Friday, Nov. 16, 2001
Fetzer Field (Chapel Hill, N.C.)

Duke 1
#23 Tennessee 1 (4OT)
Blue Devils advanced on PKs, 4-2

Tennessee's first visit to the NCAA Tournament proved to be a heartbreaker, as the Lady Vols battled Duke through four overtimes and 150 minutes of action, only to fall short on penalty kicks. Playing on her former home field, junior Kim Patrick gave UT a 1-0 lead on an assist from freshman Kayla Lockaby. The score would remain unchanged until 68:43, when Tennessee was whistled for a hand-ball infraction inside of the box, giving Duke a penalty kick that was successful. Neither club could nudge ahead after four 15-minute extra periods, resulting in the kicks. Still feeling the effects of her broken left foot, sophomore Rhian Wilkinson gave the Orange 85 minutes off the bench.

2002 FIRST ROUND

Friday, Nov. 15, 2002
UT Soccer Complex (Knoxville, Tenn.)
Furman 0
#11 Tennessee 5

Eleventh-ranked UT used a balanced offensive attack and a stingy defense to claim its first-round NCAA Tourney contest with a decisive 5-0 blanking of Furman. In snapping the Lady Paladins' 11-match winning streak, the Lady Vols picked up their first-ever NCAA victory and extended their unbeaten streak to a school-record eight matches. Held scoreless over the first 35 minutes, the home team would batter the Purple and White for five goals over the next 42 minutes to survive and advance. Sophomore Sue Flamini netted her first two goals of the campaign and senior Ellen Dean made one stop for her third shutout in the last four outings and sixth solo shutout of the season.

Sophomore midfielder Kayla Lockaby snapped a 1-1 deadlock with 4:58 left on the clock to propel the 11th-ranked Lady Vols to a 2-1 triumph over No. 22 Cincinnati in the second round of the 2002 NCAA Women's College Cup. With its school-record eighth straight victory, UT advanced to the Sweet 16 for the first time. With overtime looming, sophomore Lyndsey Patterson sent a cross from the right wing to the back post that her classmate connected on for her eighth tally of the season at 85:02. With her squad down a goal, sophomore Keeley Dowling headed in a corner kick sent across by classmate Sue Flamini to tie the match at 63:43. The defender's score was her fifth of the campaign and marked her third straight outing with a score.

#2 North Carolina 3

Tennessee's NCAA run came to an end in the Round of 16 at the hands of juggernaut and second-rated North Carolina, 3-1. Senior Tara Minnax opened the scoring for the Lady Vols at 18:11 when she cleaned up a loose rebound in front of the Tar Heel net. However, the hosts would storm back with three unanswered goals and hold UT without a shot over the match's final 72 minutes to take the decision. All-Americans Lindsay Tarpley and Catherine Reddick registered a goal and an assist apiece, while Susan Bush dished out a couple of helpers. UNC would later reach the Final Four for the 21st straight year before succumbing to Santa Clara.

All-SEC forward Lyndsey Patterson tallied the lone goal of the match as seventh-ranked Tennessee began the 2003 NCAA Tournament with a 1-0 defeat of Oklahoma before a season-high crowd of 1,062 fans at the UT Soccer Complex. Sophomore goalkeeper Vanessa Phillips-Bosshart earned her 11th blanking of the campaign to set up a showdown against Eastern Division counterpart Georgia. Patterson banged home a shot from six yards out for her team-leading 11th score of the season off an assist from senior Rhian Wilkinson, who was making her 2003 debut before the Knoxville crowd.

Playing in the final home match of her career, senior Rhian Wilkinson netted the only goal of the contest as seventh-ranked Tennessee nipped SEC rival Georgia in the second round of the 2003 NCAA Tourney. The 1-0 margin represented the eighth straight meeting between the Bulldogs and the Lady Vols that had been settled by a single goal. Oddly enough, UT had then claimed the last three encounters by a 1-0 score, including a pair of triumphs that year. Sophomore Vanessa Phillips-Bosshart totaled five saves for her 12th shutout of the campaign and fifth blanking in her last six starts.

Tennessee's NCAA run came to an end in the Round of 16 for the second straight season, this time at the hands eighth-rated Florida, 1-0. With under a minute remaining until overtime, Gator senior midfielder Robin Fulton was fouled inside of the box, setting up a penalty kick. Junior forward Ashley Kellgren stepped up to the hash mark and blasted a shot to the left of sophomore keeper Vanessa Phillips-Bosshart to secure the win. The Lady Vols saw an end to their school-record 12-match unbeaten streak and slipped to 0-5 at Percy Beard Stadium.

