JOHN SAUERHAGE
19-time SLC Head Coach of the Year
2007 Men's USTCCCA Division I Outdoor
South Central Coach of the Year

As UT Arlington Head Track and Field and Cross Country Coach John Sauerhage closes in on his fourth decade on the Arlington track and field landscape, the former prep state champion has become one of the most decorated coaches in Southland Conference history.

In his 15th year as the head of the Mavericks track and field and cross country programs, Sauerhage has led the Mavericks to 19 team championships and has earned an unprecedented 19 SLC Coach of the Year honors.

Sauerhage is coming off a 2009 outdoor season where he guided Maverick sprinters Cordero Gray and Jasmine Walls to All-American honors. Gray became the 18th UTA male athlete to earn All-American accolades while Walls became the 10th female to be honored. Overall he has coached 17 athletes to All-American honors.

Four other UTA men athletes qualified for the NCAA's including Takeshi Fujiwara, Byron Major, Jarid Vaughn and Andrew Duncan. In all, nine of Sauerhage's men's athletes and four of his women's athletes, punched their ticket to the regionals in 2009.

Besides coaching on the national collegiate level, Sauerhage took his coaching talents to the international level as he served as the head coach of the El Salvadorian national team at the 2009 World University Games in Belgrade, Serbia.

His athletes have also performed on the highest level of international competition as four of his past athletes have ran in the Olympics. Those include Jared Connaughton (Canada, 2008 Beijing), Takeshi Fujiwara (El Salvador, 2004 Athens) and Elston Cawley (United States, 1996 Atlanta, 1996). He has also coached five athletes at UTA who have earned six trips to the IAAF World Championships.

The first 14 years as the head coach at UTA have been nothing short of phenomenal with the program's consistency and excellence over the past two decades.

He guided the men's team to its first SLC outdoor team title in more than a decade with a thrilling one-point win over Texas-San Antonio in 2007. He was named the 2007 United States Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association's (USTCCCA) Division I Outdoor Track and Field Men's South Central District Coach of the Year.

Sauerhage returned to his alma mater to begin his coaching career at UTA in 1989 as an assistant coach. He spent seven years as an assistant before taking over the reins the fall of 1995, and continuing the Mavericks' success. As an assistant and as the head coach, Sauerhage witnessed the Mavericks men dominate the previous decade. Meanwhile, the women's indoor and outdoor programs were just as impressive, earning a combined 11 team crowns, including seven straight indoor championships from 1995-2001.

In his first year as head coach, the Mavericks won the men's indoor and outdoor conference titles, as well as the women's indoor title, and finished second in the women's outdoor SLC Championships. For his accomplishments, Sauerhage was named Southland Conference men's and women's indoor Coach of the Year, along with men's outdoor Coach of the Year.

The success did not stop after just one season, as Sauerhage improved in his second year. His teams repeated conference championships in the men's and women's indoor and men's outdoor, along with another second place finish in the women's outdoor. Sauerhage also led the women's cross country team to a conference title.

In his third year at the helm, Sauerhage accomplished something that had never been accomplished in UTA history by leading the UTA women to the triple crown by winning the cross country title and the indoor and outdoor conference championships, a feat he would later accomplish a second time in 2001.

Sauerhage has coached the women's indoor team to the conference title in his first six seasons, as well as being named women's indoor Coach of the Year in each season. He has coached the women's outdoor team to four straight conference titles and received four straight Coach of the Year honors from 1998-2001 and the men's indoor to four conference titles and the men's outdoor to two conference championships.

Sauerhage coached the men's cross country team to a conference championship and the women's cross country team to three conference titles, including back-to-back titles in 2001-02. He has three Coach of the Year honors in cross country — one for men and two for women's teams.

Since 1989, Sauerhage has coached nine athletes to individual conference championships in cross country and UTA athletes have won 72 SLC track titles in events ranging from the 800 meters to the 10,000 meters, including nine in 1994 alone.

Sauerhage began his collegiate career at Louisiana State University, where he placed sixth in the Southeastern Conference in the 1,000-yard and mile distances before transferring to UTA.

As a prep standout at Arlington High School, Sauerhage was a six-time state qualifier, won the Class 5A mile in 1979 and ran a 4:10.6 in the mile.

