GROSELLE RECORDS 13th DOUBLE-DOUBLE OF SEASON IN TOUGH 70-53 LOSS AT WESTERN CAROLINA: Mike Groselle notched a team-high 17 points to go along with 10 rebounds and Lawrence Miller added 14 points off the bench, but The Citadel was unable to match Western Carolina's offensive firepower, who emerged with a 70-53 victory at the Ramsey Center on Thursday evening.

Groselle's 13th double-double of the season breaks the previous single-season record held by Patrick Elmore, who finished with 12 in 1989-90 season. He also moves within one of Regan Truesdale's school record 22 career double-doubles. The Bulldogs (4-22, 1-14 SoCon) finished by hitting 19-of-50 (38.0%) from the field, including a 6-of-16 performance from 3-point range. While Groselle finished 6-of-9 from the field, Miller led the team by hitting 4-of-5 from beyond the arc. Also with solid outings for the Dogs were Jordan Robertson (six points), DeVontae Wright (five points) and Marshall Harris III (five points). That trio, along with Miller, gave the Cadets a 23-10 advantage in bench points.

Western Carolina was paced by Harouna Mutombo, who poured in 24 points, and Keaton Cole who finished with 15 points. Mutombo shot 9-of-17 from the field, converting one 3-pointer, while adding seven rebounds. Meanwhile, Cole was 5-of-13, all from long range, to go along with three steals. Teammate Tawaski King recorded a career-high 15 rebounds, snagging 12 on the defensive glass. In total, WCU managed 55 rebounds (28 offensive), making for a 22-6 edge in second chance points.

TRENDS IN THE CITADEL-CHATTANOOGA RIVALRY

The last five games of the rivalry have been decided by eight points or less, including a 69-68 decision at Chattanooga in the 2010-11 season.

PALMETTO IMPACT: Freshman CJ Bray has etched his name among The Citadel's most outstanding newcomers with his climb to 15th on the Dogs freshman defensive rebounds list. Bray, with 66 defensive rebounds to his credit, has had five games of four or more defensive rebounds this season, including a career-high eight defensive boards against UNC Greensboro (1/14).

A native of James Island, S.C., Bray ranks third on the team in defensive rebounds, trailing only Mike Groselle (141) and Bo Holston (68). Bray is averaging 3.3 rebounds per contest and leads all freshmen with 18 starts in 26 contests. He has also made an impact on the Dogs offensively with 111 points, including three games of 10 points against Florida Christian (11/21), College of Charleston (12/1) and most recently Elon (1/12).

LETHAL COMBOS: The tandem of Lawrence Miller and Ashton Moore, who have hit 35 and 31 3-pointers, respectively, recently became the sixth set of Citadel teammates to hit 30 or more 3-pointers in their freshmen year since the full-time institution of the 3-point line in the 1986-87 season. Following a 4-of-5 performance against Western Carolina, Miller moved to seventh place amongst the Dogs most prolific freshmen 3-point shooters with 39 to his credit, while Moore is locked in a four-way tie for 13th among freshmen shooters.

Miller and Moore are the first teammates since Austin Dahn (79), Zach Urbanus (73) and Tyrell McDowell (38), who accomplished the feat during the 2007-08 season, to knock down at least 30 treys in their rookie season.

371 and counting: Before Ashton Moore's perfect 10-of-10 outing from the charity stripe against Georgia Southern it had been 371 days since a Citadel player converted 10 or more free throws. The last player, prior to Moore, was Cameron Wells who knocked down all 10 free throws against Wofford on Feb. 5, 2011.

Coincidentally, Moore also became the first Bulldog freshman since Wells to convert 10 free throws in a game. Wells finished 10-for-13 from the line in a 98-68 loss to Georgia Southern on Feb. 20, 2008.

GROSELLE CREEPS CLOSER TO TRUESDALE'S ALL-TIME DOUBLE-DOUBLE MARK: Following a 17-point, 10-rebound outing against Western Carolina on Thursday, junior Mike Groselle not only set the single-season record for most double-doubles, recording his 13th, but he also moved within one double-double of Regan Truesdale's school record of 22.

Groselle passed Patrick Elmore's single-season record of 13 by recording at least two double-doubles in every month this season.

Groselle's most recent double-doubles came against South Division rival Davidson, when he totaled 15 points and 10 rebounds. This moved Groselle into elite company as only the second player in program history with 20 or more career double-doubles. His counterpart, Truesdale, capped off his four-year career (1981-85) with 22 double-doubles, while Groselle has 20 to his credit in three seasons.

Groselle rolled off six straight double-doubles to open the season and in the process established a school record for most consecutive, seven, after carrying over a double-double from the 2011 Southern Conference Tournament.

He returned to form in mid-December, finishing with 11 points and 11 rebounds at James Madison.

Groselle opened the month of January with a 19-point, 13-rebound showing against UVA-Wise, before posting double-doubles against SoCon foes Elon (17 pts., 11 rebs.), Georgia Southern (20 pts., 14 rebs.) and Furman (24 pts., 11 rebs.).

DRAWING THE FOUL: Since the 2001-02 season The Citadel has hit 20 free throws or more in a single game on 41 separate occasions. The Bulldogs have a record of 30-11 in those games, including an 11-game winning streak that spanned from Nov. 9, 2007 to Jan. 26, 2011.

This season the Dogs have converted 20 free throws against VMI (25), Army (24) and most recently Georgia Southern (22). That is just one shy of the 2010-11 mark, when the team hit 20 free throws against High Point (20), Chowan (20), Davidson (22) and Wofford (25).

However, the 2001-02 squad hit at least 20 free throws on 12 different occasions, the most of any team over the past decade.

MOCS UNABLE TO MOUNT COMEBACK AGAINST APPALACHIAN STATE: The Chattanooga Mocs (10-18/4-11) bench led a valiant second-half comeback that fell short in a 79-70 loss at Appalachian State (11-15/7-9). The reserves scored 45 points, 39 after intermission.

Junior Dontay Hampton and freshman Ronrico White each tallied career highs with 17 and 16 points, respectively. Hampton added six rebounds, three assists and two steals.

Mike Neal scored a game-high 23 points for the Mountaineers. Isaac Butts came off the bench to add six points, but he was a dominant presence on the boards with 16.

ASU led by as many as 21, 52-31, on a Butts free throw at 15:47. It was at that point Mocs head coach John Shulman emptied the bench looking for a spark. That's just what he got.

He relied on the likes of Hampton, White, Jared Bryant, Drew Baker, Martynas Bareika and Lance Stokes the rest of the way. Hampton, White, Bryant and Bareika all played the final 16 minutes.

It was a scrappy effort by the bench. A Bareika layup with 8:10 chipped the lead down to 12, 61-49, forcing a Mountaineer timeout. White made it an 11-point game, 66-55, with 5:44 to go.

The Mocs sliced the margin to nine on a strong slam by Baker with an even two minutes to go. Hampton, White and Hampton again got the margin back to nine, but UTC would get no closer.

Bryant had seven points and seven rebounds in the second half making all three shots. Hampton (11) and White (16) combined for 27 of their 33 points in those final 15-plus minutes. White was effective getting the free throw stripe making eight of 10 attempts.

The Mocs won the battle of the boards 46-42 despite Butts' huge effort. A season-high 22 of those rebounds came on the offensive end. Drazen Zlovacic (Novi Sad, Serbia) had a team-high nine to go with 12 points. UTC struggled shooting the ball. It started out hitting 26.5 percent in the first half. That improved a bit after intermission to 40 percent, but it ended with the Mocs hitting 33.3 percent for the evening, 24.0 percent from beyond the arc.

UNCG EARNS TOUGH 77-76 WIN OVER MOCS: The Chattanooga Mocs lost a heartbreaking 77-76 decision to visiting UNCG in Southern Conference North Division play Saturday, Feb. 11. It's the third one-point loss in league play for UTC and third in the final possession this season.

Junior Drazen Zlovacic scored a season-high 22 points and grabbed seven rebounds in the loss. Senior Jahmal Burroughs had his first career double-double with 10 points and a career-best 12 rebounds. The Mocs move to 10-17 and 4-10 in league action

Trevis Simpson led the Spartans with 28 points. Kyle Randall and Derrell Armstrong had 11 and 10 points, respectively, off the bench.

UNCG (11-15/9-5) led by as many as 10 in the game and was in control up nine, 61-52, on a Drew Parker three-pointer with 9:14 to play. The Mocs were down, but not out.

Junior Ricky Taylor and Zlovacic powered a 15-2 UTC run to take the lead. Taylor scored six of the first eight points in the spurt closing the margin to three, 63-60, with a layup at 6:19. Zlovacic scored on back-to-back possessions as a Keegan Bell free throw at the four-minute mark put the Mocs up four, 67-63.

The Spartans went without a field goal for nearly seven minutes when Simpson canned a three-pointer to cut the UTC lead to one, 69-68, with 2:29 remaining. Omar Wattad answered in the next possession to push it back to a three-point contest entering the final two minutes.

The two teams traded free throws on their next possessions. Aloysius Henry made two for the Spartans before Wattad hit three with 1:39 to go, giving the Mocs a four-point cushion, 74-70.

Simpson hit a deep three just 10 seconds later to make it a one-point game, 74-73. Zlovacic was up to the task on the UTC end with his final basket of the night, pushing the lead back to three, 76-73, at 1:01.

Henry went back to the line to make two more for UNCG. After Wattad's three-pointer was off the mark at the end of the shot clock, Armstrong got to the basket with a driving layup to put the Spartans up 77-76 with 16 seconds to play.

On the Mocs' final possession, Taylor pump faked for a contested look, but his shot was off the mark. The long rebound came out to Bell. His double-clutch three-pointer at the buzzer missed giving the Spartans sole possession of first place in the SoCon North.

Wattad had 15 points with three rebounds, three assists and a career-high two blocks. Taylor added 12 points.

TANDEM OF TAYLOR, WATTAD PUSH UTC PAST ELON, 83-75: The senior duo of Ricky Taylor and Omar Wattad combined for 46 points to lead the Chattanooga Mocs (10-16/4-9) 83-75 over Elon (13-11/8-5) in Southern Conference North Division action on Feb. 9. Taylor (13) and Wattad (14) had 27 of those points in a second-half comeback.

Lucas Troutman hit one of two free throws at 12:11 to give the Phoenix a 57-51 lead. After a Jahmal Burroughs layup at 11:22, Wattad buried a deep three-pointer to make it a one-point ball game, 57-56, with 9:59 remaining. That was Wattad's 14th point of the second frame, turning the game over to Taylor.

Taylor tied the score at 59-all on a three-pointer in front of the Mocs bench at 9:13. Freshman Ronrico White put UTC up for good, 62-59, burying a trey from the opposite corner on the next possession at 8:32. Taylor capped the 14-2 run with an old-fashioned three-point play 23 seconds later pushing the lead to six, 65-59.

Elon, the SoCon North Division leader, cut the margin to two twice. The first came on a Troutman slam off a nice feed from Sebastian Koch at 5:08, 67-65. Two Burroughs free throws extended the lead back to four before another Troutman basket made it 69-67 at 4:27.

Taylor scored the next five points on two free throws and a dagger of a three-pointer at 2:19 off a nice pass from Wattad. Up seven, 74-67, the Mocs kept the pedal to the floor. Taylor made a steal on the ensuing Phoenix possession and Drazen Zlovacic followed Taylor's missed layup hitting his own to make it a nine-point game, 76-67, with 1:53 to go.

After starting three-for-eight from the free throw line, Chattanooga hit nine of its last 10. That included five-for-six in the game's final 43.3 seconds. Wattad's 14 second-half points came in the first 10 minutes, while Taylor's 13 came in the final 10.

Burroughs tied his career high of 11 points while setting a new high with game-high nine rebounds. Zlovacic added 12 points and eight rebounds, while Wattad grabbed eight boards of his own.

Elon had five players in double figures led by Koch's 20. Jack Isenbarger had 14 points and eight assists, while Troutman tallied 13 points. Drew Spradlin and Ryley Beaumont added 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Chattanooga shot 49.2 percent making 30 of 61 from the field and 45.8 percent from three-point range hitting 11 of 24. UTC made 58.3 percent (7-12) from beyond the arc in the second half.

DAVIDSON COMPLETES 88-61 WIN OVER MOCS: The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga men's basketball team dropped its seventh-straight game with an 88-61 loss at Davidson on Feb. 4.

Davidson started the game on fire, hitting eight of its first 10 shots from the floor. A pair of foul shots by De'Mon Brooks at the 13:51 mark gave the Wildcats a 20-6 lead.

Mocs senior Omar Wattad stopped the run with a deep three as he and junior Drazen Zlovacic tired to get things going. Zlovacic scored Chattanooga's first six points and finished with 10 in the half.

The Wildcats shot 56.7% from the field and 7-19 from behind the arc to take a 47-30 lead at the break. Chattanooga was 11-29 from the field in the first 20 minutes, including 2-10 from 3-pt. range.

It was more of the same for Davidson after intermission. They hit six of their first 10, including 3 from behind the arc, to open the second half. A three-pointer from the corner by Nick Cochran gave the Wildcats a 63-39 lead with 13:34 on the clock.

Chattanooga never could put together a run to answer Davidson's hot shooting. Sophomore Drew Baker scored inside to cut the lead to 72-54 with 7:52 on the clock. However, that is as close as UTC would get the rest of the way.

Zlovacic led the Mocs with 15 points on 6-9 shooting and 3-4 from the foul line. Wattad, junior Dontay Hampton and freshman Ronrico White each had nine points.

Davidson finished the game 17-40 (42.5%) from 3-pt. range, the most threes in a game by a SoCon team this season. Chattanooga was outrebounded (41-27) for the first time in nine games.

Chris Czerapowicz came off the bench to lead the Wildcats with 21 points. He shot 7-14 from the field and 6-13 from 3-pt. range. Cochran finish with 15 points, all on threes, while De'Mon Brooks had 13 and Jake Cohen 11.

GAME ONE

THE CITADEL: VMI:

100
103

(Colorado Springs, Colo.) (All Military Classic)

The Citadel men's basketball team matched intensity with an up-tempo Virginia Military Institute squad for 40 minutes at 7,258 feet above sea-level, but the Bulldogs fell short in the season opener for both teams, dropping a 103-100 decision to the Keydets Friday evening at the All-Military Classic hosted by Air Force at Clune Arena. The Bulldogs will face Army in the third-place game at 8:30 p.m. EST on Saturday.

