Call Us....

Chattanooga is the official athletic name according to the NCAA. On first reference, you can call us the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga if you like, but Chattanooga is more headline friendly. Our nickname is simply Mocs, not Moccasins.

Why Mocs?

Faced with politically sensitive issues and in need of a stronger core identity to help establish UTC as a growing intercollegiate athletics program, UTC asked SME Design, Inc. to create a comprehensive identity program. Through much exploration and working with a 17-member committee (students, alumni, donors, faculty, staff), SME Design determined the new direction of the athletics identity, moving away from the politically incorrect Native American Indian imagery.

Several identities have been used in the past. With the old nickname "Moccasins," a snake was used in the 1920's and an Indian was used until the year of major change in 1996. A moccasin shoe was even used in the 1980's.

Adopting the State Bird of Tennessee, the Mockingbird, as the core of the new identity, while incorporating the strong regional imagery of Chattanooga's vast railroad history and the "Chattanooga Choo-Choo," SME Design created a strong and very unique athletics identity for UTC.

The committee also recognized the need for the word "Chattanooga" to have a great emphasis in the logo. Thus, "The University of Tennessee at" is much smaller than the prominent place of "Chattanooga." The nickname "Moccasins" was shortened to simply "Mocs." Thus established, UTC could rebuild its athletics programs and initiatives around this new identity.

And rebuild it did. Quickly establishing the identity program in February 1997, combined with tremendous success in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, UTC had positioned itself to reach for the next level.

From 1997 to 2007, the primary logo was our mascot, Scrappy, riding a train. The secondary logo features the front of a train with the word Mocs built into the logo. This logo is affectionately called the "Cowcatcher logo," referring to the front lower grill of the train that helped push objects from the train tracks.

The identity program also utilizes several word marks and peelable logos, including the word "Chattanooga," Scrappy's head, and "UTC" and "Mocs" in distinctive styles.

In August 2007, officials at Chattanooga updated the school's marks. A new gold C logo was created as the primary mark and is emblazoned on the side of the football team's helmets. The secondary marks were updated with a more modern look, and a new font, unique to the school, is now used on the text areas of the logos and marks.

The logos weren't changed, just updated. Chattanooga is still the Mocs.

2008 Outlook

It is an exciting time for the Chattanooga golf program. Over Mark Guhne's brief tenure, the Mocs have reached new heights. Coming off a Southern Conference Championship and berth in the NCAA Regional, one might expect a level of satisfaction.

"We are just scratching the surface," said Guhne. "There is so much potential here. From the players we have here now to who could be a part of this program.

"It is a special time and place."

The 2007-08 squad lost a key member from the 2007 SoCon Championship squad in all-conference performer Bryce Ledford. But in returning four starters, the Mocs were poised for a great start to this season.

All-in-all, the Mocs netted three top-five finishes as a team including winning the Coca-Cola Duke Classic, shooting 842 (-22). The team finished 31-under par for the five events.

Chattanooga ranked as the best team from its region in three of the tournaments it played. Overall, it had a first, second and tied-for-third-place finish to go with a seventh and ninth against a challenging schedule.

"You really have to start any discussion of our team with Jonathan Hodge and Derek Rende," added Guhne.

Hodge, a junior, is the 2007 SoCon Player of the Year. He is off to a great start this year with a 70.17 scoring average and ranked No. 17 in the Golfstat Cup standings and No. 33 in the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings. He captured medalist honors at the Coca-Cola Duke Classic in October and was second at the VCU shootout. His cumulative score for the Fall was 15-under-par.

Rende is the reigning SoCon Freshman of the Year. The sophomore is a native of Chattanooga and is No. 59 in the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings. He had three top 10 finishes in the Fall with a cumulative finish of 12-under.

2007 SoCon Player of the Year Jonathan Hodge

"We have a lot of depth," noted Guhne. "Starting out this spring, I anticipate starting two juniors and three sophomores, if not four sophomores. I don't want to rule anyone out, but that is the way it is shaping up."

Depth is an understatement. From the fall rounds, the Mocs netted 19 rounds in the 60's from eight different players and 40 par-or-better rounds from nine different Mocs.

Sophomore Fredrik Qvicker is right on the heels of Hodge and Rende. Ranked No. 89 by the Golfweek/Sagarin Ratings, Qvicker had three top-10 finishes in the Fall with a best of tied for seventh at Duke. He was just three-over for the five tournaments.