His college career was equally impressive. As a member of the UTA track and field team, Sauerhage won the SLC title in the mile and is a member of the school record-holding 6,000-meter relay team. He owns the second best all-time indoor and outdoor 1,500 meter times with a mark of 3:51.50 and 3:49.35, respectively.

Sauerhage graduated from UTA in 1986 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He received a master's degree in education from Louisiana-Monroe University in 1988, while serving as a graduate assistant coach.

An avid fan of the St. Louis Cardinals and their first baseman Albert Pujols, Sauerhage and his wife, Lisa, reside in Arlington.

BRANDON BERGER

Assistant Coach
Fourth Year
UT Arlington, 2000

Brandon Berger enters his fourth season as an assistant coach for the Mavs.

He will be in charge of the jumps, hurdles, multi-events and field events for the men's and women's track and field program.

Berger provided the team with quick results in 2007, particularly in the hurdles. With help from Berger, Mavericks hurdler Jon McDowell blew away his competition in the 110 hurdles with a time of 13.79 at the 2007 SLC Outdoor Championships. McDowell and teammate Coby Morrison, a 400-meter hurdler, each qualified for nationals in 2007. McDowell earned All-America honors after placing in his event.

Berger's versatility as a coach comes from his background as a decathlete at UT Arlington from 1996 to 1999.

One of the top multi-event performers in UT Arlington track history, Berger posted four top-10 finishes in the decathlon at the Southland Conference Outdoor Championships from 1996-99. He claimed fourth in the decathlon as a junior with 6,495 points and was fifth in the conference with 6,546 points as a sophomore in 1997. Berger's 6,546 points ranks fifth on the all-time decathlon list at UTA.

Berger competed in the 55-meter hurdles during the indoor seasons of his career, including a personal-best time of 7.81 at the SLC Indoor Championships in 1998.

Berger is in his second stint as a coach with the track program. In 2000, he was a student assistant where he helped with travel and coaching of multi-event and field event athletes.

Berger served as assistant events manager at Maverick Stadium from 2001 to 2007. A graduate of UT Arlington with a Bachelor of Science degree in biology in 2000, Berger is married to Mishael Bertrand-Berger.

JORDAN DURHAM

Assistant Coach

Arizona State, 2009

Jordan Durham enters her first season as the program's new sprint's coach.

Durham is no stranger to the UTA track program as she spent the 2008-09 season as a graduate assistant with the program. She assisted in the development of All-American sprinters Cordero Gray and Jasmine Walls last year.

She was a three-time All-American at Arizona State where she was a member of the Sun Devils 2007 indoor and outdoor and 2008 indoor national championship team.

She participated in the relays and sprints for the Sun Devils and was a member of the team's 4x100m and 4x400m relay teams. In 2008 during the Pac 10 season, she finished third in the 400m final with a time of 53.64 and ran third leg on the school's winning 4x400m relay team.

Durham helped lead ASU's 4x400m relay to a third place finish at the 2008 NCAA Indoor meet and a fifth place finish at the 2008 Outdoor meet.

During the 2007 season she earned All-America honors in the 4x400m relay as the team ran 3:35.96 and place eighth at the NCAA Championships. That same squad won the Pac-10 title (3:33.14) and was second in the West Region. She began her career at ASU in 2006 after spending her freshman season at TCU.

A 2004 graduate of Kennedale High School in Kennedale, Texas, she was selected as the team's MVP all four years of competition. She helped lead the track team to a state title as a senior. She also was also a two-time all-district volleyball selection and captained both teams as a senior.

She majored in psychology and sociology at Arizona State. She was born on August 28, 1986 in San Angelo, Texas.

OLYMPIC AND INTERNATIONAL SUCCESS

UTA ATHLETE JARED CONNAUGHTON HELPS HIS NATIVE CANADA TO FINALS OF 4X100 RELAY AT BEIJING OLYMPICS

At the 2008 Beijing Olympics, former UTA standout Jared Connaughton helped his native Canada reach the finals of the 4x100 relay. He helped his team finish second in their preliminary heat and the team finished sixth in the finals with a time of 38.66 which was a season best. Connaughton also made the semifinals of the 200 meters. No stranger to international competition, Connaughton also competed at the 2007 World Championships in Japan.

Connaughton was an 11-time all-Southland Conference performer from 2005-07 and holds the school indoor record with a time of 6.68 in the 60-meter dash. He was named the SLC Athlete of the Year and the Outstanding Track Performer during the 2006 outdoor season.

