Rangers. He helped Texas reach the World Series for the second time in as many years.

Dillon Gee spent the majority of the season in the starting rotation for the New York Mets, going 13-6 with a 4.43 ERA in 30 appearances. He made 27 starts and logged 160.2 innings.

Another former UT Arlington player, John Lackey, a 2007 All-Star, went 12-12 with a 6.41 ERA for the Boston Red Sox.

An injury limited Adam Moore to just two games in 2011. The Seattle Mariners catcher had a double in one of his six official at-bats.

Trey Hillman, the only three-time All-Southland Conference selection in UT Arlington history, is currently the Los Angeles Dodgers bench coach.

SEASON OUTLOOK

UT Arlington coach Darin Thomas has enjoyed numerous marquee victories during his four years as head coach. But this year he has his sights set on just one – the win that leads to hoisting the Southland Conference Tournament championship trophy at the end of May.

It is easy to look back at the 2011 season and recall the losing streak that dropped the Mavericks from a potential top-two seed in the Southland Tournament to the outside looking in. However, this is a team that scored five wins over nationally ranked teams – two over Wichita State, two over Texas State and another against TCU. UT Arlington also swept the three-game series with Dallas Baptist, which ultimately advanced to the NCAA Super Regionals.

So the ability for UT Arlington to beat whomever it plays is there. Now Thomas and his staff are searching for the consistency to take the Southland Conference championship trophy home before the program heads to the Western Athletic Conference the following season.

There will be some obstacles to overcome. Most notably, the Mavericks must find a way to replace four-year starting catcher Chad Comer, who was selected by the Atlanta Braves in the Major League Baseball Draft last June. UT Arlington also must fill holes on the left side of the infield, with both third baseman Brian Nephew – a second-team All-Southland Conference selection in 2011 – and shortstop Jesse Payne having graduated.

However, the Mavs return plenty of talent. Right fielder Preston Beck leads that charge. Beck hit .307 with five home runs and 35 RBI despite playing through a fairly significant injury for the entire spring. Ryan Walker also returns after earning a spot on the Louisville Slugger Freshman All-America team a year ago.

The team's success, however, will largely hinge on its pitching staff. Last year the Mavericks had to replace 75 percent of their innings pitched in 2010. This year is much different, as the team returns the bulk of its pitching staff, including weekend starters Lance Day, Collin Reynolds and John Beck.

STARTING PITCHING

There is no shortage of candidates for UT Arlington in the starting pitching category.

Several of pitching coach Jay Sirianni's hurlers have shown glimpses of being capable of handling a role in the rotation.

"I thought after fall practice that the strength of our club is our pitching staff," UTA coach Darin Thomas said. "We get the majority of our innings returning and then we have a bunch of newcomers who are well ahead of schedule."

Lance Day is the most proven of the group, having led the team in innings pitched, wins and strikeouts last year. For most of the season, Day was UTA's most consistent starter and regularly worked deep into games – including a 10-inning complete-game win at Nicholls.

John Beck should also have an opportunity to start the year in the rotation. He started last season as something of a wild card and endured a tough fall before finding his rhythm in the spring. On March 15, he earned a relief win over No. 9 TCU by holding the Horned Frogs to two runs on four hits while striking out five in 4 1/3 innings. By season's end, John Beck emerged as one of the pitchers the coaching staff trusted most. He is a serious breakout candidate in 2012.

"He has a high ceiling, just like a number of them do," Thomas said. "The big thing is he was out there as a freshman and he has experience on the mound."

Collin Reynolds took some time to adjust to his role during his first year at UT Arlington, but pitched some critical innings down the stretch. His 8-plus inning start at Lamar was easily his best of the season – and one in which he deserved better than a no-decision. Reynolds also proved valuable in the back end of the bullpen if that is the role Sirianni chooses for him.

There are numerous additional candidates for the starting rotation, but the returning three weekend starters are the probable favorites heading into the Feb. 17 opener at Louisiana Tech.

Of the potential options to jump into the rotation, southpaw Adam Boydston is perhaps the most intriguing. The Mavericks toyed with the idea of moving Boydston to the rotation last year, but ultimately decided to leave him in the bullpen. The fifth-year senior has been the club's closer for the last three years and has proven he can deliver the crucial late-game outs.

Boydston's candidacy for the rotation might depend on whether another viable option emerges for the closer position. He closed out seven wins last year despite undergoing Tommy John surgery in April 2010. Now his velocity is back and he has a feel for his off-speed pitches again, which could make Boydston a player for a starting rotation spot.

True freshman Chad Nack is another pitcher to watch. He has tremendous talent and could move into the starting rotation prior to making his collegiate debut.

BULLPEN

If Adam Boydston is in the bullpen, he immediately becomes the leading candidate for the closer role. The southpaw enters his senior season seven saves shy of tying the all-time UT Arlington record.

Coaches also think Chad Nack, another starting candidate, also has the repertoire and mental makeup to handle the ninth-inning role. He would be a leading candidate if Boydston moves to the rotation.

There are plenty of options for getting to the final frame as well.

The Mavericks return several capable arms in the bullpen, including Michael Morales. The senior right-hander last year went 2-1 with a couple saves and a 1.57 ERA in 27 appearances. He also struck out 26 hitters and held opposing hitters to a .216 batting average.

Adam Westbrook gives UT Arlington another strong left-handed option. During the final week of the season, Westbrook proved to be one of UTA's best pitchers. He finished the season with a 1-0 record and a save with a 2.25 ERA in 12 appearances. The southpaw missed the fall with an arm issue, leaving him as a bit of a question mark heading into 2012.

"If he comes back as strong as he was at the end of the spring last year, he will have a very good spring this year, too," Thomas said. "It is nice to have a lefty coming out of the pen to come in and do some matchup stuff with."

Kasey Merck showed flashes of brilliance during his freshman season. He was a bit erratic at times, but has the arm and the tools to be a dominant force in the back end of the bullpen. Merck, who can also be a starter, went 2-1 with a 4.50 ERA in 38.0 innings a year ago.

"He made a really nice jump from last year to this year," Thomas said. "He had a really good summer in Liberal, Kan. The biggest thing for him is command of a second pitch. If he has that, he is going to be in good shape."

Michael Oberto, another senior who could earn a spot in the rotation, was a spot starter last year. He ranked fourth on the team with 50 1/3 innings pitched, going 2-0 with a 3.58 ERA.

Chase Weaver (1-1, 4.42 ERA) and Stephen Krolick (1-0, 9.00 ERA) give the Mavericks additional options in the bullpen.

A couple true freshmen, Zach Thompson and Ryan Scott, are also expected to come in and contribute right away. Their presence is especially important because UTA has lost Sam Hansen for the year after he underwent Tommy John surgery in the fall.

"I really like our freshmen," Thomas said. "I think they are going to be really good and be contributors here."

CATCHER

Replacing Chad Comer behind the plate will be no simple task for UT Arlington. While Comer was a strong producer throughout his career, his true value lied more in the intangibles, such as managing an inexperienced pitching staff.

Whoever assumes the role this year will have big shoes to fill, but will also have the advantage of a largely veteran pitching staff.

Greg McCall seems a logical frontrunner for the starting catcher spot. He started the season as the team's designated hitter as a freshman in 2011 and, despite some struggles from the batter's box, showed promise behind the plate. He also displayed power during his freshman campaign, sprinkling a couple of doubles, a triple and a home run among his 16 hits last year.

Daniel Garcia hoped to make a strong push for the starting job during the fall, but a broken ankle during summer ball proved to be a setback. He is still expected to have an opportunity to compete for the starting backstop position in the spring. Garcia can handle himself behind the plate and is a better hitter than his .214 batting average in limited at-bats last year would indicate.

"Our catchers are the key to our season – how well they do," Thomas said. "Our pitching is going to be good. Our catchers have to do a good job catching, keeping the ball in front of them, being accurate when they throw and just being solid defensively. We do not need them to be flashy. We just need them to be solid."

Sophomore Colten Boothe, a newcomer to the team, logged some time at catcher during the fall out of necessity. In the process, he gained the trust of his coaches as a backup catcher. It would not be a shock to see Boothe get some work behind the plate in 2012.

FIRST BASE

Jordan Vaughn returns as a two-year starter at first base and hopes to shake off an uncharacteristic offensive season, during which he hit just .267, to enjoy a strong finish to his career.