After that trio, who accounted for 27 of the 40 par or better rounds, the competition is fierce. One senior, three juniors, one sophomore and a freshman will battle for playing time.

Juniors Eric Forsman (73.14), Ben Rickett (72.67) and Tripp Harris (72.86) each competed in three fall events. Harris notched two top-10 finishes to Rickett's one, while Forsman is playing very well leading into the Spring slate.

Sophomore J.T. Clendenin, senior Tyler Neff (74.00) and freshman Hudson Keener (75.33) are in the mix as well. Clendenin played in three events with a scoring average of 72.43. Neff got into two fall events, while Keener played in one.

"Competition is a good thing, and we have a lot of it," added Guhne. "For the fall, seven of the top 12 scoring averages in the SoCon are on my team.

"We cannot rest of our Fall laurels. I think this team is hungry and knows that we are not just playing for conference titles, but we have national aspirations as well."

President of the Chattanooga Chapter of the PGA

Mark Guhne (pronounced JUNE) is in his third season as the Head Men's Golf Coach at his alma mater. He has wasted no time elevating the program on the national scene.

Heading into Spring 2008, the Mocs are ranked No. 11 in the nation in the Golfweek/Sagarin Poll with junior Jonathan Hodge ranked No. 33 individually. And that is just part of a rapid progression for the program.

Last summer, the Mocs had three players qualify for the U.S. Amateur in Jonathan Hodge, Derek Rende and Bryce Ledford. Fredrik Qvicker finished as low amateur at the Scandanavian Masters, while Ben Rickett qualified for the English Amateur.

His first season (2006), Chattanooga posted its best conference finish (tie 3rd) in 20 years and Coach of the Year honors. He followed that by leading the Mocs to their first Southern Conference title since 1987 in 2007, with Jonathan Hodge earning SoCon Player of the Year honors, Derek Rende, Freshman of the Year, and Guhne, Coach of the Year once again.

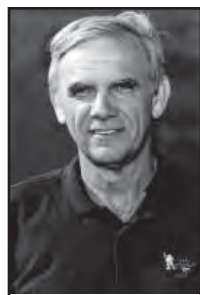

His first two seasons saw the Mocs garner five all-conference selections. In the previous 10 seasons, Chattanooga had just three all-conference finishers. His teams have won five tournaments and two individual medalist honors. The Mocs won four of those tournament titles in spring 2007.

Guhne was elevated to the head coaching position on March 1, 2005, after three seasons serving as assistant coach to Reed Sanderlin. A PGA professional, Guhne has earned Class A status and was the 2007 Horton Smith Award winner. He was elected president of the Chattanooga chapter of the PGA in 2008. He competes in PGA Section and Chapter events as well as a limited number of mini-tour events each season.

Among his recent playing accomplishments, Guhne was selected to the 2007 Tennessee Challenge Cup team. In 2003 and 2004, he represented Tennessee in the Tennessee vs. Georgia PGA Cup Matches.

Mark and his wife Kelly are both Chattanooga graduates with each earning degrees in 1984.

Reed Sanderlin

Golf Coach Emeritus

Reed Sanderlin has been a fixture with the Chattanooga golf program since he took it over in 1977. As the head coach, he led the Mocs to the Southern Conference Tournament Championship in 1987, runner-up finishes in 1978 and 1989 and third-place finishes in 1984 and 1993.

Sanderlin retired following the 2005 season. He was hired by the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga in 1969 to teach English. He spent two years of his tenure serving as the Executive Assistant to Chancellor William Masterson but returned to the English Department in 1973.

Sanderlin was an avid golfer but did not play collegiately. Wes Brown recommended that Sanderlin oversee the golf program, and he became the head coach in 1977.

He guided UTC's first Southern Conference medalist, Donnie Green, in 1978 and has also coached four SoCon runners-up, Lee Gerdes and Chris Schmidt in 1987; Brian Millican in 1989 and James Van De Griff in 1997. Sanderlin was voted the SoCon Coach of the Year in 1987.

Sanderlin is a native of Memphis, Tenn., where he graduated from Humes High School, the same high school attended by the late Elvis Presley, who was two years ahead of Sanderlin. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1960 from Memphis State University in English and Psychology and a master's degree in English in 1961.