Lyndsey Patterson tallied a goal and an assist and forward Emily Redberg found the back of the net for the third time during the postseason as No. 10 Tennessee defeated Furman, 2-0, to advance to the NCAA Second Round. UT dominated the Purple & White by a 31-5 margin on shots, while forcing 12 corner kick opportunities to Furman's one. After an early attack by Furman and a scoreless first half, the Lady Vols got on the board early in the second as Patterson scored at 57:22. In the 87th minute, Patterson made a strong run up the right wing and fed a pass to Redberg racing in from the left side. The rookie beat Andie Hinshaw for her seventh goal of the campaign for a 2-0 Lady Vol advantage.

#10 Tennessee 1

Under sunny skies at the UT Soccer Complex, Tennessee utilized a goal by defender Keeley Dowling at 20:06 to defeat the UAB Blazers, 1-0, and advance to the NCAA Sweet 16 for the third consecutive season. Dowling got high above the crowd and headed a corner kick from Sue Flamini into the net for a 1-0 Lady Vol lead. In the 75th-minute, the most controversial call of the match occurred just inside the Tennessee penalty box. UAB forward Tara Kidwell made a run checked by UT defender Jenny Jeffers. Both players went down with no foul called as play continued on until an upset Kidwell received a yellow card. The Blazers managed to put six shots in on the Lady Vol goal over the final 8:45, three of which were saved by UT's Vanessa Phillips-Bosshart.

In what turned out to be the last contest in the Orange & White for UT's sterling senior class, the Lady Vol soccer team suffered a heartbreaking defeat in the NCAA Sweet 16 for the third straight season with a hard-fought, 1-0 loss to No. 6 Ohio State at Jesse Owens Memorial Stadium in Columbus, Ohio. The Buckeyes' Lisa Grubb netted the game-winner off a feed from Emily Francis with 9:26 remaining in regulation to register the victory. Tennessee managed 14 shots in the contest and just missed tallying the equalizer at 89:42 as a header from Lyndsey Patterson drifted just wide of the OSU net.

Four Lady Vols had multi-point games as 11th-ranked Tennessee took a decisive 5-2 win over No. 25 Wake Forest in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. Véronique Maranda led all scorers with two goals, while forwards Emily Redberg and Kylee Rossi both added a goal and an assist. The Demon Deacons struck first in the eighth minute, but that seemed to light a fire under the Orange and White. UT tied it up in the 29th on Maranda's goal off assists from Genna Gorman and Talia Wright. Maranda struck again just before half, finishing the cross from Gorman for her second goal. Ali Christoph hit the game-winner on a penalty kick after being taken down in the top of the box in the 49th minute.

Redshirt freshman forward Mick Imgram led all scorers with a goal and two assists to propel the Tennessee soccer team to a 4-0 victory over UAB in opening round action during the 2006 NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Tournament. Imgram helped open the scoring late in the first period with a long cross just inside the UT offensive third. The ball found its way to junior defender Jordan Falcusan, who punched the ball past Blazer starting goalkeeper Katie Forbis for the goal with 57 seconds left in the first half. The Big Orange added their first insurance goal in the 52nd minute when Imgram blasted a direct kick from 19 yards out past a diving Forbis for her seventh score of the year. Tennessee finished the scoring with two goals in a three-minute span. In the 68th, sophomore forward Kylee Rossi finished off a long cross from junior forward Emily Redberg for her 10th goal of the season. Three minutes later, senior midfielder Kristen Doukakis netted her fourth goal in four matches, putting in the rebound from Imgram's 25-yard rocket off the left post.

