FREE THROWS

- This is the 103rd season of men's basketball at Elon.
- The Phoenix made the move to Division I competition in the 1999-2000 season.
- Elon is 5-3 at Alumni Gym this year but has lost three straight on Robertson Court.
- With a 3-3 Southern Conference record, the Phoenix is currently tied for first place in the North Division with Western Carolina.
- The Phoenix has shot above 40 percent from the field only twice in the last eight games.
- In the last eight contests, Elon is 60-of-195 (30.8 percent) from beyond the arc.
- Elon has held opponents to under 40 percent shooting in all eight wins this year — but opponents have shot 40 percent or better in all but one of the nine losses.
- The Phoenix ranks second in the SoCon in field goal percentage defense (.404). Opponents are shooting only 31.6 percent from three-point territory.
- Senior Drew Spradlin has preyed on SoCon opponents during his career, averaging 11.4 ppg over his three and a half years. He has hit 92 triples against league foes and shoots 42 percent from the field.
- Lucas Troutman moved into Elon's all-time career blocks list with two swats against South Carolina. He is averaging 1.5 bpg, second in the league. The sophomore now has 72 blocks in a year and a half of action and is in seventh place all-time at Elon.
- The Phoenix has shot better than its opponent in all eight wins this year but has won the battle on the glass only three times this season.

LAST TIME OUT

- One game after shooting a season-low 23.9 percent, the Phoenix came out of a recent shooting slump on Thursday, connecting on 29-of-58 (50 percent) field goals, but still suffered the loss. That was Elon's best shooting percentage in a loss since a 99-96 double overtime defeat to Davidson on Feb. 27, 2010 when Elon nailed 52 percent of its attempts.
- Samford drained 16 three-pointers - the first time an opponent has hit double figure triples this year and the most since Davidson nailed 16 in that double OT victory two seasons ago.
- Elon hit 11 threes marking only the third time this year the Phoenix has hit 10 or more. Last season, Elon connected on double digit makes from beyond the arc in 13 games.

ELON VS. CHATTANOOGA

- This has been a pretty even series, with each team taking two of the last four meetings. Elon won both games in 2009-10 and Chattanooga returned the favor last year.
- Sophomore Jack Isenbarger averaged 15 ppg in the two contests last year, hitting eight triples.
- Senior Drew Spradlin has faced UTC seven times and averages 11.6 ppg and shoots over 40 percent against the Mocs. He scored 21 and had eight rebounds in last year's January meeting.
- The Mocs come to Elon losers of their last two games — both on the road — against Samford and UNCG.

THERE CAN ONLY BE ONE

As there can only be one Phoenix at any time, please refer to the Phoenix in the singular.

AN ELON VICTORY WOULD...

- Give Elon a 9-9 record
- Snap a three-game home losing streak
- End a two-game losing streak to Chattanooga
- Be Elon's first at home since Dec. 11
- Give Elon a 6-3 record at home
- Improve Elon to 4-3 in the SoCon

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

Since Elon joined the Division I ranks, the Phoenix has posted a record of 41-72 in the month of January. The Phoenix went 5-5 last year after not winning more than two games in January in the previous four seasons.

DOWNTOWN DROP OFF

Elon averages nearly eight three-pointers a game, but connected on just three at CofC (1/14). The three triples were the lowest total since managing only two three-pointers against Wofford on January 9, 2010.

KEEPING IT CLEAN

Rookie point guard Austin Hamilton had a strong night against The Citadel, tallying a personal-best six assists while keeping a clean turnover slate. As a team, Elon had only 10 turnovers in the victory. Elon ranks third in the league in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.1).

WELL ROUNDED

In a 109-67 victory over Lynchburg, Elon had seven players score in double figures. Elon has had at least nine players score in each of the last three games. Six different players have been the leading scorer for the Phoenix.

FREQUENT FLIER MILES

Elon has put in some serious miles during the first part of the 2011-12 season. With road trips that included UMass, Princeton, Dartmouth and San Diego, the team amassed nearly 9,200 miles in its six road games before Christmas.

over the program in March 2009 after helping the Wildcats to nine postseason appearances, including five trips to the NCAA Tournament.

FAST START

Elon opened the year with a 7-2 record, the best start in the last 21 years of Elon basketball. The mark was the best since Elon opened the season 14-2 in 1990-91.

