Savage ARENA...

John F. Savage Arena enters its 48th year as the home of Rocket basketball, and its 16th since the completion of a $30 million renovation that has made the University of Toledo athletic facility one of the finest arenas of its size in the country.

Originally known as Centennial Hall when it was built in 1976, the arena was renamed "Savage Hall" in 1988 and then became "Savage Arena" in 2008 as part of the renovation project.

Designed by the architectural firms of SSOE, Inc. and Ellerbe Becket, the renovated Savage Arena includes a "bowl-style" seating configuration that brings fans close to the action. Seating capacity for basketball is 7,014 with a record crowd of 7,401 packing the place vs. Buffalo in 2019.

2022-23 MAC ATTENDANCE RANKINGS

1.	TOLEDO	4,828
2.	Ohio	4,754
3.	Ball State	4,151
4.	Eastern Michigan	3,367
5.	Buffalo	2,858
6.	Kent State	2,166
7.	Bowling Green	1,931
8.	Akron	1,921
9.	Miami	1,846
10.	Western Michigan	1,774
11.	Central Michigan	1,726
12.	Northern Illinois	901

The Rockets led the Mid-American Conference in attendance last year with 4,828 fans per game. UT also led the MAC in football and women's basketball attendance, marking the first time ever a school has led the way in all three sports.

Among the other improvements to the arena were the addition of a brand-new basketball court; suites, loges and club seats along the west side of the arena; a new jumbo video scoreboard and sound system; new lighting; new rest rooms and concession stands; a remodeled Joe Grogan Room, a glass-enclosed lounge with seating for up to 200 dinner guests; new locker rooms and team rooms; and a new athletic training room, complete with two whirlpools and the latest in treatment and rehabilitation equipment.

Adjoining Savage Arena is the Sullivan Complex, a 36,000 square-foot building that serves as the perfect complement to the arena. Highlighting the Sullivan Complex is a beautiful glass atrium lobby that serves as the primary entrance into Savage Arena.

Other features include a ticket office; "Rocky's Locker" for the sale of merchandise on game day and during normal business hours; a display for the Varsity 'T' Hall of Fame; the Downtown Coaches "Wall of Champions"; a 5,600 square-foot strength and training center for student-athletes; and offices for coaches and staff.

Savage Arena gained a new addition in 2016 with the opening of the Chapman Basketball Complex. It was made possible thanks to a $1 million donation from long-time basketball supporters George and Leslie Chapman. The complex includes coaches' offices, meeting rooms and a video room and is located at the concourse level on the south end of the arena, directly beneath the Joe Grogan Room, which was expanded substantially to increase its current size and capacity on game day.

"All the student-athletes, coaches and support staff within the men's and women's basketball programs are tremendously thankful for the generosity of George and Leslie in helping our office complex become a reality," head coach Tod Kowalczyk said. "Since my arrival as the Rockets' coach, George and Leslie have become dear friends of ours and we are extremely appreciative of their support of the University and Toledo community."

... Home of the ROCKETS

The basketball court in Savage bears the name of the greatest coach in Rocket men's history—the late Bob Nichols. Nichols coached the Rockets from 1965-87 and is still the winningest coach in Mid-American Conference history, compiling a 376-212 record and five conference titles in 22 seasons.

During its time in Savage Arena, the Rockets have consistently ranked among the MAC leaders in attendance, often ranking first in the league. Toledo has ranked among the leaders in attendance over the last decade. Since Savage Arena opened in 1976, nearly 3.9 million fans have watched the Rockets play.

With big crowds have come big wins. The first game played in Savage Arena is perhaps the biggest win of them all — the 59-57 victory over defending NCAA champion Indiana University in 1976. With that win, the Rockets snapped Bobby Knight and the Hoosiers' 33-game winning streak and started a supreme basketball tradition in Savage Arena. The Rockets have continued the tradition with home victories over Ohio State, Xavier, Cincinnati, Houston and Pittsburgh as well as a 57-56 triumph over UMass in the first game of the 'New' Savage Arena on Dec. 3, 2008.

Trips to Savage Arena have meant frustration for visiting opponents, as Toledo has won over 70 percent of its games at home, posting a 430-182 record. During the first five years in Savage Arena, the Rockets posted an amazing 71-10 (.877) record, with a 15-1 mark in 1976-77 and 1978-79 and a 14-1 slate in 1979-80.

Toledo posted an 18-game home win streak from March 5, 2013-November 24, 2014 that is the Rockets' longest ever in Savage Arena and matches the second longest in program history.

Savage Arena also served as the site of the first and second rounds of the 2014 NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament providing the nation's top programs the chance to play in the impressive facility.

A multi-purpose complex, Savage Arena not only serves the needs of intercollegiate athletics, but it also hosts concerts, convocations and graduation exercises. To date, nearly eight million people have visited Savage Arena for various forms of entertainment.

The list of entertainers who have performed in Savage Arena include Elvis Presley, Cher, Pearl Jam, Smashing Pumpkins, Kenny Chesney, Sheryl Crow, TLC, Boyz II Men, Elton John, Frank Sinatra, Michael Bolton, Rod Stewart, Bob Seger, Steve Winwood and many others.