Vaughn is certainly capable of returning to the form that made him a .314 hitter with 30 RBI as a sophomore in 2010. He was named to the All-Southland Conference Tournament team that year. Even with his average dipping last year, Vaughn still showed some power. He finished second on the team with 13 doubles and drove in 26 runs. The key statistic for Vaughn will be cutting down on his 45 strikeouts from a year ago.

"Jordan had a good fall," Thomas said. "He made some adjustments. As a fifth-year senior, he is very capable of having a breakout year. We need him to do that – to hit in the middle of our order and have a big year for us to be successful."

Other options at first base include Cody Dyvig, a junior, and Colten Boothe. Dyvig has always shown flashes of being a good hitter and did a respectable job manning the first base position last year. Though Dyvig hit just .242 last year, he had several big pinch-hitting appearances for the Mavericks.

SECOND BASE

How open this position battle is likely hinges on Michael Guerra's health. The senior, nicknamed "Panda," showed an ability to hit like nickname-sake Pablo Sandoval of the San Francisco Giants. Before suffering an injury midway through last year, Guerra was one of the most threatening hitters in the UT Arlington lineup. After the injury, the Mavericks were not the same team offensively.

Guerra finished the year hitting .266 with 10 doubles and a pair of home runs after batting well over .300 and leading the team in slugging percentage pre-injury.

If healthy, Guerra will play second base or third base and will also be a difference-maker on defense. If not, he could be relegated to a designated hitter role on the days he feels good enough to play.

"Hopefully we get Michael Guerra's back healthy enough to where he can help us out as a senior – especially in the middle of the order," Thomas said.

There are several fill-in options for Guerra if he is not healthy enough to play second base. One of those options is true freshman Derek Miller, who proved to be one of the toughest outs during the fall.

Junior-college transfer Stewart Hill could also be in that mix depending on how the shortstop competition shakes out.

Another newcomer, true freshman Travis Sibley, should be in play for the second base position as well. Sibley has the potential to be a Ryan Walker-type presence as a tough out in the UTA lineup.

Cody Dyvig is also an option at second base.

SHORTSTOP

Louisville Slugger Freshman All-America selection Ryan Walker has a strong chance of opening the season at shortstop after playing well there all fall.

Walker showed great range and a strong enough arm to handle the position defensively. He showed as a freshman that he also possesses the ability to play every day – a major factor for the coaching staff when selecting a starting shortstop.

"He did a very good job playing shortstop for us this fall," Thomas said. "He played even better than I anticipated."

As a freshman, Walker was one of UTA's best offensive weapons, hitting .322 with 13 doubles. More impressively, he drove in a team-high 37 runs despite batting leadoff all year. Walker also showed enough plate discipline to draw 28 walks. Once on base, Walker can cause problems as well, stealing 11 bags a year ago.

Junior-college transfer Stewart Hill has a chance to battle with Walker for the starting spot this spring, but Hill's chances were diminished after he missed the majority of fall practice with an injury.

Travis Sibley is another option after showing he can handle the position during the fall.

THIRD BASE

Entering the fall, Brent Bollinger did not even have a spot on the roster. By the end of the fall he had emerged as a favorite to win the starting position. Bollinger, a long-time friend of Lance Day's, spent the last two years playing football at Odessa Community College before deciding to give baseball a shot. Now he has a chance to be the opening day third baseman.

Michael Guerra could see time at third base if his health permits. There are several additional options at the position, including Stewart Hill and Travis Sibley. True freshman Emil Litterer will also compete for playing time at the third-base spot.

A sleeper at the position could be Preston Beck, who played third sparingly as a freshman.

Replacing the offensive production of Brian Nephew, who hit .358 with 17 doubles and 31 RBI last year, is no easy task. Still, the Mavericks think they might have found a rising star in Bollinger.

OUTFIELD

With a solid season, Preston Beck could emerge as an early-round draft pick in the Major League Baseball Draft. There is good reason: Beck is a five-tool player who showed his potential this summer during an outstanding stint in the Cape Cod League.

Beck hit .307 last year – down from his .352 clip as a freshman – but showed an increase in power. He belted 11 doubles, three triple and a team-best five home runs while driving in 35 runs. He also stole six bases.

Beck is a potentially elite offensive presence who could continue the litany of outstanding hitters under Thomas. The junior also has the potential to be a very good outfielder. He has a cannon of an arm – and was clocked at speeds exceeding 94 mph during Scout Day this fall.

"He has a chance to be a good hitter in this conference and a good hitter for us," Thomas said. "He is coming off hip surgery, but he had a good fall. I look for him to have a good spring."

Junior-college transfer Brandon Lawrence has a good opportunity to win the starting spot in center field. He is a strong defensive player with a track record of offensive production at the junior college level.

At Blinn Junior College last year, Lawrence hit .387 with four home runs and 18 doubles.

"He has all the tools and he had a good fall," Thomas said. "It is just a matter of how quick he makes adjustments to the next level. He has the ability and the tools to do that. The quicker he makes adjustments to how teams pitch him, the quicker he will have success."

Matt Shortall is also ready to contend for playing time. He took a redshirt last year while sitting out after transferring from Tulane. He might be one of the most powerful hitters on the UTA roster. If he can harness that into more consistency, he could be a presence in the Mavericks lineup.

Philip Incaviglia started 46 games last year and will likely see time in the outfield again. His defensive range makes him a valuable asset. He is also a very good base runner, who stole 13 bases in 14 attempts last year.

Jake Pinchback deserved better than his .220 batting average last year, often watching line drives turn into hard outs in limited at-bats. He turned in a strong fall and could be in line for additional playing time.

Preston Morrow, another senior, hit .364 in limited at-bats last year.

A few infielders, most notably true freshmen Derek Miller and Travis Sibley, could start in the outfield.

DESIGNATED HITTER

There are several options to man this position for the Mavericks this season. Depending on Michael Guerra's health, he might be the most likely for the position. Guerra would be a major presence in the DH spot.

The other most likely option would be Matt Shortall because of his power.

HEAD COACH DARIN THOMAS

ence play, Thomas' teams have also taken down ranked opponents Texas State and Southeastern Louisiana. The sweep over Minnesota in 2009 was the program's first sweep over a ranked opponent in 25 years. Thomas has defeated every Big 12 opponent the Mavericks have faced at least once.

Thomas is 112-117 in four seasons as head coach after leading the Mavericks to three consecutive seasons of 27 wins or more. UTA also reached the final day of the Southland Conference Tournament for the first time since 2006, falling in the semifinals. Thomas also continued his unparalleled success with his student-athletes in the classroom while tallying a 3.0 team GPA in both semesters in 2009-2010. The UTA baseball program now has finished with a cumulative 3.0 team GPA in six of seven semesters since Thomas became head coach during the 2007-2008 school year.

The tougher competition Thomas schedules – the Mavs finished with the second-toughest non-conference schedule in 2010 – has helped his players prepare for the next level. The Oakland Athletics selected Michael Choice, the 2010 Southland Conference Player of the Year, with the 10th overall pick in the Major League Baseball Draft. Choice also made several All-America teams. Furthermore, MLB teams drafted each of the three conference starting rotation members – Rett Varner in the sixth round by the Florida Marlins, Jason Mitchell in the 15th round by the Kansas City Royals and Logan Bawcom in the 17th round by the Los Angeles Dodgers. Last year Chad Comer and Mark Picca continued the tradition, getting drafted by the Atlanta Braves and New York Mets, respectively.

Under Thomas' leadership, 37 Mavericks have either been drafted or have been signed by a Major League Baseball organization over the last nine seasons. He has coached 34 All-Conference performers (15 first-team selections), 17 SLC All-Tournament team selections, two SLC Tournament Most Valuable Players, two SLC Players of the Year, three SLC Hitters of the Year, two SLC Newcomers of the Year, four SLC Batting Champions, one SLC Freshman of the Year and one SLC ERA Champion. In addition, out of the nine UTA players who have played in the Major Leagues, Thomas has coached six, including Daniel Ortmeier (2000-02), Ryan Roberts (2002-03), Mark Lowe (2002, 2004), Hunter Pence (2003-04), Adam Moore (2006) and Dillon Gee (2005-07).

Thomas can also add a third Freshman All-America to his resume after the 2011 season. Ryan Walker accomplished the feat in 2011, marking the Mavericks' third in four years. Preston Beck (2010) and Michael Choice (2008) round out the group.

For a second straight year, four of Thomas' players were named to the SLC All-Academic team – Jason Mitchell and Rett Varner as first-team selections and Jordan Vaughn and Mark Picca as second-team picks. Mitchell also earned the distinction of Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Additionally, 15 UTA baseball players were selected to the Capital One/SLC Spring Commissioner's Honor Roll.

