Finley Stadium Davenport Field

In 1997, the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga football program said goodbye to historic Chamberlain Field and ushered in a new era for both the University and the city. On Oct. 18, 1997, the Mocs opened up their new home, Finley Stadium Davenport Field, as an overflow crowd of 22,646 watched UTC defeat Tennessee State 28-7.

The 20,668-seat state-of-the-art facility is the best of its kind among Division I-AA stadiums and is the crown jewel for the city's Southside revitalization project.

A stadium project for UTC and Chattanooga had been talked about by city leaders for quite some time before the dream came to fruition. Chamberlain Field on the UTC campus, which opened in 1908, had the distinction of being the second-oldest on-campus stadium in the nation. Officials agreed that something needed to be done. A facility was needed to take the UTC football program to a higher level and to elevate the city's status to a full-service, mid-sized city.

The $28.5 million project needed financial support to become a reality and got plenty of it. Donations from the private sector ranged anywhere from a 10 dollar bill to $1 million. In fact, nearly 40 percent, or $10.2 million of the project, came from private donations. The City of Chattanooga and Hamilton County contributed $13 million, the State of Tennessee gave $3.5 million and the University donated $2.9 million.

Ground breaking on the site that was once the Rock Tenn plant was held March 7, 1996. Seven months later, the Stadium Corporation named the facility Finley Stadium Davenport Field.

The late W. Max Finley, former Chairman of the Rock Tenn Corporation, dedicated his life to public service and was an active supporter of the University of Tennessee system. He received both the University of Chattanooga Distinguished Alumni Award and the Outstanding Service Award of the UTC Alumni Council. He was also inducted into the University's Hall of Fame.

The playing field is named in honor of the late Gordon Lee Davenport. The President and CEO of the Krystal Company from 1975-85 served as Chairman of the Stadium Corporation and Campaign and worked endlessly and tirelessly in the planning and actual development of the facility. Davenport, a longtime friend of UTC athletics and particularly Mocs football, received the UTC Alumni Council Outstanding Service Award and is a member of the University's Hall of Fame.

Davenport attended the stadium's grand opening, participated in the opening ceremonies and was presented a game ball from UTC Head Coach Buddy Green following the Mocs' victory over Tennessee State.

Bronze busts of both Finley and Davenport adorn the main entryway to the stadium.

The Stadium Corporation left nothing out of its masterpiece. The facility, designed by Derthick, Henley & Wilkerson and built by C&I Specialty, both of Chattanooga, contains 32 luxury sky boxes and 3,465 preferred seats with chairbacks. The $350,000 scoreboard includes a giant matrix screen, and the Stadium Club can hold 250 for pregame or postgame functions. The natural grass playing surface cost $600,000 to install. The press box can hold 60 media representatives, has three radio booths and a television broadcast booth. Identical home and visitors locker rooms contain a separate training area and coaches' locker room, as well as an extensive player locker area.

Adjacent to the stadium is the Cricket Pavilion. The old Ross-Meehan Foundry has been renovated into an open-air pavilion which has become a favorite for tailgaters, complete with food and beverage concessions and a children's area. The pavilion offers tailgaters a perfect atmosphere around the stadium while providing protection from the weather without being indoors.

Besides serving as the home of Mocs Football, Finley Stadium Davenport Field has served as the host of the NCAA Division I-AA National Football Championship since 1977 and has secured the game for at least two more years. It is also host to UTC, international and high school soccer, high school football, national lacrosse tournaments, concerts and other community festivals.

Finley Stadium's locker rooms are as functional and spacious as any in the nation.

2003 NCAA Division I-AA Football Championship Game

The National Collegiate Division I-AA Football Championship is under the control, direction and supervision of the eight-member NCAA Division I-AA Football Committee elected by the NCAA membership.

Committee members for this fiscal year are E.W. Dennison, Director of Athletics, Murray State University; John Hardt, Director of Athletics, Bucknell University; Wayne Hogan, Director of Athletics, University of Montana; Roachel Laney, Director of Athletics, Appalachian State University; Jim Miller, Director of Athletics, University of Richmond; Lynn Thompson, Director of Athletics, Bethune-Cookman College; Perk Weisenburger, Director of Athletics, Illinois State University; and Bobby Williams, Director of Athletics, Sam Houston State University. Dennis Poppe, NCAA Director of Championships, works closely with the committee in the administration of the championship and related matters.

Selection of teams and conduct of championship competition are the responsibility of the committee. The Division I-AA Football Championship provides for a field of 16 teams with eight first-round games played on the campuses of competing institutions.

The champions of eight conferences — Atlantic 10, Big Sky, Gateway Collegiate Athletic, Mid-Eastern Athletic, Ohio Valley, Patriot, Southern, Southland — are granted automatic qualification. The committee selects the remaining teams at large with assistance from four regional advisory committees.

Teams are selected for the championship on the basis of the following criteria (not in preferential order): (1) eligibility of student-athletes for NCAA postseason competition, (2) won-lost record and (3) strength of schedule.

The committee is responsible for all pairings and seedings. The top half of the bracket has the Nos. 1- and 4-seeded teams and the lower half has the Nos. 2- and 3-seeded teams. Teams are placed in the appropriate region according to the seeding of the top four teams.

The 2003 NCAA Division I-AA Football Championship game will be played Friday, Dec. 19, at Finley Stadium Davenport Field, Chattanooga, Tenn. The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga will host the event for the seventh consecutive year.

Western Kentucky defeated McNeese State 34-14 in last year's title game.

2003 Mocs Football Notebook

Allison UTC's 21st Head Coach

Rodney Allison takes over the head coaching duties this season and will be the 21st head football coach in UTC history. Allison, in his first head coaching position, spent the last four seasons as an assistant coach at Clemson under head coach Tommy Bowden. Allison was brought in by Athletics Director Steve Sloan, who coached Allison at Texas Tech when Allison was a quarterback for the Red Raiders. Allison replaces Donnie Kirkpatrick who coached the Mocs from 2000-2002.

Elon Replaces VMI in Southern Conference

Elon replaces VMI as a member of the Southern Conference this season. VMI has switched leagues to the Big South Conference, while Elon moves from the Big South to the SoCon. The Phoenix, out of Elon, N.C., host UTC Oct. 18 in the first meeting between the two schools.

UTC to Play 12 Games for Second Straight Season

UTC will play a 12-game regular-season schedule this season for the second consecutive year. Because of the way Saturdays fall on the calendar this year, the NCAA is allowing schools to play a 12-game schedule, as it did in 2002. In 1984, the only time UTC advanced to the I-AA playoffs, the Mocs played a 10-game regular-season slate before being eliminated by Arkansas State in the 11th game. UTC will play non-conference games against Samford, Vanderbilt, Tennessee Tech and Gardner-Webb before beginning its eight-game Southern Conference slate.

Jacksonville State, Western Kentucky Added to Future Schedules

The Mocs have added regional foes Jacksonville State and Western Kentucky to future schedules. The UTC-Jacksonville State series picks back up next season on Sept. 11 as the Gamecocks travel to Chattanooga to begin a four-game home-and-home deal. The Mocs and the Gamecocks have met 28 times since 1924 with the last meeting coming in 1983. Western Kentucky, the 2002 Division I-AA National Champion, will return to the site of its championship triumph on Sept. 17, 2005, to kick off a four-game series. The game will mark the 12th meeting between the two programs and first meeting since 1991.

Ikwuezunma Returns After Long Layoff

Sophomore receiver Kwento Ikwuezunma returns to the action this season after missing nearly one and one half years of football. Ikwuezunma suffered a severe fracture of his right leg in a 2001 game against The Citadel. Doctors called it one of the worst fractures they had ever seen. The Cartersville, Ga., native went through reconstruction and rehabilitation and was not able to play or practice last season. He was back on the field this spring and impressed trainers, coaches and teammates alike with his apparent recovery. One of the top freshman in the Southern Conference in 2001, he will rejoin the Mocs' receiver corps this season.

Cain, McCann Sign Free Agent Deals

Former linebacker Josh Cain and quarterback Ryan McCann both signed NFL free agent contracts in April. Cain signed with the Chicago Bears and McCann with the Cincinnati Bengals. Cain, a two-time All-America and All-SoCon performer, set the school's single-season record in 2002 with 192 tackles. He finished his career with 511, the second-best total in school history. McCann was with the Mocs for just one season after transferring to UTC from UCLA for his senior year. He threw for 1,173 yards in 2002 and was one of the conference leaders in total offense. McCann was cut from the Bengals' roster after a May mini-camp.

Mocs Celebrate a Century of Football in 2003

The 2003 season marks the 100th year of football for UTC. The school will hold a season-long celebration commemorating its century of football. The celebration will include an All-Century Team, a gala on Sept. 12, and many other commemorative items and events throughout the season. The school will also employ a specially-designed logo for the occasion. The Mocs' intercollegiate football program began in 1904.

Mocs Travel to Vanderbilt Sept. 6

UTC renews its rivalry with in-state foe Vanderbilt Sept. 6 in Nashville, Tenn. The game will mark the 19th in the series and first since 1985. UTC's only victory over the Commodores came on Nov. 10, 1945, in Nashville, a 13-6 win. Vanderbilt claimed the last meeting, 7-0 in 1985 in Nashville. The Commodores are coached by former Furman head coach Bobby Johnson who led the Southeastern Conference school to a 2-10 record in his first season in 2002.

