WCHA Postseason

The Western Collegiate Hockey Association women's hockey championship began as the WCHA Playoff Championship in 2000. In 2002, 2003 and 2004, it was called the WCHA Final Five before returning as the WCHA Playoff Championship from 2005 to 2007. Since 2008, the women's postseason championship has been known as the WCHA Final Face-off. Beginning with the 2006 season, the WCHA postseason incorporated a first round best-of-three series to determine the Final Face-off participants. Four teams advance to the WCHA Final Face-off for the two-day tournament.

- On Nov. 17, 2010, the Wisconsin State Building Commission gave final approval to the multi-level, hockey and swimming competition and training facility to be constructed adjacent to the Kohl Center on the UW-Madison campus. LaBahn Arena is named after Charles (UW-Madison '49) and Mary Ann LaBahn, the lead donors for the project.
- The official ground breaking ceremony for the LaBahn Arena took place on Wednesday, May 11, 2011. The building was turned over to the UW athletic program on Oct. 1, 2012. The building dedication and first game was Oct. 19, 2012, when the Wisconsin women's hockey team hosted Bemidji State. The total cost of the project was $27.9 million, with two-thirds of the cost coming from gifts to UW Athletics and the remainder coming from bonds.
- The Badgers just completed an undefeated season at LaBahn Arena, going 17-0-0 during the 2017-18 season. UW went 5-0-0 against ranked teams at LaBahn Arena and won its fifth-straight NCAA quarterfinal at the rink.
- LaBahn Arena is a tri-level complex that includes, among other items:
 - Seating for 2,273 spectators
 - 200' by 90' ice sheet for men's and women's hockey practice and women's competitions
 - Women's hockey office suite and associated support spaces
 - Underground connection to the Kohl Center

- With strong ties to Wisconsin hockey as a coach's son, player and assistant coach, Johnson stepped into the role of head women's hockey coach beginning with the 2002-03 season. During his tenure, Johnson and the Badgers have shattered both school and national records. Johnson has established Wisconsin's rank among the elite in college women's hockey. Under his direction, Wisconsin has compiled six NCAA titles, nine Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoff titles and nine WCHA regular-season crowns. Johnson and the Badgers were the first team ever to land in the NCAA championship game in four consecutive seasons, winning the title three times (2006, 2007, 2009).
- A five-time American Hockey Coaches' Association Division I Coach of the Year, Johnson led the Badgers to their fourth national title in 2010-11 while posting a 37-2-2 record, setting a then-NCAA record for most wins in a single season. The Badgers also claimed the WCHA regular-season and playoff titles en route to winning their fourth national championship in six years.
- Five Badgers have won the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award under Johnson. Sara Bauer became UW's first award recipient in 2006, Jessie Vetter received the award in 2009, Meghan Duggan in 2011, Brianna Decker in 2012 and Ann-Renee Desbiens in 2017.
- In 2005-06, Wisconsin debuted at No. 1 and went on to validate that distinction with a 36-4-1 record and a national championship. As an encore in 2006-07, the team successfully defended all three titles while posting a 36-1-4 record.
- Johnson guided the 2010 U.S. Olympic team to the silver medal at the XXI Olympic Winter Games in Vancouver, British Columbia. The U.S. fell to Canada, 2-0, in the gold medal game after outscoring its opponents 40-2 in the first four games of the tournament.
- In his playing career at Wisconsin, Johnson helped the Badgers to the 1977 NCAA Championship during his freshman campaign. The first Badger ever to win WCHA Rookie of the Year honors, he went on to become the school's second all-time leading scorer with 256 points on a school-record 125 goals and 131 assists in just three seasons
- Johnson represented USA Hockey as a player in 13 international tournaments. Most notably, he led the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team's gold medal-winning effort with 11 points, including two goals in the "Miracle On Ice" against the Soviet Union and an assist on the game-winning goal against Finland in the final contest.
- During his 11-year NHL career, Johnson collected 203 goals, 305 assists and 508 points, highlighted by his 87-point season as the captain of the Hartford Whalers in 1983-84. He also tied an NHL All-Star Game record with three assists that season.
- Johnson is the son of legendary coach Bob Johnson. Bob coached Wisconsin to three national titles and led the United States at the 1976 Olympics, three Canada Cups (1981, 1984, 1987) and four IIHF Men's World Championships (1973-75, 1981). He went on to coach the NHL's Calgary Flames for five seasons (1982-87) and led the Pittsburgh Penguins to the Stanley Cup title in 1991 before passing away from brain cancer that fall.