Lady Vols advanced on PKs, 4-3

Once again in an NCAA Tournament matchup between Tennessee and Duke, overtime was not enough. A penalty-kick shootout was required after the squads battled to a scoreless tie to determine who would move on in the national draw. The Lady Vols took home the 4-3 advantage in the shootout over the Blue Devils to advance into the regional semifinals of the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in five years. Tennessee got the early momentum when sophomore goalkeeper Jaimel Johnson stopped Blue Devil senior midfielder Darby Kroyer's initial shot. Junior forward Emily Redberg knocked in the first Tennessee try to put her squad on top. Duke's Elisabeth Redmond stepped up and knocked in her shot to tie things up. After the next UT shot missed, Duke had the chance to keep the shootout even, but its next shot was off-frame. Lady Vol senior midfielder Kristen Doukakis then stepped up to the PK spot and put her chance into the net to give UT a 2-1 advantage. The teams traded scores in the fourth round, before Duke's Rebecca Moros scored her chance to keep the pressure on the Lady Vols. UT sophomore forward Kylee Rossi ended any doubt when her ball crossed the line to end the shootout, 4-3, to push Tennessee onto the next round.

Tennessee 2
#1 North Carolina 6

Two late goals by Tennessee were not enough, as North Carolina's three goals in each half moved it into the regional finals of the 2006 NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Tournament with a 6-2 victory at Fetzer Field. Eventual National Champion Carolina got its first goal in the 14th minute after UT senior defender Jenny Jeffers stopped an Ali Hawkins header off a corner kick. The Tar Heels then played the ball back across the box, where Tobin Heath found Hawkins again for another header that got past UT sophomore goalkeeper Jaimel Johnson. The second came five minutes later, when UNC freshman forward Whitney Engen got a through ball from senior Heather O'Reilly and pushed the shot past Johnson for the score. Yael Averbuch added her 16th goal of the year in the 32nd minute when her 22-yard blast deflected off Johnson's hands and over the goal line. The Lady Vols did not give up, scoring two goals in the final six minutes of the game. At 84:28, senior All-American midfielder Ali Christoph put a shot past Ashlyn Harris for her 20th career goal, which stands eighth on UT's all-time list. In the match, North Carolina out-shot Tennessee, 16-9, but UT held a 5-4 advantage in corner kicks. The Big Orange became just the second team all year to tally two goals against the Tar Heels. The Lady Vols ended their season in Chapel Hill for the third time in program history, with two of those losses coming to the home Carolina Blue and White.

#15 Tennessee 2

The third-seeded Lady Vols successfully opened their 2007 NCAA Tournament run at Regal Soccer Stadium with a 2-0 victory over the Furman Lady Paladins. Sophomore midfielder Mick Imgram and junior forward Kylee Rossi each registered goals for the Big Orange offense as the Orange & White improved to 6-0-1 all-time in NCAA First Round matches. For Rossi the tally was the 29th of her career to tie former Lady Vol Laura Lauter Smith for the UT career record in the scoring category. Tennessee outshot the Lady Paladins 15-5 in the contest, including 10-2 during the first half of play. For junior goalkeeper Jaimel Johnson, the victory was the 20th of her career and the shutout was her 14th. UT improved to an impressive 13-0-1 this season when tallying the first goal of the match.

#15 Tennessee.....1 (2OT)

On the strength of junior forward Kylee Rossi's program record-breaking 30th career goal, Tennessee earned a spot in the NCAA Sweet 16 with a 1-0 double overtime victory over Clemson. The Lady Vols advanced to the Sweet 16 for the fifth time in program history. The match-winner came in the 104th minute after junior goalkeeper Jaimel Johnson found sophomore forward Mick Imgram on the right side. Imgram then fed Rossi in the penalty box, where she settled the ball before ripping a shot past the outstretched arms of the diving Tiger senior goalkeeper, Ashley Phillips, and into the upper left corner of the net. The goal was Rossi's 12th of the season, giving her 30 points on the year. With the score, the Pennington, N.J., native is now the career record holder in goals, game-winners and golden goals. The win marked UT's second over an ACC team this season and first in the NCAA Tournament. With the victory, the Big Orange notched its first NCAA Tournament overtime win.

#2 Portland 3

In front of a crowd of 4,841 at Portland's Merlo Field, the University of Tennessee women's soccer team saw its season come to an end in the Third Round of the NCAA Tournament. Portland got on the board first in the 16th minute, getting a goal from sophomore forward and leading scorer Michelle Enyeart. The Pilots' second goal came just two minutes later, when UP senior midfielder Natalie Budge got in the way of a rebounded shot, knocking it into the back of the net. Despite giving up two goals, Johnson made nine saves in the first 45 minutes, including two kick saves on shots from inside 10 yards. The defense also made one save of its own and blocked several UP shots. Portland came out of the locker rooms with the same energy, finding the back of the net just over one minute into the second frame. Senior defender Stephanie Lopez found Enyeart at the top of the box where she ripped a shot past Johnson for her second score of the match. Despite Tennessee's fifth loss in the Sweet 16, Johnson made 12 total saves in the match, setting a new career high.