The 2010 campaign was one of turnover. The Mavericks entered the conference season without a solidified starting rotation while breaking in six new starters at position players. Still, the team finished one good day away from the NCAA Tournament and with several new marks in the record book. By the end of the season, UTA's pitching staff broke the program record for strikeouts in a single season. Michael Choice won his first Southland Conference batting crown while getting walked a mind-boggling 76 times (leading the NCAA in the category) and reaching base at a .568 clip. Choice also broke the all-time program record for home runs. True freshman Preston Beck broke the rookie hitting streak record, hitting safely in his last 20 games. He opens the season with a chance to track down Andrew Kainer's mark of 36 consecutive games with a hit.

In addition to being named Southland Conference Player of the Year and Hitter of the Year, Choice also garnered First-Team All-Southland Conference status. Mitchell and junior catcher Chad Comer were named Second-Team All-SLC. Varner, Beck and senior designated hitter Steffan Guest all made honorable mention for all-conference.

Thomas' squad saw many highlights in 2009, including leading the Southland Conference in ERA (4.38) and tying for the league-lead in fielding percentage (.971). Individual honors were achieved at an all-time clip with Matt Otteman leading the conference in batting average (.432), Nathan Long leading the conference and breaking the school's single-season strikeout record (104), Michael Choice becoming the first UTA player and only the second player ever from the SLC to play for Team USA and Kainer breaking the school and SLC all-time hitting streak record with a 36-game streak.

Throughout his four years as head coach at UT Arlington, Darin Thomas has proven he can lead his team to landmark wins. Now, in the Mavericks' final season in the Southland Conference, Thomas has his eyes set on winning the league title before moving into the Western Athletic Conference next year.

Last year, Thomas' 11th as a member of the Mavericks staff, showed his team's ability to play up to quality competition. That challenge helped lead UT Arlington to new heights. The Mavericks scored top-25 victories over TCU, two over Wichita State and two over Texas State. They also swept three games from Dallas Baptist, who made it to the Super Regional round in the NCAA Tournament.

In taking the high-risk scheduling approach, Thomas has found the reward side several times. Through the previous three seasons, Thomas has led the Mavericks to nine wins over nationally-ranked opponents, including Minnesota, Baylor, Oklahoma, Texas, Texas A&M and Oklahoma State. In confer-

HEAD COACH DARIN THOMAS

Following the season the Mavericks had two players chosen in the Major League Baseball Amateur Draft with Nathan Long going in the 26th round to the Oakland Athletics and Rett Varner being taken in the 34th round by the Chicago Cubs. Long signed a contract with the Athletics. Weeks following the draft, three additional Mavericks signed professional contracts as Andy Sauter (Milwaukee Brewers), Matt Otteman (Seattle Mariners) and Andrew Kainer (Florida Marlins) all inked free agent contracts.

Otteman, Kainer, Long and Choice were named First-Team All-Southland Conference. The UTA baseball program hadn't had four first-team All-SLC selections since 1992. Otteman, Kainer and Choice also finished in the top four in the league in batting average. Otteman won the batting crown with a .432 mark, Kainer was third with a .417 average and Choice ranked fourth in the conference at .413.

Thomas' pitching staff shined on the mound, leading the league in ERA for the first time since 1988. The Maverick pitchers ranked third in the conference with 410 strikeouts - a school record before the team shattered the mark in 2010 by registering 464. Three UTA pitchers ranked among the top nine in ERA. Long (3.76) ranked sixth, Ryan Robinson (3.89) was eighth and Varner (3.95) was ninth.

The Mavericks also produced the best ERA in the conference during league play with a 4.00 ERA in 2009. UT Arlington led the SLC with a .976 fielding percentage in SLC games. It was the fourth time UTA has led the league in fielding percentage and the first since 2004.

The Mavericks ranked 25th in the NCAA in ERA and were 31st in the country in fielding percentage. In fact, Thomas' players ranked in 12 of the NCAA's top 40 statistical categories, which includes Otteman ranking sixth in triples (8), eighth in batting average (.432), and Long finishing 26th in the country in strikeouts (104). Long's 104 strikeouts led the conference, marking the first time a UTA pitcher had recorded the most strikeouts in the SLC since 1986.

Thomas set UTA baseball history when the Mavericks completed four series sweeps over SLC opponents. That included back-to-back road-series sweeps over Nicholls (Mar. 28-30) and Central Arkansas (Apr. 17-19). It was the first time since 1994 that the Mavericks had swept consecutive road series.

Thomas led the Mavericks to a 20-7 record at Clay Gould Ballpark in Arlington in 2009, marking only the third time a Mavericks team had won 20 games at home since 1994. It was the program's first 20-win home season since 2004. The Mavericks' .741 winning percentage was the third highest home-field mark in the past 16 seasons. UTA won four games on its home field over nationally-ranked opponents (No. 25 Minnesota, No. 7 Baylor, No. 17 Oklahoma, No. 25 Texas State).

Thomas collected his 50th career win with a 4-3 win over Texas A&M-Corpus Christi on May 1, 2009, becoming the third UTA head coach to record his 50th career win during his second season.

Four of Thomas' players were named to the SLC All-Academic team. Otteman as selected a first-team member and as a 2009 SLC Scholar Athlete of the Year. A total of 21 UTA baseball players were selected to the Capital One/SLC Spring Commissioner's Honor Roll.

In his first season as head coach, Thomas pointed the UT Arlington baseball program back in the right direction by doubling the program's victory total from the previous season, defeating three nationally ranked teams, improving in 18 statistical categories from the prior season, guiding his program to a cumulative grade point average better than 3.0 and with 24 student-athletes named to the Athletic Director's Academic Honor Roll.

Thomas, the sixth head coach in UT Arlington history, began his first season at the helm with a 1-0 victory at Clay Gould Ballpark against Arkansas-Little Rock on Feb. 22. He became the third UTA coach to win his debut and it was the first 1-0 opening-day victory in program history. The contest was also the fastest opening-day nine-inning game in UT Arlington history (1 hour, 52 minutes).

Thomas guided the Mavs to a 26-31 overall mark, including a sixth-place finish in the SLC with a 16-14 league record. Competing against a demanding non-conference schedule, Thomas led the Mavs to mid-week non-conference victories at home against No. 14 Oklahoma State (7-3) and Big 12 regular season champion, No. 7 Texas A&M (16-8). The day after his team's victory against the OSU Cowboys at Clay Gould Ballpark, Thomas and the Mavericks captured a 4-3 road victory against Texas. UT Arlington completed the week winning two of three games against Southeastern Louisiana in SLC play. The Mavericks were rewarded for their excellence receiving National Team of the Week accolades from CollegeBaseballInsider.com.

Thomas led UT Arlington to 12 wins during a 14-game stretch, which included a season-best seven-game win streak. UT Arlington's seven-game streak began with a three-game series against McNeese State in Lake Charles, La. It was the first time the Mavs had swept McNeese on the road in the program's 41-year history.

The Mavericks had several individual successes under Thomas in 2008, including senior David McLeod leading the NCAA in the Toughest to Strikeout statistical category. McLeod, a four-year letterwinner, fanned just five times in 200 at-bats. McLeod finished his UT Arlington career playing striking out just 35 times in 541 at-bats in 147 games.

Thomas' first season as head coach will also be remembered as the breakthrough season for Choice, who was named Southland Conference Freshman

Under Thomas' tutelage in 2008, three Mavericks were among the league's top 10 in batting average, the most by any team in the conference. Choice finished third in the conference (.376), while McLeod ranked fourth (.375) and senior Danny Slinkman (.370) was seventh.

In addition, Thomas coached a total of 18 players in 2008 that were named to the Capital One/Southland Conference 2008 Commissioner's Spring Academic Honor Roll.

Before Thomas became head coach of the Mavericks in 2008 he spent six seasons as the associate head coach (2002-2007) and one season as an assistant coach (2001) on the UTA coaching staff. In 2006, UTA led the conference in doubles (123), ranked second in hits (640) and total bases (878) while ranking third in runs (358) and RBI (319).

SLC Newcomer of the Year Adam Moore led the way offensively, hitting .350 with 10 homers, 22 doubles and 50 RBI.