Connaughton closed out his UTA career by capturing the SLC Outdoor 200-meter championship with a time of 20.76 and leading the team to its first outdoor conference championship since 1997. He also teamed with Byron Majors, Coby Morrison and Adam Newton on the 4x100-meter relay team that advanced to the NCAA Championships with a time of 39.65, the third fastest in school history.

FIELDTURF

Maverick Stadium will undergo a facelift in the summer of 2009 with the installation of FieldTurf.

UT Arlington selected FieldTurf for installation at Maverick Stadium, the home of the school's men's and women's track teams, and one of the most utilized track-and-field facilities in the Southwest. The announcement was made by Maverick Stadium Manager Tom Kloza and FieldTurf CEO Joe Fields.

The installation will commence this July and will be in place for the Mavericks' 2009 fall track season. FieldTurf will be replacing the facility's previous ten-year old artificial turf.

"We are very pleased with our decision to install FieldTurf at Maverick Stadium," said Stadium Manager Tom Kloza. "When we researched this issue, without question, FieldTurf was the most stable of all of the artificial turf companies. The technological aspects of FieldTurf, with the way they do things, were far in advance of their competitors. And the playability of FieldTurf is so far ahead of the others that this was really an easy decision."

"I am excited that Field Turf will be installed in Mavericks Stadium," said UTA Men's and Women's Head Track Coach John Sauerhage. "It will be a great addition to our facility and will help in our recruiting efforts now and in the future. Our athletes are already looking forward to working out on it."

"Although FieldTurf is primarily known as a football surface, our track-and-field product is the finest in the industry," said Fields. "With all of the track-and-field events hosted by Maverick Stadium, not just through the Texas-Arlington men's and women's track teams, but also at the high school and track club levels, this installation will provide great exposure for our outstanding product. We know that Tom Kloza and the folks at UTA did their due diligence in selecting FieldTurf, and it is our aim to provide them with the finest state-of-the-art track surface available."

Maverick Stadium opened in 1980 and has a seating capacity of 12,000. It is not only the home of UTA men's and women's track, but it is also one of the busiest high school sports facilities in the Southwest. In addition to hosting a steady stream of high school football and soccer, Maverick is considered one of the finest track-and-field facilities in the region. The stadium is the home of a significant amount of track-and-field competition, including high school meets, track club meets and various track camps.

More than 50 top NCAA universities currently play their home football games on FieldTurf, including Texas, Texas Tech, Nebraska, Ohio State, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, West Virginia, Washington, Oregon, Missouri, Kansas State, Boston College, Rutgers, Syracuse, Cincinnati and Louisville. Twenty-one of the NFL's 32 teams presently utilize FieldTurf in their stadiums and/or practice facilities. In addition, MLB's Tampa Bay Rays, Minnesota Twins and Toronto Blue Jays have FieldTurf at their respective stadiums.

With over 3000 installations in almost 50 countries, FieldTurf Tarkett is the largest entity in the sports surfacing industry and provides unparalleled leasing capabilities, engineering and manufacturing resources. In addition to its world-renowned FieldTurf and Prestige brands of artificial turf, FieldTurf Tarkett provides an equally impressive range of products that includes synthetic and hardwood basketball, volleyball and gymnasium flooring, squash and racquetball courts, floor protection and covering systems and weight room flooring. Also in the range of FieldTurf Tarkett products are indoor and outdoor running tracks, including the high performance 'Le Monde' track system, playground surfacing and a complete range of tennis and golf surfaces.

Leadership

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

James D. Spaniolo

Hailed as the ideal person to lead The University of Texas at Arlington into a new era of prominence, James D. Spaniolo was appointed the University's seventh president in November 2003 by The University of Texas System Board of Regents.

He took office in February 2004 and immediately began building an administrative team and reaching out to stakeholders to map a course for UT Arlington's future. Boosting research and private support for the state's seventh largest university are among his priorities.

President Spaniolo's experience in higher education, law, philanthropy, politics and journalism make him uniquely qualified to lead a comprehensive teaching, research and public service institution like UT Arlington. With an enrollment of more than 25,000 students, UT Arlington is the third largest of the 15 institutions in the U.T. System and offers 90 baccalaureate, 74 master's and 34 doctoral degrees.

With a continued focus on technology transfer and economic development, UT Arlington is solidifying its status as a leading research university in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the state and the nation. During the 2002 fiscal year, the University received a 39-percent increase in externally-funded awards over the preceding year.