Owens Tries Hands at Movie, Book

NFL All-Pro receiver and former UTC star Terrell Owens will soon appear on the silver screen and be on bookstore shelves. Owens has secured a good-sized role in an upcoming movie and has a book set for release this fall.

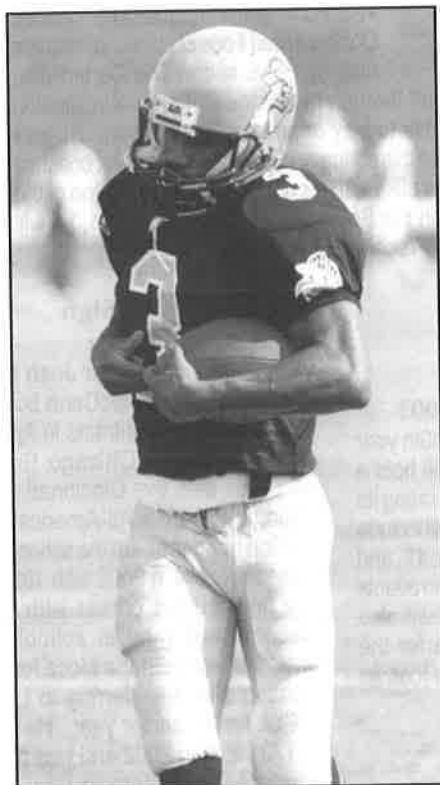

Owens spent part of the spring and summer filming for the feature film, "The Playmaker." Owens will portray a pro football team's hot-shot receiver named Omar Odell. The film stars Boris Kodjoe as the gifted athlete, T.K. Marsalis. Others scheduled to appear in the film include Omar Gooding, Michael Jai White, Jason Taylor of the Miami Dolphins and NFL Hall of Famer Jim Brown. In other news, Owens has paired with writer Richard Weiner to pen the upcoming book "Catch This!: Going Deep With the NFL's Sharpie-est Weapon." The book is scheduled for an October release.

Two southern football legends have, in a way, combined forces in an attempt to resurrect a Chattanooga football program that has earned just one spot in the NCAA Division I-AA Playoffs and has had but one winning season in the last 11 years.

Athletics Director Steve Sloan was brought on board in April of 2002. A former All-America quarterback at Alabama who was a backup to Joe Namath and was backed up by Ken Stabler, Sloan went on to a successful coaching career in the college ranks. One of his prize recruits at Texas Tech was Rodney Allison. Allison was a Heisman Trophy candidate and the Southwest Conference Most Valuable Player in 1976 as the Red Raiders' quarterback.

Most recently, Allison was the defensive ends coach at Clemson for the last four years.

Mocs boosters and followers hope the Sloan-Allison relationship pays quick dividends again. Sloan hired Allison Dec. 6, 2002, to reconstruct the UTC program. In his eyes, there was no better choice for the position.

"Rodney was what they called a sudden player in Texas," Sloan said of his former quarterback. "When he had the ball, his team was suddenly ahead. He helped me look good as a coach. He is every bit as good a coach as he was a player."

Now in his first head coaching job, Allison was attracted to the UTC position for several reasons, the utmost one being Sloan.

"I have been an assistant coach for a long time," Allison said. "There is a certain mystique out there about why this program hasn't been successful. I am still trying to figure that one out. It should be a job where you can compete year in and year out. What made the job most attractive is Steve Sloan as the athletics director. I feel very strongly about his philosophy, and I know we share a common goal."

Allison admits the job he is undertaking will be challenging. The Mocs lost nine straight games last year to open the season before winning two of the last three and finish 2-10.

"I've been on the defensive side of the ball for the last four years. I have learned a lot of things by being a defensive coach. We will not be successful here at UTC until we can run the ball."

— Head Coach Rodney Allison

While the squad will be without the services of All-America linebacker Josh Cain and quarterback Ryan McCann, Allison does have some talent with which to work. Senior receiver Jason Jones led the Southern Conference in touchdown catches in 2002 with 10 and was a Second-Team All-SoCon selection. Jones joined center Chris Cook and place kicker Patrick Shutters on an All-Southeast Region Team. Utility player Jeremy Grier led the league in all-purpose yardage and was fourth in the SoCon in receptions.

Mario Hain

The quarterback position will be a question mark this season. McCann was a kind of one-hit wonder for the Mocs. He transferred to UTC from UCLA for his senior season and won the starting job at quarterback. In the old regime's Air Raid offense, McCann stood second in the conference in passing yards and ranked 30th nationally with 210 yards per game.

When McCann went down with a shoulder injury early in the season, Justin Barnes took over the controls. Barnes, a senior, has seen various degrees of action over the last two seasons. Last season, Barnes completed 53.2 percent of his pass attempts (50-for-93) with four touchdowns and three interceptions. Unfortunately, the sure incumbent at signal caller will serve as a student assistant this season because an injury has pulled him from the field.

Sophomore Kurtis Koester and freshman Matthew Lopez, both of whom redshirted last season, will battle for the first-string quarterback job. Lopez was named the starter following spring drills.

"We are OK right now at quarterback," Allison said. "I feel that we have two or three players who can be effective in our offense. We will be as good on offense as what our quarterbacks are capable of doing."

After three years of the Air Raid produced 10 victories, Allison and his staff plan on installing a more basic offensive system.

"Our offense will be very multiple," he said. "I've been on the defensive side of the ball for the last four years. I have learned a lot of things by being a defensive coach. We will not be successful here at UTC until we can run the ball. We are going to mix it up somewhat. We will run some option, and we will pass it a little bit."

With the offense now centered more on the running game, the running back position will be more of a premium. That spot, however, took a blow when last year's leading ground-gainer, Jason Ball, and promising sophomore Patrick Flanagan, decided not to return to the squad this season. In 2002, Ball, who was coming off a serious knee injury from the previous year, ran for 516 yards and three touchdowns on 150 carries.

Jeremy Grier

The focus now falls on junior college transfer Mario Hain, who averaged 4.3 yards per carry with 373 yards on 87 rushes as a junior last year. Flanagan, who received his share of action in the backfield as a true freshman last year and was the team's third-leading rusher, decided to leave the team to concentrate on a future in medical school.

The aforementioned Jones was switched from receiver to running back this spring to shore up that position. Allison, who said he needs a playmaker in the backfield, hopes Jones can translate his pass-catching success into touchdowns of the running variety. Jones, who played running back as a freshman, has 58 career carries for 196 yards. Jessie Chesterfield, a senior with limited experience, should also be in the rotation. The Mocs may also have to rely on several newcomers for depth at running back.

The offensive line will be under the microscope because of the increased emphasis on the running game. The line took some hits with the graduation of all-conference guard Heath Adams and giant tackle Aaron Deal. The returnees, however, form a sturdy line anchored by senior center Chris Cook, who, the staff feels, is the top center in the conference. Cook, a block-like 6-foot-1, 298 pounds, owns the squad's best squat and bench press statistics.

A question mark surrounds senior tackle James Clark (6-3, 256). A Preseason All-America honoree in 2002, Clark missed the final six games because of a rare internal illness.

Although his weight and strength have dropped off a bit, he has been cleared to play and should be solid at his old tackle spot.

Sophomore Josh Shinpaugh (6-5, 280), one of the best freshmen in the league last year, will line up opposite Clark at the other tackle.

Senior Zach Davis (6-2, 284) is slated to start at a guard position for the second straight year.

Stepping in for Adams will be either sophomore Josh Goodin

(6-2, 282), sophomore Josh Morris (6-4, 276) or senior Theo Harris (6-4, 319), a converted defensive lineman.

"Depth-wise, I am not sure about our line," Allison said. "Our first five or six are good enough to win. We have had to spend a lot of time on the running game with them. By the time the season begins, I would like to have two solid lines."

Patrick Shutters

The Mocs signed six offensive linemen this winter, and each one tips the scales at 290 pounds or more.

UTC has produced seven All-SoCon receivers in the last nine years, beginning with Terrell Owens in 1995.

The top two pass-catchers from last year's squad return. Senior Jason Jones and junior Jeremy Grier ranked third and fourth respectively in the SoCon in catches with 57 and 46 respectively and ranked fourth and eighth respectively in receiving yards per game (67.9 and 52.1). Jones, who, as stated earlier, was moved to running back in the spring, led the league in touchdown catches with 10.

Jason Jones

With the move, Grier is now the leader of the young receiver corps. Junior Ebrahim Tehrani returns after a surprising sophomore season with the Mocs. Tehrani ranked sixth on the team with 13 catches and 168 yards and showed tremendous speed on a 63-yard scoring play at Western Carolina.

Sure-handed redshirt freshman Matt Hale will compete for playing time, and sophomore Kwento Ikwuezunma returns after missing a year with a severe ankle injury. Ikwuezunma was one of the top freshmen in the conference in 2001 before suffering an ankle injury so terrible it kept him from playing last season. He caught 22 passes for 222 yards as a freshman and scored a touchdown on a punt return.

