CARA Crib-Course

CARA stands for Countable Athletically Related Activity, which includes any required activity with an athletics purpose, involving student-athletes, and at the direction of, or supervised by, any member or members of an institution's coaching staff (including strength and conditioning coaches) and must be counted within the weekly and daily limitations. Administrative activities

(e.g., academic meetings, compliance meetings) shall not be considered as countable athletically related activities. During either the academic year or during the declared playing season, coaches are limited in the amount of time they can require student-athletes attend practice, required strength and conditioning, participate in film review, attend required meetings with coaches, and compete.

There are no CARA limitations during an institutionally declared vacation period for sports that are in their declared playing season. One day off per week is still required for teams practicing during a vacation period.

In Declared Playing Season

- 20 hours max per week
- 4 hours max per day
- 1 off day per week from all required athletically related activities
- All activities on competition days count as 3 hours of CARA
- Additional CARA cannot occur after a competition

Out of Declared Playing Season

- 8 hours max per week
- 4 hours max of skill instruction
- In football, no skill instruction is permitted and only 2 hours of film review is allowed
- 2 days off per week from all required athletically related activities

There are no CARA limitations during an institutionally declared vacation period for sports that are in their declared playing season. One day off per week is still required for teams practicing during a vacation period.

Coaches must submit the previous month's CARA logs on JumpForward by the end of the first week of each new month.