Sanderlin's teaching career began at North Carolina State University where he worked from 1962 to 1965. He spent time at the University of North Carolina where he was awarded his doctorate degree in 1967. He also taught for two years at the University of Southern Mississippi from 1967 to 1969 before taking his position at UTC.

During Hall of Fame Weekend in February 2008, Sanderlin was presented the Joe Morrison Award. The Joe Morrison Award is presented to the UTC constituent who has achieved notable life accomplishments

A 1960 graduate of Memphis, Sanderlin is married to the former Carla Andrews of Lima, Ohio. He has two daughters and one grand-daughter.

The Southern Conference, which began its 87th season of intercollegiate competition in 2007, is a national leader in emphasizing the development of the student-athlete and defining the league's role in helping to build lifelong leaders and role models.

The Southern Conference is the nation's fifth-oldest NCAA Division I collegiate athletic association. Only the Big Ten (1896), the Missouri Valley (1907), the Pacific 10 (1915) and the Southwestern Athletic (1920) conferences are older in terms of origination.

The Southern Conference has also excelled as the premier Football Championship Subdivision conference. Southern Conference member Appalachian State has won the last two Football Championship Subdivision titles. The Conference currently consists of 11 members in four states throughout the Southeast and sponsors 19 varsity sports and championships that produce participants for NCAA Division I Championships.

Academic excellence has been a major part of the Southern Conference's tradition. League athletes have been recognized countless times on Verizon/CoSIDA Academic All-America and district teams. A total of 19 Rhodes Scholarship winners have been selected from conference institutions.

The Southern Conference office is located in the historic Beaumont Mill in Spartanburg, S.C. A textile mill that was in operation from 1880 until 1999, the Beaumont Mill was renovated in 2004 and today offers the SoCon a first class meeting area and offices as well as a spacious library for storage of the conference's historical documents.

Membership History

The Southern Conference was formed on February 25, 1921 at a meeting in Atlanta, Ga. as 14 institutions from the 30-member Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association (SIAA) reorganized as the Southern Conference. Those charter members included Alabama, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi State, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Tennessee, Virginia, Virginia Tech and Washington & Lee. Athletic competition began in the fall of 1921.

In 1922, six more schools - Florida, LSU, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tulane and Vanderbilt - joined the fold. A year later, the University of the South joined the ranks. VMI became a member in 1925 and Duke was added 1929. Since then, conference membership has experienced a series of membership changes with 42 institutions having been affiliated with the league. The league has undergone two major transitions during its history.

The first occurred in December 1932 when the Southeastern Conference was formed from the 23-school Southern Conference. The league's 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized to help reduce the extensive travel demands that were present in the league at the time. In 1936, the Southern Conference invited The Citadel, William & Mary, Davidson, Furman, Richmond and Wake Forest to join the membership.

The second major shift came about in 1953 when Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest withdrew from the league to form the Atlantic Coast Conference. This change was brought about due to the desire of many of those schools to schedule a greater number of regular season basketball games against local rivals.

Today, the league continues to thrive with a membership that spans four Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. Current league members are Appalachian State, College of Charleston, The Citadel, Davidson, Elon, Furman, Georgia Southern, UNC Greensboro, Chattanooga, Western Carolina and Wofford. On July 1, 2008, Samford will officially join the league, bringing membership of the conference to 12.

Championship History

The first Southern Conference Championship was the league basketball tournament held in Atlanta in 1922. The North Carolina Tar Heels won the tournament to become the first recognized league champion in any sport. The Southern Conference Tournament remains the oldest of its kind in college basketball.

The Southern Conference began sponsoring women's sports during the 1983-84 season. That year, league championships were held in volleyball, basketball and tennis. Cross country joined the mix in 1985 and the league began holding indoor and outdoor track championships in 1988. Most recently, the conference instituted golf and softball championships in the spring of 1994 and added soccer in the fall of 1994.

The Southern Conference currently declares champions in 10 men's sports - football, soccer, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, wrestling, baseball, tennis and golf - and nine women's sports - soccer, volleyball, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track & field, tennis, golf and softball.

25th Anniversary of Women's Championships

The Southern Conference will celebrate 25 years of women's championships in 2007-08. A year-long celebration of women's sports will highlight student-athletes, coaches and teams. Commissioner Ken Germann spearheaded the Southern Conference's expansion to include women's athletics. The Germann Cup, named in honor of the former commissioner, annually recognizes the top women's athletics programs in the conference. From its humble beginnings, women's athletics have become an integral part of the Southern Conference and its success. The league crowns champions in nine women's sports including cross country, soccer, volleyball, indoor track & field, basketball, tennis, golf, outdoor track & field and softball.