Mike Groselle led all scorers with 25 points, a career-high for the junior from Plano, Texas. Groselle also collected 11 rebounds, giving him nine career double-doubles, tying him for the ninth-most in program history.

Four other Bulldogs scored in double figures, freshman Lawrence Miller poured in 14 points in his first collegiate game, including 4-of-5 from three-point range. Fellow freshman Ashton Moore and sophomore Barry Smith each scored 12 points, while newcomer Marshall Harris III chipped in 11 points.

Stan Okoye led six VMI scorers in double-digits with 19 points on 7-of-11 shooting and added five rebounds. Rodney Glasgow and Keith Gabriel each added 17 points for VMI, who will face Air Force in the championship game Saturday evening.

VMI used a pair of back-to-back three-pointers to jump out to an early 10-2 lead just 2:19 into the game. After falling behind 28-12 with 9:14 remaining in the first half, the Bulldogs whittled the deficit down to three points as a Miller three-pointer with just over six minutes remaining capped a 12-0 Citadel run and cut VMI's lead to 32-29. The two squads traded buckets down the stretch as the Keydets enjoyed a 52-46 lead at the halftime break.

The Keydets opened the second-half with intensity as they opened with a 7-0 run over the first 90 seconds of the second stanza. VMI ran their lead to 15 points over the course of the second half, taking a 98-83 advantage on a jumper by Nick Gore with 3:58 left in the game.

The Bulldogs used a 14-2 run to make the score 100-97 with 32 seconds remaining, as five points by Groselle and a three-pointer by Miller highlighted the run. After a pair of free throws by Gore extended the VMI lead to 102-97, Harris drained a three-pointer as the Bulldogs cut the deficit to 102-100. Gabriel made the back end of a pair of free throws with 12 seconds left and Smith two-point jumper with two seconds on the clock bounced off the rim, giving VMI the victory.

GAME TWO

THE CITADEL: ARMY:

83
72

(Colorado Springs, Colo.) (All Military Classic)

Sophomore DeVontae Wright scored a career-high 26 points -- 18 in the second half -- to lead The Citadel to an 83-72 comeback victory over Army in the third-place game of the inaugural All-Military Classic Saturday night. The Bulldogs (1-1) shot 51.9 percent from the field in the second half on their way to erasing Army's 12-point halftime lead.

Mike Groselle added 16 points and 10 rebounds for the Bulldogs, which trailed the Black Knights (0-2) by as many as 20 in the first half. The double-double was Groselle's second in under 24 hours as the junior put up 25 points and collected 16 boards against Virginia Military Institute late Friday evening. Groselle was the Bulldogs' lone representative on the all-tournament team.

Bo Holston also had 12 points for The Citadel, including a career-high seven free throws. Wright said the Bulldogs never got mentally discouraged in the game, despite digging themselves an early 20-point hole in the first half.

Ella Ellis had 18 points to lead Army, which shot just 20 percent in the second half and made only five field goals in the final 20 minutes.

The Citadel came out hot in the second half, using an 18-6 run to tie the game at 55-55 with 13:11 remaining. The game was tied 57-57 with 12:31 left before the Bulldogs used a 6-0 run to gain a lead they would not relinquish.

"We didn't change anything we do, we just tried to do it better," Bulldog head coach Chuck Driesell said of the second half. "We just had to come out and make a decision about what kind of team we were going to be, and this was a good 20 minutes to figure it out. I give my guys all the credit. They responded, came out and just grinded and really showed a lot."

The Black Knights hit just 1 of 13 3-pointers in the second half and was 7-for-21 from beyond the arc during the game.

Army fouled The Citadel repeatedly down the stretch hoping for a chance to get back in the game, but the Bulldogs scored 11 of their final 13 points from the line thanks to clutch free-throw shooting.

Army used penetrating guard play, sharp passing and stingy defense to open a 20-point advantage midway through the first half. The Black Knights shot 60 percent from the field and led the Bulldogs 49-37 at the break.

GAME THREE

CLEMSON:
THE CITADEL:
(Charleston, S.C.)

50

The Citadel's junior center Mike Groselle recorded his fourth straight double-double, 16 points and 11 rebounds, but it was ACC foe Clemson that emerged with a 73-50 victory at McAlister Field House in front of 5,186 in attendance. Groselle, the lone Bulldog in double figures, was joined alongside teammates Cosmo Morabbi and Bo Holston, who netted eight points, respectively.

The Citadel (1-2) struggled to find their offensive rhythm, converting 19-of-63 (30.2%) from field goal range, including 5-of-19 (26.3%) from beyond the arc. Groselle scored 14 of his game-high 16 points by virtue of hitting 7-of-13 from the field. He crashed the offensive boards for five of 11 total rebounds and along the way became just the third player in Citadel Basketball history to post four straight double-doubles in his career. Morabbi led the way for the Bulldogs from beyond the arc, hitting 2-of-4 attempts, which accounted for six of his eight total points. Meanwhile, Holston knocked down 3-of-9 field goals and hauled in five rebounds for the Cadets.

Clemson (2-0) took advantage of double figures from the trio of Devin Booker (14 pts.), Tanner Smith (11 pts.) and Milton Jennings (10 pts.). The Tigers were 29-of-54 (53.7%) from the floor as a unit, due in large part to hitting better than 50% for each half. Four Clemson players hit one 3-pointer each, including Booker and Smith. Smith posted a team-high seven rebounds, while T.J. Sapp and Catalin Baciu added six each to give Clemson a 40-38 edge on the boards.

Facing a 39-23 deficit at the intermission, DeVontae Wright opened second half scoring with a 3-pointer just over two minutes into the frame. The Tigers answered with a 16-0 run that spanned 8:15 of the contest, highlighted by five points from Booker and four by Jennings, to assume a 55-26 lead.

A layup by P.J. Horgan followed by a 3-pointer from Lawrence Miller gave the Dogs five quick points, before Clemson expanded its lead to 62-33 at the 8:23 mark.

Beyond eight points from Holston and five by Groselle the Cadets outscored Clemson, 17-10, over the final 5:26 of the contest. Among Holston's eight points included a 3-pointer on a pass from Morabbi, making for the third 3-pointer of the second half.

The Citadel opened the first half by hitting 8-of-26 (30.8%) from the field, including just one conversion from beyond the arc in six attempts. Groselle managed 11 points on 5-of-7 shooting en route to a Bulldog team-high in points. Smith, his Clemson counterpart, also scored 11 points on 5-of-7 shooting, including one 3-pointer.

The Bulldogs defense opened strong, allowing just four points over the first 3:30 of the game, before a Morabbi trey pulled the deficit to one. The Tigers answered with a 7-0 run, sparked by a long distance shot from T.J. Sapp, to assume an 11-3 lead at the 11:45 mark.

The inside tandem of Groselle and Horgan trimmed the deficit to 11-8 with a series of points in the paint. The Tigers responded with a 17-6 run, pushing their lead to 28-14, behind five points from Smith and four from Sapp.

Groselle scored the final seven Bulldog points of the first half, however six points from Smith allowed Clemson to take a 39-21 lead as the two teams headed into the half.

GAME FOUR

FLORIDA CHRISTIAN:
THE CITADEL:
(Charleston, S.C.)

Mike Groselle and Barry Smith scored 19 points apiece to lead five Citadel players in double figures as the Bulldogs routed Florida Christian by a final score of 97-44 at McAlister Field House on Monday evening. Groselle became the first Citadel player, since 1974, to record five consecutive double-doubles, finishing with 19 points and 11 rebounds, as Bulldog Head Coach Chuck Driesell earned his 100th career coaching victory in dramatic fashion.

Groselle and Smith were joined in double figures by the likes of Ashton Moore (11 points) and C.J. Bray (10 points), as 12 different Bulldogs scored at least one point in the contest. The Citadel converted 36-of-65 (55.4%) from the floor, including 9-of-24 (37.5%) from 3-point range, led by Smith who hit 8-of-15 from the floor. Groselle, who posted a game-high 11 rebounds, was joined in the post by Smith and Bray, who accounted for six rebounds each, to give the Cadets a 46-28 edge on the boards. The Bulldogs improved to 2-2 on the season.

The Florida Christian offense was led by Montique Lynch's 15 points, which came on 5-of-13 shooting. Teammates Joseph Wood (11 points) and Juwon Braye (10 points) rounded out double-digit scorers, while Kenny Blanc pulled down 13 rebounds, including four offensively. The Suns (2-6) were successful on only 16-of-55 (29.1%) field goal attempts, knocking down 5-of-14 (35.7%) from 3-point range.

The Citadel improved on a 58-21 lead at the break by putting together a 14-7 run over the first 7:14 of the second half. Highlighted by four points from Groselle and three from Bo Holston, the Cadets stretched their lead to 70-25. The second half offensive spurt, combined with a 27-10 run that closed the final 9:27 of the first half, allowed the Dogs to outscore the Suns 41-18 over a 16:41 stretch of the contest.

Three points from Lynch and Wood helped Florida Christian to a 10 point spurt over a 4:31 stretch to make the score 79-38 with 8:15 left in the half.

The Citadel allowed just five points over the remainder of the contest and in the process scored 18 points of their own. Reserve Nathan Conley accounted for five of the final 18 points, hitting a long distance 3-pointer from the top of the key and followed with a layup on a fast break pass from Will Keistler with under a minute to go for the 97-44 final.

The 44 points mark the fewest points allowed by The Citadel since a 55-43 victory in the opening round of the 2010 Southern Conference Tournament against Samford.

The Citadel established a 58-21 lead at the half behind 21-of-36 (58.3%) shooting from the field. Groselle netted a half-high 13 points, hitting 3-of-5 from the field, while Smith added 12 points on 5-of-8 shooting from the floor. The combination of Moore (2-4) and Lawrence Miller (2-3) paced a Dogs unit that hit 6-of-14 from beyond the arc, while Groselle's six rebounds anchored the middle.

After falling in an early 2-0 hole, The Citadel responded with an 18-4 run highlighted by 3-pointers from the tandem of Moore, Harris III and Smith, to assume an 18-6 lead at the 13:20 mark.

The onslaught of Citadel points continued after a jumper by Wood, as the Bulldogs put together a 12-3 run behind four points each from Groselle and Jordan Robertson, stretching the lead to 30-11.

Wood and Juwon Braye knocked down a pair of long range 3-pointers for the Suns, but it was the inside-outside threat of Groselle and Miller that allowed The Citadel lead to reach 52-17 at the 4:08 mark. Groselle scored six points in the paint, while Miller added seven points, keyed by two 3-pointers, to make for the 22-6 run.

The Citadel defense allowed just two points over the remainder of the half, while PJ Horgan, Smith and Wright poured in six points offensively. The 58 first half points marked the most for the Dogs this season, breaking a previous record of 46 that came against VMI.

GAME FIVE

THE CITADEL: HIGH POINT:

(High Point, N.C.)

72

OT

The Citadel's Mike Groselle posted his sixth straight double-double (15 points, 13 rebounds), but it was High Point's Nick Barbour that made the difference in overtime, as the Panthers emerged with an 80-72 overtime victory at the Mills Athletic and Convocation Center on Saturday evening. Groselle was joined by teammates Lawrence Miller (14 points), Ashton Moore (12 points) and Marshall Harris III (10 points), who all reached double figures.

The Citadel (2-3) converted 10 3-pointers in the contest behind the tandem of Moore (4-9) and Miller (3-8). Also knocking down long range shots for the Dogs were Barry Smith (1-4), Cosmo Morabbi (1-3) and Harris III (1-4). As a unit, the Cadets managed 27-for-70 (38.6%), 10-for-30 (33.3%) from 3-point range and knocked down 8-of-13 (61.5%) of their free throws. Groselle (7-13) was one of four Bulldogs, along with Harris III (4-9), Miller (4-10) and Moore (4-12), to finish with four or more made field goals. Harris III dished out six assists in the contest, marking the third time in his five career contests that he has eclipsed the six-assist plateau. Groselle's seven offensive rebounds were instrumental in giving The Citadel a 17-9 edge in second chance points.

The trio of Xavier Martin (21 points), Barbour (20 points) and Corey Law (13 points) carried the Panthers offensively. High Point managed 27-of-59 (45.8%) from the field, including 7-of-15 from 3-point range. The difference came from the charity stripe, which HPU visited on 31 occasions, knocking down 19 shots. Law crashed the boards for a game-high 15 rebounds, giving himself a double-double, while teammate Devante Wallace hauled in 10 rebounds, three offensively. HPU improved to 2-3 overall on the season following the victory.

Eight Citadel points in the first 2:10 of the second half, including key 3-pointers by Morabbi and Smith, erased a four-point High Point halftime advantage and knotted the game at 36-36. The Panthers answered quickly with a long range 3-pointer by Barbour, sparking a 10-0 run, making for a 46-36 contest at the 14:17 mark.

The Bulldog freshmen backcourt of Harris III and Miller, unfazed by the Panthers defense, answered with consecutive 3-pointers to pull The Citadel within four, 46-42, just over a minute later.

The two teams traded baskets as the lead bounced between five and seven points before a 3-pointer by Miller and alley-oop dunk by Smith sliced the margin to 56-51 with 4:50 remaining.

A strong defensive stand, along with a pair of free throws by Miller and Bo Holston drew the Dogs within one point, 56-55, with 3:22 to go on the clock. High Point scored five of the game's next seven points to move in front 61-57, but a pair of 3-pointers by Miller and Moore gave The Citadel a 63-62 edge with 43 seconds remaining.

Law responded with an old-fashioned three-point play, moving the Panthers in front by two, before a running jumper in the lane by Harris sent the game to overtime deadlocked at 65.

Barbour and Martin forged High Point to victory in the overtime with 10 and five points, respectively. The Citadel countered with two points each from Holston, Miller and Smith, but it was Barbour's 7-of-10 performance from the free-throw line proved to be the difference in the 80-72 victory.

Behind seven points from Groselle and six by Moore, The Citadel closed the first half within four points, 32-28, of the Panthers. Despite a scoring drought that spanned 3:34 of the frame, the Dogs hit 11-of-31 (35.5%) from the field, including three from beyond the arc. The Bulldogs also posted 18 rebounds, led by Groselle who hauled in five.