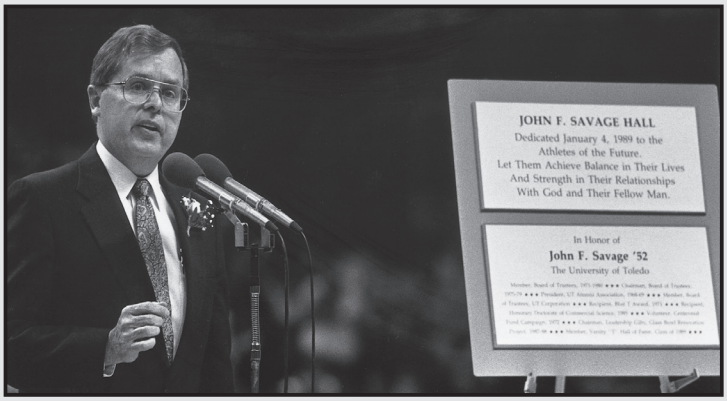
JOHN F. SAVAGE



John F. Savage at the dedication of Savage Hall in January of 1989.

JOHN F. SAVAGE (UToledo '52) was one of the University's most distinguished alumni and one of its most ardent supporters. He was instrumental in raising funds for several capital campaigns, including the construction of the basketball arena that bears his name. Before passing away in 1993, Savage gave often and freely, supporting various other University and community interests.

Gifts to the University of Toledo and the University of Toledo Foundation from the estate of John Savage will provide continuing support for academic scholarships and grants in aid for the Rockets' women's basketball program, helping finance construction of the now-completed UToledo alumni center built and adding to the endowment of the President's Club.

"John would be so proud that the University of Toledo is building upon its foundation as a center of excellence," said Savage's widow, Kate. "He always looked to the future optimistically and with a focus on constant improvement. The renovation of Savage Arena will open opportunities, demand excellence and help rejuvenate support for UT Athletics. We are privileged as a University Family and as a Toledo Community to have such a beautiful athletic complex on campus."

Savage graduated from Central Catholic High School in 1947 and from UToledo's College of Education and Allied Professions in 1952. He served a nine-year term (1971-1980) as a member of The University's Board of Trustees, including four years as its chairman.

In 1972, Savage urged the board to approve plans for a new building to house the Rockets' varsity men's and women's basketball programs and to serve as a site for major community events and entertainment as well as a recreational facility for UToledo students, faculty, staff and alumni.

In 1973, Savage was named co-chair of the Centennial Fund Development Program, a drive that raised $10 million for the 9,000-seat basketball and concert arena, and for construction of Centennial Mall and the Driscoll Center for Continuing Education. The arena opened in 1976 as Centennial Hall and was renamed in Savage's honor by the University's Board of Trustees in 1988.

He spearheaded another UToledo fundraising effort in the late 1980s, securing $4.5 million in gifts for renovation of the Glass Bowl and construction of the Larimer Athletic Complex. While a member of the board, he was also involved in developing the Center for Performing Arts and completing the Law Center.

Savage served as president of the UToledo Alumni Association in 1968 and was a member of the UToledo Foundation Board of Trustees and its predecessor, the UToledo Corporation. He was honored in 1971 with the Alumni Association's coveted Blue 'T' Award for service to the University. He was the 1976 recipient of the College of Business Administration's Pacemaker of the Year Award, received an honorary doctor of commercial science degree from UToledo in 1985, and was inducted into the Varsity 'T' Hall of Fame in 1989.

CHARLES A. SULLIVAN

Chuck and Jackie Sullivan have been responsible for nearly $14 million in contributions to the University of Toledo.

CHARLES A. "CHUCK" SULLIVAN (UToledo '59) stands out as one of the University of Toledo's greatest and most consistent philanthropists. He and his wife Jackie have been responsible for over $14 million in contributions to the University, making them the second-highest donors in school history.

Perhaps the most significant donation from the Sullivans was a $5.5 million gift announced in July of 2006 for the renovation of then-Savage Hall and the construction of the Sullivan Athletic Complex. At that time, the Sullivans also announced a donation of an additional $1 million to the University in the form of $500,000 for the Charles A. Sullivan Scholarship Fund in the College of Business and $500,000 to the Patricia Ann Sullivan Alumni Honors Scholarship Fund.

The Sullivans' $5 million gift in 2006 moved the renovation of Savage from a hypothetical proposition to an imminent reality.

"It is very important to me that student-athletes have the best possible facilities in which to compete and practice," said Chuck Sullivan. "I also feel it is vital that students have the opportunity to enjoy Rocket sporting events, concerts and other events in a first-class, on-campus facility."

More recently, the Sullivans made the lead gift to the Rockets' latest capital campaign, a $5 million renovation of the Larimer Athletic Complex. They donated $1.5 million, half of which went toward the Larimer project, while the other half was designated for a coaches' endowment fund.

Long-time supporters of the University, the Sullivans made the first major gift to the Athletic Department by donating $1.2 million in 2003 for the renovations of the track, tennis courts and soccer field.

"We cannot say enough about the generosity of Chuck and Jackie Sullivan," Vice President & Athletic Director Mike O'Brien said at the time. "Their donations for this project have been truly inspiring. Their gift initiated the 'Building Champions' athletics capital campaign and helped make Savage Arena and the Sullivan Athletic Complex one of the premier campus facilities in the MAC, if not the country."