LID ON THE BASKET

Elon had its worst shooting percentage of the year at College of Charleston, connecting on only 23.9 percent from the floor. Elon has shot under 30 percent on two occasions this year, something that hasn't happened since the 2009-10 season. The 44 points scored against CofC were the lowest by an Elon team since a 31-point showing at Samford on December 4, 2009.

BANKING ON SATURDAYS

No one is completely certain if he called it, but Austin Hamilton secured a 51-48 victory over the visiting Navy Midshipmen on 12/3/11 when he banked in a three-pointer with seconds on the clock in a tie game to keep Elon unbeaten at Alumni Gym on the season. The last time a Phoenix team scored 51 or fewer points in a victory was a 50-48 defeat of Western Carolina on January 21, 2006 en route to a Southern Conference North Division Championship.

BABY FACES

Elon's roster is made up of only six juniors and seniors. In the Phoenix's first contest, 51 of Elon's 67 points were scored by freshmen and sophomores. On the year, 862 of Elon's 1140 points have been scored by underclassmen (75.6%).

HOME COOKING

Elon is 5-3 at Alumni Gym this season. Here is a look at how the Phoenix performs with the home crowd behind it compared to when it travels to enemy territory.

	Home	Away
PPG	73.1	61.7
Opp. PPG	63.9	72.8
FG %	.432	.367
3pt FG %	.374	.309
Reb. Margin	+2.5	-11.1

1,000 CAREER POINTS

With a three-pointer in the first minute of the game against Rutgers-Camden, senior Drew Spradlin became the 34th Elon player to reach the 1,000 career point plateau. He currently has 1,143 career tallies and is three points away from moving into 25th on the all-time scoring list.

The Phoenix currently ranks third in the SoCon with an average of 7.8 three-pointers per game. Elon hit a season-high 15 against Rutgers-Camden.

KNOCKING OFF THE GAMECOCKS

Elon posted the program's first-ever win over South Carolina on Nov. 15, welcoming the Gamecocks to Alumni Gym with a 58-53 victory. The Phoenix had never beaten a current member of the SEC in its previous six attempts.

DEFENSE WINS BALL GAMES

The Phoenix defense was impressive in the win over South Carolina. Elon held the Gamecocks to 20-of-64 shooting, including a 3-of-27 performance from long range. Elon currently ranks second in the SoCon in field goal percentage defense (40.4%).

ELON RECORD IN SOCON

The Phoenix is in its eighth season as a member of the Southern Conference. Elon is 67-96 (including tournament action) against teams in the Southern Conference since the 2003-04 campaign. Below is the team-by-team breakdown of current league schools:

182 AND COUNTING

Elon is a fan of the three-point shot, averaging eight per game this season. The last time a Phoenix squad did not connect from beyond the arc in a game was in a loss at Georgia Southern on Jan. 30, 2006, a span of 182 games.

TURNOVER TROUBLES

Elon turned the ball over 25 times against UMass. That is the most turnovers by an Elon team since Matheny took over the reins in 2009-10.

ELON DEBUT

Four new faces will suit up in the maroon and gold this year. Elon welcomes three freshmen to the roster in guard Austin Hamilton (Herndon, Va.), forward Ryan Winters (Denver, Colo.) and guard Kevin Blake (Toronto, Canada). These three all come from very successful high school programs — the combined record of their three teams in 2010-11 was 69-10. Elon is also happy to have sophomore Eghoesa Edomwonyi who sat out last year after transferring from Rice University.

EXHIBITION HOOPS

Elon hosted one exhibition game, dominating Washington & Lee 96-48 on November 3. Twelve Phoenix players scored in the contest with Jack Isenbarger leading the way with 20 points. Isenbarger and fellow sophomores Ryley Beaumont and Lucas Troutman all grabbed a team-high nine rebounds.

BLOCK PARTY

Sophomore Lucas Troutman is currently in seventh place on Elon's career block list with 72. Troutman blocked a team-high 47 shots last year, finishing the season in fifth place on Elon's single-season block list.

STRONG ROOKIE SEASONS

In 2010-11, Elon's four scholarship freshmen — Jack Isenbarger, Lucas Troutman, Sebastian Koch and Riley Beaumont — accounted for 40 percent of the Phoenix's total scoring. All averaged double figure minutes; Isenbarger averaged 10.2 ppg; Troutman led the league in blocks per game; Beaumont started 10 games.

CULTURE OF WINNING

Elon's last two freshman classes are no strangers to winning games. The seven players — sophomores Jack Isenbarger, Ryley Beaumont, Sebastian Koch and Lucas Troutman and freshmen Kevin Blake, Austin Hamilton and Ryan Winters — posted a combined record of 193-24 in their final year of high school, an 88.9 winning percentage.