Chattanooga • The Scenic City

Chattanooga, founded as "Ross' Landing" in 1816 by John Ross, chief of the Cherokee Indians, was officially named in 1838. From a Creek Indian word meaning "rock coming to a point", the name refers to Lookout Mountain which begins in Chattanooga and extends through Georgia and into Alabama.

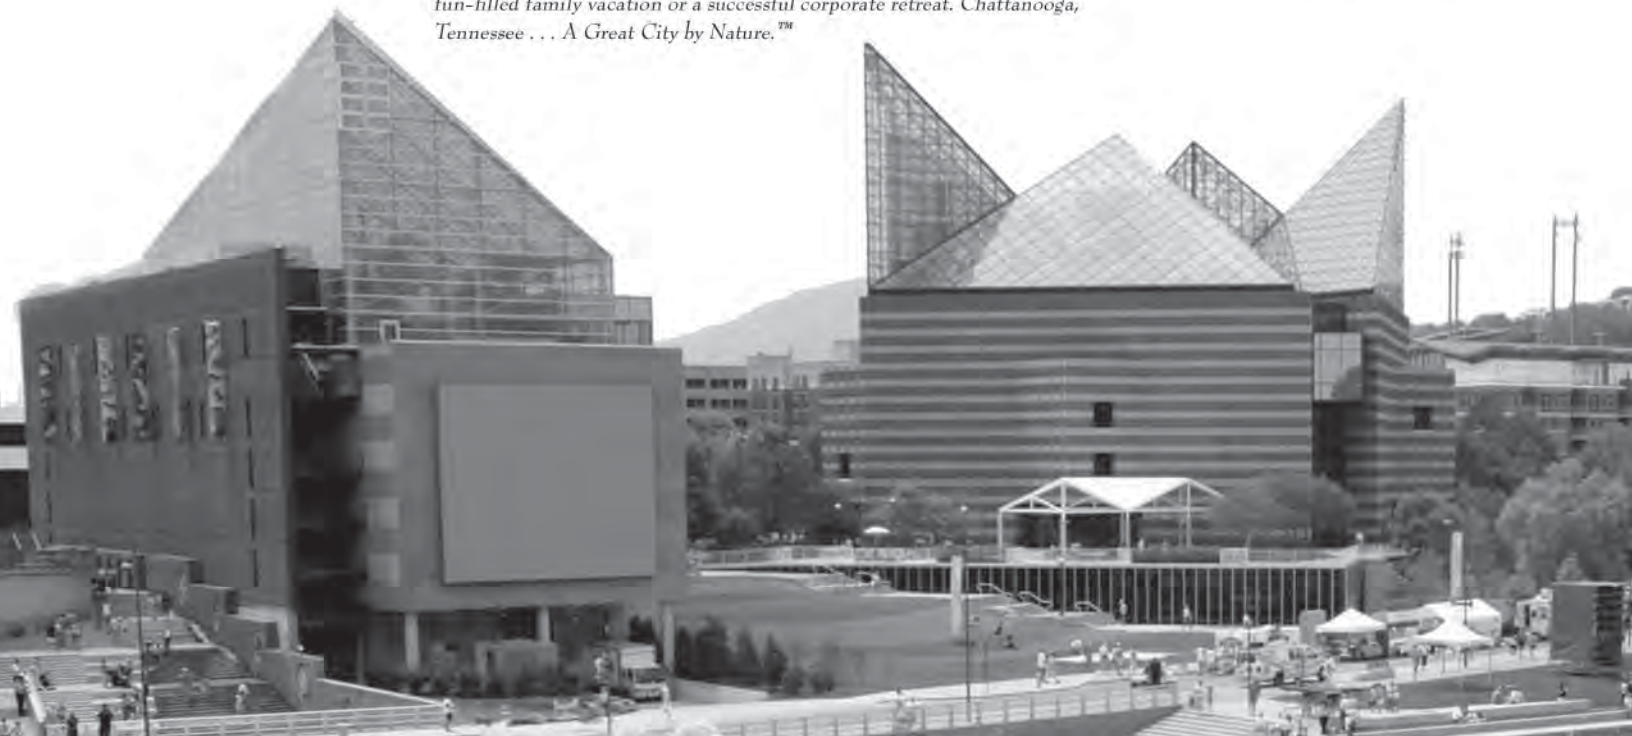

You'll be impressed by Chattanooga's revitalized Riverfront. The revitalization includes a 10-mile Riverwalk, The Passage, a celebration of Chattanooga's Native American heritage, and the Chattanooga Pier. Cruise down the Tennessee River aboard the Southern Belle Riverboat and see why Chattanooga is nicknamed the "Scenic City of the South". Take a walking tour of the charming Bluff View Arts District with its shops, restaurants and the Hunter Museum of American Art. Enjoy America's national pastime and go to a Chattanooga Lookouts baseball game at Bellsouth Park. You'll be impressed by Chattanooga's revitalized Riverfront. The revitalization includes a 10-mile Riverwalk, The Passage, a celebration of Chattanooga's Native American heritage, and the Chattanooga Pier. Cruise down the Tennessee River aboard the Southern Belle Riverboat and see why Chattanooga is nicknamed the "Scenic City of the South". Take a walking tour of the charming Bluff View Arts District with its shops, restaurants and the Hunter Museum of American Art.

Explore Chattanooga's outdoor attractions like Lookout Mountain's Ruby Falls, Rock City, and the Incline Railway. Lookout Mountain's abundant Civil War history will interest young and old alike. Discover the Tennessee Aquarium with its two underwater worlds: River Journey and the new Ocean Journey. You'll see tiny seahorses, impressive Beluga sturgeon, fierce sharks, playful otters, and even a butterfly garden! The Tennessee Aquarium's IMAX 3D Theater will transport you "into" the movies. And right down the street is the children's Creative Discovery Museum where fun and education meet.

Chattanooga, TN is a perfect destination for a romantic weekend getaway, a fun-filled family vacation or a successful corporate retreat. Chattanooga, Tennessee . . . A Great City by Nature.™

Since its founding as Chattanooga University in 1886, The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga has developed an institutional excellence which rests on an unusual blend of the private and public traditions of American education.

For 83 years the University was a private school. Three years after its founding, the University was consolidated with another church-related school, East Tennessee Wesleyan University at Athens, under the name of Grant University. In 1907 the name University of Chattanooga was adopted.