The Citadel led on two occasions in the early stages of the game, the first coming at the 14:12 mark when Moore buried a long range 3-pointer on an assist from Harris III to assume the 10-8 advantage. High Point quickly answered with a bucket by Devante Wallace to knot the game at 10-10, before CJ Bray stepped just outside the paint to net his first points of the game and give the Dogs a two-point advantage.

The Panthers retaliated with an 8-2 run, highlighted by a pair of 3-point buckets by Barbour and Martin to assume a 22-14 lead at the 10:17 mark of the half. Just under a minute later Moore answered with his second 3-pointer of the half, making for a five-point Panthers lead, 22-17.

The Bulldogs defense forced a missed opportunity for HPU, allowing Groselle to work his way through the paint and trim the lead to 22-19. The Panthers took advantage of Citadel miscues to stretch the lead to 27-20 at the 6:52 mark, before a layup by Harris III made again pulled the Dogs within five.

Shine and Law combined to score the next five points for the Panthers, who lead 32-26 with 2:13 left in the half, but it was four points by Miller and two from Harris III that pulled The Citadel within four at the intermission.

GAME SIX

THE CITADEL: COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON:

83

(Charleston, S.C.)

Mike Groselle posted his seventh straight double-double, 20 points and 19 rebounds, but it was College of Charleston that emerged victorious in the intracity rivalry, 83-64, at TD Arena on Thursday night. Groselle became just the third player in program history to post 19 rebounds or more in a double-double effort, tying previous marks set by Patrick Elmore (20 vs. Davidson; Feb. 20, 1990) and Regan Truesdale (19 vs. ETSU; March 10, 1983).

The Citadel (2-4, 0-1 SoCon) was successful on 26-of-65 (40.0%) attempts from the floor, with the biggest struggle coming from beyond the arc, finishing only 3-of-14. Groselle topped the team with seven field goals, followed closely by Barry Smith (5-11), who closed with 10 points. C.J. Bray also recorded 10 points as did freshman guard Ashton Moore, who hit 4-of-9 in the contest. The Bulldogs dominated the front court with 43 rebounds, 15 on the offensive glass, which led to 18 second chance points. Groselle's 19-rebound effort established a new career-high which was previously set against Wofford on Jan. 6, 2011 when he pulled down 16 boards.

Trent Wiedeman led all scorers with 22 points and 10 rebounds, joined by teammates Antwaine Wiggins (20 points), Andrew Lawrence (14 points) and Anthony Stitt (10 points). Wiedeman converted 11-of-16 shots as CoFC finished with a 34-32 edge in the paint. Wiggins came through with a 9-of-19 performance as the Cougars were a collective 37-of-74 (50.0%) from the field in the contest. The trio of Lawrence, Stitt and Matt Sundberg each came through with two 3-pointers as the College of Charleston hit just 7-of-28 from downtown.

Adjehi Baru capped off a 6-2 run to open the second half as the Cougars jumped out to a 47-35 lead at the 18:22 mark. In less than one minute The Citadel answered with back-to-back points by Charlestonians Bray and DeVontae Wright to keep the game within reach, 49-39.

After a Wiedeman jumper bumped the lead back to 12, Groselle scored four straight points and took advantage of a Wiggins missed jumper to draw the Bulldogs within 51-43 of the lead. However, the College put together a 15-6 run over the next 5:53, highlighted by four points from Wiggins, to make for a 66-49 score.

A series of scores by freshmen Jordan Robertson and Lawrence Miller allowed The Citadel offense to pull within 68-52, and despite four points by Groselle and three from Moore, College of Charleston's offense scored 15 points over the final 8:53 of the contest to complete the 83-64 victory.

Behind Groselle's 12 points and eight rebounds The Citadel trailed the Cougars by just eight points, 41-33, at the break. Groselle was joined by Moore, who was unfazed in his first collegiate start as he converted 3-of-5 field goal attempts, including one from beyond the arc, en route to seven points. The Bulldogs hit 13-for-30 (43.3%) from the field, however it was their 21 rebounds (six offensive) that made for six second chance points.

College of Charleston finished the first half 18-for-37 (48.6%) from the floor, managing only 4-of-14 (28.6%) from beyond the arc, with constant defensive pressure applied by the Dogs. The tandem of Lawrence and Wiedeman led the way for CoFC offensively with 12 and 10 points, respectively, each with five field goals. Lawrence teamed with Sundberg to guide the way for the Cougars perimeter shooting, as they each knocked down a pair.

Neither team broke into the scoring column until the 2:01 into the game when a layup by Bray gave The Citadel an early 2-0 lead. The two teams played through two ties before a 3-pointer by Lawrence gave the Cougars their first lead, 9-8, of the contest at the 15:12 mark.

The Bulldogs regained the lead on a 5-0 run which included a layup by Groselle and a 3-pointer by Moore, pushing the lead to 13-9, just under a minute later. The Citadel maintained the three-point advantage until a jumper by Lawrence drew CoFC to within one, 15-14, at the 12:24 mark. The Cougars then forced a turnover and took advantage of a Sundberg 3-pointer to jump back in front, 17-14.

Six points from the trio of Groselle, Bray and Miller made for the fifth tie of the half, 21-21, with 8:52 remaining. Wright gave the Dogs their final lead of the opening half, 23-22, when he buried a jumper on a pass from Holston at the 7:33 mark.

Seven points from Lawrence and six off the hand of Wiedeman were the backbone of a 19-10 run to close out the first half for the Cougars. The Bulldogs countered with four from Groselle and three by Smith, but it was CoFC that lead at the intermission.

GAME SEVEN

GAME EIGHT

THE CITADEL: WOFFORD:

63 82

COASTAL CAROLINA: THE CITADEL:

80 58

(Spartanburg, S.C.)

(Charleston, S.C.)

The Citadel's duo of Mike Groselle and Ashton Moore each scored a team-high 13 points, but it was Wofford that came away with the 82-63 victory at Benjamin Johnson Arena in Southern Conference basketball action on Saturday evening.

Sophomore Barry Smith reached double figures for the fourth time in his career as he scored a team-high 15 points in The Citadel's 80-58 loss to visiting Coastal Carolina at McAllister Field House on Tuesday evening.

The Bulldogs (2-5, 0-2 SoCon) converted 22-of-51 (43.1%) from the field, including 5-of-13 (38.5%) from beyond the arc. As a unit The Citadel finished with a 13-10 edge in points off turnovers and a 16-15 advantage in second chance points.

The Bulldogs (2-6) closed the game by hitting 20-of-53 (37.7%) from the field, including 9-for-20 from 3-point range, just one shy of tying a season-high. Three Cadets, including Mike Groselle (4-12), Smith (4-9) and Wright (4-9) finished with four field goals in the contest.

Wofford's Kevin Giltner shot 11-of-17 from the floor, hitting 4-of-8 from beyond the arc to post a game-high 27 points. He also was responsible for 10 rebounds, pulling down nine on the defensive end, to give the Terriers a 36-29 edge on the boards.

Coastal Carolina's offensive juggernaut was led by junior Anthony Raffa who finished 13-of-19 from the field, including a pair of 3-pointers, en route to a career-high 28 points. Raffa also dished out four assists and left his impact defensively with five steals and six rebounds.

Facing a 15-point deficit at the half, Wright opened with a pair of second half buckets to pull the Dogs with 42-29 of the lead, but a series of scores by Aerris Smith and Giltner stretched the lead to 17 points.

With a 20-point lead at the half, Coastal Carolina outscored the Bulldogs 11-8 over the first 6:04 of the second half to assume a 58-35 advantage.

The Citadel regained the momentum behind six points by Groselle and a pair of free throws by Miller, as they outscored Wofford 8-4 during a 2:14 span of the second to pull within 46-37 of the Terriers.

Wright quickly answered with a 3-pointer from the corner and was fouled by Raffa in the process, igniting The Citadel bench. After Cosmo Morabbi made a free throw to cut the score to 58-39, Coastal Carolina scored three straight points to push the lead back to 22.

Wofford scored 12 of the games next 18 points, including a 3-pointer by Cochran, and despite a trey by Moore the Terriers led 60-45 at the 8:59 mark.

The Bulldogs used a pair of Smith free throws and back-to-back 3-pointers by Lawrence Miller to trim the lead to 63-47 with 8:42 remaining in the game. Smith then used his 6-6 frame to block Raffa in the lane, leading to a transition layup for Marshall Harris III that got the Dogs within 14 points of Coastal Carolina.

Jumpers by Skinner and Giltner expanded the Wofford lead to 16 on two separate occasions, but The Citadel answered with a 3-pointer by Marshall Harris III and a layup by Morabbi to remaining within striking distance, 65-41, with 6:00 remaining.

Raffa scored 10 of the final 15 points for Coastal Carolina over the final 7:24 of the contest, as Ellis remained perfect in 10 contests against The Citadel in career with the 80-58 win.

Seven points by Giltner over the next 2:45 of the game stretched the Terrier lead to 77-57, as the Dogs got four of their final six points from P.J. Horgan to make for the 82-63 final.

Groselle and Smith managed six points apiece to lead seven players in scoring, as the Bulldogs hit 11-for-27 (40.7%) in the opening half, including four from beyond the arc. Groselle was responsible for three of those made field goals as he finished 3-of-6 from the field along with a pair of offensive rebounds.

Wofford established a 40-25 lead at the intermission behind 13 points from Giltner and eight each from Loesing and Cochran. The Citadel countered with six points each from Groselle and Moore, but struggled to find its shooting touch as they hit just 8-of-20 (40%) field goal attempts.

The Coastal Carolina lineup knocked down scintillating 20-of-32 (62.5%) from the floor, converting 4-of-9 from 3-point range, to close the first half with a 47-27 lead.

The Terriers, who hit 15-of-27 (55.6%) from the floor, took advantage of 7-of-12 (58.3%) shooting from beyond the arc. The trio of Giltner (3-5), Cochran (2-3) and Loesing (2-3) all converted long range shots, as Wofford became the first team since Florida Christian to hit better than 50-percent in the opening half against the Bulldogs.

It marked the first time that an opponent has shot better than 60-percent in the opening half against the Dogs since Army on Nov. 12 in the All-Military Classic. Raffa led the Chanticleers with 12 points, hitting 5-of-8 from the field and a pair from beyond the arc, to go along with four rebounds.

Wofford's offense was kick started early by a pair of treys by Cochran and Loesing and despite points by Smith, Wright and Bray the Terriers lead 10-7 at the 17:06 mark. Exactly one minute later Groselle converted an old-fashioned three point play to knot the game at 10 all.

Sam McLaurin opened scoring with a layup that was quickly followed by Groselle to knot the game at 2-2 within the opening minute of the game. The Chanticleers rattled off eight of the next 10 points to establish a 10-4 lead on a layup by Greenwood. Moore retaliated with a 3-pointer on an assist from Wright as the Dogs remained within striking distance, 10-7.

The Terriers quickly responded with a 12-0 run, sparked by a pair of Giltner 3-pointers, that spanned 3:01 of the contest to assume the 22-10 lead. Groselle ended the drought with a free throw which was followed by a Moore 3-pointer, before five points by Cochran gives Wofford a 27-17 lead.

A series of buckets by Greenwood and Raffa pushed Coastal Carolina into double figures, 14-9, before Wright drained a bucket on a pass from Groselle to make for the three-point deficit.

A defensive stop by The Citadel followed by a strong move in the post by Robertson allowed the Dogs to pull within 27-19 of the lead with 9:16 remaining in the half.

The Chants answered with a 25-5 offensive explosion, keyed by seven points from Dexter Moore, who drained two of three 3-pointers during the run. The Bulldogs managed two points each from Groselle and Morabbi during the 8:50 span, as Coastal Carolina pulled in front 39-16.

With the lead back in double figures, following a layup by Wright, Wofford pieced together a 9-2 run and held the Dogs without a bucket to make for a 40-23 advantage. A Groselle layup ended The Citadel drought, which spanned 4:15 of the frame, for the final points by either team of the half.

The Citadel closed out the first half with a series of 3-pointers from Smith and Bray as they outscored the Chanticleers 11-8 over the final 4:49 to pull within 20.

GAME NINE

CHARLESTON SOUTHERN:
THE CITADEL:

(Charleston, S.C.)

69

Freshman guard Ashton Moore scored 18 points and was joined in double figures by Mike Groselle (15 points) and DeVontae Wright (11 points), as rival Charleston Southern emerged with the 88-69 victory at McAlister Field House on Wednesday evening. The Bulldogs closed out the contest by hitting 30-of-68 (44.1%) from the field, including 6-of-14 (42.9%) from 3-point range, but it was Charleston Southern's 19-of-31 (61.3%) shooting in the second half that made for the difference.

The trio of Moore, Groselle and Wright marked the sixth time this season that at least three Citadel players reached double figures in scoring. Moore led all Bulldog scorers with eight field goals, including a pair from beyond the arc, while Groselle tallied seven and Wright closed with five. The Cadets rebounded from a tough opening half, which they hit only 14-of-37 (37.8%) to knock down 16-of-31 (51.6%) from the floor in the second half. Groselle's seven rebounds, including five on the offensive glass, anchored the middle for The Citadel. The loss drops the Dogs to 2-7 overall.

Despite Arlon Harper scoring a game-high 19 points, it was Kelvin Martin, who finished with 13 points and 17 rebounds that highlighted the Charleston Southern offensive attack. The Bucs (6-3) became the first team since VMI, on Nov. 11 in the All-Military Classic, to finish with six players in double figures against The Citadel, as Cedrick Bowen (16 pts.), Mathian Muo (15 pts.), Paul Gombwer (12 pts.) and Sheldon Strickland (11 pts.) reached the milestone. CSU was successful on 37-of-68 (54.4%) field goal attempts, including 9-of-21 (42.9%) from 3-point range. They also held a 42-34 edge in rebounds, highlighted by 13 offensive rebounds.

CSU opened second half scoring with a layup by Wright, stretching the lead to 45-33, before a jumper by P.J. Horgan broke a scoreless drought for the Dogs that took 7:46 off the clock. The Citadel continued to apply pressure by capitalizing on a Moore jumper and a layup by Barry Smith to trim the margin to 45-39 at the 17:26 mark of the second half.