Chuck Sullivan, a 1959 graduate of the UToledo College of Business, is the retired chairman, CEO and president of Interstate Bakeries Corp. He currently serves as the vice-chairman of the UToledo Foundation Board of Trustees and was chairman of the UT40 Campaign, which exceeded its $40 million goal.

THE MID-AMERICAN CONFERENCE

Providing leadership in education and diversity, the Mid-American Conference moves into its 78th year of service to our students.

Since its inception in 1946, the Mid-American Conference has progressively grown and developed into one of the most aggressive Division I conferences in the country. One of only 10 football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) conferences, the MAC named Dr. Jon A. Steinbrecher as its eighth commissioner in March of 2009.

The league hosts championships in 23 sports, including at some of the finest facilities in the nation – Ford Field in Detroit (football) and Rocket Mortgage Fieldhouse in Cleveland (men's and women's basketball). The MAC secured a two-year contract extension with Ford Field to host the MAC Football Championship Game through the 2021 football season, and anchored a six-year contract extension for the MAC Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments at Rocket Mortgage Fieldhouse through the 2023 season.

In the summer of 2014, the MAC and ESPN announced a historic 13-year rights extension deal through the 2026-27 season for expanded national television and digital distribution. This is the largest and most extensive agreement in the history of the Conference and brings long-term security for the MAC through the 2026-27 academic year.

ESPN has exclusive television and digital distribution rights for all MAC sporting events, and guarantees coverage of every football game, men's and women's basketball games and select Olympic sporting events.

The MAC and ESPN have established on-campus production capabilities that provide a significant increase in the national coverage of baseball, softball, soccer, volleyball, wrestling and Olympic sports on ESPN platforms. This has opened up nearly 92 million households from ESPN platforms for exposure to MAC sports for the first time in Conference history. Through this ESPN partnership, the MAC and CBS Sports Network announced another four-year sublicensing agreement to expand its national coverage of football and basketball through the 2022-23 season.

During the 2022-23 season, two MAC men's basketball programs participated in postseason tournaments. Kent State earned a berth in the NCAA Tournament, while Toledo earned an at-large bid to the National Invitational Tournament for the fourth time in the last five years.

THE FIELD HOUSE (1931-76)

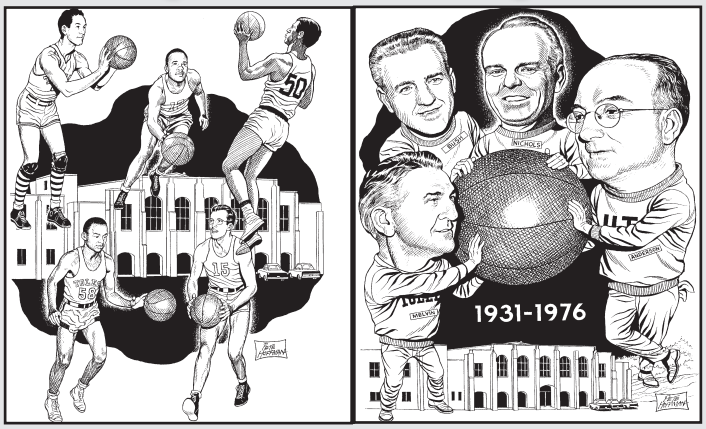
A 45-year era of University of Toledo basketball history closed on March 6, 1976 when the Rockets defeated Ball State, 91-66, in a Mid-American Conference game at a gray stone building known as the Field House. It marked the end to intercollegiate basketball in a facility hailed in its day as "one of the finest ... anywhere in the nation," but alluded to in its latter years as the "old car barn" and "a World War I airplane hangar."

FIELD HOUSE FACTS

Cost to Build: $470,000
First Game: February 13, 1931
Last Game: March 6, 1976
Number of games played: 633
UT record: 487-146
Renovation: 2008
Renovation cost: $27 million

The Field House was the second building constructed on the present UToledo campus and was built in less than a year at a paltry cost of $470,000. The facility covered more than an acre of ground, utilized a dirt floor and seated only 2,000 spectators around an elevated wooden basketball court.

The official dedication game was played February 21, 1931, against crosstown St. John's College, an institution that has since closed. The prize was the "championship of the city," according to The Toledo Blade. The Demolay Band was on hand to provide a 15-minute pregame program, and Joe Murphy's Ice House Quartet was the halftime show. Gus Dorais, head football coach at the University of Detroit but better known as a Notre Dame great under Knute Rockne, was the principal speaker, along with Mayor W.T. Jackson, his cabinet, city council members, the UToledo Board of Trustees and President Henry Doermann. Faculty athletic chairman O. Garfield Jones was master of ceremonies for some rather lengthy speechmaking. Once the talking ended, the Rocket cagers proceeded to edge St. John's, 18-16. Blade writer Lew Klewer said that "Faith, Hope and Charity, while not listed in the regular lineup ... played an important part in the stirring struggle."



Five legendary Rockets (l to r from top left corner) — Chuck Chuckovitz, Charlie Harmon, Steve Mix, Bob Gerber and Bill Jones — are shown in the caricature to the left. In the caricature to the right, four Rocket coaches (l to r) — Eddie Melvin, Jerry Bush, Bob Nichols and Harold Anderson — from the Field House era are shown.