Before coming to UTA, President Spaniolo was dean of Michigan State University's College of Communication Arts and Sciences. As dean from 1996-2003, he oversaw an enrollment increase of more than 1,000 students and helped establish the James H. and Mary B. Quello Center for Telecommunication Management and Law by raising more than $3.5 million. He forged a partnership with a newspaper corporation in Mexico and strengthened alumni outreach. He was also a professor in the School of Journalism and taught courses on the First Amendment and communications law.

Prior to his tenure at Michigan State, he was vice president and chief program officer of the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation, the largest media-related private foundation in the United States with more than $1.5 billion in assets. In seven years with the Knight Foundation, he directed a program that included major grants and initiatives to support journalism and a free press in the United States and worldwide. He also served as a member of the foundation's Journalism Advisory Committee from 1997-2003.

Before joining Knight Foundation, President Spaniolo was a newspaper executive and lawyer with Knight-Ridder for more than a decade. He was vice president of human resources and assistant to the publisher at the Detroit Free Press and general executive and general counsel at The Miami Herald.

He began his legal career with the Miami law firm of Paul & Thomson, which represented The Herald, and later served as associate general counsel of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, where he established the organization's legal department. He is a member of the Florida Bar and has been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, the 5th and 11th U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeals and the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida.

He graduated with high honors from Michigan State in 1968 with a B.A. degree in political science. As a senior, he was editor-in-chief of the student daily, the State News. Following service in the U.S. Army Reserve, he became an assistant to Michigan State President Clifton R. Wharton Jr. from 1970-72. He earned a law degree from The University of Michigan Law School in 1975 and a master's degree in public administration from The University of Michigan Institute of Public Policy Studies (now the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy).

President Spaniolo has a son, Jamie, who lives in Washington D.C., and a daughter, Sarah, who lives in Los Angeles.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Pete Carlon

The fifth Director of Intercollegiate Athletics at UT Arlington since 1953, Pete Carlon is in his 14th year as the department's director after serving twice in an interim role.

Carlon has been with the university 29 years (since 1981), when he came to UT Arlington from Stephen F. Austin to become the head athletics trainer. He served as assistant or associate athletics director from 1984 until he was named director of athletics in May of 1996.

During Carlon's first tenure as interim athletics director in 1991-92, UT Arlington won five team conference titles and was ranked by the Women's Sports Foundation as the second best Division I program in the nation in terms of commitment to gender equity.

During the 1996-97 year, in Carlon's first year as the permanent athletics director, the Mavericks claimed both the men's and women's Southland Conference All-Sports trophies, a first in the history of the UT Arlington athletics program. In 1998-99, UT Arlington again claimed both the men's and women's All-Sports Championship and won the SLC Commissioner's Cup in the award's second year of existence. The Commissioner's Cup recognizes the conference's best overall athletics program. In all, UT Arlington has won three Commissioner's Cups and has finished among the top three schools in the race for the Cup each year since programs began competing for the award. During Carlon's tenure, the UT Arlington women's teams have captured five SLC All-Sports trophies and the men's teams have won six all-sports awards. In all, the Mavericks have won 50 team conference championships during Carlon's tenure as athletics director.

In 1997-98, Carlon teamed with then-University President Dr. Robert Witt to join forces with student and faculty leaders to spearhead the campaign for a referendum on a Student Intercollegiate Athletics Fee. This student athletics fee won overwhelming support from the student body and was enacted by the state legislature and then Gov. George W. Bush in 1999. The fee was the first of its kind in the state of Texas, and serves as a model for other institutions.

Carlon has placed a special emphasis on maintaining an environment of academic excellence for UT Arlington student-athletes. Numerous academic support services and programs have been implemented to assist each student-athlete in their academic endeavors. UT Arlington athletics is involved with the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills program, which provides Maverick student-athletes opportunities for life enriching leadership experiences, community service and life skills training.

During his 12-year tenure as head athletics trainer, Carlon served as president of the Southwest Athletic Trainers Association in 1987-88, was a member of the Southwest Athletic Trainers Association (SWATA) Executive Board, and served two terms on the national board of directors for the National Athletic Trainers Association. Carlon received one of the highest honors presented by the organization when he was named recipient of the NATA Most Distinguished Athletic Trainer Award in 1997. In 1989, Carlon was presented the Frank Medina Award for service to athletics training and mankind, and has twice (1988 and 1996) earned the Eddie Wojcecki Award for service to SWATA.