Consecutive scores by Strickland and Martin stretched the lead to 49-39, before a Groselle layup put the game back in single digits for the final time of the contest. CSU responded with a 7-0 run, stretching the advantage to 56-41, behind a 3-pointer by Harper at the 14:50 mark of the half.

The Citadel took advantage of five consecutive calls at their end of the floor, along with three points each by Smith and Moore, to draw within 64-51 of the Bucs. But, a pair of free throws by Gombwer and a 3-pointer by Saah Nimley established the 69-51 lead.

Wright countered with a 3-pointer, sparking a 15-9 run that was highlighted by six points from Groselle, to pull The Citadel within 78-66 of Charleston Southern with 5:33 left.

However, Charleston Southern allowed just three more points by the Dogs as they completed the 88-69 victory and moved their record to 6-3 on the season.

Behind seven points each from the tandem of Moore and Bray, The Citadel trailed by a 43-33 margin at the half. Bray knocked down a pair of first half 3-pointers, while Moore was 3-of-5 from the field, including a trey. The Bulldogs connected on 14-of-37 (37.8%) attempts from the floor, including 4-of-8 from 3-point range. The Dogs also posted 22 rebounds, including nine on the offensive glass, which accounted for six second chance points.

Charleston Southern opened strong with an 18-for-37 (48.6%) performance in the first half, led by Harper's 11 points. Harper took advantage of a 4-for-6 outing in the opening frame, while Martin hauled in 10 rebounds, including eight on the defensive glass. The Buccaneers closed with a 22-4 edge in points in the paint, keyed by nine points from Muo and five each from Martin and Nimley.

The Citadel took advantage of early baskets by Wright and Groselle to jump out to a 4-2 lead just 2:20 into the contest. The two teams reached a 6-6 tie before a Lawrence Miller 3-pointer from the right elbow gave the Dogs a 9-6 lead at the 15:54 mark. The Cadets followed with a layup by Groselle and a trey by Bray to stay in front, 14-13, with 14:02 on the clock.

Just under a minute later, Nimley gave CSU its third lead of the game on a 3-pointer, before a bucket by Smith and a shot from downtown by Moore allowed The Citadel to regain the lead, 19-16.

The Dogs maintained their three-point edge, 21-18, after a Wright found Moore for a jumper at the 11:51 mark. CSU retaliated with buckets by Harper and Martin to assume the 22-21 lead, as the teams traded baskets over the next 2:50 of the half before jumpers by Moore and Miller over the Dogs in front 32-26 at the 6:20 mark.

Charleston Southern put together a 17-1 run over the remainder of the half, highlighted by seven points from Harper and five off the hand of Muo. Meanwhile, The Citadel managed just one Bray free throw, which came at the 5:52 mark, to face a 10-point deficit at the intermission.

GAME TEN

THE CITADEL: JAMES MADISON:

(Harrisonburg, Va.)

49
67

Citadel junior Mike Groselle posted his seventh double-double of the season, 11 points and 11 rebounds, but it was James Madison that emerged with the decisive 67-49 victory on Monday evening at the JMU Convocation Center. Groselle was joined in scoring by teammates Lawrence Miller (eight points) and Bo Holston (seven points).

The Citadel (2-8) was unable to find consistency in their shooting, hitting 19-of-53 (35.8%) from the floor and 6-of-21 from 3-point range. The one bright spot came in the form of rebounding, as the Bulldogs tallied 30 rebounds, including 13 on the offensive glass. Groselle was one of five Cadets to post an offensive rebound, finishing with six. Meanwhile, the tandem of Holston and Miller gave the Dogs a 23-18 edge in bench scoring.

James Madison (5-3) took advantage of 27-for-52 (51.9%) shooting, which included eight 3-pointers, to win their fourth game in their last five contests. Humpty Hitchens and Julius Wells scored 12 points apiece for game-high honors, while Andrey Semenov poured in 11 points. The trio was responsible for all eight Duke 3-pointers, as Wells and Semenov hit three each. Wells posted seven rebounds, while Semenov added six to give JMU a 33-30 edge on the glass. Hutchens and teammate Devon Moore were the catalysts to the offense with four assists each.

The Dukes scored the first five points, on conversions by Semenov and Alioune Diouf, within 1:07 of the second half to mount a 39-21 lead. Barry Smith answered with a Citadel free throw before teammate Ashton Moore drained a 3-pointer to pull the Dogs within 39-25 at the 17:09 mark.

JMU's offense answered with a brief 11-4 run that spanned the next 3:46 of the contest, which included 3-pointers by Wells, Hitchens and Semenov to make for the 50-29 lead.

The Citadel bounced back with a Marshall Harris III free throw and five straight points by fellow freshman C.J. Bray to pull within 52-35 at the 8:24 mark.

Four points apiece from Groselle and Cosmo Morabbi were not enough to keep James Madison from maintaining its double-digit lead, 62-43, as Diouf and Davis combined for 10 points for the Dukes.

The Dukes allowed just six Citadel points over the final 3:26 of the contest, which were split evenly between Groselle and Holston, as they completed the 67-49 victory.

The Bulldogs managed just 8-of-28 (28.6%) shooting in the opening half, knocking down 4-of-10 (40%) from beyond the arc. The backcourt combination of Miller and Wright, who closed with eight and six points respectively, were the offensive leaders for The Citadel. Groselle manned the boards with five rebounds, including two offensive, as the Dogs scored three second chance points.

Meanwhile, James Madison closed the frame by hitting 14-of-28 (50%) from the floor, also 4-of-10 from 3-point range. Hitchens led all scorers with nine points at the intermission, followed by Moore (8 points) and Wells (6 points). The Dukes finished with an 18-14 edge on the glass behind five rebounds from Wells.

James Madison established an early 9-0 lead behind five points by Hitchens, holding the Cadets scoreless until the 14:10 mark when Groselle dunked a Smith pass.

Just under two minutes later Harris III floated a jump shot from just outside the lane to make for the 13-4 JMU advantage.

At the 10:46 mark of the first half, Miller scored the first of two 3-pointers as he singlehandedly drew The Citadel within 19-12 of the lead with eight consecutive points.

James Madison responded with a jumper by Hitchens and a 3-pointer off the hand of Semenov to stretch the lead to 24-12 with 7:15 remaining.

Wright regained his shooting touch for The Citadel, knocking down a series of 3-pointers over a 1:08 span to trim the Dukes advantage to 26-18.

James Madison closed out the half on an 8-3 run, including four points by Moore, to take a 34-21 into the locker room. The Citadel countered with two points from Holston and a free throw by Jordan Robertson in that stretch.

GAME ELEVEN

THE CITADEL: DENVER:

58 70

(Denver, Colo.)

Mike Groselle scored a team-high 16 points to lead four Citadel players in double figures, but it was the University of Denver that came through with the 70-58 victory in front of 6,355 in attendance at Magness Arena on Thursday evening.

The Citadel shot 23-of-46 (50%) from the field, knocking down a Pioneer opponent season-high nine 3-pointers that shattered the previous high of four, set by Southern Mississippi on Nov. 17, 2011. Miller led the way with four 3-pointers, tying a career-high that he set against VMI (Nov. 11) at the All-Military Classic.

The University of Denver (10-2) took advantage of a 21-of-45 (46.7%) shooting performance that included 12 conversions from beyond the arc. Chris Udofia led all scorers with 19 points and added seven rebounds, knocking down five field goals and finishing 9-of-10 from the charity stripe.

Denver opened the second half of play with a 14-5 run that was highlighted by a pair of Travis Hallam 3-pointers, pushing their lead to 51-24 at the 15:53 mark. The Citadel quickly retaliated with an 8-0 run that included a pair of long distance shots by Miller and Morabbi to make for a 51-32 lead.

Continuing to scratch their way back into the contest, the Bulldogs took advantage of a jumper by Bo Holston and the second 3-pointer by Miller to cut the lead to 54-37.

Leading 60-45 at the 5:17 mark of the second half, O'Neale buried the fifth Denver 3-pointer of the second stanza to extend the lead 18. The Citadel regrouped following a 30-second timeout and scored 15 of the game's final 22 points over a 4:24 span, led by Morabbi who scored five down the stretch.

The Bulldogs allowed just one field goal in that stretch, a second 3-pointer by O'Neale, and sent the Pioneers to the line on four different occasions. Denver staved off the rally and emerged with the decisive 70-58 victory.

The Citadel knocked down 8-of-18 (44.4%) field goals in the opening frame, led by Groselle's eight points. Groselle was successful on 4-of-5 field goal attempts, while Wright was the only other Bulldog with multiple field goals (2-4). Both made field goals by Wright were 3-pointers, as the Cadets finished 3-for-8 from beyond the perimeter. The Dogs also crashed the glass for 10 rebounds, including a team-high three for Groselle.

Denver countered with a 13-of-25 (52.0%) first-half shooting performance, six of which came from beyond the arc. The tandem of Udofia (12 points) and Chase Hallam (10 points) led the way for the Pioneers offensively. Udofia led the team by hitting 4-of-7 from the field along with four free throws. Chase Hallam closed out the half 4-of-5, including 2-for-3 from 3-point range and was one of three Pioneer players to have two treys. Udofia was also a key rebounder, grabbing four boards as the University of Denver finished with 12 in the half.

The Bulldogs offense opened strong in the early going, taking advantage of four points by Groselle and a 3-pointer off the hand of Wright to assume a 7-3 lead at the 17:17 mark.

Denver answered with a brief 6-0 run that took less than one minute, which included a 3-pointer by Olson, to assume a 9-7 lead. Morabbi answered for the Bulldogs with a layup on a pass from Holston, knotting the game at nine all, before the Pioneers rattled off the next seven straight to jump in front 16-9.

A Barry Smith pass found Groselle in the post for a layup to end the 3:04 scoreless span for The Citadel, making for a five-point deficit. After a Denver score in the post, Wright converted his second shot from downtown to make for the 18-14 Denver lead.

Chase Hallam stretched the UD lead back to seven before a Miller 3-pointer made for a 21-17 score. The Bulldogs then turned to their defense, forcing a Rob Lewis turnover, which allowed Groselle to score a layup and trim the lead to two points with 5:14 remaining in the frame.

Denver closed out the half on a 16-0 run, including seven points by Stafford and five by Udofia, and headed into the break with a 37-19 advantage.

GAME TWELVE

THE CITADEL: TENNESSEE:

55 86

(Knoxville, Tenn.)

Mike Groselle netted a game-high 21 points to go along with eight rebounds, but it was the University of Tennessee that came away with a 86-55 victory in front of 16,245 in attendance at Thompson-Boling Arena on Thursday evening.

The Citadel was successful on 22-of-56 (39.3%) field goal attempts, including four from beyond the arc, led by Groselle who finished 8-of-15 from the field. The Dogs grabbed 27 rebounds, including 12 on the offensive glass, accounting for eight second chance points. Joining Groselle among individual leaders were DeVontae Wright (8 points), C.J. Bray (7 points) and Cosmo Morabbi (7 points). The loss drops the Cadets to 2-10 on the season as they complete a three-game road stretch.

Tennessee, which shot better than 50-percent in each period, closed 33-of-59 (55.9%) from the floor and knocked down 9-of-22 (40.9%) from 3-point range. Yemi Makanjuola led four Vols in double figures with a career-high 18 points. Teammates Skylar McBee (12 points), Trae Golden (10 points) and Renaldo Woolridge (10 points) joined Makanjuola among double-digit performers. Makanjuola completed his double-double performance with 11 rebounds, giving the Vols a 40-27 edge on the boards as UT outscored the Dogs 42-22 in the paint. The Volunteers improved to 6-6 overall and earned their fifth win at home.

Trailing 40-25 at the intermission, The Citadel opened with a flurry of points in the second half from Wright and Morabbi to cut the margin to 42-30 in less than a minute. Tennessee reacted with a 13-2 run over the next 4:45 of the half, highlighted by 3-pointers from Golden, Woolridge and Jordan McRae to extend its lead to 55-32.

Buckets by Groselle kept the Cadets within 21 points, but hot shooting by Volunteers made the score 60-38 on a free throw by Woolridge. Tennessee's offense then became a one-man show, as Makanjuola scored the next 18 straight UT points. The Citadel countered with four points each from the tandem of Groselle and Bray, but it was not enough as UT led 78-48 behind Makanjuola.

The Citadel managed seven points of offense over the final 2:31 of the contest, capitalizing on three points each from Groselle and teammate Barry Smith, while Will Keistler netted his first collegiate point from the free throw line. Tennessee completed the 86-55 win with a final bucket by reserve guard Galen Campbell.

The Citadel finished the opening frame by hitting 10-of-27 (37.0%) from the field, knocking down three from beyond the arc, as the team trailed 40-25 at the intermission. Groselle led all Citadel scorers with eight points and Wright drained a pair of 3-pointers to finish the first half with six. The Dogs grabbed 15 rebounds, including five on the offensive glass, however were riddled with 10 turnovers that led to 10 Volunteer points.

Tennessee took advantage of scoring both in the paint (18 points) as well as five 3-pointers, finishing 16-of-27 (59.3%) from the floor. The Vols were led by the backcourt combination of McBee (12 points) and Golden (8 points). Golden was the team's leading rebounder at the break, posting four rebounds as UT held a slight 15-13 edge on the boards.

The Bulldogs managed just two points over the first 3:09 of the game, following a jumper by Morabbi, as the Volunteers established a 7-2 lead. The Citadel came ended a brief drought with back-to-back buckets in the post by Groselle and Jordan Robertson to trim the lead to 7-6.

Tennessee again jumped ahead by five, 11-6, on a pair of scores by Golden and Tatum before a Bray 3-pointer again put the Cadets within one bucket.

Consecutive scores by Groselle and Wright kept the Bulldogs within two before a pair of 3-pointers by McBee stretched the Vols lead to 22-14 at the 7:25 mark.

Wright converted his second long range shot of the half, drawing The Citadel within 22-17 of the lead, before UT put together a 9-0 run to jump ahead 31-17. The run took 2:24 off the clock and consisted of three layups before being capped off by a 3-pointer by Cameron Tatum.

Groselle ended a Citadel scoring drought with a layup on a pass from Robertson and followed on the ensuing possession with the only Bulldog free throws of the frame, making for a 33-21 Tennessee lead.