Charlotte's two goals spelled an early exit for the University of Tennessee women's soccer team in the NCAA Tournament, as the 49ers took a 2-0 victory at Fetzer Field in Chapel Hill, N.C. Charlotte came out aggressive in the first half, putting five of its eight shots on goal. Each side had a few quality chances to score in the opening stanza, with several brief outbursts of activity in the box from both squads. In the 14th minute, Lady Vol sophomore midfielder Julie Edwards put the ball in the back of the net on a rebound but was called offsides before the shot. Freshman Chelsea Hatcher had another chance to score minutes later when a corner kick from Edwards found her in the center of the box. Hatcher ripped a shot but Charlotte keeper Lauren Brown made a last-second save with her right hand to keep the Lady Vols out of the net. The 49ers struck with the eventual game winner in the 51st minute as freshman Oni Bernard chased down a long pass before playing a ball into the slot for forward Nikki Dumencich whose shot slipped through the hands of UT keeper Jaimel Johnson. They found the back of the net again in the 69th minute. Nikki Czaplicki benefited from a deflection near the top of the box where she found herself free. The senior then blasted a shot into the upper left corner to give Charlotte a 2-0 lead.

A goal in the ninth minute set the early tone for Ohio State on Sat., Nov. 12, in NCAA First Round action at the Regal Soccer Stadium as the Buckeyes eliminated the Tennessee Lady Vol soccer team from postseason play, 3-0. Chelsea Hatcher led the Lady Vol offense versus Ohio State by taking four shots, including two on frame, while Emily Dowd was credited with a pair of shots. Freshman goalkeeper Julie Eckel made six stops between the pipes, concluding her initial campaign at UT with 105 saves. OSU registered a tone-setting score by getting on the scoreboard first during the ninth minute. A cross delivered from the right wing into the middle ended up in the possession of forward Tiffany Cameron, and she finished from nine yards out for an early 1-0 lead. It proved to be set pieces in the second half that hurt the Big Orange. At 67:08 Ohio State defender Megan Fuller delivered a corner from the right side to the left post. A header by Caitlyn Martin back out front was settled at 15 yards out and then blasted home into the lower left side of the net by midfielder Kristen Neiderhaus for a 2-0 lead. Just 5:59 later at 73:07 Ohio State played a short corner that was lifted inside the six-yard box. Waiting to knock home her second goal of the match was Cameron, as she granted the Bucks a commanding three-score advantage.

Miami (Ohio) 3
Tennessee 2 (OT)

Tennessee's soccer season came to a dramatic conclusion on Sunday afternoon as Miami (Ohio) scored with nine seconds left in regulation then tallied the winner in OT for a 3-2 finale at Regal Soccer Stadium. UT finished at 14-5-3 in its first season under head coach Brian Pensky. Miami's Kayla Zakrzewski scored the winner 4:43 into overtime as her shot went across the box and into the right side of the net inside the post setting off a celebration for the women in red. After Tennessee controlled most of the second half, a desperate Miami team pushed forward in the final minutes and scored the game-tying goal with nine seconds left in regulation as Kelsey Dinges lobbed the game-tying goal over Julie Eckel's head from about 35 yards on the left side out to send the game to extra time. Caroline Brown's goal with 15 minutes left in regulation had given Tennessee its second lead of the game at 2-1. Katie Lenz set up the goal with a soft tap assist to Brown, who deposited the ball to the lower right corner. To that point, Tennessee had outshot Miami, 6-0 in the second half. The teams traded goals midway through the first half, 1:20 apart. Alexis Owens, in what would be her final game with UT, scored on a rebound shot after Miami's keeper Allison Norenberg (four saves) was unable to control the ball. Miami quickly responded a minute later as Katy Kolesh scored on a corner kick header into the top corner of the goal. That deadlocked the game at 1-1, where it stood for nearly 50 minutes.