He was inducted into the SWATA Hall of Fame in 1999 and the NATA Hall of Fame in 2005 - the organization's highest honor.

Carlon served a two-year term as president of the Southland Conference and chair of its executive committee. He previously served on the executive committee in two-year stints as vice president/chair of the compliance committee and secretary/treasurer and chair of the finance committee.

Carlon has also served on several committees, including Southland Conference Honors and Awards, Compliance, Strategic Planning, Championships, Officiating and Marketing and Television.

Nationally, Carlon has been recently appointed for a four-year term on the Division I Academics Cabinet, after spending the last year as a member of the NCAA Division I Academics, Eligibility and Compliance Cabinet, the Transfer Issues Ad Hoc Subcommittee and chairing the Division I Financial Aid Subcommittee.

Carlon completed a four-year term (1998-2002) on the NCAA Committee on Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sports as well as the Subcommittee for Drug Education and Testing. He also is an active participant in the NCAA Athletics Certification process, having served on NCAA Peer Review Teams evaluating 10 other Division I institutions. He served as the president of the I-AAA Athletic Directors Association in 2005-06.

Carlon spearheaded a facilities upgrade with the first phase of Clay Gould Ballpark renovation completed. Other facilities that have receive enhancement since 2002 include: the UT Arlington Tennis Center, Allan Saxe Softball Field and the track surface at Maverick Stadium.

Carlon earned a bachelor's degree from Iowa State University in 1975 and his master's degree from Northwest Missouri State University in 1976. He began his professional career at Arlington James Bowie High School in 1976 as a health teacher and athletics trainer, and was the school's Teacher of the Year in 1978.

Carlon and his wife, Beth, who is an elementary school administrator in Irving ISD, are both natives of Gowrie, Iowa.

HOWAGRUBBWORMBECAMEAMAUERICK

Hornets, Junior Aggies, Blue Riders and Rebels among long list of mascot names

An aardvark as UTA's mascot? It could've happened. The story begins more than 80 years ago.

From 1917, when it joined the Texas A&M System, to 1921, the school's athletic teams answered to Grubbers or the school's name, Grubbs Vocational College) and Shorthorns (after the campus newspaper, The Shorthorn).

Grubbers just wasn't destined to last, and many didn't like Shorthorns because that's what freshman teams at the school's hated rival, The University of Texas at Austin, were called.

A Shorthorn editorial Nov. 12, 1921, liked Hornets the idea of the 'Horn' and the 'Sting' too."

So Hornets it was—but not for long. When the school changed to North Texas Agricultural College in 1923, the yearbook that appeared in the spring was called the Junior Aggie. This set in motion a gradual shift over the years from Hornets to Junior Aggies.

In 1949, when the school became Arlington State College, the nickname was officially changed to Blue Riders. According to an Aug. 25, 1949, article in the Tarrant County Citizen, "It was felt that the name would be appropriate with the school colors (blue and white), and would allow artists an opportunity to sketch attractive designs for team uniforms."

Except Blue Riders never caught on, either. In 1951, President E.H. Hereford called a meeting of as many sophomores as he could find and asked them to suggest yet another mascot.

Rebels subsequently won a student vote, and the fight song Dixie and mascot Johnny Red became intricate parts of the theme and continued as ASC became a four-year school in 1959. The theme was never seriously questioned until spring 1965 when some argued that Rebels depicted a symbol of slavery. Others maintained that it represented Southern heritage.

Several votes for name changes were held over the next six years, including one in 1968 (one year after the school became The University of Texas at Arlington) when Aardvarks was the top vote-getter behind Rebels. In February 1970, with Rebels not being one of the choices, Texans won out over Mavericks and Apollos, but Mavericks prevailed in a runoff.

The battle still wasn't over as students forced a referendum a month later, and the Old South theme prevailed again. UTA President Frank Harrison pleaded with students to make a change.

In May 1971, one more vote was held. Again, students could vote for any name they chose, as long as it wasn't Rebels. Mavericks won over Toros, Rangers and Hawks.

The first Maverick mascot was a horned horse. In later years it was patterned, sort of, after Sam Maverick, a wealthy Texas landowner who participated in many momentous events in the state's early history, among them the defense of the Alamo. He died in 1870.