Recent signee Alonzo Nix, a junior college transfer, enrolled at UTC in January and has been competing in spring drills. He was one of the nation's top junior college receivers last year at Jones Junior College in Mississippi and will likely vie for immediate playing time.

Allison says his offense will include the tight end in passing situations. But his tight ends must excel at run blocking. Junior Barrett Brightwell has the talent and the body to be one of the best at his position in the league. He caught 18 passes for 186 yards in a reserve role last season. Still, Allison sees room for improvement.

"Barrett Brightwell has to learn how to run block," Allison said. "He has to work hard and show us that he has improved in that area. He is a big target and has good hands. He will get some throws this year."

Chris Cook

Sophomore Brian Arnold will also compete for time at the tight end position. Redshirt freshman Michael Saporito, a converted quarterback, has also been working with the tight ends.

Defensively, UTC will employ a 4-2-5 scheme with a third linebacker dropping off on the edges or wings. The line will move around and give multiple looks, and the secondary will disguise coverages while playing zone or man-to-man.

The defense will miss the nation's leading tackler from 2002, linebacker Josh Cain. Cain registered 192 total stops on the season, 120 more than his nearest teammate. Senior linebacker Blake Kirkland is the Mocs' top returning tackler. He finished third on the team with 64 total hits and recorded seven tackles for loss and two forced fumbles. Kirkland heads a linebacking crew which includes part-time starters Jason Jackson and Bernard Snowden, both seniors. Jackson collected 51 tackles last season, and Snowden had 49.

Allison likes his senior linebacker trio and feels that the threesome's performance will be the key to the success of the defense

"They are all down-hill players and have pretty sound linebacker-type bodies," he said. "These three stand out. We need them to be around the ball on every play."

The defensive line has a mixture of experience and youth. Leonard Mays, a senior, has seen the most extensive action and has played tackle and end through the years. He made 16 stops last year and had three pass deflections from his end position.

Junior Tim Powers made five starts at nose last year before missing the rest of the year with an injury. In his limited action, he had 19 stops with five for negative yardage. Troy Blackwell turned into a force as a redshirt freshman last year. The 6-7 end notched 22 tackles with 14 solos and two for negative yardage. Using his remarkable wing-span, Blackwell also blocked two kick attempts.

Jason Jackson

Junior Chivas Newell and sophomore Renaldo Jackson have the potential to make a splash this season at tackle. Newell sat out last season after transferring from Georgia Military College. Jackson, who started slowly after a car accident the previous summer, finished with 17 tackles.

"I am pleased with the line, but they are not big enough," Allison said. "We have four or five good ones out there. They have been told they are under pressure to produce. They have been inconsistent. Troy Blackwell is a very imposing presence on the edge. He has a chance to help us. Tim Powers is a fighter. He is undersized, but he just gets the job done on the line. He has the right attitude to play on the line. Renaldo Jackson has really grown up and has a chance to be a really good player."

The secondary was a trouble spot last season. While all defensive passing problems cannot be blamed on this area, the Mocs did give up 23 touchdowns through the air in 2002, one more than their own Air Raid offense scored.

The Mocs are not without experience in the backfield. Senior Greg Knight appealed and was granted an extra year of eligibility after missing his freshman year because of academic issues. The versatile Knight has played both corner and safety spots. He led the squad with two interceptions last season and ranked seventh with 50 tackles.

Junior Quentin Harris is the second-leading returning tackler after collecting 61 stops with three pass deflections in 2002.

"Greg Knight has played here for some time, and Quentin Harris has experience at safety," Allison said. "You can tell which ones have been here. They have played in games, and they have maturity and leadership."

Redshirt freshman Tyrone Baisden has also caught Allison's eye in the secondary. Ryan Andrews, a sophomore who was injured during spring drills, made 18 stops with one breakup during his first year. Junior college transfer Randy Craft, who enrolled at UTC in January, has been impressive in spring drills and should nail down a starting job.

Quentin Harris

Freshman William High, redshirt freshman Stephen Allison and sophomore James Hawkins could also line up in the defensive backfield.

The strongest part of special teams is kicker Patrick Shutters. The senior, an All-Southeast Region performer last season, made his first six field goal attempts last year and finished 8-for-10. He missed only one extra point try. Shutters will also handle kickoffs. Last year's punter, senior Travis Grubb, finished with the third-best career punting average at UTC. Allison's staff beat out some major college programs for the services of prep punting star Jonathan Wright. Allison says the job is likely Wright's to lose with Shutters serving as the backup, if needed.

Replacements will be needed at long snapper and holder. Aaron Deal, who snapped for the last two years, has a chance to play professionally at that position. Several speedy candidates will audition for punt and kickoff returns.

Sloan's theory on scheduling is to try to re-develop some regional and intrastate rivalries. The Mocs have Samford back on the schedule and open up with the Bulldogs Aug. 28 on a Thursday night. Trips to Vanderbilt and Gardner-Webb sandwich a home date with neighboring Tennessee Tech. The SoCon schedule brings Wofford, Western Carolina, The Citadel and Furman to Finley Stadium, while the Mocs must visit Georgia Southern, new-member Elon, Appalachian State and East Tennessee State.

"I have a lot of respect for the Southern Conference," Allison said. "I have never coached in it, but I am looking forward to it. Our league is almost like a little version of the ACC or the SEC. It is a high-caliber conference.

"Our non-conference schedule is good for us. Coach Sloan is doing the right things with our schedule. He is trying to create some rivalries, and it is going to be good for both schools involved."

As Chattanooga's fifth head coach in the last 12 seasons, Allison realizes the task of turning around the Mocs program is not an easy one. While he sees the need for immediate patience, he also has an agenda for he and his staff to work as hard as possible to take the program to a championship level.

CENTURY MOMENTS

Sept. 19, 1952 UC defeats Georgetown 86-0 in Chattanooga. This record still stands as the school's largest margin of victory versus an opponent.

Oct. 30, 1953 UC defeats Louisville 44-6 in Chattanooga and holds future NFL Hall of Fame quarterback Johnny Unitas without a pass completion.

Nov. 8, 1958 UC posts perhaps its biggest win in school history with a 14-6 victory over Tennessee in Knoxville.

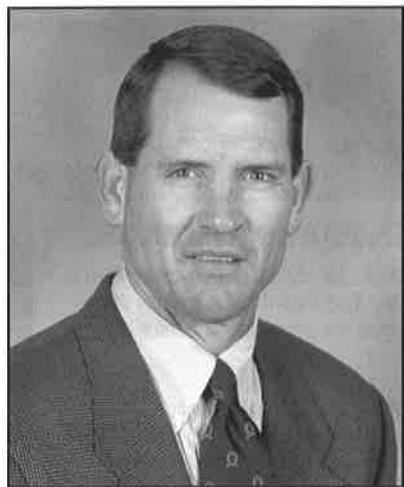

RODNEY ALLISON

HEAD COACH, FIRST YEAR

Texas Tech, 1980

Coaching bloodlines run deep. When University of Tennessee at Chattanooga athletics director Steve Sloan sought a new head football coach for the Mocs following the 2002 season, the Rolodex in his mind stopped quickly on the name Rodney Allison.

Allison was a star quarterback for Sloan's Texas Tech football squad in the mid-1970s. Sloan once hired Allison to join his coaching staff at Duke, and the teaching and leadership attributes that attracted him back then were once again the drawing cards for this hire.

The mutual admiration is evident in the fact that Allison's first-born child is named Sloan.

Sloan lured Allison to Chattanooga from Clemson to take his first head-coaching job. Allison spent the last four seasons as the defensive ends coach for head coach Tommy Bowden and the Tigers. Clemson went 7-6 overall in 2002 including a berth in the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla.

Allison's impact on the Clemson defense was evident. His defensive ends helped the Tigers record nearly 100 sacks over the last three years. In 2002, the Tigers ranked 38th nationally in total defense and 50th in scoring defense. They ranked 18th in rushing defense in 2001.

Allison brings more than two decades of football coaching experience to the Mocs program. Other than his stints at Texas Tech, Duke and Clemson, he also enjoyed coaching success at Auburn and Southern Mississippi.

He worked on Terry Bowden's Auburn staff from 1993-98, serving as running backs coach, special teams coach and offensive coordinator in different years. Allison and the Tigers forged a perfect 11-0 record in 1993, and they were ranked No. 4 in the final Associated Press Top 25 poll. They went 20-1-1 in the first two years and earned three Bowl Game berths during his stay at Auburn.

While coaching the running backs at Auburn, three of his pupils gained over 1,000 yards in a season. James Bostic led the Southeastern Conference in rushing in 1993, and Stephen Davis was tops in the SEC the following year.

Allison worked as an assistant at Southern Mississippi from 1988-92. His star player while working with the Golden Eagles' quarterbacks and running backs was quarterback Brett Favre. After an outstanding college career at USM, Favre has gone on to an extraordinary career in the National Football League. He won a Super Bowl title with the Green Bay Packers in 1996 and is the NFL's only three-time Most Valuable Player honoree.

During Allison's tenure at USM, the Golden Eagles participated in two Bowl Games. They completed a 10-2 season in 1988.

He served on Sloan's Duke staff from 1984-86 as the running backs coach.