Actually, the dedication game was the third intercollegiate contest played in the Field House. The first was between Toledo and Bluffton College on Feb. 13, 1931. Some 1,200 onlookers, watching in the "showpiece for Ohio and the Midwest," saw the Rockets lose, 24-22. A second game, billed as "Inspection Night" with everyone admitted free, was played Feb. 20 against Findlay College. Before a crowd "which filled every seat... and overflowed into the open spaces," the Rockets won for the first time in their new home, 33-28.

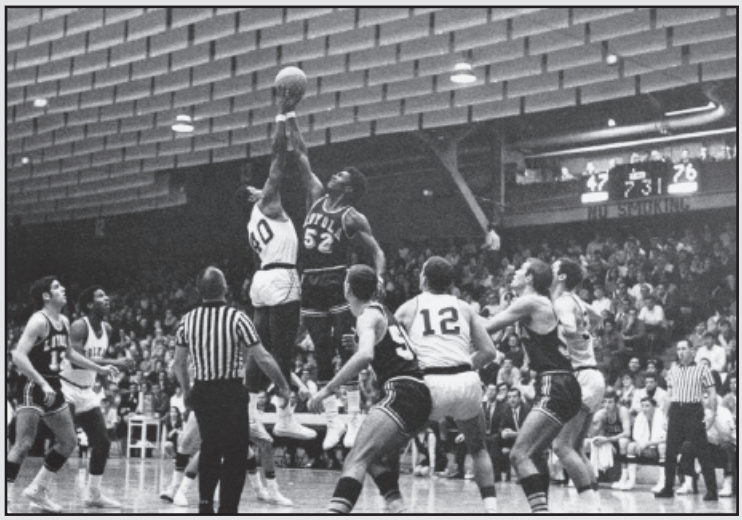
The Field House in 1930

The Glasstrodome?

A proposal in the late 1960's would have converted the Glass Bowl into the first domed college football/basketball arena in the nation. A 29-member facilities committee approved the plan in 1968, but the UToledo Board of Trustees shot down the idea the following year. As an alternative, the Board recommended general renovation of the Glass Bowl and a new basketball arena to be built downtown in conjunction with the City of Toledo. The downtown arena idea was eventually scrapped in favor of a new on-campus arena, which became Centennial Hall (later Savage Hall and Savage Arena) in 1976.

THE FIELD HOUSE (1931-76)

There were many changes in the Field House during its 45-year history when college basketballs were bouncing in its environs. After "big-time" basketball arrived on the scene with coach Harold Anderson and all-Americans Chuck Chuckovits and Bob Gerber in the late 1930s and early 1940s, tightly-packed wooden bleachers were strung the length of the 346-foot long Field House to give it a seating capacity in the neighborhood of 6,000. For a few key games against opponents like Michigan and Notre Dame, there were reports of overflow crowds of more than 7,000.



The Field House was compared by some to a 'World War I airplane hangar' due to its high ceilings.

The Field House was the place to be for Toledoans during its heyday with fans coming out dressed to the nines to cheer on the Rockets.

Then in the 1950's, at the request of President Asa Knowles, who wanted a "nice place to hold graduation ceremonies," the wooden bleachers came down, the dirt floor was replaced with asphalt and marble, and permanent chair seats went up on both sides of a permanent playing floor. It was an aesthetic improvement, but the project lowered the seating capacity to around 5,000. As the building grew older, the seating continued to shrink. In the 1960's new state building codes further limited crowds to 4,100 people.

One thing never changed, however, and that was Toledo's tradition of winning basketball. Rocket teams played 633 games in the Field House and won 487 for a winning percentage of .770. After basketball at UToledo went intersectional in the 1936-37 season, Rocket teams posted a 451-121 record for a .788 winning percentage. Toledo suffered through only four losing home seasons during 45 years in the Field House. The longest winning streak came during the campaigns of 1939-40, 1940-41 and 1941-42 when Harold Anderson's clubs led by Bob Gerber won 40 in a row as Toledo catapulted into the national basketball spotlight for the first time with high finishes in the NIT at old Madison Square Garden. Those were years in which opponents apparently didn't find the Field House aesthetically uninviting, for Toledo played 19 home games during one season and regularly scheduled 16 home contests.

The Field House was packed with a capacity crowd of 4,104 for its final game — a 91-66 win over Ball State on March 6, 1976.

— The New Field House —

After years of dormancy, the Memorial Field House reclaimed its pivotal place in the life of UToledo students. The building's renovation was completed in 2008 and now serves as home to 54 state-of-the-art classrooms, 70 faculty offices, a 250-seat auditorium and an educational incubator to develop innovative teaching methods. The building's $27 million, 145,000-square-foot renovation houses the departments of English and Foreign Languages.

1954 NCAA Tournament

Penn State 62 — 1st Round
Toledo 50 — Fort Wayne, Ind.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. - Appearing in its first-ever NCAA Tournament game, the University of Toledo men's basketball team opened up a 30-27 halftime lead but couldn't hold on and fell to Penn State, 62-50, before 6,173 fans in Fort Wayne, Ind. Over 1,500 fans from Toledo made the trip west to cheer on the Rockets.

Toledo's three-point cushion slipped away at the end of the third quarter as Penn State's zone defense stifled the Rockets and forced them to shoot from outside. The score was knotted at 43 following the third stanza.