HEAD COACH DARIN THOMAS

Thomas returned to his role as the team's hitting coach and third base coach in 2005, after spending the two previous seasons (2003-04) as the team's pitching coach. Thomas served as the team's hitting coach and third base coach in his first two seasons (2001-02). Under Thomas' guidance, the 2004 pitching staff had to replace all three conference starters from the previous year and nearly lowered its ERA by a full point. The 4.03 ERA at the time was the 12th lowest ERA in school-history and the lowest team ERA since 1992.

In 2003 Thomas helped mentor Hunter Pence, who played three seasons for the Mavs before being selected in the second round of the 2004 MLB Draft by the Houston Astros with the 64th overall selection. Pence, the 2004 SLC Player/Hitter of the Year, became the highest player drafted in UT Arlington history and became the first UTA player to make an MLB All-Star team. Pence ranks fourth on the Mavericks' all-time career batting average list (.371), while also recording 187 base hits, 23 doubles, 11 triples, 16 home runs, 77 RBI and 100 runs scored.

Thomas was instrumental in 2002 as the Mavericks hitters had their best season collectively to date, breaking then-team records with 612 hits, 125 doubles and 340 RBI. As a team, the Mavericks hit .305, just .007 off the pace of the Southland Conference leader that season. It also marked the first time that UT Arlington had hit better than .300 since the 1985 season.

Thomas helped the offense improve in each of his first two seasons at UT Arlington. The Mavs jumped from a .261 team batting average in the year before Thomas arrived, to a .283 average in 2001 and to a .305 team batting average in 2002.

As a recruiting coordinator, Thomas brought in the nation's 56th best recruiting class in 2003, according to Collegiate Baseball Newspaper, just after bringing in the 35th best in 2002.

Success was imminent for Thomas in his first year as pitching coach since first years always seem to be successful whenever Thomas and UT Arlington are involved. In his first year in a Mavericks uniform, Thomas helped lead the Mavs to a SLC Tournament title and to claim its first-ever NCAA Tournament victory.

It was no coincidence that UT Arlington's rise back to the national tournament came at the same time Thomas arrived in Arlington. It seems that wherever he goes, the teams he coaches win.

He came to UTA following nine years as an assistant coach at Seward County Community College, where he assisted National Junior College Athletic Association Hall of Fame Coach Galen McSpadden.

While at SCCC, Thomas helped lead the Saints to a 346-144 (.706) record while being ranked in the Top 20 nationally during seven seasons. Seward County captured four Jayhawk West Conference crowns, four runner-up finishes and one Sub-Region VI Tournament title.

During his coaching tenure at Seward County, 58 players who either played for or were recruited by Thomas went on to be drafted or sign free agent contracts with a Major League organization. In addition, Thomas mentored 63 All-Conference selections at SCCC.

Before coming to Arlington, Thomas spent his previous four summers as the head coach with the semi-pro Liberal Bee Jays of the Jayhawk League, where he worked with late UT Arlington coach Clay Gould for three summers. During the 2000 season, Thomas and the Bee Jays marched through the National Baseball Congress National Tournament to the NBC World Series National Championship. Among the players on that team were several players who Thomas has coached with the Mavericks, including Daniel Ortmeier, Dave Engelson and Aaron Pullin. Following his team's 7-0 run in the World Series, Thomas was named the NBC National Coach of the Year.

Thomas began his collegiate playing career at Seward County where he earned All-Conference and All-Region VI honors as a right-handed pitcher in 1986. He helped lead his team to a Jayhawk West Conference title and to the program's first-ever Sub-Region VI Tournament championship by going 11-1 on the mound.

Thomas' 1986 season ranks in several all-time SCCC single-season record books, including third in complete games (10), fourth in winning percentage (.917), tied for fourth in wins (11) and 10th in innings pitched (79). He remains the program's all-time leader in career winning percentage (13-2, .867). Thomas went on to Oklahoma Christian University and earned All-District IX honors both seasons for the Eagles.

Thomas earned a bachelor's degree in marketing and physical education from Oklahoma Christian University in 1989 and a master's degree in sports administration from Fort Hays State University in 1996. He began his coaching career in 1990 at Oklahoma Christian High School before moving to Seward County CC in 1991.

Thomas and his wife, Jean, have three children, Megan, 18, Ryan 13, and Reed, 10.

PITCHING COACH JAY SIRIANNI

Pitching Coach/Recruiting Coordinator
8th Season
Nebraska, 2001

In his eighth year as UT Arlington pitching coach, Jay Sirianni is hoping to see strides from a pitching staff that returns largely intact.

The Mavericks have plenty of reason to think it will happen. Sirianni has established a track record of developing pitchers and getting results – both in the collegiate level and in preparing them for professional careers.

In 2010, UTA pitchers set program records with 464 strikeouts. They also hurled eight complete games (including three shutouts). The three weekend pitchers – Rett Varner, Jason Mitchell and Logan Bawcom – were all selected in the first 17 rounds of the Major League Baseball draft. They combined to go 20-15 with all eight complete games and 206.1 innings pitched. Bawcom also had five saves.

In 2011, Sirianni's best work came in developing pitchers like Lance Day, who led the team in innings pitched while compiling a 3.64 ERA. He also mentored freshman John Beck to a 3-3 record with a save and a 4.04 ERA and Michael Morales to a 1.57 ERA with a 2-1 record and two saves.

The Mavericks pitching staff also performed well in high-profile games last year. The Mavericks earned five wins over ranked teams – two over Wichita State, two over Texas State and one over TCU. They also swept the three-game season series against Dallas Baptist, which advanced to the NCAA Super Regionals.

Sirianni led the Mavericks pitching staff to a 4.38 ERA in 2009, which led the Southland Conference. Three of his pitchers ranked in the top nine in the SLC in ERA and the Mavericks also posted a league-best 4.00 during SLC competition.

The Mavericks tallied a school-record 410 strikeouts as a team while right-handed pitcher Nathan Long led the SLC with a school-record 104 strikeouts. Long had the sixth best ERA in the conference (3.76), lefty Ryan Robinson (3.89) ranked eighth and Rett Varner (3.95) also had an ERA under 4.00 to finish ninth in the league.

The pitching staff's ERA (4.38) was the Mavs lowest since 2004 and is the school's third lowest team ERA since 1992. Sirianni's pitching staff tallied five shutouts, which matches the most by a Mavericks staff since 1995.

Five of Sirianni's pitchers were either drafted or signed a professional contract with a Major League organization following the 2009 season. Long was drafted in the 26th round by the Oakland Athletics and Varner was taken by the Chicago Cubs in the 34th round. Long signed just days following the draft while Varner opted to return for his redshirt-junior season.

Weeks following the draft, Andy Sauter (Milwaukee Brewers), Matt Otteman (Seattle Mariners) and Andrew Kainer (Florida Marlins) all inked free agent contracts. All five players were signed as right-handed pitchers.

PITCHING COACH JAY SIRIANNI

Since Sirianni's arrival to the Mavericks' program in 2005, there have been 17 pitchers who have signed with an MLB organization.

The UT Arlington pitching staff helped secure five wins over nationally-ranked opponents in 2009, which included a sweep over No. 25 Minnesota, and wins against No. 7 Baylor, No. 17 Oklahoma and No. 25 Texas State. In fact, in those five victories, the Mavericks staff allowed an average of only 4.4 runs per game. Sirianni's pitchers also performed well in losses against No. 4 Texas (3-4), No. 22 TCU (1-2) and No. 26 Oklahoma State (2-6).

Over the past three seasons the Mavericks have defeated every Big 12 opponent they have faced at least once, which also includes wins over Texas, Texas A&M, Baylor, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State.

One of the top prospects Sirianni has mentored was Dillon Gee, who put his name in several all-time Maverick record books before being selected in by the New York Mets in the 21st round of the 2007 MLB Draft.

Gee racked up 10 wins his final two seasons with the Mavs, and led the team his junior season in ERA (4.67), strikeouts (96), innings pitched (111.2) and complete games (4). Gee's 96 strikeouts rank tied for third in UT Arlington single-season history, and his innings pitched total places him fourth on the single-season list.

Sirianni had his hands full in the 2006 season when the Mavericks returned only one pitcher from the previous season. Sirianni molded his young staff into a group that helped the Mavs to one of their best starts in conference action (10-0) and to the team's first Southland Conference Tournament championship since 2001. Two of the Mavericks SLC All-Tournament Team selections were pitchers, including Tournament MVP Ryan Riddle.

Sirianni was promoted to recruiting coordinator in November 2007, when Darin Thomas was named head coach.