As a college quarterback, Allison led Texas Tech to three Bowl Games – the 1974 Peach Bowl, the 1976 Bluebonnet Bowl and the 1977 Tangerine Bowl. In 1976, he passed for 1,458 yards, ran for 706 and was voted the Most Valuable Player in the Southwest Conference. In 1977, he was nominated for the Heisman Trophy. A team captain, he played in the Hula Bowl and the Japan Bowl Senior All-Star Games.

He will be inducted into the Texas Tech Athletics Hall of Fame this October.

Allison played football professionally for one year for the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League in 1978. He returned to his alma mater in 1979 as a graduate assistant coach for head coach Rex Dockery. The following year, he was hired full-time as the running backs coach by Jerry Moore, currently the head coach at Appalachian State.

Allison is a 1980 graduate of Texas Tech with a degree in Physical Education. He is married to the former Leigh Harris of Durham, N.C., and the couple has two children, Sloan, 12, and Ashleigh Delle, 10.

Rodney Allison at Texas Tech

"Rodney is one of the finest coaches I have ever worked with. He is an extremely hard worker who is dedicated to the game. I don't know how long it will take to turn this program around, but I can guarantee you every time those players step onto the field, he will have them ready to play. Rodney and Leigh Allison were a wonderful part of our staff at Auburn and will do a wonderful job as UTC Football's first family."

Terry Bowden
Head Coach, Auburn
1993-98

"Rodney is one of the most thorough coaches that I have been around. His experience as a coordinator, coaching offense, defense and special teams, gives him a comprehensive understanding of the game. I think UT-Chattanooga fans will enjoy his style of play and appreciate his enthusiasm."

Tommy Bowden
Head Coach, Clemson
1999-present

"Coach Allison has outstanding teaching and leadership skills, and I rate him at the top among other coaches I have had during my career. What you will find out about Coach Allison is his sincere concern for his players, who in turn will do anything for him."

Brett Favre
NFL MVP, 1995, 1996, 1997
Green Bay Packers

"Rodney will bring a hard-nosed, disciplined program to Chattanooga. It will be no different from his playing days at Texas Tech. He was one of the toughest football players I have ever seen."

Bill Parcells
Head Coach, Dallas Cowboys
15-Year NFL Head Coach

Game 2
Sept. 7
Finley Stadium

Alabama State 41 - UTC 23
Chattanooga, Tenn.
Att. 7,180

Alabama State capitalized on four Chattanooga turnovers in the first half and returned a fumble for a touchdown in the third quarter to down UTC in the River City Classic. It was UTC's first home-opening loss since 1994. UTC's Michael Dodd returned the opening kickoff 22 yards only to fumble it into the hands of Marcus Winn on the UTC 32-yard line. The Hornets' backup quarterback, Gary Brashears, connected on an 18-yard pass to Chris Coleman 2:25 later to go up 7-0. ASU's starting quarterback, Jermaine Crenshaw, did not play in the game following a trip to the hospital Thursday with kidney stones. It was the first career start for the junior Brashears, who completed 24-of-39 for 181 yards and three touchdowns. UTC answered with a score of its own on its next possession driving 80 yards in two minutes. Ryan McCann completed a 27-yard pass to Jason Jones to tie the game at 7-7. McCann was 19-for-36 for 257 yards and two interceptions. UTC held ASU to five plays on its next series forcing the Hornets to punt. However, the Mocs couldn't hang onto the return as ASU forced another fumble. Richard Rowe recovered the ball at the UTC 17, and Brashears and Coleman would hook up again for a one-yard score at 6:32. Coleman caught four balls for 23 yards and three touchdowns. On the next UTC possession, McCann would be picked off at the ASU 43 by Antwan Hill who returned the ball 48 yards to the UTC nine. The Mocs held off the drive sacking Brashears for a 10-yard loss, which forced a field goal by Chris Nichols for a 10-point lead. ASU had just one turnover in the game. Brashears connected on a short pass to Tommy Venisee. UTC's Greg Knight was there to force a fumble, which was recovered by Bryan Lamar at the UTC 39. The Mocs moved the ball 30 yards, and Patrick Shutters kicked a 26-yard field goal to pull the Mocs within 14 points at 24-10 with 6:50 before halftime.

NOTES: McCann, who played two years at UCLA, threw for 257 yards, surpassing his previous best at 236 against Michigan in 2000 ... Sophomore receiver Jeremy Grier caught seven passes for 128 yards and two touchdowns ... He totaled 214 all-purpose yards, the sixth best total in school history.

Tennessee Tech held UTC to three points and made a touchdown and two 40-yard field goals stand up to edge the Mocs for its first win of the season. The Eagles scored on its first possession of the game. Running its offense out of a unique formation early in the game where only the quarterback, the center and a back lined up by the football, the Golden Eagles covered 64 yards in five plays and 2:31. Jason Ballard's five-yard scoring run put Tech ahead 7-0 at 11:27 of the first quarter. Junior Justin Barnes started at quarterback for UTC in place of senior Ryan McCann. McCann was unable to play because of tendonitis in his throwing shoulder. Tech's Nick Hodges made it 10-0 with 6:47 left in the initial period on a 40-yard field goal, the first three-pointer of his career. Barnes, making his first start since the 2001 season finale against Kentucky State, led the Mocs on an 18-play, 73-yard march, which resulted in a 27-yard Patrick Shutters field goal at 10:15 of the second quarter to trim the deficit to 10-3. Although UTC's defense held Tech to just a field goal the rest of the way, the Mocs never crossed the Eagle's 30-yard line after that. Hodges knocked in another 40-yard field goal to push Tech's margin to 13-3 with 11:46 left in the game. On the ensuing possession, Barnes led UTC to the Tech 36-yard line, but his first-down pass to Jason Jones bounced off Jones' hands and turned into an interception by Jon Borum, ending UTC's strongest scoring threat. The Mocs had two other fourth-quarter possessions but did not sustain a drive on either. Barnes went the distance at quarterback and threw for 147 yards on 15-of-33 passing with one interception. Jason Ball picked up 62 yards on 22 rushes, while receiver Jeremy Grier led all receivers with seven catches for 57 yards. Linebacker Josh Cain made 13 tackles, his third double-digit tackle game in as many outings. Tech quarterback Robert Craft completed 11-of-29 passes for 195 yards and one interception. Ballard collected 123 yards on 26 carries for his first career 100-yard rushing game, and receiver Anton Thomison caught six balls for 108 yards.

Game 4 Gardner-Webb 26 - UTC 24
Sept. 14 Chattanooga, Tenn.
Finley Stadium Att. 4,317

Gardner-Webb's Andrew Harmon kicked a game-winning 27-yard field goal with only six seconds remaining for a 26-24 victory. The Mocs had scored 10 unanswered points prior to the drive including a career-long 34-yard field goal from Patrick Shutters that put the Mocs ahead for the first time since late in the first quarter. Gardner-Webb began its final drive with just 48 ticks on the clock. On third down and nine, quarterback Jeremy Martin connected with receiver Dan Swartz down the left side on a 41-yard completion, placing the ball at the Chattanooga nine-yard line with 21 seconds remaining. Martin's next two pass attempts into the end zone would fall incomplete. Harmon, who had a 25-yard attempt in the second quarter blocked, knocked the ball through the uprights for the score. UTC had one last chance after the kickoff, but Justin Barnes' pass completion to Jeremy Grier went for nine yards to end the game. Chattanooga's Bernard Snowden tackled Martin for a one-yard loss on a fourth-down play, and the Mocs took over on downs with 2:41 to play. However, a Barnes pass to Maurice Wilson on third-and-two fell incomplete and UTC was forced to punt with just over one minute remaining in the game. Chattanooga drove to the Bulldog 11-yard line on its second possession in the first quarter when lightning forced the game into a 45-minute weather delay. After a brief warm-up period, the Mocs' took two plays to put the ball in the end zone for the first score of the game. Barnes connected on an eight-yard pass to Wilson, putting Chattanooga up 7-0 at the 7:37 mark. The Bulldogs scored late in the first quarter on a 16-yard pass to Darin Bradford at 34 seconds of the initial quarter, but the snap for the PAT was over the holder's head. Martin would complete an 18-yard pass to William Andrews late in the second half, and his four-yard TD catch at 11:48 of the third period lifted the Bulldogs to a 20-7 lead after a two-point pass play. Chattanooga outscored Gardner-Webb in the third quarter 14-11. UTC's Cortez Rankin hauled in a 71-yard pass from Barnes, a career long for both players. The Bulldogs' Harmon kicked a 32-yard field goal at 3:33 of the third quarter, increasing its lead to 23-14.