In 1969 the University of Chattanooga and a junior college, Chattanooga City College, merged with the University of Tennessee, one of the oldest land-grant universities in the nation, to form the UTC campus.

CHATTANOOGA

Practice Facility/Home Courses

The Chattanooga golf program will share a brand, new practice facility with the First Tee of Chattanooga. The Player Development Complex will provide the Mocs with a comprehensive area dedicated to their use. Completion of the facility is scheduled for later in 2008.

"This is an exciting project for our program," said Head Men's Golf Coach Mark Guhne. "We will have a complex that is second to none for player development. It is an integral part of building our program into a perennial national power."

The Player Development Complex, situated on 28 acres, sets a new standard in golf learning facilities. Anchored by its 10-acre, double-sided practice range, the facility boasts four auxiliary short game practice areas, a three-hole practice course, The First Tee of Chattanooga along with the Mocs practice area.

"It is first class all the way," added Guhne. "This facility will greatly enhance our program from our playing ability to our recruiting efforts."

The Mocs will have a clubhouse, practice tee, short game area and two practice greens. A key to swing development is the ability to practice in a variety of wind conditions. With teeing areas at both ends of the range and a triangular shaped three-hole course, the Mocs will be able to create practice sessions to prepare for all potential tournament situations.

The planned greens will feature two types of surfaces. One will be A-1 Bent Grass, while the other will be surfaced with premier Ultra Dwarf Bermuda. An additional short game area will be designed behind the far-end range tee. It will feature two practice bunkers and a closely-mown chipping area for short game development.

UTC will share the facility with the First Tee of Chattanooga. The First Tee of Chattanooga's mission is to impact the lives of young people from all backgrounds by providing learning facilities and educational programs which promote character development and life-enhancing values through the game of golf.

The First Tee has served children in the greater Chattanooga area since 1996. Several are college graduates, several are playing college golf on scholarship, several are recognized as The First Tee Scholars and have earned Leadership Scholarships for college. Over 300 children are active annually.