Maverick accumulated a fabled empire and inspired the term "maverick" to denote an unbranded calf or an independent person.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

2009-10 UT Arlington Women's Basketball

Through a year round individualized training program, players undergo a rigorous conditioning regimen. This program is designed, supervised, scrutinized and implemented by a highly qualified and dedicated certified strength coach. Over the years strength coaching has evolved into immeasurably more than just weightlifting. Strength and conditioning is now performance enhancement. While weight lifting is still a fundamental facet, there are many other important features. Their program for athletes includes flexibility training, cardiovascular conditioning, speed and power development, improvement of self motivation and mental toughness. Not only do these efforts improve the quality of the athlete's performance, but this program greatly reduces the potential for injury, reduces the extent of many injuries and expedites recovery in case there is an injury.

At UT Arlington this is a year round endeavor, in-season and off season. Many of our student athletes choose to spend their summers in Arlington in order to extend their opportunity to train for a championship. We take tremendous pride in a facility and staff second to none in the nation. Every program is uniquely matched to the athlete and the sport. The strength staff works very closely with the sport coaches to create a spirit of shared goals, consistent expectations and staying abreast of the most current technology and sport science.

The strength staff at the University of Texas-Arlington is devoted to the scoreboard results of every team at the University, but, more importantly, we are devoted and committed to the personal success of every student-athlete on and off the field!

"Our staff is committed to developing each athlete's innate ability to the fullest. This includes: strength, power, speed, endurance, flexibility and resolve. We employ the latest techniques, equipment and motivation, as well as traditional principals, to ensure that our student-athletes are trained specifically and individually to be champions in their sport."

- Kathy Wagner, Head Strength and Conditioning Coach

SPORTS MEDICINE

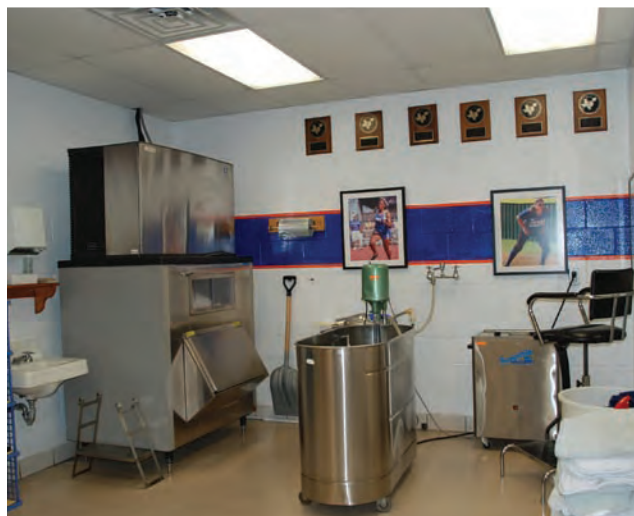

A commitment to total care exists in every facet of UT Arlington's approach to its student-athletes. UT Arlington Athletics Training facility contains modern equipment to ensure that a student-athlete is treated with care. Combined with the University health center, the student-athlete at UT Arlington is provided a team of physicians and care specialists.

The Maverick health care team focuses on prevention, treatment and rehabilitation. Equipment, training, medical and strength and conditioning staffs are jointly committed to health care and prevention.

"It has always been our philosophy to take a proactive approach to health care rather than just tending to our student-athletes after an injury," said Roy Rudewick, head athletics trainer.

Rudewick, a 1989 graduate of UT Arlington enters his first season with the Mavericks after more than a decade of service within the Arlington Independent School District. He will oversee all teams and will serve as the primary trainer for the men's basketball program.

MAVS IN THE COMMUNITY

2009-10 UT Arlington Women's Basketball

Being a Maverick means being active in the community both on campus and in the Arlington area. With the goal of building leaders in the community, the UT Arlington athletics department and its student-athletes take an active role in community service projects.

Among the community service projects include the D.E.A.R. Mavericks (Drop Everything and Read) Program. Student athletes inspire youth from Arlington, Mansfield, Grand Prairie area schools by reading to classes and speaking to groups about the importance of staying in school.

MAVS IN THE COMMUNITY

In 2008-09, UT Arlington student-athletes and coaches participated in the following community activities:

- Salvation Army Canned Food Drive (Athletics Dept)
- Strikeout Bone Cancer (Softball)