In the final period, the Rockets couldn't buy a bucket and were outscored by the Lions, 19-7. Penn State was able to control the boards at both ends of the court as Toledo's bomb squad had an off game.

Phil Martin paced the Rockets with 26 points, while Burt Spice added 11.

1967 NCAA Tournament

Virginia Tech 82 — 1st Round
Toledo 76 — Lexington, Ky.

LEXINGTON, Ky. - Appearing in an NCAA Tournament game for the first time in 13 seasons, the Rockets stormed to a 46-43 halftime lead over Virginia Tech. The Gobblers, however, held the one-two punch of Steve Mix and John Brisker in check and pulled out an 82-76 victory before 11,500 patrons in Memorial Coliseum.

Mix had 18 points and 14 rebounds, while Brisker recorded 15 points and 10 rebounds. Bob Miller paced the Rockets with 19 points and seven rebounds and John Rudley had 13 points and three rebounds.

The Gobblers hit at a torrid 62 percent clip from the field in the second half (18 of 29), while the Rockets went cold, connecting on just 13 of 38 shots for 34 percent. Toledo did, however, hold the advantage at the free throw line, hitting six more charity tosses.

Ken Talley had a monster game for Virginia Tech, scoring 24 points and pulling down 19 rebounds. Glen Combs had 18 points, followed by Ted Ware with 17 and Ron Perry with 12.

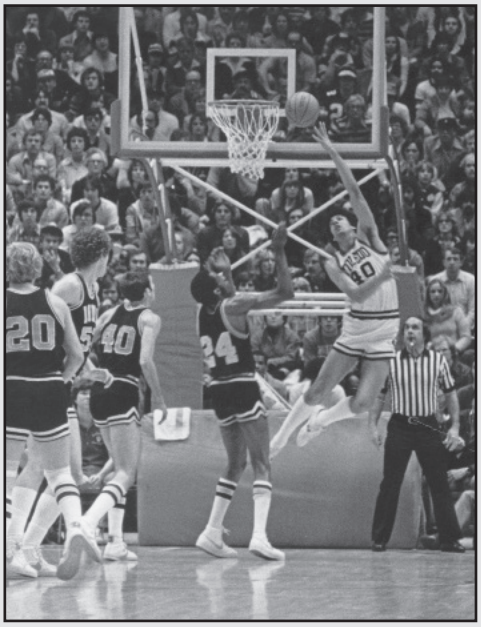
TOLEDO IN NCAA TOURNAMENT

1979 NCAA Tournament

Toledo 74		2nd Round
Iowa 72		Bloomington, Ind.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — When a young boy grows up playing basketball he envisions himself taking a pass in the waning moments of the NCAA Tournament and drilling it for the game-winning shot as time expires. In March of 1979, the fantasy became reality for Rocket guard Stan Joplin.



Jim Swaney lays in two of his 12 points against Iowa in the 1979 Mideast NCAA Tournament game.

After Jay Lehman broke a double team and, passed the ball to Dick Miller, who drove across halfcourt, the ball was given to Joplin who nailed the 20-footer just prior to the buzzer. After that, the shot goes down in the annals of Rocket basketball as one of the greatest in history.

Joplin hit just two other shots from the field that evening and was 3-for-7 from the floor, but connected on 9-of-11 attempts from the charity stripe for 15 points.

The Rockets were an underdog against Big Ten power Iowa, who fielded one of the best guards in the nation in Ronnie Lester along with a strong supporting cast.

Right from the beginning it looked as if the Rockets were going to be victims of the Hawkeyes, as Iowa pulled to a 41-29 halftime lead.

After the intermission, the Rockets came out and dominated the second half, outscoring the Hawkeyes, 45-31, and hitting a blistering 63 percent from the field. UT hit 12 of 19 shots in the the second stanza and was even hotter from the free throw line in the half, connecting on 21 of 25.

Miller paced the Rockets with 18 points, 14 rebounds and four assists, while Jim Swaney chipped in with 12 points and four rebounds and Lehman added 10 points and three assists.

Lester did shine for Iowa as he hit 9-of-13 shots from the field, was 5-for-6 from the line for 23 points and added six assists, two steals and four rebounds.

Stan Joplin's winning jump shot was set up by Jay Lehman (43), who broke a double team in the backcourt and got the ball ahead to Dick Miller, who made the assist to Joplin.

Stan Joplin launched his famous 20-foot jumper with just two seconds remaining as the Rockets upset Big Ten power Iowa, 74-72, in the second round of the 1979 Mideast Regional.

TOLEDO IN NCAA TOURNAMENT

1979 NCAA Tournament

Notre Dame 79
Toledo 71

Sweet 16
Bloomington, Ind.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. - For the second straight game, David was again staring Goliath in the face. This time Goliath featured a team that would eventually send four of its prominent players onto brilliant NBA careers.

The players were: Orlando Woolridge (New Jersey Nets, Los Angeles Lakers, Detroit Pistons, plus several other teams), Kelly Tripucka (Detroit Pistons), Bill Laimbeer (Detroit Pistons) and Bill Hanzlik (Denver Nuggets).

Though Tim Selgo (20) stood just 6-2, it didn't stop him from crashing the boards against the much taller Kelly Tripucka.

Despite these giants, the Rockets were up for the challenge.