#20 Tennessee..... 2

Tennessee junior Danielle Marciano and redshirt freshman Erin Gilroy scored in an offensive flurry midway through the second half to lift the Volunteers a 2-0 first-round win in the NCAA soccer tournament versus Murray State. Neither the (15-4-1) Vols nor the (15-2-2) Murray State Racers could find any room to breathe in the first period, but goals by Marciano and Gilroy in the 59th and 63rd minutes respectively led Tennessee into the second round of the tournament for the first time since 2007. The Vols will play Friday against Washington State, who defeated No. 2-seeded UCF 1-0. Time and location to be determined by the NCAA. Saturday's game at Regal Soccer Stadium entered halftime 0-0 as neither team found it easy to take shots. The Vols took four shots to the Racers three. In the second half, Marciano broke through to put the Vols on the scoreboard with her second goal of the season. She took a pass from Gilroy, evaded defenders and put the ball into the corner. Four minutes later, Gilroy had a score of her own, taking a long pass from defender Maya Neal for her fourth goal of the season. Tennessee outshot Murray State 11 to 6. Marciano led with three shots, two of them on goal. Tennessee recorded its 10th shutout of the season and the first since defeating Georgia 4-0 on Oct. 13. Shae Yanez has recorded nine complete game shutouts.

The Tennessee soccer season came to an end Friday 3-1 in a penalty kick shootout loss to Washington State after a 2-2 tie in the second round of the NCAA tournament at Florida's Donald R. Dizney Stadium. Washington State (10-7-4) took an early lead with a strike in the 13th minute, but Tennessee (15-4-2) answered with two goals by junior forward Danielle Marcano in a 10-minute span in the first half. The Cougars tied the game late with defender Kelsee Crenshaw scoring with 11 minutes remaining in the second half. The game was still knotted at 2-2 after two overtime periods to force the deciding shootout. The teams were tied 1-1 in the shootout before Washington State goalkeeper Ella Dederick came up with three consecutive saves to seal the shootout win, 3-1. In the shootout, Cousins stepped up with a clean shot to start for Tennessee, and Washington State's Maegan O'Neill answered on the next attempt. Washington State made its next two attempts, and Dederick saved the next three Tennessee shots to advance.

Bunny Shaw netted a pair of goals in the final 15 minutes as No. 2 seed Tennessee rallied for a 2-1 victory over Louisville in the first round of the NCAA Tournament Friday night at Regal Soccer Stadium. Trailing 1-0 in the 75th minute, Shaw took a long volley from Maya Neal into the box and connected from nine yards out inside the right post. Her second goal came 11 minutes later, as Shaw's cross from the right side ricocheted off the left post into the back of the net, giving the Vols a 2-1 lead with less than five minutes remaining in the match. Louisville (12-7) notched the opener in the 20th minute, as All-ACC midfielder Emina Ekic found the back of the net from six yards out. The goal was assisted by junior forward Brooklynn Rivers, who crossed the ball into the heart of the box from the left side of the pitch.

With the win, UT advanced to the NCAA Round of 16 for the first time since 2007. Marcano's heroic tally came with 55 seconds left on the game clock, converting off a corner kick from Katie Cousins inside the six-yard box. Trailing 2-0, Arizona (13-6-2) scored back-to-back goals in the 78th and 80th minutes to equalize the contest. Samantha Falasco found the netting off a corner kick before midfielder Kennedy Kieneker tied it up from close range. Salera Jordan delivered the opening goal in the first half off an assist from Meghan Flynn. Marcano gave Tennessee (15-2-3) a 2-0 cushion 46 seconds into the second half on a 20-yard dribbler into the lower right corner.

Guided by another brace from senior forward Danielle Marcano and a shutout effort from the Volunteer defensive unit, No. 2 seed Tennessee dispatched No. 3 seed Texas A&M 3-0 Sunday night in the NCAA Tournament Round of 16. UT advances to the NCAA Quarterfinals for the first time in program history. Just two and a half minutes into the match, Marcano scored her third goal of the tournament off a cross from Meghan Flynn to put the Vols (16-2-3) ahead 1-0 in the early going. Marcano added some insurance right out of halftime with another strike in the 47th minute, giving UT a 2-0 cushion over the 16th-ranked Aggies. Bunny Shaw curved a pass into the box before McKinley Burkett tapped the ball to Marcano, who finished it off into the top shelf from 12 yards out. Salera Jordan put the game away in the 68th minute with a header goal, scoring off a cross from Flynn to give Tennessee a 3-0 edge. MA Vignola set up the score with a pass to Flynn into the lower left corner of the pitch. Senior goalkeeper Shae Yanez recorded her 10th solo shutout of the season, racking up a career-high tying eight saves in the process. Tennessee has logged 12 clean sheets as a team, tying a program record that has stood since 2003.