The Vols closed out the final 1:55 of the first half by scoring seven of the final eleven points, with Ashton Moore accounting for the lone Citadel buckets, to head into the break with a 15-point advantage.

GAME THIRTEEN

UVA-WISE:
THE CITADEL:
(Charleston, S.C.)

74

Citadel freshman Ashton Moore poured in a game-high 30 points as the Bulldogs snapped an eight-game losing streak with a 91-74 victory over UVA-Wise at McAlister Field House on Monday evening. Moore became the first Cadet to net 30 points in a contest since Cameron Wells accomplished the feat on Feb. 12, 2009 against Appalachian State. Teammate Mike Groselle further embedded himself in Citadel history with a 19-point, 13-rebound performance to tie Matt Newman and Craig Burgess for third place with 16 career double-doubles.

The Bulldogs had their fifth 50% shooting performance of the season, hitting 33-of-63 (52.4%) from the field. The Citadel found its shooting touch from beyond the arc, knocking down 7-of-16 (43.8%) attempts, paced by Moore's 3-of-4 performance. In total, four Cadets reached double figures, including Cosmo Morabbi, who set a new career-high with 17 points on 7-of-12 shooting. Backcourt teammate DeVontae Wright rounded out double-digit scorers with 13 points. The Dogs hit the third most free throws (18) in a game this season, while outmuscling UVA-Wise 37-24 on the glass. The victory moves The Citadel to 3-10 on the campaign.

Travis Berry led the way for UVA-Wise with 20 points, hitting 6-of-16 from the field and one 3-pointer in the process, as the Cavaliers managed to hit 27-of-53 (50.9%) from the floor. Josh Jordan (15 points) and Jermaine Wright (14 points) also posted solid outings, as UVA-Wise took advantage of 13 transition points to hang tough with the Dogs. Berry, who finished 7-of-8 from the free throw line, paced a Cavaliers unit that was successful on 16-of-24 (66.7%) attempts.

The Bulldogs came out strong to open the second period, scoring the first five points off shots from the tandem of Moore and Morabbi to go ahead 54-40 at the 18:06 mark. UVA-Wise quickly responded with a 14-2 run behind four points from Berry and an old fashioned three-point play by Darius Smith to trim the lead to 56-51.

The Citadel lead dwindled to as little as three, 58-55, before Morabbi jumpstarted the offense with a layup at the 13:13 mark. The Bulldogs went on a 13-3 run, behind four points each from Groselle and Moore, over the next 4:54 of the contest to move in front 71-58.

Leading 75-60, following a pair of made free throws by Wright, The Citadel took advantage of a technical foul by Smith to score five straight points and push their lead to a game-high 20 points, 80-60. Four points by Moore and three off the hand of Groselle, led the Dogs to their 581st home victory, 91-74, over UVA-Wise.

The Citadel took advantage of 18-of-31 (58.1%) shooting from the field, including 6-of-8 (75.0%) from 3-point range, to establish a 49-40 lead at the intermission. Moore led all scorers with 17 points, draining 5-of-6 from the field and all three 3-point attempts. Joining Moore in scoring were Morabbi and Groselle, who finished with nine and eight points respectively. The biggest difference for the Bulldogs in the first half was their 7-of-8 (87.5%) free throw shooting, which included perfect streaks by Moore (4-4) and Wright (2-2).

UVA-Wise closed the first half by hitting 16-of-32 (50%) from the floor, which included a pair of 3-pointers. Berry anchored the Cavaliers with 11 points, hitting 4-of-12 field goals to go along with three free throws. Maggard and Wright, who scored eight points apiece, rounded out the top scorers for the Cavaliers. UVA-Wise outscored The Citadel, 17-16 in the paint behind four offensive rebounds and 15 total rebounds.

Moore singlehandedly scored the first eight points of the contest, including a pair of 3-pointers, as the Dogs established an 8-7 lead at the 16:17 mark. UVA-Wise quickly answered with a jumper by Wright to lead for the fourth time of the game, before a 9-0 Citadel run highlighted by long range shots from Bray, Wright and Morabbi made for a 17-9 lead.

The Cavaliers capped off a 5-0 run with a breakaway dunk by Turner, slicing the Dogs lead to 17-14. UVA-Wise continued to claw its way back into the contest, pulling within 21-20 at the 11-minute mark on a jumper by Maggard.

The Citadel distanced themselves with a series of buckets by Moore, Groselle and Bo Holston to move in front 31-25 with 5:44 remaining in the opening frame.

Just over three minutes later, in the midst of a 13-9 run, Maggard buried a 3-pointer to pull the Cavaliers within two points, 40-38, of the lead. The Citadel answered with four points each from Groselle and Wright, along with a trey by Moore to close the half on a 9-2 run.

GAME FOURTEEN

THE CITADEL:
FURMAN:
(Greenville, S.C.)

77

The Citadel's Cosmo Morabbi scored a team-high 14 points, his third double-digit outing in the last four contests, but it was Furman that came away with a 77-45 victory in the Bulldogs third Southern Conference game of the season on Thursday evening. Joining Morabbi offensively were Mike Groselle, who finished with 10 points and eight rebounds, and DeVontae Wright, who chimed in with seven points.

The Citadel rebounded from a difficult shooting first half to hit 13-of-33 (39.4%) from the floor in the second half and 21-of-55 (38.2%) for the game. The Bulldogs biggest struggle came from beyond the arc, as they closed just 2-of-11 (18.2%) in the contest. Morabbi led the way by hitting 6-of-9 from the floor, while Groselle (5-9) and Wright (3-9) rounded out top performers. The Cadets posted 28 rebounds, including 13 on the offensive glass, behind four offensive rebounds each from Groselle and Ashton Moore. The Dogs slipped to 3-11 overall and 0-3 in conference play following the loss at Timmons Arena.

Furman responded with a 27-of-49 (55.1%) shooting performance, connecting on 13-of-29 (44.8%) from 3-point range, to secure their seventh victory of the season. The trio of Bobby Austin (17 points), Domonic Early (14 points) and Bryant Irwin (10 points) led the way for the Paladins offensively. Austin hit 6-of-9 from the field, including 5-of-6 from long range, while Early shot 5-of-11 and converted four treys. The biggest lift came from the Paladins bench, who outscored The Citadel 45-6, keyed by the play of Austin and Early. Brandon Sebrumbi and Colin Reddick anchored the post for Furman, finishing with five rebounds each. The Paladins finished with a slight edge (31-28) on the glass.

Trailing by 16 at the half, The Citadel scored the first 10 points of the second half to draw within 35-29 of the Paladins. The Dogs took advantage of solid defense along with four points by Morabbi and two each by Wright, Moore and Groselle to move within six points of Furman.

Furman broke a two minute scoring lull by both teams by going on a 19-8 run that included five 3-pointers, three off the hand of Early, to pull in front 57-37 with 6:49 remaining in the contest.

Bulldog freshman C.J. Bray took advantage of a pass by Wright to make a layup, putting the Furman lead under 20, but a quick 9-2 run by the Paladins made for a 66-41 score.

The Bulldogs got two points each from Moore and Groselle in the final 3:35 of the contest. Meanwhile, Furman answered with 11 points, including eight by Austin, to complete the 77-45 win.

The Citadel struggled from the field in the first half, hitting 8-of-22 (36.4%) from the floor, including 2-of-6 (33.3%) from beyond the arc. The tandem of Morabbi (8 points) and Bo Holston (6 points) led the Dogs in scoring, while Groselle anchored the post with five of the team's 12 total rebounds.

Furman countered with a 12-of-25 (48.0%) shooting performance in the first half, connecting on 5-of-15 (33.3%) from 3-point range. Offensively, Charlie Reddick's eight points led eight players in scoring, while Irwin added seven and Austin chipped in six points. Five Paladins had two rebounds each, as they held a slight 15-12 edge on the glass.

In a half of streaks, Furman established an early 10-0 lead, behind five points from Irwin, over the first 3:13 of the contest.

The Bulldogs ended the scoring drought with a Morabbi free throw that was quickly followed by a jumper by Groselle. Trailing by seven at the 15:53 mark of the half, Morabbi drained the first of two Citadel 3-pointers to cut the Paladins lead to 10-6.

Furman ended its scoring drought on a free throw by Colin Reddick before a layup by Holston cut the margin to three. The Citadel then capitalized on a 3-pointer by Wright and a layup by Morabbi to pull within 14-13 of the lead with 11:37 remaining.

Sebrumbi gave Furman some breathing room with a jumper at the 10:53 mark, sparking a 12-2 run that covered the next 3:51 of the half. In that run, the Paladins took advantage of three points each from Richard Brown and Charlie Reddick to stretch their lead to 26-15.

Holston halted the Bulldogs scoring drought with a layup on a pass by Moore at the 5:12 mark, making it a single-digit affair at 26-17. Furman closed the final 4:46 of the opening half on a 7-2 run, highlighted by 3-pointer by Bobby Austin, to take a 35-19 lead into the intermission.

(Charleston, S.C.)

ELON:
THE CITADEL:

55

(Charleston, S.C.)

The tandem of Mike Groselle and Cosmo Morabbi accounted for 45 points as The Citadel won their first Southern Conference game of the season, 73-62, over Samford on Saturday evening. Groselle scored 25 points to tie his career-high and by virtue of finishing 10-for-10 from the floor set a program record that was previously held by John Sutor and Ted Mosay for highest field goal percentage. Meanwhile, Morabbi established a new career-high, 20 points, to go along with six assists and four steals. It marks the third time in the last five games that Morabbi has topped double figures for the Dogs.

The Citadel knocked down 26-of-46 (56.5%) from the floor, including a 6-for-14 performance from beyond the arc. Groselle and Morabbi, who finished 6-of-12 from the field, including four 3-pointers, were joined by the likes of Ashton Moore (4-11) and DeVontae Wright (3-5). Wright was responsible for eight of the Dogs' 21 assists, establishing a career-high. Teammate C.J. Bray anchored the paint, outmuscling Samford for eight rebounds, including two on the offensive glass. Groselle pitched in seven rebounds as the Cadets had 28 as a team. The Citadel improves to 4-11 overall and 1-3 in SoCon play.

Samford was led offensively by the trio of Drew Windler (16 points), Will Cook (13 points) and Tyler Hood (10 points). Windler managed 6-of-15 from the floor, while Cook and Hood added five field goals apiece. The visiting Bulldogs finished 25-of-58 (43.1%) from the floor and 7-of-29 (24.1%) from 3-point range. However, Cook grabbed seven boards (three offensive), to lead nine Samford players in rebounding. That gave the Bulldogs a 38-28 edge on the glass, despite falling to 3-11 overall and 0-3 in SoCon action.

The Citadel opened the second half in similar fashion to the first, scoring five straight points to assume a 42-29 lead on a 3-pointer by Morabbi. The Cadets followed a long range shot by Windler with consecutive treys by Wright and Morabbi, along with a layup by Groselle, to spread their lead to 51-37.

Samford continued to apply pressure on the Dogs, taking advantage of layups by Hood and Matthew Friday to trim The Citadel lead to 51-41 with 13:16 remaining. Groselle and Morabbi combined for nine Citadel points over the next six minutes of the game to establish a game-high 17 point lead, 60-43.

Kaylin Johnson bounced back with a 3-pointer for Samford and following a long range shot by Jeffrey Merritt, Samford moved within 11 points of The Citadel at the 5:57 mark. Groselle and Morabbi again were the focal point of the Dogs' offense, converting a pair of free throws to keep the lead in double digits, 62-51.

Groselle scored five points and Wright added four points over the final four minutes of play as The Citadel completed the 73-62 victory.

Sparked by 11 points from Groselle and eight points from Morabbi, The Citadel hit 14-of-23 (60.9%) in the opening half and took a 36-29 lead into the break. It marked the first time that a Citadel team has shot better than 60-percent in a half since the Dogs shot 67.9% against Western Carolina on Jan. 22, 2011. Groselle closed the half by hitting a perfect 4-of-4 from the field, joined by Wright, who connected on a pair of field goal attempts. Morabbi was instrumental in the long range game, hitting 2-of-4, while the Cadets hit 3-for-8 as a unit. Morabbi's presence was also felt from the free throw line, hitting a pair of attempts and along with a perfect performance by Groselle (3-3). The Citadel finished 5-of-5 in the half. Bray anchored the middle for the Dogs, who closed with 12 rebounds (three offensive).

Samford faced constant pressure from The Citadel's tenacious defense and managed 12-of-29 (41.4%) from the floor. The biggest struggle came from 3-point range, as they managed just 2-of-12 (16.7%). Windler led all Samford scorers with 10 points, connecting on 4-of-9 from the field, while Hayman added eight points. Hood was one of eight Samford players with a rebound, finishing with four, as the Bulldogs closed with a 16-12 edge on the boards.

The Citadel took the opening tip and went on a 10-6 run over the first 3:02 of the game behind two Morabbi 3-pointers and a series of buckets by Groselle.

Samford answered with a brief 5-2 run behind buckets by Hood and Windler, pulling within one of the lead, before five straight points by the Moore gave the Cadets a 17-13 advantage. The Citadel run reached 11-1, following field goals Robertson and Marshall Harris III, pushing the lead to 23-13.

Samford stormed back with a brief 8-0 run behind six points from Windler, trimming the Cadet lead to two at the 6:31 mark. Back-to-back layups in the paint by Groselle and Bray pushed The Citadel lead back to six with just under five minutes in the half.

Leading 30-24 after an old-fashioned three-point play by Groselle, at the 3:32 mark, The Citadel scored six of the final 11 points of the half to take a seven-point advantage into the locker room.

Citadel junior Mike Groselle came through with his ninth double-double of the season, finishing with 17 points and 11 rebounds, but it was Elon that came away with the 70-55 Southern Conference victory on Thursday evening at McAlister Field House. Teammate C.J. Bray posted a career-high 10 points, joining Groselle as the only Bulldogs in double figures.

The Bulldogs struggled to find their offense throughout the game, converting 19-of-51 (37.3%) from the floor and 6-of-19 (31.6%) from beyond the arc. Groselle finished 7-of-14 from the field to go along with three free throws, both highs for The Citadel. Bray was also on the mark with a 4-for-5 performance from the field and finished as the only Cadet with multiple 3-pointers. The Dogs finished with 35 team rebounds, pulling down 10 on the offensive glass, led by Groselle's game-high 11 and a career-high nine from senior Cosmo Morabbi. The Citadel slipped to 4-12 overall and 1-4 in SoCon play.