GSU led Division I-AA in rushing, entering the game with an average of 368.0 yards per game. The offense generated just under that average, 359 yards on 64 attempts. Austin followed Williams in the rushing category with 114 yards on 23 carries. UTC quarterback Ryan McCann made his first game appearance since Sept. 7. The UCLA transfer who had started the first two games, missed the next two because of tendinitis in his throwing shoulder. He entered the game at 11:35 of the third quarter, replacing Justin Barnes. McCann led the Mocs to their only scoring drives of the game. Patrick Shutters kicked a 29-yard field goal at 7:40 of the third quarter to put the Mocs on the board at 28-3. He connected with receiver Jason Jones on an 18-yard scoring toss at 7:45 of the fourth quarter to trim the deficit to 35-10. McCann finished the night completing 10-of-19 attempts for 171 yards and one interception. The interception came on UTC's last series of the game. McCann led the Mocs from the UTC 14-yard line to the GSU seven. On second-and-goal with 10 seconds remaining, McCann's pass was intercepted by GSU's All-America lineman Freddy Pesqueira to end the Mocs' final scoring threat. Barnes completed 5-of-16 passes for 76 yards and one interception. Mario Hain led the Mocs in rushing with 64 yards on 10 carries. Jason Ball gained 23 yards on eight totes. Jones had five receptions for a career-best 106 yards. GSU answered UTC's third-quarter field goal when Kevin Davis ran one in from 11 yards out to give the Eagles a 35-3 bulge with 14:03 left in the game. Scott Shelton booted a 30-yard field goal with 3:18 to play for the final 38-10 margin. UTC linebacker Josh Cain led all tacklers with 15 stops, including 10 solos. Jesse McCoy's 12-yard run on Wofford's first overtime possession snapped a 21-21 tie and gave the Terriers the extra-period victory. McCoy led 20th-ranked Wofford with three touchdowns and 166 all-purpose yards. He had two touchdowns in the second quarter to hand the Terriers a 13-0 halftime advantage. UTC stormed back in the second half. The Mocs held Wofford to just eight points in the third and fourth quarters, and the offense got on track with 21 points and 257 yards after intermission. Wofford won the overtime coin toss and chose defense first. After a running play netted UTC three yards, Wofford's LaRay Benton knocked the ball loose from UTC back Mario Hain, and linebacker Jim Thurman fell on it, ending the Mocs' initial overtime possession. Wofford used four plays to pick up the victory. McCoy sped around right end, breaking two tackles to reach the end zone and end the game. Jerry Beard, who rushed for a career-high 137 yards on 22 carries, ran the ball 33 yards before being pushed out at the UTC two-yard line. After losing six yards on three plays, ASU's Mark Wright booted a 25-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead at 6:02 of the period. In the second quarter, UTC kicker Patrick Shutters remained perfect on the year with a 24-yard field goal to put the Mocs up 10-3. ASU tied it up 10-10 just before halftime on a six-yard run from Beard. On the final drive of the half, Wright missed a 30-yard attempt as time ran out that would have given ASU a 13-10 lead. In the third quarter Wright missed a 39-yard attempt with 6:28 remaining in the period, but nailed a 22-yarder in the fourth quarter to put his squad up for good, 13-10. ASU added to its lead on Burchette's TD toss. Burchette was 26-for-40 passing for 344 yards on the day. It was his second 300-yard passing game of the season. Little caught eight passes for 111 yards to lead all receivers. McCann threw his second touchdown of the game to Cortez Rankin for 13 yards to trim the deficit to 20-17. An on-side kick was recovered by the Mountaineers. ASU tried to run out the clock, but a fourth-down play handed UTC the ball at its own 33-yard line with one second remaining. Game 10 UTC 34 - The Citadel 31
Nov. 9 Charleston, S.C.
Johnson Hagood Stadium Att. 18,818

Jason Jones caught two touchdown passes and blocked a Citadel punt which turned into a touchdown as Chattanooga snapped a nine-game losing skid. Jones, who had 122 yards on five catches, hauled in touchdown tosses of 12 yards in the first quarter and 67 yards in the second quarter. He blocked a Bulldogs' punt near their own end zone, and Marcus Pendergrass scooped up the ball at the two-yard line and stepped into the end zone for a TD with 6:58 left in the second quarter. The play gave UTC a 27-21 lead at halftime. The two teams combined for 48 points in the first half but just 17 in the second. UTC quarterback Ryan McCann hit tight end Barrett Brightwell on a five-yard scoring pass with 11:50 left in the game to push UTC ahead 34-31. The Citadel took the ball deep into UTC territory on its next two possessions, but quarterback Jeff Klein was intercepted by Greg Knight in the end zone with 6:54 left, and Bernard Snowden recovered a Bulldog fumble at the UTC 29 with just over two minutes to play. McCann and Klein combined to complete 76.4 percent of their passes. McCann threw for career-high four TDs and had 222 yards on 18-of-23 passing. Klein was 24-for-32 for 294 yards and three scores. The Citadel answered Jones' first score with a four-yard pass from Klein to Matt Healy at 5:57 of the first quarter. McCann hit Cortez Rankin on a 14-yard strike to make it 14-7 at 1:15 of the opening period. The Citadel tied it up on Chris Franklin's nine-yard TD reception at 12:39 in the second. UTC was forced to punt for the first time in the second quarter. The Citadel took advantage of decent field position and cashed in on the first play of the series. Klein connected with Scooter Johnson on a 42-yard scoring pass to give The Citadel its first lead at 21-14 with 10:15 left in the second quarter. UTC answered quickly with Jones' second TD catch three plays later. But Patrick Shutters missed the extra point kick and left UTC down by one with 9:14 left in the half. UTC bottled up The Citadel on the ensuing drive, setting up the blocked punt for a TD. The Bulldogs blocked two UTC punts, but it led to only one score, a three-yard run for Nehemiah Broughton to open the third-quarter scoring and give The Citadel a 28-27 lead at 7:02 of the third period. Travis Zobel added a 30-yard field goal on the first play of the fourth quarter to push the margin to 31-27. Jason Ball led UTC on the ground with 92 yards on 14 carries, while Mario Hain had 56 yards on 10 totes. Broughton led the Citadel with 88 yards on 28 rushes. Johnson led all pass catchers with 128 yards on eight receptions.

UTC 27 - ETSU 10
Chattanooga, Tenn.
Att. 3,813

Chattanooga quarterback Ryan McCann threw for 225 yards and one touchdown. It was UTC's second straight win after starting the season with nine consecutive losses. McCann connected with Cortez Rankin on a 20-yard touchdown pass with 2:41 left in the first half to extend the Mocs' lead to 21-10. He completed 20-of-32 attempts for 225 yards and did not throw an interception. Patrick Shutters added two field goals in the fourth quarter to pad the margin. The UTC defense held ETSU to 275 total yards and just 10 points. The Mocs grabbed an early 7-0 lead on Jason Ball's three-yard touchdown run with 7:50 left in the first quarter. UTC scored on their initial possession for the second straight game. Ball's score capped a 10-play, 42-yard drive. The Bucs responded on the next possession with a 12-play march. Braye Walters finished off the series with a 34-yard field goal that trimmed the lead to 7-3 at 1:51 of the first quarter. Twenty-two UTC seniors celebrated their final home game, and several of the upperclassmen had standout games. Senior Todd Campbell returned a punt 79 yards in the second quarter which led to a six-yard Mario Hain TD run that increased the lead to 14-3 at 11:13 of the second quarter. The margin shot up to 21-3 two series later. Senior Cortez Rankin made a remarkable catch, falling just over the goal line on a 20-yard pass from McCann at 2:41 before the half. ETSU answered that score quickly on a 34-yard catch and run from Jatavis Sanders to Gaven Varner. The touchdown, which proved to be the Bucs' final score, trimmed the deficit to 21-10 just 42 seconds before intermission. The Mocs forced two second-half turnovers to help seal the win. Senior Sheldon Green fell on a Varner fumble at the UTC 17-yard line late in the third period, and Bernard Snowden picked up a fumble caused by Blake Kirkland's hit on Sanders late in the fourth quarter. Ball led UTC on the ground with 55 yards on 20 carries. Sanders paced the Bucs with 54 yards on 19 rushes. Varner set season-highs for ETSU with seven catches for 84 yards. Senior Joey Peters caught a career-best six balls for 51 yards for UTC. Shutters, who was perfect on field goal attempts heading into the game, missed from 23 yards out in the second quarter and 37 yards in the fourth. He connected from 27 yards with 10:46 to play and nailed a career-long 42-yarder with 3:38 remaining. Defensively, senior end Emmanuel DeWalt had seven stops, three of which were for negative yardage. Linebacker Josh Cain went over the double-digit tackle plateau for the 12th straight game with 14 hits.

Greenville, S.C.
Att. 7,423

Furman running back Hindley Brigham ran for 114 yards and two touchdowns to lead the No. 8-ranked Paladins to the Southern Conference victory. The game was the season finale for the Mocs, who finished the year 2-10 overall and 2-6 in the conference. It also marked the final game at UTC for head coach Donnie Kirkpatrick who was reassigned by the University. Brigham scored on a one-yard run right before the half to snap a 7-7 tie, and his 58-yard touchdown scamper with 3:52 left in the third quarter broke the game open and gave Furman a 28-7 advantage. The Paladins scored on their first possession of the game. Quarterback Billy Napier hooked up with receiver Isaac West for a seven-yard touchdown pass and a 7-0 lead at 10:42 of the first quarter. UTC used an 18-play, 90-yard march to tie the score at 7-all. Ryan McCann lofted a five-yard pass to Jason Jones at 6:52 of the second period. It would be the Mocs' only points of the game. Brigham's first score broke the tie. Furman added two touchdowns in the third quarter, a one-yard run by Corey Tant at 8:17 and Brigham's long run on an option play. The second-stringers provided the final margin for the Paladins when Bo Moore tossed a five-yard touchdown strike to James Thomas with 4:36 to play. Historic Chamberlain Field

Chattanooga's Football Home From 1908-1997

The University and the City of Chattanooga communities said a fond farewell to Historic Chamberlain Field on Oct. 4, 1997. On that day, the nation's second-oldest on-campus stadium closed its gates forever, and UTC helped send it off with a 20-17 victory over Wofford before a Homecoming crowd of 9,102.