Notre Dame raced to a 43-33 first-half lead and proved to be just too much for the Rockets who only cut into the Fighting Irish lead by two for the final margin.

Jim Swaney and Dick Miller were once again the backbone for the Rockets as Swaney tallied 26 points on a 10-for-14 performance from the field and Miller scored 18 points and pulled down a game-high 10 boards.

Stan Joplin, the hero against Iowa just days before, couldn't buy a bucket going 0-for-5 from the field and 0-for-2 from the line. Toledo's other point production came from guards Jay Lehman and Tim Selgo, each with eight points each, and from sophomore forward Harvey Knuckles with seven.

Notre Dame was well balanced, led by the sharp-shooting Tripucka, who tallied 24 points. Hanzlik added 14 points four rebounds and two assists, Woolridge tallied 11 points and six rebounds and Laimbeer chipped in with eight points and five boards.

Notre Dame would lose in the next round to the sensational sophomore Earvin "Magic" Johnson and eventual NCAA Champion Michigan State Spartans.

1980 NCAA Tournament

Florida State 94	1st Round
Toledo 91	Bowling Green, Ky.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. - It was an old-fashioned southern shootout as the Rockets took on the high-flying Florida State Seminoles in the first round of the 1980 NCAA Tournament.

Both teams were blistering from the field right from the beginning as Toledo shot 55 percent from the floor and 80 percent from the line in the first half and the Seminoles hit on 57 percent of their field goals and 82 percent of their charity stripes.

The Rockets led 48-43 at the intermission and no one thought that both teams could keep up their torrid pace of the first half. But it would continue.

FSU hit 54 percent from the field (22-41) in the second stanza and the Rockets bettered that, hitting 19 of 33 from the floor for 58 percent. For the game, Toledo hit on 56 percent of its shots and the Seminoles hit at a 55 percent clip. Florida State outscored the Rockets, 51-43, in the second half en route to a 94-91 come-from-behind win.

Toledo had all five starters in double figures, paced by Jim Swaney with 22. He hit on 10 of 17 shots from the floor, was 2 for 4 from the line and hauled down eight boards. Dick Miller recorded 21 points, eight rebounds and six assists, Harvey Knuckles had 20 points, and Tim Selgo added 18 points and seven assists to go along with backcourt mate Jay Lehman, who had 10 points and 13 assists.

The Seminoles had three players with 20 or more points, led by Rodney Arnold, who tallied 29. Murray Brown added 26 points and Mickey Dillard recorded 22 points. Tony Jackson dished out eight assists.

1942 NIT Tournament

West Virginia 51	Semifinals
Toledo 39	New York, N.Y.

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Heading into the National Invitational Tournament semifinals, it looked as though the favorites, Toledo and Creighton, would meet in the finals. However, it was quite the contrary.

West Virginia upset the Rockets, 51-39, and Kentucky State Teachers College downed Creighton in the semis. The Mountaineers managed to tame the powerful Rockets, who featured one of the most feared players in the NCAA in Bob Gerber.

Gerber, who was a two-time All-American, was held in check by West Virginia, scoring just 14 points, while the Mountaineers had two players in double figures. In the game, Gerber tied the record for most points in the tournament when he hit four field goals in the first half. However, he went on to break the record in the consolation game, a 48-46 loss to Creighton.

1943 NIT Tournament

Toledo 46	Semifinals
Wash. & Jeff. 39	New York, N.Y.

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Toledo took the lead with two minutes remaining in the game and defeated Washington and Jefferson, 46-39, at Madison Square Garden on March 27, 1943. With the win, the Rockets advanced to the final round of the sixth annual National Invitational Tournament. The game attracted a record throng of more than 18,500.

The Presidents raced to a 24-18 halftime lead paced by big Harry Zellers, who tossed in six of Washington and Jefferson's first seven points. The Rockets, however, recovered in the second half and went on a 28-15 run in the second half paced by Dallas Zuber and Davage Minor. Zuber led the Rockets with 18 points and Minor added 11 points.

1943 NIT Tournament

St. John's 48	Championship
Toledo 27	New York, N.Y.

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Powerful St. John's University basketball team won the sixth annual National Invitational Tournament on March 29, 1943, at Madison Square Garden by overwhelming Toledo, 48-27, before a capacity crowd of 18,233.

A six-point spree by the Rockets in the first five minutes of the second half brought Toledo into a 22-all tie for the first time in the game after they were trailing by 12 points at one time. But then St. John's more than made up for that rally with a drive of its own that buried the hopes of the Rockets with 13 minutes remaining in the half.

From that point on, St. John's scored almost at will to win the national tournament for the first time in the school's history. Davage Minor, Toledo's sensational ace who paced the Rockets to their fine record, went scoreless for the contest, missing all three free throws and nine shots from the field.

Robert Heiny and Dallas Zuber paced Toledo with nine points each.

1st Round
Toledo, Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio - Appearing in a post-season tournament for the third straight year, Toledo continued its success in March with a 91-83 victory over American University in a first-round NIT game in Centennial Hall.

The first half was more like a heavyweight fight with both sides feeling each other out and going back and forth. Toledo led 39-29 at the intermission, hitting at a 50 percent clip, while American hit on just 38 percent of its shots.

But fireworks went off in the second half as the two teams combined for 106 points in the final 20 minutes. American outscored Toledo, 54-52, during the final period, but it wasn't enough as the Rockets came away with the win.