Elon overcame a difficult shooting first half to finish 27-of-58 (46.6%) from the field. The Phoenix took advantage of nine 3-pointers, including three each by Drew Spradlin (3-6) and Sebastian Koch (3-5) to move to 8-7 overall and 3-1 in league action. Spradlin netted a game-high 21 points after hitting 6-of-13 from the floor to go along with a 6-of-7 outing from the free throw line. Teammate Lucas Troutman also reached double figures, scoring 10 points on 5-of-9 shooting. The Phoenix also closed with 35 rebounds, including seven each by Koch and Troutman. Meanwhile, guard Austin Hamilton established a new career-high with six assists.

Holding the Dogs scoreless for the first 3:04 of the second half, Elon took advantage of a Spradlin 3-pointer to make for a 42-23 advantage.

DeVontae Wright accounted for five of the next six Citadel points, making for a 44-29 affair, before a Groselle layup trimmed the Phoenix lead to 13 points with 13:59 remaining.

The two teams traded 3-pointers before a series of points by Spradlin and Jack Isenbarger bumped the Elon advantage to 52-34. The Citadel retaliated with a 3-pointer from Lawrence Miller and after points by Marshall Harris III and Groselle the Dogs were within 52-40 of the Phoenix.

A pair of dunks by Troutman allowed Elon to maintain its momentum, despite layups by Bray and Bo Holston. However, the Phoenix would allow the Cadets to pull no closer than 14 points as they closed out the 70-55 victory in front of 1,314 in attendance.

The Citadel's offense sputtered in the first half, hitting just 7-of-19 (36.8%) from the floor, including just two shots from long distance. Groselle led all scorers with nine points, hitting 3-of-4 from the floor, to go along with seven rebounds. The freshmen combination of Moore and Bray accounted for one 3-pointer each en route to scoring five points apiece. Morabbi, while not a factor offensively, was instrumental on the boards with six rebounds.

Elon faced constant pressure from The Citadel's defense, managing a 13-of-33 (39.4%) performance from the field. The Phoenix knocked down 5-of-14 from 3-point range, led by the tandem of Koch (2-3) and Ervin (2-3). Spradlin scored eight points to pace the Phoenix, while Ervin took advantage of the two long range shots to finish the half with six. Ervin anchored the post for Elon, responsible for five rebounds, as the Phoenix finished with a slight 19-18 edge on the glass.

Groselle opened scoring in the game with a layup on an assist from Bray, but Spradlin scored four of the next six Elon points to make for a 6-3 lead at the 17:30 mark.

Just over two minutes later Brett Ervin gave Elon a four-point lead on a 3-pointer from the corner, sparking a 9-4 run that stretched the lead to 15-9.

Bray responded with a 3-pointer for The Citadel, taking advantage of a pass from Harris III, as the Dogs made for a 17-14 score after a pair of Moore free throws.

Elon retaliated by scoring the next seven straight points, assuming a 24-14 advantage, following a Spradlin layup on a pass from Isenbarger at the 6:40 mark.

Trailing 27-17 after points by Wright and Groselle, Harris III found Moore for the final 3-pointer of half to trim the lead to seven. Elon closed the half on an 8-3 run, taking advantage of a pair of long range shots by Koch and Ervin to lead 35-23 at the intermission.

GAME SEVENTEEN

UNC GREENSBORO: THE CITADEL: (Charleston, S.C.)

67 66

In a game where the lead changed hands four times in the final 18 seconds as UNC Greensboro came away with a game-winning dunk by Trevis Simpson to down The Citadel, 67-66, in front of a shocked crowd at McAlister Field House.

Center Mike Groselle recorded his seventh career 20-point outing, finishing with 22 points and nine rebounds, both game-highs. Groselle finished 7-of-17 from the floor, but made a significant impact by hitting 8-of-9 from the free throw line.

The Spartans (4-14, 2-4 SoCon) answered with 19 points from Simpson and 13 by teammate Corey Van Dussen. Simpson shot 6-of-12 from the field and converted 6-of-7 from the free throw line. Meanwhile, Van Dussen was 4-of-7 from the floor and knocked down all five free throw attempts.

Simpson proved to be a nuisance early in the second half, scoring five of UNC's first seven points of the frame to provide a 39-38 lead on a series of free throws at the 17:16 mark.

The Citadel answered in their next possession when Wright found Moore at the right elbow for an open 3-pointer and the 41-39 lead. The Dogs lead reached four, on two occasions, before buckets by Armstrong and Van Dussen tied the game for the sixth time, 45-45.

UNC appeared to take command of the contest with a 12-3 run that took 4:23 off the clock, as Kyle Randall found Simpson for an uncontested 3-pointer and the 57-48 lead.

Behind a crowd of 1,026 in attendance, The Citadel began its rally with free throws by Bo Holston and Wright, which drew the Dogs within 57-51 of the lead. The combination of four straight points by Groselle and tough Citadel defense trimmed the lead to 59-55 with 3:14 remaining.

The Dogs followed a series of free throws by UNC's Aloysius Henry with a 3-pointer by Bray to make for a 61-58 Spartan lead with 2:24 on the clock.

Trailing 63-58, The Citadel again turned to Groselle for offense, who answered by laying up a Wright pass and drawing a foul from Brackett to make for a two-point game.

The Bulldogs defensive pressure forced a Simpson miss, which was answered on the offensive end by Wright, who made the front end of two free throw attempts.

After holding UNC scoreless, Wright found Groselle in the paint for a turnaround layup off the glass, making for a 64-63 Bulldog advantage with 18 seconds. Armstrong drove the lane for the Spartans, converting the layup with eight seconds remaining to regain the one-point lead.

Citadel Head Coach Chuck Driesell spent his final 30-second timeout to set up the play that led to Wright's jumper from the right elbow. UNC attempted a length of the court pass that was knocked out of bounds by Groselle with 0.5 seconds remaining. It was there that Parker found Simpson for the game-winning dunk and the 67-66 final.

The Citadel offense was clicking on all cylinders in the first half, taking advantage of six 3-pointers from six different players. The Bulldogs finished 12-of-27 (44.4%) from the floor and held a 36-32 lead as the two teams headed into the intermission. Groselle finished with scoring honors at the break, scoring 11 points, keyed by a 5-for-6 performance from the charity stripe. The biggest lift for the Dogs was the bench play of Harris (six points) and Miller (five points), each responsible for a 3-pointer. The Cadets were also active on the boards, posting 20 rebounds, six offensive, led by Groselle's six and four each from the tandem of Moore and Bray.

UNC Greensboro struggled with The Citadel defense throughout the opening frame, knocking down 10-of-26 (38.5%) from the floor. Williams lead the way for the Spartans with eight points, followed by seven from Van Dussen and five by Simpson. UNC took advantage of the six points on the fast break points and also held a slight 9-5 edge in points off turnovers. The Spartans generated 11 points from the free throw line, as Van Dussen was successful on all five attempts.

UNC sprinted out to a 7-1 run over the first 2:47 of the contest, capped off by a layup by Williams, before the Dogs answered with an 11-4 run of their own sparked by a 3-pointer by Bray. The Cadets followed a Groselle layup with a series of long range shots by Wright and Morabbi to assume their first lead of the contest, 12-11, at the 14:27 mark.

The two teams played to an 18-18 tie at the 10:39 mark, after points in the paint by Williams, which was quickly answered by a 3-pointer from Miller. Henry responded with a trey for UNC to deadlock the game at 21 all. Miller again came through in the clutch for the Dogs, providing a two-point advantage at the 6:30 mark.

After a climactic 23-23 tie, The Citadel made an 11-3 run which included two 3-pointers and six points off the hand of Harris III. Harris III teamed with Moore to account for the final six points of the run, giving the Dogs a 34-26 advantage with 2:41 left.

UNC Greensboro capped went into the intermission by scoring six of the final 10 points, highlighted by Van Dussen who converted four free throws.

GAME EIGHTEEN

THE CITADEL: DAVIDSON: (Davidson, N.C.)

51 80

Citadel center Mike Groselle topped the 20-point plateau for the third time in the last four games, scoring 22 points, but it was a hot shooting Davidson squad that came away victorious, 80-51, on Saturday night at John M. Belk Arena. Groselle was the bright spot in a tough night for the Bulldogs, hitting 7-of-10 from the floor and 8-for-11 from the free throw line, en route to his game-high 22 points.

Despite hitting 14-of-27 (51.9%) from the floor in the second half, The Citadel was unable to mount a comeback after falling behind by 31 points at the half. Groselle was joined in scoring by the trio of Bo Holston, Marshall Harris III and DeVontae Wright, who scored five points apiece. The Dogs (4-14, 1-6 SoCon) managed just 3-of-11 (27.3%) from 3-point range, as Holston, Harris III and Ashton Moore each converted one shot from beyond the arc. Groselle guided the way for the Cadets with five rebounds, pulling down four on the defensive end. The Bulldogs also combined for 18 points from reserves Harris III (5 pts.), Holston (5 pts.), Jordan Robertson (4 pts.) and Barry Smith (4 pts.).

The South Division leading Wildcats finished 31-of-58 (53.4%) from the floor, after hitting better than 50 percent for each half. Davidson took advantage of a 7-of-17 (41.2%) performance from 3-point range to improve to 14-4 overall and a perfect 8-0 in Southern Conference play. Jake Cohen scored a team-high 20 points, while De'Mon Brooks and JP Kuhlman added 15 and 11 points, respectively. In total 12 Wildcats scored two points or more in the contest. Brooks (9 rebs.) and teammate Tom Droney (8 rebs.) gave Davidson a 46-22 advantage on the boards, as the tandem combined for five offensive rebounds. They were also significant in a 38-20 edge in points in the paint.

The Wildcats improved on a 47-16 halftime lead by scoring five of the first seven points of the second half, including four from Cohen to lead 52-18 at the 16:43 mark.

The Citadel quickly answered with a 10-2 run, sparked by five points by Groselle and another three points by Morabbi, making for a 54-28 Davidson lead with 12:25 on the clock.

After a free throw by Brooks just 18 seconds later, Harris III buried his on 3-pointer of the game, drawing the Dogs within 24 points, 55-31, their closest margin of the half.

Davidson extended its lead behind five points from Brooks and three by Frank Ben-Eze as the Wildcats scored seven of the games next 12 points during a 3:23 stretch.

The Citadel scored 13 points in the final 6:45 of the half, starting with a series of jumpers by Wright that made for a 67-40 score. Smith added four points off the bench and despite three points by Groselle, the Dogs fell by an 80-51 final.

Davidson broke the huddle and converted 19-of-36 (52.8%) in the opening frame, including 6-of-12 (50%) from beyond the arc. The combination of Cohen (14 pts.) and Kuhlman (11 pts.) led seven Wildcats in scoring. Cohen hit 7-of-10 from the floor, while Kuhlman closed with a 4-of-5 outing, including a perfect 3-of-3 from 3-point range. Droney hauled in seven rebounds, two on the offensive glass, as Davidson controlled the boards 28-11 in the first half.

Meanwhile, The Citadel struggled to find any offensive rhythm, hitting 4-of-24 (16.7%) from the field and only one from long range. Groselle led the way for the Dogs with 10 points and three rebounds, while Moore and Jordan Robertson were the only remaining Citadel players with multiple points, scoring three and two points, respectively.

The Wildcats opened the contest with an 11-0 run, taking 3:26 off the clock, highlighted by five points from Cohen and four by Brooks. Groselle answered by putting The Citadel on the boards with a move in the post, drawing a foul by Brooks for the opportunity of a three-point play.

Leading 11-2, Davidson scored the next 19 unanswered points behind three 3-pointers from Kuhlman, Kalinoski and Brooks, to open a 30-2 lead at the 8:29 mark. Brooks was responsible for five of the Wildcats points during that span, while Cohen chipped in four.

Wright ended the Dogs scoring drought with a free throw at the eight minute mark before Groselle followed with a pair of free throws just over a minute later.

Trailing 34-5 at the 5:55 mark of the first half, The Citadel scored the next seven straight points, including a 3-pointer by Moore that put the Dogs into double figures.

Cochran and Cohen anchored a Davidson unit by combining for 10 of the final 13 points of the first half, as the Wildcats lead 47-16 at the intermission. Meanwhile, Groselle accounted for all four Citadel points in the final 3:46 of action.

GAME TWENTY-ONE

FURMAN:
THE CITADEL:
(Charleston, S.C.)

The Citadel's Mike Groselle scored a game-high 24 points to go along with 11 rebounds, marking his 19th career double-double, but it was Furman's late game heroics that allowed the Paladins to come through with a 67-58 victory at McAlister Field House on Saturday evening. Groselle moved into a second place tie with former Citadel standout J'Mel Everhart (19 career double-doubles) and moved within one of Patrick Elmore's record setting 12 single-season double-double mark that was set in 1989-90. Meanwhile, the Paladins were energized by the trio of Colin Reddick (12 points), Bobby Austin (11 points) and Brandon Sebirumbi (10 points). The game included a halftime ceremony for Jake Burrows (40), whose No. 3 jersey was honored placed in the rafters in honor of his contributions to the success of the Bulldogs Basketball program.

Groselle, who hit 10-of-12 from the field and 4-of-5 from the free throw line, was the catalyst to a Bulldog offensive unit that closed 20-of-46 (43.5%) from the field. Joining Groselle in scoring was Bo Holston and DeVontae Wright, who finished with nine and seven points respectively. The Dogs hit 15-of-19 (78.9%) from the free throw line for the second straight contest, marking the first time this season that they have come through with consecutive games of shooting better than 70 percent. Groselle manned the post for 11 rebounds, including three on the offensive glass, as the Dogs totaled 30 rebounds. The Citadel slips to 4-17 overall and 1-9 in the Southern Conference following the loss.

Furman edged out the victory behind a 26-of-56 (46.4%) shooting performance that included four 3-pointers. The tandem of Colin Reddick and Sebirumbi were responsible for a team-high five field goals each. The Paladins were successful in 11-of-16 (68.8%) attempts from the free throw line, anchored by Colin Reddick (4-4) and David Brown (2-2). Sebirumbi grabbed a team-high eight rebounds, including two on the offensive glass, giving Furman a 31-24 edge in points in the paint. With the victory, the Paladins improve to 11-10 overall and 5-5 in the conference.