Tennessee's historic soccer season came to an end in the NCAA Quarterfinals, falling to No. 1 overall seed Stanford 2-0 Friday afternoon at the Laird Q. Cagan Stadium. The Vols finished the 2018 season 16-3-3 overall, good for a program-record .795 winning percentage. UT's run to the quarterfinals marked the furthest Tennessee had ever been in NCAA Tournament. Stanford (21-0-2) got on the board first with a goal from Civana Kuhlmann in the 27th minute of play. The score came from 10 yards into the upper right corner of the net off an assist from Catarina Macario, giving the Cardinal a 1-0 advantage. Marcario gave Stanford a 2-0 cushion in the 59th minute with a low line drive inside the left post. The Cardinal's 2-0 lead would hold for the remainder of the contest. Tennessee's closest chance at a score came in the 79th minute, as junior midfielder Katie Cousins stepped up for a penalty kick. Cardinal keeper Alison Jahansouz dove for her sixth save of the match to preserve the shutout. Senior goalkeeper Shae Yanez tallied a career-high 12 saves in her final match for the Tennessee Vols. SEC Offensive Player of the Year Bunny Shaw led the Big Orange with five shot attempts, while forwards Danielle Marciano and Salera Jordan each got off a pair of shots.

Lipscomb..... 0

No. 6 Tennessee advanced to the second round of the NCAA Women's Soccer Championship, beating Lipscomb on Friday in front of a crowd of 1,868 in Regal Soccer Stadium, 3-0. The match was the third-seeded Vols' first NCAA game since 2018, and the win improved UT's record when hosting to 14-2-1. The victory moved Tennessee's record to 19-2-0 on the season, setting a new program record for single-season wins. With the shutout, the Vols also tied the single-season record for shutouts at 12. The Vols out-shot the Bisons 13-5 in the first half, with six of those being on target. Burdette scored UT's only goal of the first period, blasting a shot to the far post from 25 yards out off a pass from freshman Claire Rain. The game remained a 1-0 affair until Ellis scored her second of the season in the 73rd minute, knocking one in from close range off an assist from Huff. Less than a minute later, Huff added to the tally, getting a head on a serve from Maria Nelson to put one into the back corner of the net from eight yards out. Kristi Jones got a good opportunity for the Bisons in the 89th minute, bouncing one off the crossbar from inside the box, but the shot ricocheted wide, and the Vols closed out the win.

Two first-half goals gave No. 6 UT a 2-0 win over No. 15 Washington State on Friday, advancing the Vols to the NCAA Round of 16. The shutout was Tennessee's 13th of the season, setting a new single-season record and extending UT's streak of holding non-conference opponents scoreless to nine games. Tennessee (20-2-0), a No. 3 seed, was just the fourth team to score multiple goals on WSU (14-3-4) this season. Freshmen Taylor Huff and Jordan Fusco found the net for UT, while junior Lindsey Romig made six saves to record the clean sheet. The Vols started the match hot, outshooting the Cougs 8-4 to go up 2-0 in the first half while taking five corners to their one. Fusco put the Vols out in front in the 23rd minute, placing a shot into the left corner of the net from 10 yards out off a perfectly placed entry pass from Mackenzie George. UT went up 2-0 in the 33rd minute when Huff beat the keeper low and to the right off a cross into the box from Hannah Zaluski. The Vols held Washington State without a shot in the final 10 minutes, advancing to the NCAA Round of 16 with a 2-0 win.

No. 6 Tennessee's record-breaking season came to an end in the NCAA Round of 16 on Sunday as the Vols fell to the host team, #9 Michigan, 3-0. With a record of 20-3-0, this squad finishes the season as UT's winningest team in program history, having claimed an SEC East Division title and UT's first SEC Tournament Championship since 2008. They also set new single-season records for longest shutout streak (633:53) and total shutouts (13). Third-seeded Tennessee was led by Jaida Thomas, Wrenne French and Taylor Huff who each tallied two shots and one shot on goal. Lindsey Romig made six saves on the day. No. 2 seed Michigan's goals were scored by Sarah Stratigakis, Meredith Haakenson, and Sammi Woods. The 2021 Vols are the first SEC team to record 20 wins in a single season since Texas A&M in 2014 (22-3-2) and just the third SEC team to reach the milestone in the last 20 years.