Senior Harvey Knuckles broke the school single-season scoring mark in the contest with 29 points and also pulled down 10 rebounds. Center Mitch Adamek chipped in with 20 points and 10 boards, while freshman Tim Reiser added 19 points, 11 assists and three steals in his first tournament contest.

Michigan 80

2nd Round
Ann Arbor, Mich.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. - The Wolverines were looking for a little revenge against the Rockets, who had defeated them during the previous season, 67-64, in Centennial Hall. And Michigan would get that revenge with an 80-68 win over Toledo in the second round of the NIT at Crisler Arena.

The two teams played to a stalemate in the first half, heading to the locker room deadlocked at 40. The Rockets had pretty much held All-American Mike McGee in check, as the senior forward hit on just 3 of 9 from the field and was 1 of 2 from the line for seven points in the first half.

The Rockets' Harvey Knuckles was more than holding his own against the Big Ten's all-time leading scorer with 17 points and four rebounds in the first half.

McGee, however, proved to be too much for the Rockets as he hit 8 of 15 shots from the field in the second half and finished with 25 for the game. Guard Johnny Johnson also finished strong for the Wolverines with 22 points and four assists. Knuckles finished the game with 27 points and seven rebounds, while Mitch Adamek added 19 points and seven rebounds.

Xavier 86

1st Round
Toledo, Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio - Toledo's most successful season in 18 years came to an end with an 86-84 loss to Xavier in the first round of the NIT.

Both offenses were clicking in what was perhaps the most exciting game of the season in Savage Hall. Toledo was led by Greg Stempin and Brett Fedak, who each scored 23 points. Art Norman added 17 points.

The Rockets rallied from a 12-point deficit late in the game, pulling to within three points, 85-82, with 16 seconds left. A Norman three-point attempt would have tied the score, but the shot rattled out. Robert Kizer put in the rebound to make the score, 85-84. A free throw by Xavier gave the Musketeers a two-point lead with less than two seconds left. UT's desperation inbounds pass was then intercepted by Xavier, finishing off the Rockets for good.

The loss made Toledo's final record 19-9, and ended UT's most successful season since the 1980-81 team went 21-10. The game also marked the final appearance for seniors Fedak, Norman and Kizer.

1st Round
Toledo, Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio - Greg Stempin scored a career-high 29 points to lead the Rockets to a 76-67 overtime victory over South Alabama in the first round of the NIT. The victory allowed the Rockets to advance to a second-round date with Alabama and was UT's first postseason win in 20 years.

The Rockets dominated the overtime after letting the Jaguars tie the contest at the buzzer on a layup by Demetrice Williams, who caught Emmett Thomas' errant three-point attempt and scored on a putback.

Terry Reynolds scored UT's first four points of the extra session and Nick Moore nailed a three-pointer to give the Rockets a five-point cushion. Toledo then sank five of six free throws to clinch the victory. Stempin's thunderous dunk early in the second half gave Toledo a 34-32 lead and ignited a 13-4 spurt that put the Rockets up 40-32.

Also scoring in double figures for the Rockets were the backcourt tandem of Reynolds (13 points) and Moore (10 points).

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. - Toledo saw its first 20-win season in 20 years come to a close with a 79-69 setback to Alabama in the second round of the 2001 NIT Tournament.

The Rockets fell behind early and never really recovered as the Crimson Tide jumped out to a 50-33 halftime advantage. UT did make a run in the second half and closed to within 66-56 on a three-pointer by Nick Moore with just under seven minutes to play.

The Crimson Tide answered though with an 8-1 run to secure the win, sparked by a pair of three-pointers by Doc Martin and Travis Stinnett. Alabama shot 47 percent from the floor to Toledo's 40 percent, and dominated the boards by a 42-32 margin.

Greg Stempin closed out his impressive Toledo career with team highs in both points (17) and rebounds (8). Rory Jones added 15 points and Moore had 12.

2023 NIT Tournament

Michigan 90

1st Round
Ann Arbor, Mich.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. – Setric Millner, Jr. and JT Shumate combined for 37 points but it wasn't enough to overcome a hot-shooting Michigan team as the Rockets fell to the Wolverines, 90-80, in first-round NIT action.

Toledo led by as many as nine points in the first half but could not stop Michigan in the second half. The Wolverines connected on 15-of-23 (65.2%) in the final 20 minutes, including 7-of-11 (63.6%) from the three-point range.

Millner Jr. led Toledo with 19 points on 8-of-17 from the field. Shumate added 18 points and seven rebounds, while Ra'Heim Moss chipped in with 15 points. RayJ Dennis scored 13 points and added a team-high eight assists.

Toledo came out gunning in the first half, taking a 27-18 lead midway through the first half. Michigan rallied to take the lead late in the half, but Shumate's three-pointer sent Toledo into the locker room with a 42-40 lead. Michigan made its first five shots of the second half, though, to take a 53-44 lead and the Rockets were never able to re-gain the lead.

Toledo ended its season with 27 wins, tied for the most in school history with the 2013-14 team.

Casey Shaw grabbed 10.0 boards per game in the 1997-98 campaign and was the only Rocket for a 41-year period (1975-2016) to average double figures in rebounding.