Before his arrival at UT Arlington, Sirianni spent three seasons as the pitching coach at Barton County Community College in Great Bend, Kan. While at Barton County, Sirianni helped lead the Cougars to a 113-56 record with a pitching staff ERA of 4.69. His first season saw the Cougars post a 44-14 overall record, setting a school-record for wins in a season.

Prior to his time at BCCC, Sirianni spent the summer of 2001 as an assistant coach for the Liberal (Kan.) Bee Jays of the Jayhawk League.

He began his collegiate playing career at Texas A&M before transferring to Nebraska to play for head coach Dave Van Horn. In four years in Lincoln, Sirianni compiled a 15-9 record and was the Friday night starter in 1999.

Sirianni was named a team captain as a senior in 1999 and went 6-3 with a save leading the Huskers to a Big 12 Tournament title, 42 wins and the school's first NCAA appearance since 1985. He tossed his second career complete-game to finish a series sweep over Texas. In his junior season, Sirianni led the Huskers with five wins and 56.2 innings pitched. He tossed a complete game to earn a victory over the Longhorns by allowing four runs on nine hits.

Sirianni became linked to NCAA history during his senior season as he was the winning pitcher in the most lopsided game in NCAA history when the Huskers defeated Chicago State 50-3 in the second game of a doubleheader on March, 16, 1999. Sirianni earned the win by retiring all six batters he faced in a predetermined two-inning appearance.

In the summer of 1998, Sirianni was a member of the Liberal Bee Jays that advanced to the NBC World Series in Wichita, Kan. That team was coached by current UT Arlington head coach Darin Thomas and the late Clay Gould.

Following his career at Nebraska, Sirianni was signed as a free agent by the Cleveland Indians. Sirianni began his professional career with the Burlington Indians (Rookie League) and also spent time with the Mahoning Valley Scrappers (New York-Penn League) and Kingston Indians (Carolina League).

After finishing his pro career in January 2001, Sirianni returned to Nebraska for his final semester and earned a bachelor's degree in history in May 2001.

Sirianni is a native of Indianola, Iowa, and played his prep career at Indianola High School. He earned 10 varsity letters with four coming in baseball and three each in track and field and football. He was a two-time All-State selection and a three-time All-Conference pick. Sirianni's father, John, is the Director of Athletics at Division III Simpson College in Indianola after spending 20 years as the school's head baseball coach. His brother, Mike, is a high school baseball coach in Jonesboro, Ark.

Sirianni married the former Erin McKernan on Sept. 2, 2006. They have a daughter, 1-year-old Mia.

a .307 batting average and had 11 doubles, three triples and 35 RBI. Chad Comer also produced a career-high .296 batting average under Hendricks' tutelage, which helped him get drafted by the Atlanta Braves.

In his first year as the UTA hitting coach, Hendricks helped Michael Choice win the Southland Conference batting title with a .383 average. Choice also belted 16 home runs and led the nation with 76 walks and finished second in the nation with a .568 on-base percentage. In doing so, Choice earned the Southland Conference Hitter of the Year and Player of the Year awards in addition to being named First-Team All-SLC. Choice also made several All-America teams before the Oakland Athletics made him the 10th overall selection in the 2010 Major League Baseball draft.

Choice wasn't alone in finding prosperity in the Mavericks' batting order in 2010. Beck set UTA freshman records with 82 hits and by ending the season on a 20-game hitting streak – a streak he carried into the 2011 campaign. Beck batted .352 (second on the team) and proved especially difficult to strike out (fanning just 28 times in 257 plate appearances). For his play as a freshman, Louisville Slugger honored him with a spot on its Freshman All-America team.

Hendricks mentored six full-time starters to batting averages of .300 or better and eight regular starters to on-base percentages of .340 or better. Jordan Vaughn and Jesse Payne enjoyed five-hit games during the season and Payne strung together an unbelievable stretch during which he recorded hits in seven consecutive plate appearances.

By the year's end, Hendricks helped steer the UTA offense to top-10 finishes in program history in home runs, RBI, runs scored, hits and doubles. Hendricks was the Mavs' first-base coach in 2009 and he also handled the team's speed and agility while assisting with the team's hitting, infield, outfield and base running.

K.J. Hendricks enters his fifth season with the Mavericks in 2011, his third as an assistant coach. Hendricks spent the two previous seasons on the UT Arlington staff as a volunteer assistant (2009) and team chaplain (2008). Hendricks serves as the team's hitting and defensive coach.

The 2011 season presented Hendricks with a significantly different lineup from the one the Mavericks had in 2010. His mentoring helped guide Ryan Walker to Freshman All-America honors. Walker hit .322 and produced a team-high 37 RBI from the leadoff spot. Hendricks also led Brian Nephew to a career year. The UTA third baseman batted cleanup for much of the year and hit .358 with two home runs and 31 RBI. Nephew's play earned him a second-team All-Southland Conference selection.

Other accomplishments came in helping Preston Beck's power mature – he went from two home runs in 2010 to five in 2011 despite playing with less power-conductive bats. Beck still maintained

The Mavericks had three of the top five batters in the Southland Conference and led the SLC with a .971 fielding percentage in 2009.

During the past two seasons on the Mavericks' staff, Hendricks has helped mentor several of UTA's top offensive players over the past decade. A total of five players have finished batting in the top five in the Southland Conference in consecutive seasons, while in 2009, three Mavericks batted over .400 - which is the first time in school history a set of teammates batted over .400 in a season.

Hendricks returned to UT Arlington in the fall of 2007 after completing his professional playing career that spanned six seasons with the Colorado Rockies, Baltimore Orioles and Fort Worth Cats. Hendricks earned his bachelor's degree at UT Arlington in 2008.

Hendricks played his freshman season at Temple College before joining the Mavericks for a standout two-year career from 2001-2002. Hendricks was then selected by the Colorado Rockies in the 2002 MLB Draft in the 26th round with the 771st overall selection.

He played three seasons in the Rockies farm system before finishing his career playing one season in the Baltimore Orioles minor league system and one season with the Fort Worth Cats. Hendricks batted .314 with 32 RBI and was 21-of-24 in stolen bases in his first professional season. He followed with a team-best and career-high 50 stolen bases with 11 doubles, three triples and three home runs and posted 69 runs scored in his first Single-A season in Asheville, N.C. (South Atlantic League). In 2005, Hendricks was named the "Fastest Base Runner" in the Colorado Rockies farm system by Baseball America.

His last season with the Rockies was another successful campaign batting .286 (136-for-475) with 100 runs, 20 doubles, five triples, three home runs, 54 RBI and 34 stolen bases with class-A Visalia Oaks in the California League. He completed his professional career with 134 stolen bases and a career batting average of .284.

In his first year playing at UT Arlington, Hendricks earned second team All-Southland Conference honors as well as earning the nickname "The Pest" by late UT Arlington head coach Clay Gould because of Hendricks' aggressive playing style.

In 2001 he batted a team-high .328 and led the Southland Conference with 36 stolen bases. The stolen base total ties for fifth all-time at UTA. His 57 runs scored are eighth-best in Mavericks history. He helped lead the Mavericks to the SLC Tournament championship while being named Most Valuable Player. He batted .391 (9-for-23) in the tournament. As a junior, Hendricks put up even more impressive numbers. His .353 batting average was a career-best, and he swiped another 33 bases in 38 attempts. He led the Mavs with 40 walks, 82 hits and a .450 on-base percentage.

Hendricks ranks fourth on the all-time UTA career stolen bases list with 69, which is the most in UTA history for a two-year letterwinner.

VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT COACH TROY DEAN CONKLE // DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS STEFFAN GUEST

Troy Dean Conkle
Volunteer Assistant Coach // 2nd Season
Northwestern State, 1994

Troy Conkle begins his second stint with UT Arlington, this time as the team's volunteer assistant coach. Previously, Conkle coached under Mavericks legend Clay Gould for eight seasons off and on from 1995-2003.

Conkle starts his third decade with UTA and was a member of the Mavericks staff that coached the team to the Southland Conference championship in 2001. That team also won the only NCAA Regional Tournament game in program history when the Mavs topped Houston in the Rice Regional.

Even before coaching UT Arlington, the Southland Conference was hardly new terrain for Conkle, a First-Team All-SLC performer in 1992 and '93 as Northwestern State's shortstop. Conkle's teammates thought enough of him to make him a two-year captain. He also anchored a Northwestern State defense that led the league in defense in 1992.