Chamberlain Field served as UTC's home for 86 seasons. Beginning in 1908, the school's football program compiled an all-time record of 301-133-25, a winning percentage of .683.

Chamberlain Field's historic past is as storied as many of the great players that have displayed their talents at the scenic stadium. Prior to 1907, UTC was known as Grant University. However, in 1907, its name was changed to the University of Chattanooga. One of the men making up the 1907 team had some land surveyed on the campus north of Oak Street. At that time, the land was used as a pasture by the Chattanooga Transfer Company for its horses and mules. Student support rallied behind the athletes and secured the assistance of some influential trustees, and plans for a football field on campus were approved. A dressing room and showers were installed in the science building next to the field. The stadium was given the name Chamberlain Field in honor of Captain Hiram S. Chamberlain, president of the board of trustees.

The Stadium officially opened on Oct. 17, 1908 as Chattanooga shut out Athens School of the University 11-0. Over the years, the program posted 16 undefeated home seasons at Chamberlain.

In 1925, after the University of the South defeated the Moccasins 28-0, some of the wooden grandstands were damaged by fire. When the 1927 season opened, a brick structure seating 5,000 had been erected along Oak Street. The Moccasins lost their first game in their improved stadium 44-18 to Vanderbilt. In 1935, the first night game ever at Chamberlain Field was played with the Moccasins defeating Oglethorpe, 44-0.

Year-by-Year Results

Although evidence shows that the game of football was played in the city of Chattanooga before the turn of the 20th Century, Grant University and the University of Chattanooga did not begin intercollegiate competition in the sport until 1904. That is the first year of organized, intercollegiate football at the University, recognized by the University and the NCAA.

NCAA I-AA Playoff Game

Arkansas State 37, UTC 10

Nov. 24, 1984

Indian Stadium, Jonesboro, Ark.

Attendance: 10,872

The game's first play was a good indicator of the kind of day it would be for UTC. On the opening kickoff of UTC's first and only NCAA I-AA Playoff Game, Darryl Streeter fumbled the ball on the return, giving Arkansas State possession at the Moccasin's 24-yard line. Four plays later, the Indians scored their first of five touchdowns en route to a 37-10 victory. The Moccasins fumbled the ball seven times, however, only managed to lose it once. They also punted the ball nine times and lost the time of possession battle 36:32 to 23:28. ASU began a 17-point second-quarter outburst with a 27-yard field goal by Jim Wiseman to increase the lead to 9-0. UTC got on the board with a 25-yard field goal by Scott Giem, cutting the margin to 9-3 with 2:56 left in the first half. The Indians blew the game open scoring two touchdowns with less than 30 seconds to play in the opening half. Farrell Wilson rambled in from 24 yards out with 24 seconds left on a guard-around play, and I.J. Chapman intercepted a Tim Couch pass and returned it 57 yards as the halftime horn sounded, giving ASU a 23-3 halftime lead. The Indians added two one-yard touchdown runs in both the third and fourth quarters, extending the margin to 37-3. After a 40-yard gallop by Mitch Fontenot, Couch connected with Streeter on a seven-yard touchdown toss with 6:13 remaining for the game's final score. ASU's Rickey Jemison led all rushers with 78 yards on 21 carries. Fontenot paced UTC's ground attack with 49 yards on five rushes. Indian quarterback Dwane Brown completed 9-of-15 passes for 116 yards, while his counterpart Couch was 4-for-13 for 92 yards, one touchdown and one interception.

The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga

CENTURY MOMENTS

Oct. 14, 1905 First away football game for UC. Team played Dayton High School in Dayton, Tenn., and won 45-0.

Dec. 2, 1905 First-ever victory over Tennessee for UC. Team defeated the Volunteers 5-0 in Chattanooga.

1930 UC joined the newly-formed Dixie Conference.

1969 The University of Chattanooga and Chattanooga City College merged to form the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, part of the UT statewide system.

Chattanooga – The Scenic City

Chattanooga lies in the Tennessee Valley, surrounded by the southern end of the Appalachian Mountains. The city was born on the Tennessee River as a trading post. Cherokee Chief John Ross established the post in the early 1800s, and it was known as Ross' Landing. The area where the trading post was developed is still known as Ross' Landing and is just 200 yards from where the Tennessee Aquarium stands today. The city was incorporated in 1838, and the name was changed to Chattanooga. The word Chattanooga is believed to be a Native American word meaning "rock coming to a point," in reference to Lookout Mountain, which overlooks the downtown area.

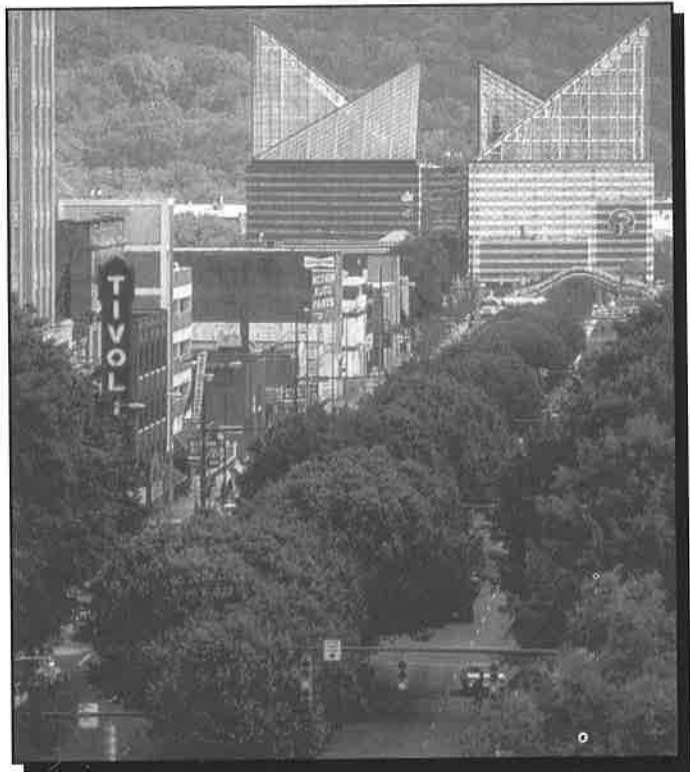

Several major battles of the Civil War took place in the Chattanooga area such as Lookout Mountain and Chickamauga. It was the Confederate loss at Missionary Ridge that opened the way to Georgia and William T. Sherman's "March to the Sea."

In the 1850s, railroads began to develop heavily in the area, and Chattanooga became a major rail hub of the South. However, it was not until 1941, when The Glenn Miller Orchestra recorded "The Chattanooga Choo Choo," that the city received its famous moniker.

The rail tradition still has influence on the area. The Chattanooga Choo Choo Hotel and Convention Center is one of the top tourist attractions in the city. The nickname of The McKenzie Arena is called the "Roundhouse" because it is round in nature, but also because of the building that housed the mechanism to turn locomotives around when it reached the terminal was known as the roundhouse.

City of Chattanooga Interesting Facts

- Chattanooga is home to the first Coca-Cola Bottling Plant in the world. Last year marked the 100th anniversary of the first bottled beverage by Coca-Cola that was made in Chattanooga.
- Sports legends Venus Lacy and Reggie White are natives of Chattanooga.
- The annual Riverbend Festival held in June brings more than 100,000 visitors to the city.
- Chattanooga is within two hour drives of Knoxville, Atlanta, Birmingham and Nashville. All totaled, 13 professional sports franchises are in the five-city area.

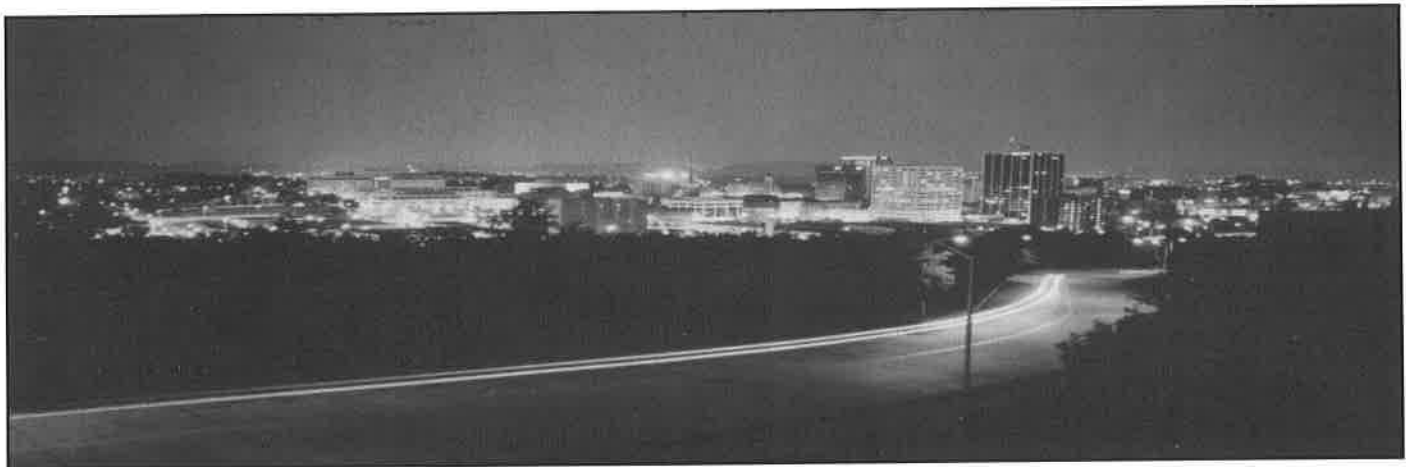

Chattanooga's appeal is based on its diversity. The city has grown from Ross' Landing into a place of distinction and popularity. Over the years, Chattanooga has kept many traditions despite modern development, traditions like Ross' Landing Park and Plaza and Walnut Street Bridge.