Greg Stempin (left) and Ohio's Brandon Hunter and D.J. Cooper are the last three players in the Mid-American Conference to earn first-team all-league accolades in three straight years. Stempin was honored from 1999-2001, while Hunter and Cooper were tabbed for the award from 2001-03 and 2011-13, respectively.

HEAD COACHING HISTORY

Dave Connelly
(1926-34 – 8 seasons)
Record: 48-77 (.384)
Best year: 9-6 (1927-28)

Connelly was also the head baseball coach from 1931-50, an assistant football coach for three years, and UT athletic director from 1931 to 1949. In addition, he served the university as Dean of Men and is credited with writing the school's fight song, "U of Toledo."

Harold Anderson
(1934-42 – 8 seasons)
Record: 142-41 (.776)
Best year: 21-3 (1940-41)

Anderson brought the UT program into national prominence with an appearance in the NIT in 1942. Third on UT's career coaching win list and first in winning percentage, Anderson continued a successful career at Bowling Green State University. He later became the first UT coach inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Burl Friddle
(1942-44 – 2 seasons)
Record: 27-17 (.614)
Best year: 22-4 (1942-43)

He was only at UT for two seasons, but Burl Friddle holds the distinction of coaching Toledo's highest-finishing team in history. The Rockets finished second in the 1943 NIT, at the time the most prominent postseason tournament. A high school coach in Indiana, Friddle brought along many of his prep stars to Toledo. Dubbed "Friddle's Freshmen," they produced one of the best seasons (22-4) in school history and helped bring national notoriety to the UT basketball program.

Rollie Boldt
(1944-46 – 2 seasons)
Record: 29-11 (.725)
Best year: 20-7 (1944-45)

Like his predecessor, Rollie Boldt spent just two seasons as head coach yet he met with much success. He led the Rockets to a 9-4 record during the 1944-45 season that was shortened by WWII. His next team raced to an 11-1 start before finishing the season at 20-7.

Bill Orwig
(1946-47 – 1 season)
Record: 18-6 (.750)
Best year: 18-6 (1946-47)

Bill Orwig served just one year as the Rockets' coach and is one of few coaches to oversee two sports at once. He also coached the UT football team for two seasons (1946-47) to a 15-4-2 (.762) mark. Orwig returned to his alma mater, Michigan, in 1948 as a member of the athletics administration, and became athletic director at Nebraska in 1954. He took the AD job at Indiana in 1961, hiring Bob Knight as basketball coach in 1971.

Jerry Bush
(1947-54 – 7 seasons)
Record: 127-58 (.686)
Best year: 21-5 (1947-48)

Jerry Bush became the fifth UT coach in seven seasons when he assumed the helm in 1947. Bush ranks fourth on the UT list of career coaching victories, and has the second-best career winning percentage of any Mid-American Conference coach. In his last year — just the Rockets' third as a member of the MAC — he guided UT to the 1953-54 league title and a berth in the NCAA Tournament. He left after that season to become the head coach at Nebraska.

Eddie Melvin
(1954-65 – 11 seasons)
Record: 125-133 (.484)
Best year: 18-6 (1959-60)

Melvin is fifth on UT's career victory chart with 125 victories. Melvin came to the Rockets from St. Bonaventure, where he had posted a 97-46 record. Nicknamed the "Iron Duke" from his days as an All-American cager at Duquesne, Melvin was known for his fiery courtside manner.

Bob Nichols
(1965-87 – 22 seasons)
Record: 376-212 (.639)
Best year: 23-2 (1966-67)

Simply the most successful coach in MAC history, Nichols won five conference titles and guided UT to 20 winning seasons in 22 years. His 1966-67 team posted the best record in school history and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, as did his 1978-79 and 1979-80 squads. From 1976-79, he posted a 5-0 record against Big Ten teams, including wins over Michigan (twice), Ohio State, Indiana and Iowa. The victory over IU came in the inaugural game in Savage Hall, as UT upset the defending national champion Hoosiers, 59-57, snapping their 33-game win streak.

Jay Eck
(1987-91 – 4 seasons)
Record: 62-57 (.521)
Best year: 18-13 (1988-89)

Eck came to Tfrom Wisconsin-Stevens Point. He had previously been a top assistant at Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech. Eck earned national recognition as a rookie coach, posting a 10-1 non-conference record his first season at Toledo, and recorded victories over Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Houston and Cincinnati in his four-year tenure.

Larry Gipson
(1991-96 – 5 seasons)
Record: 68-73 (.482)
Best year: 18-14 (1995-96)

Gipson came to Toledo from Northeastern Oklahoma A&M, where he won a junior college national championship. Gipson led the Rockets to more wins in each successive season he was at the helm, including three straight winning campaigns and an appearance in the MAC Tournament title game in his final season.

Stan Joplin
(1996-2008 — 12 seasons)
Record: 203-155 (.567)
Best year: 22-11 (2000-01)

Joplin guided the Rockets to their first MAC regular-season title in 27 years in the 2006-07 campaign. He also produced three 20-win seasons, the first at UT since the 1980-81 campaign. Joplin guided Toledo to four NIT appearances, four MAC West Division titles (1998-99, 1999-2000, 2004-05 and 2006-07) and led the Rockets to a second-place West Division finish or better in eight of 11 seasons. The 1979 UT graduate concluded his Rocket tenure in sixth place on the MAC's all-time coaching win list.