A 3-pointer by Furman's Jordan Loyd opened second half scoring, giving the Paladins a 39-30 lead and despite points from brothers Colin and Charlie Reddick, Groselle scored the first six points of the second half for the Bulldogs to make for a 43-36 Paladin advantage at the 16:04 mark.

Holston followed just under a minute later with a pair of free throws to trim the lead to five, but treys from the Paladins Charlie Reddick and Austin pushed the score to 49-40.

The Citadel answered by scoring six of the next eight points, including a pair of free throws from Marshall Harris III, to make for a 51-46 Furman lead.

After a bucket by Sebirumbi pushed the lead back to seven, The Citadel seemingly turned the momentum with a defensive stop and a 3-pointer by Lawrence Miller to pull within 53-49 at the 8:45 mark.

The Bulldogs continued to sway the game in their favor with an acrobatic shot by Jordan Robertson and a 3-pointer by Wright which made for a 55-54 Furman lead with 6:34 remaining.

After Wright managed a second bucket to keep the Dogs within one, Austin scored three of the next five Furman points to stretch the lead to 62-56 with two minutes left.

Furman outscored The Citadel 5-2 down the stretch to complete the 67-62 victory and in the process win their fifth straight in the all-time series.

The Citadel took advantage of 14 points by Groselle, who closed the half hitting a perfect 5-of-5 from the field and 4-of-4 from the free throw line, to close within six of the Paladins at the intermission. Groselle was joined in scoring by Moore, who finished with five points, keyed by three free throws. The Dogs finished 10-of-19 (52.6%) from the floor and converted 9-of-12 from the charity stripe, marking their most first half free throws since they finished with 10 against Florida Christian (Nov. 21). The Citadel also posted 13 rebounds, highlighted by Groselle's six.

Colin Reddick's 10 points lead three Furman players in scoring, followed closely by Barnes (8 pts.) and Sebirumbi, who was responsible for six points and three rebounds. The Paladins managed 14-of-29 (48.3%) from the field, including a 3-pointer off the hand of David Brown. Furman finished with a 21-12 edge in points in the paint and took advantage of bench points from Barnes and Colin Reddick to outscore the Dogs 21-11.

Behind four points from Groselle, all from the free throw line, The Citadel established an early 6-2 lead just 1:16 into the frame. Behind defensive pressure on the ball and points from Bray and Groselle, the Cadets extended the lead to 10-5 just over two minutes later.

The Citadel maintained its three point lead following four straight points from Moore, before Furman drew within one, 14-13, following a jumper by Colin Reddick.

Groselle answered with an authoritative dunk on a pass from Moore as the Dogs bounced back in front 16-13 with 11:49 remaining in the half. That sparked a 9-2 run by the Cadets that included six points by Groselle and a 3-pointer off the hand of Lawrence Miller for a 24-17 Citadel advantage.

Consecutive scores by Barnes and Colin Reddick brought the Paladins within 24-21 of the lead before Groselle's fifth straight field goal gave the Bulldogs a 26-21 advantage.

Furman scored nine unanswered behind four points by Barnes and their lone 3-pointer of the opening half by Brown to assume the 30-26 lead with 2:57 on the clock.

Holston answered with the next three straight points for The Citadel and along with a free throw by Cosmo Morabbi the Dogs trailed 36-30 as both teams headed to the lockerroom.

GAME TWENTY-TWO

THE CITADEL:
UNC GREENSBORO:
(Greensboro, N.C.)

The combination of Citadel scorers Mike Groselle (20 pts.) and Lawrence Miller (15 pts.) led the way for the Bulldogs, who suffered a difficult 82-71 loss at UNC Greensboro in Southern Conference action on Thursday evening. Groselle posted his seventh 20-point game in conference play this season, hitting 7-of-15 from the floor to go along with eight rebounds. Miller countered with a 4-of-7 performance, draining 3-of-5 from 3-point range, en route to his fourth career double-digit outing. UNC was sparked by the play of Travis Simpson (23 pts.), Derrell Armstrong (14 pts.), Aloysius Henry (13 pts.) and Corey Van Dussen (11 pts.).

The Bulldogs hit 24-of-56 (42.9%) from the floor, including five from beyond the arc, to go along with an 18-of-25 (72%) performance from the free throw line. The Citadel was paced by the performances of Groselle (6-7), Marshall Harris III (5-9), Miller (4-5) and DeVontae Wright (3-4), from the charity stripe. Those five free throw conversions led Harris III to seven points. Teammate C.J. Bray chipped in seven points as well, while Greensboro native Jordan Robertson came off the bench to score four points. The combination of Groselle and Wright, who finished with eight and seven rebounds respectively, led the Cadets in the post. The Citadel slips to 4-18 overall and 1-10 in SoCon play, following the loss.

UNCG (9-14, 7-4) extended their winning streak to seven straight behind a 31-of-58 (53.4%) shooting performance. The Spartans managed 8-of-20 (40%) from beyond the arc, highlighted by three long range shots apiece from Simpson and Armstrong. Simpson capped off his 23-point showing by hitting 6-of-14 from the floor and 8-of-12 from the free throw line, while pulling down seven rebounds. Henry also made six fields, followed closely by Armstrong and Van Dussen, who had five field goals apiece. UNC Greensboro finished with a 35-28 advantage on the boards, allowing for a six point difference (32-26) in points in the paint.

Trailing by 39-29 at the intermission, the two teams traded baskets to open the second half, before a 3-pointer by Bray gave The Citadel momentum and sliced the advantage to 45-37.

Continuing to chip away at the UNCG lead, four points by Bo Holston drew the Dogs within four, 45-41.

UNCG retaliated with a 9-3 run, over the next 1:35 of the game, pulling in front 54-44, behind three points apiece from Henry, Van Dussen and Drew Parker.

The Cadets came within single digits on just two final occasions, the latter following a 3-pointer by Miller, over the remaining 11:21 of the contest.

Trailing 64-51, following a Simpson jumper, two teams were evenly matched as The Citadel slightly edged UNCG, 20-17 in scoring, over the final 10:37 of the contest. Groselle scored eight of the Bulldogs final 20 points, as they were unable to mount a comeback against the aggressive Spartans defense.

UNCG closed out the victory behind six Simpson free throws down the stretch to complete the 82-71 win.

Leading 64-51, following a jumper by Simpson, the two teams matched each other point differential between the two teams was just three points, 20-17, over the final 10:37 of the contest.

The Citadel closed the first half by hitting 10-of-22 (45.5%) from the field, which included a lone 3-pointer. Groselle led the way for the Bulldogs with 10 points, hitting 3-of-5 from the field and 4-of-5 free throw attempts. Teammate Lawrence Miller came off the bench to score seven points, hitting a 3-pointer in the process, and finished 4-of-5 from the line. The Dogs inside presence included three rebounds each from the combination of Groselle, Wright and Holston.

Meanwhile, UNC Greensboro hit on 16-of-31 (51.6%) attempts, taking advantage of 6-of-13 (46.2%) shooting from beyond the arc to head into the intermission with a 39-29 lead. The Spartans were led by the scoring tandem of Armstrong (14 pts.) and Simpson (11 pts.), while Aloysius Henry came off the bench to score six points and add three rebounds. Armstrong finished 5-of-8 from the floor and was a perfect 3-of-3 from beyond the arc. Simpson followed closely with a 4-of-9 performance from the floor, knocking down 3-of-6 3-point attempts.

UNCG took advantage of Simpson's long range 3-pointers to open an 11-4 lead within the first 2:16 of play.

The Dogs responded by putting together 6-2 run, coming from a variety of offensive sources that included Cosmo Morabbi, Groselle and Ashton Moore, to pull within 13-10 of the Spartans with 13:17 on the clock.

Continuing to apply pressure on the Spartans, Holston found Miller on the right elbow for a 3-pointer that trimmed the lead to 15-13. After a UNCG turnover Miller drew a foul from Armstrong, hitting all three free throws to make for a one-point Citadel advantage.

After regaining the lead, 20-18, on a layup by Groselle, The Citadel was outscored 9-0 over the next 2:34 as UNCG took advantage of an Armstrong 3-pointer to spark the run. The Cadets halted the scoreless streak with back-to-back buckets by Harris III and Groselle to move within three.

Leading 29-25 at the 5:09 mark of the opening frame, UNCG outscored the Dogs 10-2 to forge ahead 39-27 with under a minute to play. Armstrong scored eight of the Spartans points during that run, including a 3-pointer that made for the first double-digit lead of the contest.

The Citadel scored the final two points of the half, coming on a series of Groselle free throws, to make for a 10-point Spartan lead at the intermission.

GAME TWENTY-THREE

THE CITADEL: ELON:

(Elon, N.C.)

66
71

Lawrence Miller scored a team-high 15 points, keyed by five 3-pointers, and Mike Groselle added 14 points but it was Elon that emerged with the 71-66 victory in a tightly contested Southern Conference hardwoods battle on Saturday evening. Miller, who recorded back-to-back double figure games for the first time in his collegiate career, reached the milestone in his second career start. The Phoenix were led by the offensive efforts of Jack Isenbarger and Lucas Troutman, who finished with 34 and 14 points, respectively.

The energized Citadel lineup hit 24-of-54 (44.4%) from the floor, including six 3-pointers, while knocking down 12-of-19 (63.2%) from the free throw line. Groselle led the way by hitting 7-of-13 from the field, while Miller came through with a 5-for-10 outing, all coming from beyond the arc. Groselle also added eight rebounds, grabbing four on the offensive glass, while teammate Bo Holston was responsible for four. Marshall Harris III dished out a game-high four assists, joined by Jordan Robertson, Holston and Groselle, who finished with two each for the Cadets. The loss drops The Citadel to 4-19 overall and 1-11 in conference play.

Isenbarger, who finished 11-for-16 from the field and 5-of-8 from beyond the arc, paced an Elon lineup that was 25-of-57 (43.9%) in the contest. The Phoenix managed six 3-pointers and capitalized on a 15-of-21 (71.4%) performance from the free throw line to complete the five-point win. Troutman, the only remaining Elon player in double figures, scored 14 points and hauled in a team-high eight rebounds. The Phoenix controlled the low post by finishing with a 30-24 edge in points in the paint as well as an 11-8 advantage in second chance points. The back-to-back wins by Elon this weekend improves them to 12-10 overall and 7-4 in league action.

Trailing by one point at the break, Elon opened second half scoring with a 3-pointer by Isenbarger to take the lead 34-32 just 36 seconds into action. After Groselle answered with a 10-foot jumper for the Bulldogs, lying the game at 34-34, Elon rattled off the next five points to jump in front 39-34.

Clinging to a 44-40 lead, with The Citadel applying defensive pressure, Elon came through with three points by Ryley Beaumont and a jumper by Isenbarger to stretch the lead to nine.

Miller responded to the challenge with back-to-back 3-pointers for The Citadel, trimming the lead to four points in less than 30 seconds and following a jumper in the lane by Bray, the Dogs trailed 52-48 with 9:11 left.

Buckets by Isenbarger and Brett Ervin pushed Elon's lead back to nine, 57-48, before another Miller 3-pointer narrowed the gap to six. Just under a minute later, Holston glided past the Phoenix defense for an acrobatic layup to make for a 57-53 lead.

After Elon pushed the lead to 63-55, behind four points from Isenbarger, the Dogs turned the momentum of the game with their defensive efforts. Behind two turnovers and six straight points by Harris III, The Citadel was within 63-61 of the lead.

Elon closed out the game by hitting eight free throws in the final 1:11 of play, while limiting the Dogs to five points, including a DeVontae Wright 3-pointer, to complete the victory.

The Bulldogs introduced their eighth different starting lineup of the season including three freshmen, Robertson, Harris III and Miller, marking the first time that a trio of rookies started for the Dogs since Jan. 14, 2008, when Austin Dahn, Cameron Wells and Zach Urbanus cracked the lineup on the same date. The result was positive for the Cadets, who knocked down 11-of-21 (52.4%) field goal attempts, including 2-of-5 (40%) from beyond the arc. Groselle led seven players in scoring with eight points, followed by Miller and Moore who each contributed six. Miller accounted for both of the Bulldogs 3-pointers, hitting 2-of-3 in the opening frame.

Elon answered with a 13-of-35 (37.1%) performance from the floor in the opening half, paced by Isenbarger and Troutman, who hit five field goals each. The Phoenix struggled from long range, knocking down just 3-of-13 (23.1%) 3-point attempts, led by two from Isenbarger. Those two long range shots by Isenbarger gave him 14 points for the first half, while Troutman added 10 points and four rebounds. Elon capitalized on its post play by edging The Citadel 16-14, taking advantage of six second chance points in the process.

Behind a game opening 3-pointer by Miller and four straight points from Groselle, The Citadel established an early 7-2 advantage just 2:26 into the contest. Just over a minute later Miller drained his second 3-pointer to provide a seven-point cushion, 10-3, on a pass from Robertson.

After Elon cut the deficit to five, Holston placed his name in the scoreboard with a layup, stretching the advantage to 14-5 and quickly forcing a Phoenix timeout. Elon responded by scoring the next four straight points and after a Citadel breather the Dogs managed free throws from Robertson and Moore to assume a 20-11 lead with 12:03 remaining.

Troutman buried a jumper from the elbow, sparking an 11-2 Phoenix run that included consecutive 3-pointers by Isenbarger and Spradlin to tie the game at 22-22 with 7:34 on the clock.

The Dogs regained the lead on a jumper by Wright before a series of ties knotted the game at 28-28 with 4:16 remaining.

Isenbarger gave Elon a 29-28 lead before Moore hit his first field goal of the half at the 3:07 mark. The two teams endured a two minute scoring lull before Troutman gave the Phoenix a 31-30 lead with just over a minute to play. With time winding down, The Citadel answered with a layup by Moore to take a 32-31 lead into the locker room.

GAME TWENTY-FOUR

DAVIDSON:
THE CITADEL:

(Charleston, S.C.)

77
66

Citadel center Mike Groselle finished with 15 points and 11 rebounds, but visiting Davidson came away with the 77-66 Southern Conference victory on Thursday evening at McAlister Field House.