The arts play an important part in Chattanooga's cultural life. Chattanooga ranks first in the nation per capita giving to the united arts fund. Chattanooga boasts the country's oldest community theatres. They offer eight live shows each season ranging from musicals to dramas to comedies.

The Chattanooga Symphony and Opera Association offer presentations like symphony, opera, chamber music, pops programs, young people's concerts, opera for children and a youth orchestra. From the Hunter Museum to the Chattanooga Regional History Museum, historians and art enthusiasts can absorb cultural history to their hearts' content. Coca-Cola and Dupont are a couple of industry leaders located in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga is striving to become a model environment city and is committed to improving the quality of life encouraging clean industries to expand or relocate to the area, returning environmental awareness throughout the city.

Chattanooga, with its population of about 165,000 and a metro population of around 450,000, has other claims to fame. It was home to the world's first bottler of Coca-Cola in 1899. The Tennessee Aquarium opened to nearly 1.5 million visitors in 1992, and the following year, the Walnut Street Bridge was renovated to become the largest pedestrian parkway in the world. Both of these attractions are part of the renaissance to develop 22 miles of the riverfront in Chattanooga. In the April 25, 1999, edition of Parade magazine, Chattanooga was recognized as one of five American Restored Cities. The Scenic City has also earned mention in Newsweek and Southern Living magazines.

The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga

The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga educates students to assist in the enlightening and disciplining of their minds and their preparation for ethical and active leadership in civic, cultural, and professional life. To achieve this, the University engages in the complementary and mutually supportive activities of teaching, research, and service.

The University combines the advantages of a strong private tradition with those of a state-assisted institution. Dedicated to providing quality education to a diverse population of approaching 9,000 students, UTC seeks to meet its responsibilities as an emerging metropolitan university, actively involved with regional municipalities, schools, business, and industry and offering expanded instructional opportunities that respond to area needs. The University's ability to fulfill this role is enhanced by continuing support from its alumni, community, and the University of Chattanooga Foundation, a public, nonprofit organization which administers most of UTC's private endowment.

The hallmark of the University is outstanding teaching by a talented and committed faculty. Small classes, personalized advising, and frequent opportunities to interact with faculty provide a student-oriented learning experience.

Research is a priority for the campus. Effective teaching and faculty involvement in scholarship, research, and creative activities are interdependent. These activities foster the intellectual growth of the faculty, provide students with opportunities to participate in the development and application of new knowledge, and enhance the region's growth. A program of well-endowed centers and chairs, (including a significant number of Chairs of Excellence), and professorships builds upon a tradition of faculty research.

The University's programs provide both a firm grounding in the liberal arts and strong professional preparation. Bachelor's and master's degrees as well as several post-master's specialists degrees are awarded through our Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Applied Professional Studies, Engineering and Computer Science, and Health and Human Services.

Education at UTC goes beyond the traditional classroom and laboratory as befits an institution where service is also a high priority. UTC faculty members continue to bring their professional expertise to bear on the concerns of the larger community. Moreover, the University takes advantage of its metropolitan location to provide firsthand learning experiences to students through career-related work experience. Innovative programs, such as our University Honor Program, serve exceptionally talented students. Off campus, the University offers credit and noncredit instruction for professional and intellectual development, extending its educational mission to an even broader range of citizens.

UTC has taken the land grant spirit and applied it in Tennessee and the surrounding region to effect positive social and economic change. In its constant pursuit of academic excellence, UTC is committed to several strategic imperatives:

- Claiming the assets of technology
- Recruiting, retaining, and celebrating diversity in faculty, staff, and students
- Demonstrating accountability
- Enhancing partnerships
- Enhancing the learning environment
- Using evaluation to drive change

As UTC looks to its future and the emerging needs of the metropolitan region, it will continue its commitment to quality education, excellent research, and dedicated service.

Dr. Bill W. Stacy Chancellor

Dr. Bill W. Stacy began his service as Chancellor at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga in 1997, becoming the 14th individual to lead the institution.

Since coming to Chattanooga and UTC, Dr. Stacy has led an enormous and successful effort to reposition the University as a vital academic, intellectual, and pivotal planning force for strategic change within the Chattanooga area.

An effective long-range campus plan has been developed to include a facilities master plan, a budget and financial plan, and a curriculum revitalization plan at the University. Under Stacy's leadership, the University is experiencing the largest facilities growth in the history of the institution with more than $180 million of construction projects to be completed within three years. A new Engineering, Math, and Computer Science building, the University Center expansion, and $100 million of new residence halls are under construction. These projects will provide much needed improvements in campus facilities and services as well as an economic stimulus to the Chattanooga economy.

Named Chattanooga Manager of the Year in 2002, Stacy has become an exemplary example of leadership in the region. His leadership has enabled the university to engage in outreach initiatives and partnerships on a unprecedented level. Two new downtown elementary schools to improve the quality of education within the Hamilton County area and the potential expansion of the University curriculum to include doctoral programs in engineering, business, education and physical therapy are indicative of the many positive changes his leadership has provided the institution.

Stacy earned a Bachelor of Science in Education, speech Communication from Southeast Missouri State University in 1960. He went on to earn a Master of Science, Speech Communication in 1965 and a Doctorate of Philosophy, Contemporary Public Address and Communication Theory, in 1968 from the University of Illinois. He has completed many post-doctoral seminars and conferences at the University of Denver, University of Georgia, University of Tennessee, University of Maryland, and M.I.T.

Stacy came to Chattanooga from California State University, San Marcos, where he was the Founding President from 1989 to 1997. Before his presidency in California, Stacy was president of Southeast Missouri State University (1979-89) and served as a faculty member there beginning in 1967.

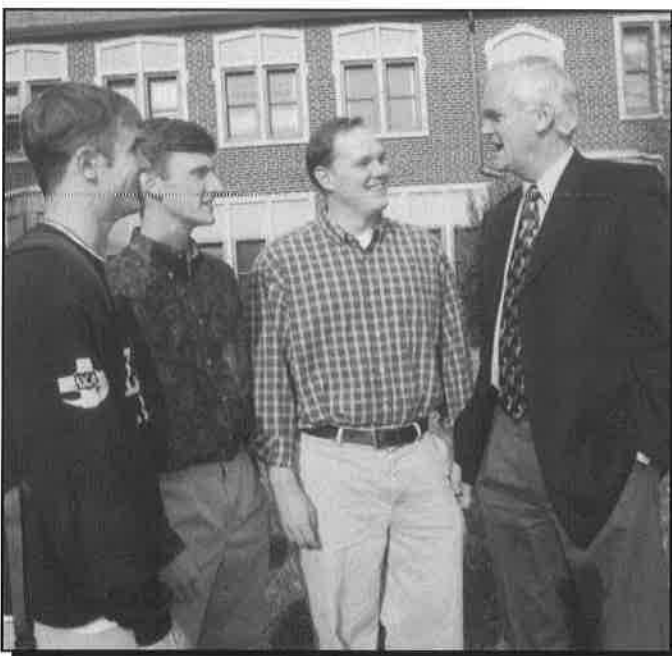

Among many leadership positions, Stacy has served as a member of the board of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, vice chair of the North American Council of the International Association of University Presidents, president of the Missouri Council on Public Higher Education, and a commissioner on colleges for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. In Chattanooga, he is active with Allied Arts, First Things First, the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce, Junior Achievement, the Tennessee Aquarium, United Way, and others.

A native of Bristol, Tenn., Stacy is married to Dr. Sue Varnon Stacy, a faculty member in the UTC College of Business Administration. He has three children and five grandchildren.

*School President

Steve Sloan Athletics Director

Steve Sloan was courted by the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga to be the school's athletics director for about five years, and the man who was one of the most decorated athletes to ever play sports in Southeast Tennessee finally decided to return to his roots.

On April 5, 2002, nearly five years after Sloan was first offered the job to be UTC's Director of Athletics, he took over the reins of Chattanooga's athletics program much to the delight of an overflow crowd in the McKenzie Arena's Hall of Fame Room. The announcement was in conjunction with the hiring of much-heralded Mocs basketball coach Jeff Lebo.

