INSIDE THE ISLANDERS

SETTING THE SCENE

- The Islanders take their six-game winning streak to the midwest to challenge last year's national runner-up Wisconsin Badgers Tuesday night at the Kohl
- The game will be broadcast live on the Big Ten Network with commentary from Brian Anderson and Jon Crispin. The Islanders Digital Network will also have live audio with Voice of the Islanders Steven King on the call.

NCAA TOURNAMENT TILT

- The Islanders and the Badgers have met one time before and it was one of the most memorable games in Texas A&M-Corpus Christi history, a NCAA Tournament First Round match-up back in 2007.
- Having joined the Southland Conference for the 2006-07 after being an independent program, it was the Islanders' first opportunity to earn an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament and they did it by winning the league championship.
- After scoring the first 10 points of the game, and leading by as many as 18 points in the first half, the 15th Islanders took a 27-19 advantage into the break. Number two seed Wisconsin eventually came back and won 76-63 to oust the Islanders from the tournament.

GOING STREAKING

- The Islanders are on a six-game winning streak, having defeated St. Edward's, Furman, Elon, Austin Peay, Texas State and most recently UTSA.
- The team's last loss was a 67-56 defeat at Texas on Nov. 21.
- It marks their longest win streak since a seven-gamer during 2013-14.

C.T.T. ALWAYS

CHARACTER, TOUGHNESS, TALENT

The program's official motto - the pillars on which Islanders Basketball is built. Based on being where you're supposed to be, doing the things you're supposed to do, when you're supposed to do them. Toughness isn't necessarily defined by physical toughness in the Islanders program. It is by being tough enough to battle through when things aren't going well. This is also illustrated in the following two mottos.

EGBs

ENERGY GENERATING BEHAVIORS

Coach Wilson has outlined some the Islanders can do to help pick up the energy during games. Some of these include deflections, blocked shots, offensive rebounds, being vocal on defense and cheering for your teammates.

KILLS

By definition, three defensive stops in a row. The Islanders bench keeps track of what "number" they are playing for on any given defensive possession. When the team is going for a kill, the players on the court will slap the floor.

LEVEL 5

This was introduced by Dr. Joe Carr on his visit with the team last season. Players will often rate each other or the team as a whole on a 0-to-5 scale, with 5 being the best. You will also hear coach talk about a "Level 5 effort" on a possession or for the game as a whole.

WILLIS WILSON

Head Coach • Fifth season • Rice (1982)

2014 BEN JOBE NATIONAL COACH OF THE YEAR

From the first day of Willis Wilson's tenure at the Island University on March 25, 2011, he made it instantly clear what his goal for the program was.

"We want to be the premier program in the Southland Conference and follow down the paths of a Butler, Gonzaga, George Mason or Virginia Commonwealth."

Taking a program with one NCAA Tournament appearance and just 12 years of Division I history into a place alongside the premier names in college basketball is a tall task. The first step is building a culture and foundation for the Islanders.

The program's philosophy for recruiting student-athletes – Character, Toughness, Talent – will be a major step in the building process for the Islanders. These attributes in basketball players that work hard will build Islanders Basketball into a championship program.

In the 2014-15 season, the Islanders posted the strongest campaign of the Willis Wilson era, notching 20 wins for the first time since the 2006-07 team advanced to the NCAA Tournament. The Islanders went 13-5 in conference play to finish third, and were the only team to defeat champion Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston State. A&M-Corpus Christi again advanced to the Southland Tournament semifinals, falling to SHSU, and earned a spot in the College Insider Tournament for the second year in a row. This time, the team knocked off former NCAA Tournament Cinderella Florida Gulf Coast before hosting the first postseason home game in program history, a loss to Kent State, in the second round.

Individual honors rolled in once again, as John Jordan was named first team All-Southland for the second straight year, and added NABC First Team All-District 23 honors for the first time. Sophomore forward Rashawn Thomas picked up second team recognition in each of those categories as well. Jordan, in particular rolled out the milestones, as the Wilson recruit became the school's all-time leader in points, assists, minutes, steals, games played, games started, free throws made and free throws attempted.

Wilson also earned a personal milestone, as the bench boss picked up his 250th career win in the first game of the season. The 20-win campaign was his first since 2003-04 as a head coach. His team finished strong for the second year in a row, winning six of the last seven contests to enter the Southland Conference Tournament on a hot streak thanks to outstanding defense.

During the 2013-14 season, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi took a huge step toward those goals, as the team had the third-largest turnaround in the nation, finishing with 12 more wins than it did the season before. The Islanders rolled to a 14-4 record and a second place finish in the Southland, and earned a berth in the College Insider Tournament. With a win over Northern Colorado in the CIT, the Islanders posted the program's first victory in a postseason tournament since its inception in 1999.