The double-double marks Groselle's 20th of his career, giving him sole possession of second place in Bulldogs history for the most career double-doubles, behind Regan Truesdale. Coincidentally Groselle tied Patrick Elmore's 22-year mark for most double-doubles in a single-season with 12.

The Citadel finished 25-of-64 (39.1%) from the floor in the contest, keyed by a 16-of-36 (44.4%) performance in the second half. The Bulldogs were led by the tandem of Bo Holston and Groselle, who each finished 5-of-8 from the floor. Groselle netted a team-high 15 points, while Holston chipped in 11. Teammate Ashton Moore provided a solid threat off the bench, scoring nine points on 4-of-12 shooting, including a 3-pointer. Groselle's posted a game-high 10 rebounds, pulling in three on the offensive glass, while Jordan Robertson added seven boards (four offensive). The contributions of Groselle, Robertson (six points) and P.J. Horgan (four points) equated to a 40-24 edge in points in the paint. Groselle also came through with a career-high six steals. The Dogs move to 4-20 overall and 1-12 in SoCon play following the loss.

Davidson led offensively by the trio of DeMon Brooks (24 points), JP Kuhlman (16 points) and Chris Czerapowicz (14 points). The Wildcats finished 24-of-52 (46.2%) from the floor as a unit, draining 9-of-21 (42.9%) from beyond the arc. Brooks led the team by hitting 8-of-9 from the field and knocked down 8-of-13 from the free throw line. Czerapowicz led the team by hitting 3-of-7 from 3-point range, while Brooks and Kuhlman were a perfect 2-of-2 from beyond the arc. Brooks' team-high nine rebounds anchored an inside game that finished with 44 total rebounds, including 16 on the offensive glass. The Wildcats won their fourth in a row and move to 19-5 overall and 13-1 in league action.

Working with a 17-point advantage at the half, Davidson scored six of the first 10 points of the second half to assume a 44-25 lead.

The Dogs turned on the defensive pressure and scored the next six straight points, all in the paint, to pull within 13 of the lead with 16:29 remaining.

After weathering a 7-0 run by the Cats, which included five points from Kuhlman, The Citadel bounced back to trim the lead to 54-38 behind an old fashioned three-point play by Groselle.

Davidson again managed to string together a series of points, this time piecing together an 8-2 run, highlighted by four points from Brooks to take its largest lead of the half, 62-40, with just under 11 minutes remaining.

Trailing 66-46 with 9:03 remaining in the contest, The Citadel began its offensive surge when DeVontae Wright found Holston on the left wing for an open 3-pointer. It was the first of seven straight points for Holston, as the Bulldogs went on a 10-1 run to pull within 67-59 of the lead.

Despite using the zone defense to limit Davidson offense, the Dogs allowed Czerapowicz to knock down a 3-pointer with 1:43 on the clock to push the lead back to double digits.

A pair of free throws by Wright made for a nine-point affair, however Davidson managed seven free throws down the stretch to complete the 77-66 victory.

The Citadel opened the game by hitting 9-of-28 (32.1%) from the floor, led by Robertson who knocked down 2-of-3 en route to four points. Moore and Bray each chimed in with 2-of-6 outings, leading the way with five points apiece, as the Dogs trailed 38-21 at the intermission. Robertson also manned the post with seven rebounds, hauling in four on the offensive glass, as the team finished the half with eight offensive rebounds. This led to a 12-10 advantage for the Cadets in points in the paint.

Davidson closed the half by hitting 13-of-31 (41.9%) from the field, including a 5-of-13 (38.5%) from beyond the arc. Czerapowicz (4-7) and Brooks (3-3) were the offensive juggernauts for the Wildcats with 11 and 12 points, respectively. Brooks capitalized on a 5-of-9 performance from the free throw line, while Czerapowicz took advantage of a pair of 3-pointers to lead the way for Davidson. Six Wildcats gathered at least one offensive rebound as they collected 11 as a unit, accounting for nine second chance points.

Neither team scored until the 15:57 mark when Cohen opened scoring with a jumper from just outside the lane. Groselle responded by drawing a foul from Cohen and split the lead in half.

Davidson rattled off the next nine unanswered points, assuming a 10-1 advantage at the 14:05 mark, before a layup by Morabbi ended the drought.

Cochran followed with a 3-pointer for the Wildcats and with 13:01 on the clock, Moore drained a 3-pointer on a pass from Groselle to make for the 13-6 score. Davidson responded by outscoring the Cadets 17-2 over the next five minutes of the contest, taking advantage of six points each by Czerapowicz and Brooks, to pull in front 30-8 with 4:42 left.

C.J. Bray broke through with a 3-pointer from the left wing and behind buckets from Marshall Harris III and Robertson down the stretch, The Citadel headed into the intermission trailing 38-21.

GAME TWENTY-FIVE

GEORGIA SOUTHERN:
THE CITADEL:
(Charleston, S.C.)

73
72
OT

Citadel freshman Ashton Moore scored a game-high 24 points and Jordan Robertson added a career-high 10 rebounds, but it was an Georgia Southern's Willie Powers that made the difference in the Eagles 73-72 overtime victory at McAlister Field House on Saturday evening.

Moore scored his 24 points by hitting 6-of-16 from the field, including a pair from 3-point range, and finished a perfect 10-for-10 from the free throw line. He became the first Bulldog, since Cameron Wells hit 11 against Wofford on Feb. 5, 2011, to convert 10 free throw attempts. Joining Moore with solid outings were Mike Groselle (10 pts.) and Marshall Harris III (9 pts.). Harris III narrowly missed the fourth double-digit performance of his career by hitting 3-of-7 from the floor to go along with three free throws. Groselle chimed in with a 4-of-6 performance and pulled down six rebounds. Robertson led the team with 10 rebounds, four on the offensive glass, to give the Dogs a 41-31 edge on the boards. That allowed the Cadets to finish with a 40-38 advantage in the paint and outscore the Eagles 18-11 in second chance points. The loss drops The Citadel to 4-21 overall and 1-13 in the Southern Conference.

Sophomore Eric Ferguson's 14 points led four Georgia Southern players in scoring. Also eclipsing the double figure plateau for the Eagles were Powers (13 pts.), Ben Drayton (13 pts.) and Cameron Baskerville (10 pts.). Ferguson hit a game-high seven field goals, with Powers and Drayton finishing with six apiece. Georgia Southern (13-12, 11-4) finished the game by hitting 32-of-65 (49.2%) from the floor, despite being limited to 3-of-14 (21.4%) by a tenacious Citadel defense. Sophomore Jelani Hewitt climbed the glass for a team-best nine rebounds, three coming on the offensive end. Powers proved to be the catalyst for Georgia Southern, dishing out six assists and forcing four steals.

Leading by six at the intermission, The Citadel opened second half with a layup by Jordan Robertson to make for a 39-31 advantage. Georgia Southern answered with a 10-2 run over the next 2:53 of the contest to pull even, 41-41, behind four points by Drayton.

After a series of ties, Moore put the Bulldogs back in front, 46-43, with an old fashioned three-point play. Just over a minute later Robertson pushed the lead to give, 50-45, on a bounce pass from Groselle.

Georgia Southern answered with an 11-6 run, behind seven points from Powers, to draw the game even at 56-56 with 9:19 in regulation.

The Eagles followed with back-to-back buckets from Tyrone Brown and Ferguson to take their first lead of the game since the opening bucket, moving in front 60-56. The lead eventually reached eight, 69-61, on a Hewitt 3-pointer with 5:10 left in the second half.

The Citadel used its zone defense to perfection, holding Georgia Southern scoreless for the remainder of the half, as Bo Holston led the game on a dunk with 14 seconds left to make for the 69-69 tie.

In the overtime session, the Bulldogs took the early lead, 70-69, on a free throw by C.J. Bray. Just over a minute later Moore hit a jumper to make for a three-point advantage, before consecutive scores by Powers put Georgia Southern in front by one.

A pair of defensive stops with under a minute to go, along with a player control foul on Ferguson, gave The Citadel one last opportunity to earn the victory. A jumper by Moore with three seconds remaining rimmed out and allowed the Eagles to complete the 73-72 win.

Moore and Robertson made the biggest impact on the first half for The Citadel, finishing with 12 points and nine rebounds, respectively. Moore came off the bench to hit 3-of-6 from the floor, including a pair of 3-pointers, as the Dogs had a 19-12 edge due to the reserves. Robertson led the way with nine total rebounds, pulling down four on the offensive glass, as the Cadets finished with a 24-16 edge on the glass. Harris III scored seven points on 2-of-5 shooting to lead all Citadel starters. The Bulldogs converted 11-of-30 (36.7%) from the floor in the opening frame and managed 13-of-16 (81.3%) from the charity stripe.

Georgia Southern opened the game by hitting 13-of-29 (44.8%) from the field, knocking down three attempts from beyond the arc. Drayton, who hit 4-of-5 from the field, including a long range 3-pointer, led the Eagles with nine points. Baskerville added six points in the post as Georgia Southern scored a collective 14 points in the paint.

After falling in an early 2-0 hole, The Citadel took advantage of three points each by Robertson and Harris III to move in front 8-2 at the 16:05 mark.

The lead eventually reached seven, following a series of free throws by Moore, as The Citadel moved in front 12-5 just over three minutes later.

After a Kameron Dunican jumper pulled Georgia Southern within 14-9 of the lead, Moore sent home a 3-pointer from the corner on a pass from Harris to stretch the advantage to eight.

Just over three minutes later, after a series of scores by DeVontae Wright and Groselle, Moore drained his second 3-pointer of the half to give the Dogs an 11-point lead.

Georgia Southern answered with a 12-4 run of its own, behind five points from Drayton and four from Ferguson, to pull within 28-25 of the lead with 4:08 remaining.

Three points by Wright and two each from the inside combination of Groselle and Robertson allowed The Citadel to maintain a six-point edge, before a layup by Brown pulled the Eagles with 35-31 with seven seconds remaining. Moore answered with a coast-to-coast score for The Citadel, sending both teams to the lockerroom with a 37-31 Bulldog lead.

GAME TWENTY-SIX

THE CITADEL:
WESTERN CAROLINA:
(Cullowhee, N.C.)

53

Mike Groselle notched a team-high 17 points to go along with 10 rebounds and Lawrence Miller added 14 points off the bench, but The Citadel was unable to match Western Carolina's offensive firepower, who emerged with a 70-53 victory at the Ramsey Center on Thursday evening.

Groselle's 13th double-double of the season breaks the previous single-season record held by Patrick Elmore, who finished with 12 in 1989-90 season. He also moves within one of Regan Truesdale's school record 22 career double-doubles. The Bulldogs (4-22, 1-14 SoCon) finished by hitting 19-of-50 (38.0%) from the field, including a 6-of-16 performance from 3-point range. While Groselle finished 6-of-9 from the field, Miller led the team by hitting 4-of-5 from beyond the arc. Also with solid outings for the Dogs were Jordan Robertson (six points), DeVontae Wright (five points) and Marshall Harris III (five points). That trio, along with Miller, gave the Cadets a 23-10 advantage in bench points.

Western Carolina was paced by Harouna Mutombo, who poured in 24 points, and Keaton Cole who finished with 15 points. Mutombo shot 9-of-17 from the field, converting one 3-pointer, while adding seven rebounds. Meanwhile, Cole was 5-of-13, all on long range, to go along with three steals. Teammate Tawaski King recorded a career-high 15 rebounds, snagging 12 on the defensive glass. In total, WCU managed 55 rebounds (28 offensive), making for a 22-6 edge in second chance points.

Entering the second half with a 13-point advantage, Western Carolina scored seven of the first 12 points to establish a 43-28 lead. Mutombo accounted for five of the seven points, including a jumper at the 17:41 mark.

Despite a series of points from Groselle, WCU took advantage of buckets by Trey Sumler and Kenneth Hall to push the lead to 18.

Four points from Groselle and a key transition 3-pointer by Wright, over a brief four minute stretch, brought The Citadel within 53-42 of the Catamounts with 11:10 remaining in the half.

However, WCU once again found its offensive rhythm by scoring nine of the game's next 14 points, to move in from 62-47. Sumler capped off the run with a 3-pointer from the corner on a pass from Mutombo.

The lead dipped under 15 points on only one other occasion over the final 5:41 of the contest, as Western Carolina earned its seventh victory at the Ramsey Center this season.

The Citadel struggled in the opening frame, hitting 7-of-25 (28%) from the floor, including just three from beyond the arc. Groselle led all Bulldogs in scoring, managing seven points on 2-of-4 from the floor knocking down all three free throw attempts. Teammate Lawrence Miller provided a lift off the bench with six points, draining a pair of 3-pointers, while Harris III finished with five. The key for The Citadel was free throws, as they hit 6-of-7 (85.7%) due to eight fouls by the Catamounts.

The tandem of Mutombo and Cole scored 12 points apiece to lead a Western Carolina lineup that hit 14-of-35 (40%) from the floor. Mutombo hit 4-of-8 from the floor and tied for a team-high four rebounds, while Cole recorded all 12 points by knocking down 4-of-9 from 3-point range. The Catamounts pulled down 23 total rebounds, including 10 on the offensive glass. The Cats took advantage of those 10 offensive rebounds by closing with a 9-3 edge in second chance points. WCU also forced 10 Citadel turnovers to finish with a 14-7 advantage in points off turnovers.

The scoring combination of Mutombo and Cole scored 11 of the first 13 points of the contest, as Western Carolina opened a 13-2 lead at the 16:39 mark.

Groselle quickly answered for the Dogs and after a missed jumper on the defensive end, Miller converted a DeVontae Wright pass to pull The Citadel within 13-7 of the lead. Just over a minute later Cosmo Morabbi found Miller at the top of the key for a second Bulldog 3-pointer, trimming the Catamount advantage to three.

Western Carolina took advantage of scores by four different players to put together an 8-3 run over the next 5:22 of the frame. Among the scores included a breakaway dunk by Brandon Boggs, as the Catamounts built a 21-13 lead with just under eight minutes remaining.

The Citadel turned to its inside game, resulting in points from Holston and Groselle and putting themselves within nine, 25-16.

Five straight points by Western Carolina, all off the hand of Mutombo, made for a score of 30-16 with 3:24 remaining. Harris III answered the challenge by scoring five of The Citadel's final seven points of the half, including a long range 3-pointer, as the Cadets trailed 36-23 at the intermission.