Conkle's pedigree began at Northwestern State, where he played for former Alabama head coach Jim Wells as well as current Alabama coach Mitch Gaspard and current Ole Miss coach Mike Bianco. Conkle graduated from NSU in 1994 with a degree in broadcast journalism.

Before transferring to Northwestern State, Conkle was a junior college All-American freshman at Paris Junior College.

After college, Conkle played independent ball in the Texas-Louisiana League from 1994-97. His team, Abilene, won the Texas-Louisiana League championship in 1996. He was also named an all-star in 1995. In 1997, his final year as a player, Conkle pitched while also serving as the pitching coach. He carried that into a one-year stint as the pitching coach for Abilene Christian University.

Conkle later returned to school, earning a law degree from Texas Wesleyan School of Law.

Conkle is married to the former Jennifer Berry. The couple has two kids, Caroline, 9, and William, 5.

Steffan Guest
Director of Operations // 1st Season
UT Arlington, 2010

Steffan Guest enters his first season as the UT Arlington director of operations after a year away from the program.

It did not take Guest long to become re-acclimated. After all, the Keller, Texas native played two seasons with the Mavericks, hitting .303 with five home runs and 65 RBI.

Guest came to UTA in 2008 after playing for McLennan Community College. He played 34 games, making 25 starts while hitting .271 with two home runs and 18 RBI. In 2009, a season-ending injury forced Guest to redshirt after playing in just one game.

The catcher/designated hitter saved his best for last. As a senior, Guest hit .314 with three home runs and 47 RBI. Guest also belted 21 doubles as a senior, placing him in a fourth-place tie on the single-season list at UT Arlington. He tied for second in the Southland Conference in doubles that year.

SOUTHLAND CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP YEARS

On Sunday, April 29, UTA won both games of a doubleheader against defending SLC champion Sam Houston State. Lee Jones pitched UTA to a 1-0 victory in the first game. The Mavericks then took a 7-1 decision behind the pitching of Jeff Burrows in game two.

1992

On Opening Day, Feb. 1, in front of a then-record home crowd of 1,009, the Mavs defeated TCU 4-3, propelling them to a school-record 40 wins and a Southland Conference championship. UTA recorded wins that season against TCU, Texas, Baylor and Oklahoma State.

2001

After defeating host Lamar twice to capture the Southland Conference Championship, the Mavericks defeated Houston 7-6 on May 26 at the NCAA Regional Tournament. Craig Martin delivered a walk-off home run to give UTA its first NCAA Tournament victory.

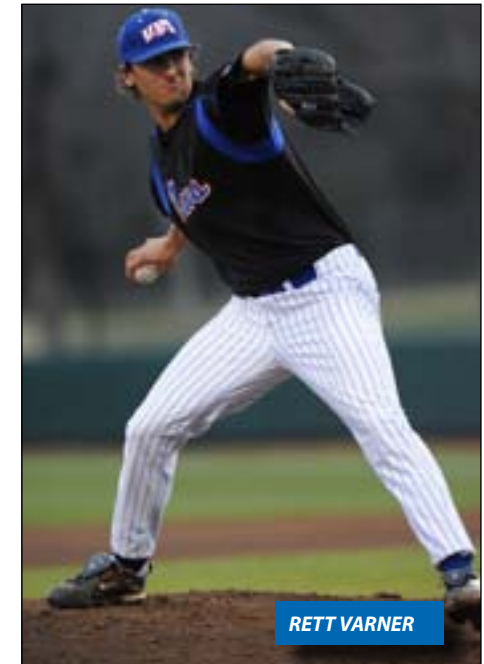

2006

After capturing the Southland Conference Tournament title, the Mavericks traveled to Austin for the NCAA South Central Regional Tournament. On June 3, in front of a national ESPN audience, UTA lost a 10-inning heartbreaker to North Carolina State, 6-5.

UT ARLINGTON RETIRED NUMBERS

Butch McBroom

February 5, 2000

The first number retired by the UT Arlington baseball program was the No. 30 belonging to long-time head coach Marvin "Butch" McBroom. McBroom was associated with The University of Texas at Arlington's baseball team longer than anyone in the history of the program. The team's head coach from 1974-1999, McBroom won two Southland Conference championships and took his team to the NCAA Regional in 1990 and 1992. McBroom roamed the Mavericks dugout for 26 of his 33 year coaching career, winning 756 games. Among the honors McBroom received during his distinguished career were NCAA South Central Region Coach of the Year in 1990 and four SLC Coach of the Year awards.

He posted 14 consecutive 30-plus win seasons (1980-1993) and helped produce 65 players who moved on to the professional ranks, 48 who became coaches and 46 who earned All-SLC honors in a UT Arlington uniform. Over the course of his collegiate coaching career, which also included two years at Union (Tenn.) University, McBroom won 804 games. McBroom also spent five years coaching in the high school ranks. The former Baylor graduate standout catcher was inducted into the UT Arlington Athletic Hall of Honor on Sept. 25, 2004.

Clay Gould

February, 17, 2002

Clay Gould's jersey No. 8 joined the number of his former coach, Butch McBroom, on the outfield wall at Allan Saxe Stadium (now Clay Gould Ballpark) on Feb. 17, 2002. A former Mavericks player and head coach, Gould won championships in both capacities. As a player, Gould was the Southland Conference Player of the Year in 1993 and was nominated for USA Baseball's Golden Spikes Award, presented yearly to the nation's most outstanding player. He led the Mavericks to NCAA Regional appearances as a player in 1990 and 1992.

Gould was an assistant coach at UT Arlington from 1997-1999, before being named the school's fourth head coach in 2000. His 2001 Mavericks won the Southland Conference Tournament and advanced to the NCAA Regional, making Gould the only member of all three of UT Arlington's regional teams. He was named Co-Coach of the Year in the South Central Region by the American Baseball Coaches Association in 2001.

Gould passed away on June 23, 2001, after a courageous battle with cancer, but his memory lives on in the hearts of all who knew him.

Trey Hillman

Trey Hillman's jersey No. 1 became the third in UT Arlington history to get retired at Clay Gould Ballpark on May 8, 2010. Hillman is the only three-time All-Southland Conference baseball selection in UTA history. His .442 batting average in 1985 led the SLC and remains a single-season record at UTA. Hillman was named the 1985 SLC Player of the Year before signing a free agent contract with the Cleveland Indians in 1986.

After a brief playing career, Hillman blazed his new path as a manager in 1990 at 27 years old, winning the Carolina League championship in his first season. He was named the 1996 Florida State League Manager of the Year and the 2000 International League Manager of the Year. In 2006, Hillman won the Japan Series title and Konami Cup as the manager of the Nippon Ham Fighters. Hillman realized the dream of becoming a Major League Baseball manager in 2008 when he took the reins of the Kansas City Royals. He is now the bench coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

WESTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE - NEW HOME OF UTA ATHLETICS STARTING IN 2012

Now in its 50th year of existence, the Western Athletic Conference continues to evolve and feature some of the nation's best intercollegiate competition. One thing that remains unchanged is the persistent nature of the schools in the WAC to advance their programs to contend at the top levels of the NCAA.

The WAC provides its student-athletes the chance to travel to scenic destinations and gain exposure in some of the nation's most diverse markets. In addition, the WAC's student-athletes work to achieve the highest levels of success with the academic support of their respective institutions.

CONTINUED SUCCESS

The WAC has experienced tremendous success over the past decade. The WAC has sent a total of 35 teams to bowl games since 2001, including more than half of its teams in 2008 with a record-tying five teams. The conference has sent teams to BCS bowl games in three of the last five seasons including Hawai'i's appearance in the 2008 Sugar Bowl. In men's basketball, the WAC has sent at least two teams to the NCAA Tournament in 24 of the past 28 seasons. Every current school in the WAC has competed in the NCAA Tournament since 1990. In baseball, the WAC has boasted two national champions since 2003 including Fresno State's College World Series victory in 2008. In women's sports, Fresno State softball has competed in every NCAA Tournament ever held while Louisiana Tech basketball has played in all but three. In 2009, Hawai'i made its fourth trip since 2000 to the NCAA Volleyball Final Four, and in 2010, the Rainbow Wahine earned a trip to the Softball College World Series.

Current WAC alums have made their presence felt as well. David Carr (Fresno State) was the first player selected in the 2002 NFL Draft. Cheryl Ford (Louisiana Tech) was named the WNBA Rookie of the Year and helped the Detroit Shock win the league's championship in 2003. In 2004, the United States' softball team won the Olympic gold medal with former Fresno State players Laura Berg and Lovie Jung. Jeff Weaver (Fresno State) earned the win in the St. Louis Cardinals' World Series clinching victory in 2006. Quarterback Colt Brennan (Hawai'i) finished third in the 2007 Heisman Trophy voting, and in 2008, Natasha Kai (Hawai'i) helped the United States to a gold medal in soccer at the Olympics in Beijing.