The throng cheering Sloan's announcement recalled his prowess in football, basketball and golf at Bradley Central High School in nearby Cleveland, Tenn., in the early 1960s. Sloan eventually earned a football scholarship to the University of Alabama, where he became an All-America quarterback for legendary coach Paul "Bear" Bryant.

Sloan owns 16 years of experience as a collegiate athletics director and some long-standing ties to the Chattanooga community, which made him Stacy's top choice among an extremely qualified pool of candidates. Prior to joining the Mocs' program, Sloan spent nine years as director of athletics at the University of Central Florida in Orlando, and he served in a similar capacity at the University of Alabama from 1987-89 and at the University of North Texas from 1990-92.

While at UCF, he oversaw the Golden Knight football program's elevation to the NCAA Division I-A level, a task completed in 1996. UCF captured 36 Atlantic Sun Conference Championships during his tenure, and its teams boasted 26 NCAA Tournament berths.

Under Sloan, the Golden Knights' sports programs pulled off an outstanding feat, as UCF became only the second school in Atlantic Sun history to win both the men's and women's all-sports titles in the same academic year, 1995-96. UCF duplicated that feat during the 1998-99 school year as well. Overall, he led UCF to three men's all-sports trophies and four women's awards. Not losing sight of the academic side of the student-athlete equation, Sloan's leadership was instrumental in UCF capturing the 1998 A-Sun Academic Trophy.

Sloan, who also took North Texas football to Division I status, began his collegiate administrative career as an assistant football coach at his alma mater, the University of Alabama. He coached under Bryant from 1968-71 while also working as the Tide's men's golf coach in 1969.

Sloan served one year each as an assistant football coach at Florida State in 1971 and Georgia Tech in 1972 before becoming Vanderbilt's head coach in 1973. Sloan directed the Commodores' football program for two seasons and was named the Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year in 1974.

The 58-year-old Sloan also had head football-coaching stints at Texas Tech University from 1974-77, at the University of Mississippi from 1978-82 and at Duke University from 1983-86. While at Ole Miss, he also served as assistant athletics director.

Sloan is a graduate of Alabama with a degree in Business and Education. He played quarterback for Bryant from 1963-65. In 1965, he earned All-America honors and guided the Tide to an Orange Bowl victory and the National Championship. The NFL's Atlanta Falcons drafted him in 1966 where he played for two seasons.

Born August 19, 1944, in Austin, Texas, Sloan had an outstanding high school athletic career at Bradley Central High School in Cleveland, Tenn. In 1961-62, he earned All-State honors in football and basketball and was named one of the top prep golfers in the state.

In the summer of 1995, Sloan fulfilled a lifelong dream of competing in a major golf championship when he qualified for, and played in, the U.S. Senior Open at The Congressional Country Club in Bethesda, Md. He was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame on March 3, 2000, and the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame in March of 2003. Sloan is also a member of the Orange Bowl Hall of Fame and the Greater Chattanooga Sports Hall of Fame. He was selected as one of the top athletes of the 20th Century from the state of Tennessee by Sports Illustrated in a recent issue.

Sloan is also the author of two books, Calling Life's Signals (1966) and A Whole New Ballgame (1975). He is married to his former high school sweetheart, Brenda, and they have two sons, Stephen Jr., 33, and Jonathan, 31.

UTC's Academic Services

The Chattanooga Academic Support Staff is committed to assisting the student-athlete achieve a positive environment for academic success. The department's Academic Support programs help ensure that each student-athlete reaches their full academic potential.

The goals of the Academic Support Office are to:

- Support student-athlete efforts to receive a quality education and to graduate from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga with their degree.
- Encourage and facilitate the goals each student-athlete has for their career.
- Ensure that the academic integrity of the University is maintained.
- Comply with the rules and regulations of the University, the Southern Conference and the NCAA.
- Help ensure the student-athlete's continuing athletic eligibility and academic progress during their years at the University.

The Academic support staff seeks to provide a quality service that helps each student-athlete reach their full potential in the classroom and to graduate. The services offered are to supplement the academic efforts made by the student-athletes.

The academic support center is under the direction of Molly Kotarski. She also directs the tutoring program that employs 16-18 tutors each semester.

The support staff works closely with coaches and student-athletes to assure academic success.

The Mocs Opportunity Center for Success (MOCS) is a study area for all athletes located on the fourth floor of The McKenzie Arena. Newly admitted student-athletes and any athlete experiencing academic difficulty are required to spend a minimum of five hours per week in the study area.

The MOCS student center has the following facilities at its disposal: Dell and Macintosh computers; Internet access; computer study software for biology, statistics, chemistry, calculus, Spanish, English, accounting and algebra; videos for study skills; art/music appreciation study aids; career assessment and resume writing software; current periodicals; NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills information; time-management materials.

The delicate balance between athletic commitments and studies is a difficult proposition. The rigors of earning a college education while competing at the highest level of intercollegiate athletics can take its toll on even the most studious of student-athletes. Chattanooga's Office of Academic Services has become one of the centerpieces of a student-athlete's academic life at UTC.

UTC Sports Medicine

UTC offers a comprehensive health care program for all student-athletes. Thanks to the involvement of the Graduate Athletic Training Program in the department of Exercise, Health and Leisure Studies, student-athletes have access to quality health care.

UTC has three athletic training rooms that serve all athletic teams. Thanks to funding from Parkridge Medical Center, the athletic training rooms are equipped with the most up-to-date rehabilitation equipment including a Biodex isokinetic unit, a Neurocom for balance testing and training and a Trazer unit for functional rehabilitation. In addition, the Chattanooga Group, Inc., provides therapeutic modalities for use as both rehabilitation equipment and instructional devices for students enrolled in the graduate athletic training program.

The Graduate Athletic Training Program at UTC plays a major role in providing certified athletic trainers to insure that student-athletes are well take care of. The program offers two academic tracks. The entry-level masters program is one of few programs in the country that allows students to earn a master's degree while they gain eligibility to sit for the National Athletic Trainer's Association Certification Exam. The advanced master's program serves students who are already certified athletic trainers and desire to obtain an advanced degree.

Members of the athletic department and the graduate program staff the athletic training rooms. They work together to insure quality health care for the student-athletes and quality academic instruction for athletic training students in the graduate program.

The Southern Conference

The Southern Conference has the most prolific history among Division I-AA football conferences. The league boasts the best winning percentage in the history of the I-AA Playoffs (.637). League players have garnered over 200 All-America selections and numerous national player- or coach-of-the-year awards. The conference has had at least one team in the Top 10 of the final I-AA poll for 18 straight years with at least two teams finishing in the Top 20 in every season since 1982.

The conference has placed multiple representatives in the I-AA Playoffs in 17 of 20 seasons, with 13 Championship Game appearances and five national titles. Georgia Southern has won back-to-back national championships including a 27-25 win over Montana in the 2000 title game and a 59-24 win over Youngstown State in 1999. Furman advanced to the championship title game in 2001 before falling to Montana. The Eagles have been to the national championship game in three of the last four seasons. Before it was a league member, Georgia Southern made five championship appearances with four titles, giving SoCon members 17 title games and nine championships. The Eagles' six national titles mark the most in I-AA football. Georgia Southern won back-to-back national championships in 1985-86 and 1989-90.

In 1988, Furman won the I-AA national championship in its second trip to the title game. The Paladins defeated Georgia Southern 17-12, avenging a loss to the Eagles in the 1985 championship game.

Marshall ended its I-AA career with its second national title. The Thundering Herd advanced to the national championship game five times during the 1990s, winning the title over Youngstown State in 1992 and Montana in 1996.

Prior to the conference's reclassification, Southern Conference football teams appeared in a total of 34 bowl games, posting a record of 16-17-2.

There are nearly 40 former Southern Conference players in the College Football Hall of Fame. One of the most recognizable of these names is former North Carolina running back Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice. During his four years as a Tar Heel, Justice helped guide North Carolina to three major bowl appearances. He was a first team All-America selection in 1948 and 1949. In 1949, Justice earned first team all-conference honors for the fourth consecutive season, becoming the first player in league history to achieve that feat. Only two other football players have earned all-conference honors four times since Justice.

Another of the league's football products that made it to the College Football Hall of Fame is Sam Huff of West Virginia. Huff was a three-year starter on both the offensive and defensive lines for the Mountaineers. In 1955, Huff earned first team All-America honors on the field and was a first team Academic All-America for his work in the classroom. He played 12 seasons in the National Football League for the New York Giants and the Washington Redskins. He was a five-time All-Pro defensive lineman and is also a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

In recent years, the SoCon has continued to produce outstanding student-athletes. Two of the last three winners of the Walter Payton Award have come from the Southern Conference. Georgia Southern's Adrian Peterson captured the trophy given annually to Division I-AA's most outstanding offensive player in 1999. Furman's Louis Ivory was awarded the honor in 2000. Appalachian State's Dexter Coakley was a three-time all-conference selection and consensus All-America in 1994, '95 and '96 before going on to stardom with the Dallas Cowboys. Terrell Owens went from catching passes at Chattanooga to an All-Pro NFL career with the San Francisco 49ers.