CLIMBING CAREER CHARTS

Senior Drew Spradlin is currently in fifth all-time in Elon history with 167 career three-pointers. He is five away from moving ahead of former teammate Chris Long '11.

SPRADLIN PRESEASON ALL-SOCON

Junior guard Drew Spradlin was selected as one of the 10 Preseason All-Southern Conference team members by the league's coaches. Spradlin earned the all-league nod after a junior campaign in which he averaged 13.6 points and 4.1 rebounds per game. A starter in all 31 games, Spradlin shot 41.9 percent from the field and tallied seven 20+ point games.

Matt Matheny Head Coach (3rd Season)

Elon University Director of Athletics Dave Blank introduced Matt Matheny as the Phoenix's 17th head men's basketball coach in March 2009. Matheny, who came to Elon after serving on the staff at Davidson College for 16 seasons, led the Phoenix in the program's 102nd season in 2010-11 – 12th at the NCAA Division I level and eighth in the Southern Conference.

Matheny's first season was spent establishing a new system and progress was evident as the team won the majority of its games in February and March. The new head coach started his career with a 91-86 win at Lipscomb, handing the Bisons their first ever season-opening loss in their home arena. The win also marked Elon's first victory in the opening game of the season since 2005. The Phoenix swept defending SoCon Tournament champion Chattanooga and won an ESPN Bracketbuster game for the first time since it began competing in the event four years ago. The season culminated in a highlight victory over perennial SoCon power Davidson in the first round of the league tournament. It was Elon's first win over the Wildcats since the Phoenix joined the league in 2003-04 and first time in 15 tries.

Last season, Matheny guided the Phoenix to 14 victories against one of the most challenging schedules that Elon has ever faced. The maroon and gold squared off with four ACC opponents - No. 1 Duke, Maryland, NC State and Wake Forest - and one SEC opponent in South Carolina. With the growth of the program, Elon has seen increased attendance at home games. In fact, four of the 13 games played in Alumni Gym last season were sold out. Following the year, the Southern Conference coaches selected senior guard Chris Long as a member of the all-league team, the first Phoenix player to earn all-conference accolades since 2008. The coaches also named freshman Lucas Troutman to the league's all-freshman squad, the first for the program since 2006.

A 1992 Davidson graduate, Matheny spent 10 seasons (1993-2003) as an assistant coach for head coach Bob McKillop's Wildcats before being promoted to the associate head coach in 2003. After spending another six campaigns (2003-09) in that role, Matheny was involved in more victories than any other assistant coach in Davidson's history.

The former Wildcat football and basketball team captain had been part of McKillop's staff since August 1, 1993. During their time on the bench together, Davidson collected 310 victories – over 19 wins per season – with 10 SoCon division titles, five SoCon tournament championships, five NCAA tournament appearances and four postseason NIT trips.

"We were looking for a leader with integrity, character and enthusiasm ... Someone that had demonstrated the ability to lead and win," Blank said. "We were looking for someone that is committed to the importance of the co-existence of athletic and academic excellence, who has been in that environment and would understand what we need to do here at Elon University to maintain integrity in both areas. We landed on Matt Matheny."

Matheny, who was born in Shelby, N.C., and grew up in Statesville, N.C., was a three-sport standout at North Iredell High School. While his intention had always been to go to Wake Forest or Duke, his plans were altered when he was recruited to play football at Davidson.

During his college days, he lettered four years for Davidson's football team as a quarterback and wide receiver and two years as a point guard for the Wildcats' men's basketball squad before graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in History.

Following graduation, Matheny headed overseas to Germany to play a summer of American football. It was then that McKillop contacted him about an assistant coaching job, a position he didn't necessarily expect would become his life's work. Having always planned to go to law school after college, Matheny assumed the job would be a stopover before he furthered his education.

"The more I coached, the more I grew to love it," Matheny said. "A coach can play an influential role in the life of a college athlete."

His love of basketball and his role in it is evident by the success of the teams of which he has been a part. Throughout Matheny's time on the bench, Davidson produced 10 campaigns of 20 or more victories, three undefeated Southern Conference regular seasons, 26 All-SoCon players and six SoCon All-Freshman selections. McKillop has touted Matheny on numerous occasions for his excellent scouting and ability to communicate the information to the players. Matheny was a critical part of Davidson's memorable run to the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight in 2007-08.