MEDIA MARKETS

The addition of UTA and the Dallas/Fort Worth (5) metroplex brings another top 20 media market to go along with San Jose/San Francisco (6), Seattle (13) and Denver (17). In addition, the WAC boasts two other top 50 markets – Salt Lake City (32) and San Antonio (37) along with Spokane (75), Shreveport (83) and El Paso/Las Cruces (97). These media markets will significantly help the WAC in securing more lucrative television rights fees contracts in the future.

TELEVISION PRESENCE

In 2001, the WAC partnered with ESPN for coverage of football and basketball giving the conference national exposure from one of the most respected broadcast entities in the country. The WAC also officially added WAC.tv in 2006 to give fans streaming internet access to many of its postseason championships including volleyball, soccer, swimming and diving, basketball, gymnastics, softball and baseball.

HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE

The first championship was held in November 1962, when Arizona won the men's cross country title and New Mexico followed with the first WAC football title. Arizona finished second in the NCAA College World Series and, less than three years later, Arizona State claimed the league's first NCAA title when the Sun Devils won the College World Series trophy. Fresno State was the last WAC school to earn an NCAA team title when it won the College World Series in 2008.

Since 1962, several changes have occurred. UTEP and Colorado State became members in September 1967, while Arizona and Arizona State withdrew on June 30, 1978. The WAC then added San Diego State (1978), Hawai'i (1979) and Air Force (1980). Before 1990, the WAC sponsored championships only in men's sports. However, a merger with the High Country Athletic Conference formed a single conference under one administrative structure, and the 1990-91 athletic year was the first in which both men and women competed under the WAC name. Fresno State was added in 1992, and then in 1996, the women's programs from Air Force and Hawai'i along with six new schools (UNLV, Rice, San Jose State, SMU, TCU and Tulsa) came into the WAC. Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, UNLV, New Mexico, San Diego State, Utah and Wyoming withdrew on June 30, 1999. Nevada (2000), Boise State (2001) and Louisiana Tech (2001) were added while TCU withdrew following the 2000-01 season. The current membership was established on July 1, 2005, when Idaho, New Mexico State and Utah State joined the WAC after Rice, SMU, UTEP and Tulsa withdrew. For the 2012-13 season, the WAC will add Denver, Seattle, UT Arlington, UTSA and Texas State to replace withdrawing members Boise State (2011), Fresno State (2012), Hawai'i (2012) and Nevada (2012).

The WAC has had just five commissioners in its history. Paul Brechler was named the first leader of the conference and held the position from 1962-1968. He was followed by Wiles Hallock (1968-71), Stan Bates (1971-80), Dr. Joe Kearney (1980-94) and Karl Benson (1994-present).

WAC CHAMPIONS

Presently, the WAC crowns team and individual champions in 19 sports – eight men's and 11 women's. For the men, there are championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis, indoor track and field and outdoor track and field. Championships for women are held in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field and volleyball.

The WAC office has been located in the Denver area since the conference's inception with the exception of a two-year stay in Phoenix from 1964-66.

In an era of considerable change in intercollegiate athletics, the Southland Conference continues to be a model of innovation, stability and consistent achievement as it celebrates the academic and athletic accomplishments of its member institutions.

What began as a small gathering of college administrators nearly 50 years ago, the Southland Conference has transformed itself into a dynamic and respected consortium of 12 member universities in three states. Beginning with a historic meeting of five institutions in Dallas on March 15, 1963, that included current members Lamar University (then Lamar State College of Technology) and the University of Texas at Arlington (then Arlington State College), the Southland Conference set on an extraordinary course that has proven successful well into its fifth decade of existence.

On July 1, 2006, the Southland Conference commemorated another milestone as the league membership reached 12, marking the largest configuration ever for the organization. The addition of the University of Central Arkansas and Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi expanded the Southland into the Little Rock, Ark., metro area and into the eighth largest city in Texas. Central Arkansas and A&M-Corpus Christi enhanced the Southland Conference in innumerable ways, including athletic and academic successes, strong and principled leadership, and strong fan support and media coverage.

In addition to its two newest members, the Southland Conference membership also consists of Lamar University, McNeese State University, Nicholls State University, Northwestern State University, Sam Houston State University, Southeastern Louisiana University, Stephen F. Austin State University, the University of Texas at Arlington, the University of Texas at San Antonio, and Texas State University-San Marcos.

All told, the revised membership of the Southland encompasses more than 180,000 current students and an alumni base of approximately 920,000. Famous alums from Southland Conference schools include former President Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas State), former CBS news anchor Dan Rather (Sam Houston State), retired U.S. Central Command General Tommy Franks (UT Arlington), NBA executive Joe Dumars (McNeese State), ABC news anchor Robin Roberts (Southeastern Louisiana), country music star George Strait (Texas State), Major League Baseball stars Hunter Pence (UT Arlington), Kevin Millar (Lamar) and Ben Broussard (McNeese State), NBA legend Scottie Pippen (Central Arkansas) and actor Lou Diamond Phillips (UT Arlington).

The cities of the Southland are diverse and progressive, ranging from international business and cultural centers such as the Dallas/Fort Worth metroplex, San Antonio and the New Orleans area, to the historical cities of Nacogdoches, Texas, and Natchitoches, La., to the home of the modern oil boom, Beaumont, Texas, to the unique Cajun French cultures found in the Louisiana cities of Thibodaux and Lake Charles. Southland Conference institutions also draw large numbers of students from the metropolitan areas of Houston, Little Rock, Baton Rouge, Austin, and Shreveport.

The Southland sponsors 17 championship sports, all at the NCAA Division I level. The eight men's sports include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field. The women compete for nine championships in basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball. The conference earns automatic qualification to NCAA championships in baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, football, men's and women's golf, women's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis, and volleyball.

Continuing its tradition of innovation, the league launched the Southland Conference Television Network in the fall of 2008 and has already broadcast nearly 100 events. The network is expanding its reach to roughly 10 million households throughout Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas in 2011-12. In its first three years, the regional network has received recognition for its work. It received a national honorable mention award at the College Sports Media Award at the College Sports Video Summit in Atlanta in June 2011 for its production of the 2010 Stephen F. Austin vs. Sam Houston State football game in the category of professional live event, competing with the likes of ESPN, Turner Sports and other conference networks, including the Big Ten and Mountain West. In the summer of 2010, the network was recognized for the best live game or event in its category for the production of the 2009 McNeese State vs. Stephen F. Austin football game. The conference network has also collected four prestigious Telly Awards, including this past summer when the conference won a Silver Telly Award for its promotion of the 2011 Southland Conference basketball tournament.

In January 2011, the Southland Conference, in conjunction with the city of Frisco, Texas and Hunt Sports Group, played host to the NCAA Division I Football Championship Game in Frisco, which has been home to the conference office since 2006. The game will be played at Frisco's Pizza Hut Park for at least the next two seasons. Frisco was named the fastest growing city in the nation in 2010.

Southland Conference football ranks among the best Football Championship Subdivision leagues in the nation, and enjoys an annual expectation of competing for the national championship with multiple teams advancing to the NCAA playoffs each year. In 2002 and 2003, McNeese State finished the regular season ranked No. 1 in the nation, and advanced to the 2002 national championship contest, the sixth such title game appearance since the league joined the Football Championship Subdivision (formerly I-AA) in 1982. All told, Southland teams have played in 93 Division I playoff games in 29 years, winning 43 of the contests.

Historically, the Southland's successful football heritage has sustained itself through numerous membership and classification changes. Originally an NAIA conference, the Southland joined the NCAA College Division in 1968. The College Division was re-named NCAA Division II in 1973, and the league played two seasons in that class, before joining Division I in 1975. The Southland was an NCAA Division I-A league from 1978-81, before joining the ranks of FCS in 1982, its home ever since.

During its tenure as a Division I-A conference, the Southland Conference was instrumental in the startup of the Independence Bowl in 1976. The Southland representative served as the host team of the bowl until 1980, compiling a 2-3 record in those contests. The conference can lay claim to five national championships, including College Division championships through former members Arkansas State (1970, UPI) and Louisiana Tech (1972, National Football Foundation). Louisiana Tech also won the first NCAA-sanctioned national title, winning the Division II playoffs in 1973. Tech followed that with the UPI's Division II national championship in 1974. Louisiana-Monroe won the 1987 national championship.