Individual accolades came with the team success, most notably for Wilson, who was the recipient of the Ben Jobe Coach of the Year Award, presented annually to the top minority coach in Division I.

Players were also in on the recognition, including Jordan, who picked up First Team All-Southland honors and Second Team All-Region 23 recognition. The Houston native set a new school record in assists for the third straight season, posting 177 on the year, and became just the ninth player in school history to top 1,000 points in his career. Thomas was also one of the top newcomers in the Southland, after averaging 10.7 points and 5.2 rebounds in his debut campaign.

The first year of the Willis Wilson era saw a team with just 10 scholarship players, including 10 newcomers and just two players with significant Division I experience, take on one of the most challenging non-conference schedules in the nation. And though the end of the season record showed 6-24, the Islanders played all 30 games against Division I opponents and had 18 games within striking distance in the closing minutes.

Before coming to the Island University, Wilson served two seasons as an assistant to Josh Pastner at the University of Memphis. In two years, he saw the Tigers go 49-19 and advance to the postseason both years. During the 2010-11 season, the Tigers went 25-9, won their fifth Conference USA Championship and a berth in the 2011 NCAA Tournament. In his first season for the Tigers, Wilson helped guide the Tigers to a 24-10 overall record and a National Invitation Tournament (NIT) berth.

Wilson became one of the most respected coaches in the country in his time as the head coach at his alma mater, Rice. In 16 years leading the Owls, Wilson posted a career record of 219-246, leading the team to the postseason three times in his tenure. He is the school's all-time winningest coach, and his reputation in the collegiate coaching circles – and across college basketball – is impeccable.

Wilson had the most winning campaigns in Rice basketball history during his time as the head coach. His 2003-04 squad recorded a 22-11 overall record, and the 22 victories were the second-most for a single season since World War II. Wilson guided the Owls to 60 wins in a three-year span from 2002-05, marking the second-most victories in a three-year stretch in school history.

2014-15

Overall

The Silver Spring, Md., native also led the Owl program to the most postseason appearances since 1950. Wilson guided the Owls to three National Invitation Tournaments (NIT) – in 1993, 2004 and 2005. Rice's first round win at Wisconsin in the 1993 NIT was the program's first postseason victory since the 1954 NCAA Tournament. Wilson was also an assistant on the Rice coaching staff when the Owls earned an NIT berth in 1991.

In his tenure at Rice, Wilson coached 17 all-conference performers, including 2007 Conference USA Player of the Year Morris Almond. Almond, a 2007 NBA Draft first round pick, and Michael Harris (2005) both earned All-America accolades. Wilson also had four players pick up CoSIDA Academic All-District honors, including Adam Peakes who was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-America selection.

The 2004 team was Wilson's most successful, as it won 22 games including the BP Top of the World Classic championship. For his leadership in 2004, Wilson became the first Rice basketball coach to be selected as the National Association of Basketball Coaches District 9 Coach of the Year since the award began in 1970. During the 2005 season, the Owls won 19 contests and advanced to postseason action in consecutive seasons for only the second time in school history, as Michael Harris and Jason McKrieth again were named all-conference.

Prior to taking over the reins of the Rice program, Wilson spent the 1991-92 campaign as an assistant on Mike Montgomery's staff at Stanford. The Cardinal finished the season with an 18-11 overall record and a 10-8 Pac-10 mark for fourth place in the league. Stanford earned an NCAA Tournament bid and lost in the first round to Alabama. Wilson coached All-American Adam Keefe, who finished his collegiate career as one of four players in NCAA history to have 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds while shooting 60 percent from the floor in a career.

Wilson began his collegiate coaching career as an assistant at his alma mater in 1985-86. After a one-year stint as a head coach at Houston's Strake Jesuit Prep, Wilson returned to Rice as an assistant from 1987-91. As a member of the Rice staff, Wilson helped the Owls improve their Southwest Conference standing each year. During Wilson's final year as a Rice assistant, the Owls finished fourth in the league and received a bid to the NIT. The winning record was Rice's first in 20 years and the postseason appearance marked its first in 21 seasons.

After arriving on the Rice campus in August 1978, Wilson was a four-year letterman for the Owls. He co-captained the Owls to a 15-win season in 1982 and was a teammate of former NBA star and Rice Athletic Hall of Fame member Ricky Pierce. Wilson, a Will Rice College Fellow and member of the college court, graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science in 1982. He also participated in the Rice NCAA Volunteers for Youth program.

Wilson and his wife, Vicki, have three children, daughter, Kristin, and twin sons, Zachary and Keenan.