McNeese State, which has made 14 appearances in the national playoffs, played in the 1997 and 2002 NCAA Division I Championship games, while Stephen F. Austin played in the 1989 title game and has six playoff appearances, including each of the last two seasons. Northwestern State has played in the playoffs six times, and advanced to the semifinals in 1998, while Sam Houston State has earned four trips to the postseason, including the semifinals in 2004. Nicholls State has participated three times in the playoffs. On four occasions, the Southland has placed three teams in the national 16-team playoffs. Five of the eight current football-playing members have qualified for the FCS playoffs.

SOUTHLAND CONFERENCE

The Southland has produced 156 first-team football All-Americans during its history and in 2010, Stephen F. Austin quarterback Jeremy Moses became the first player in Southland history to receive the Walter Payton Award, which is presented annually to the most outstanding football player at the FCS level.

The Southland is one of three FCS conferences with at least 200 selections (204) in the National Football League draft. The league also ranks third in the FCS with 24 players taken in the draft since 2000 and has 17 former players on NFL rosters heading into 2011.

The Southland Conference has also sent such talent to the professional ranks, including Buffalo's Terrence McGee (Northwestern State) and Felton Huggins (Southeastern Louisiana), Minnesota's Rhett Bomar (Sam Houston State), Jacksonville's Bryan Smith (McNeese State) and Larry Hart (Central Arkansas), Tennessee's Jacob Ford (Central Arkansas), Baltimore's Lardarius Webb (Nicholls State), Seattle's Dominique Edison (Stephen F. Austin) and Green Bay's Antonio Robinson (Nicholls State), who became the Southland's 24th player to win a Super Bowl when the Packers beat Pittsburgh in Super Bowl XLV in Arlington in 2011.

Among the former NFL stars from the Southland include Fred Dean, who was inducted to the Professional Football Hall of Fame in 2008 to become the first former Southland Conference player to earn induction in Canton. Other great NFL players from the Southland include Super Bowl XXIX quarterback Stan Humphries, Bill Bergey, Fred Barnett, Roger Carr, Marvin Upshaw, Larry Centers, Kavika Pittman, Mike Barber, Bruce Collie, Tim McKyer, Pat Tilley, Jackie Harris, Eugene Seale, Bubby Brister, Billy Ryckman, Rafael Septien, Buford Jordan, Marcus Spears, Terrance Shaw and Ray Brown.

The Southland Conference has also seen its share of great coaches during its history in Maxie Lambright, Ernie Duplechin, Sam Goodwin, Jack Doland, Bennie Ellender, Bobby Keasler, Larry Lacewell, Bill Davidson, Dennis Franchione, Pat Collins, and Ron Randleman.

In addition to football, the Southland Conference can point to a number of accomplishments in all sports.

Men's basketball has experienced a tremendous amount of success during the Southland's 45-plus years. The league has sent two teams to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen, as well as a squad to the NIT Final Four. Basketball stars Karl Malone, Joe Dumars, Jeff Foster, Dwight "Bo" Lamar, Andrew Toney, Devin Brown, and Mike Oliver played in the Southland Conference. In 2006, Northwestern State, playing as the No. 14 seed in the NCAA tournament, defeated No. 3 seed Iowa, 64-63, in first-round action. The Southland took another step forward in 2011.

The league saw two teams reach the postseason (UTSA in the NCAA tournament and McNeese State in the NIT) for the second time since 2008 and enjoyed its first win in the NCAA tournament since 2006.

Coaches such as Billy Tubbs, Mike Vining, Scotty Robertson, Jack Martin, Andy Russo, Bobby Paschal and Pat Foster have led teams in the Southland.

In women's basketball, the Southland also has its share of tradition with Louisiana-Monroe advancing to the 1985 NCAA Women's Final Four, and Stephen F. Austin sustaining itself as one of the most successful programs in the history of the sport. In 2008, the Ladyjacks became the eighth program in NCAA Division I history to record more than 800 wins.

In 2011, three Southland teams reached the postseason for the second consecutive season. McNeese State won its first conference tournament to earn its first NCAA tournament berth. Lamar was selected to play in its first WNIT and Central Arkansas played in its first Division I postseason tournament in the WBL. A Southland team has played in the WNIT 11 times, including each of the last five years. Women's basketball all-stars have included Eun Jung Lee, Lisa Ingram, Portia Hill, Deneen Parker, Katrina Price, and Joskeen Garner, and coaches such as Gary Blair, Linda Sharp, James Smith and Linda Harper.

Baseball has emerged as a huge Southland Conference strength with the league earning numerous national rankings and NCAA tournament berths. The Southland consistently ranks among the top-10 conferences in the country and that was no different in 2011 when 50 of the league's 150 non-conference victories came against the Big 12, Conference USA, Sun Belt and SEC. Major leaguers such as Ben Sheets, Micah Hoffpauir, Hunter Pence, David Segui, Brian Lawrence, Ben Broussard, Chuck Finley, Jerald Clark, and Terry Matthews once played in the Southland. Former UT Arlington shortstop, Trey Hillman, a three-time all-conference selection from 1983-85, was manager for the Kansas City Royals from the 2007-10 seasons and coached the American League in the 2009 MLB All-Star Game.

The 2011 Major League Baseball draft saw 25 players from the Southland get drafted, matching its best draft in conference history (1995), to push the all-time draft total to 439 selections. In 2010, UT Arlington's Michael Choice became the seventh Southland player taken in the first round, selected by Oakland with the 10th overall selection. He joins Ben Sheets (Louisiana-Monroe) as the league's highest draft pick. The two are the only players in Southland history to be taken in the top 10 of the draft.

In 2011, Jim Gilligan became the first Southland coach to reach 1,200 career victories, ranking him sixth-best in the NCAA among active Division I coaches and 24th all-time. Gilligan joined the Southland Conference Hall of Honor in 2011. After 26 years as a college head coach, including the last five years at Sam Houston State, Mark Johnson, a Southwestern baseball legend, retired following the 2011 season. He was the 44th Division I coach to win more than 1,000 career games (1,043). He is among an impressive list of coaches who have patrolled Southland Conference dugouts, including Pat Patterson, Butch McBroom, Jim Wells, Smoke Laval, Dave Van Horn, Mike Bianco, John Cohen and Tony Robichaux.

Softball continues to enjoy success on a national level has annually beaten at least one nationally ranked opponent since 1995. In 2011, the league had four wins against ranked opponents, including a win by Stephen F. Austin at No. 3 Texas. In the 2003 NCAA tournament, UT Arlington and Texas State enjoyed unprecedented success as each won two games in the national event. In 19 years of NCAA tournament competition the Southland has racked up 14 wins.

The Southland has a proud history in volleyball with UT Arlington representing the conference eight times in the NCAA tournament, advancing all the way to the NCAA Volleyball Final Four in 1989. In 2006, Stephen F. Austin moved to the second round following an opening-round win against Alabama.

Track and field has also served as a proud asset for the Southland Conference as the league has produced numerous national champions and Olympic medalists. The Southland boasts 28 men and three women student-athletes who have won NCAA track and field national championships, including Northwestern State's Trecey Rew, who won the women's discus in 2011, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi's Shadrack Songok (10,000-meter run) in 2007 and 2008 and McNeese State's Brad Gebauer (pole vault) in 2007. The league has also produced U.S. Olympic track and field medalists Earl Bell, Thomas Hill, Al Joyner and Charles Austin, Liudmila Litvinova, along with other Olympians. With the addition of five more All-Americans in 2011, the league continues to find national success in both indoor and outdoor track and field. In the indoor circuit, the Southland boasts 62 unique all-time All-Americans that have won a combined 11 national championships. Likewise, in the outdoor season, the league has seen 152 different All-Americans, including 123 men and 29 women, who have combined to win enrollment of more than 29,000 students, UT Arlington is the second-largest of the 15 institutions in The UT System and offers 90 baccalaureate, 74 master's and 34 doctoral degrees. And with a continued focus on technology transfer and economic development, UT Arlington is solidifying its status as a leading research university in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the state and the nation.

Before coming to UT Arlington, President Spaniolo was dean of Michigan State University's College of Communication Arts and Sciences. As dean from 1996 to 2003, he oversaw an enrollment increase of more than 1,000 students and helped establish the James H. and Mary B.
