Kris Kelderman was named the seventh head coach in Milwaukee program history in May of 2012. It didn't take him long to make an impression with the Panthers, posting the first winning regular season for the team in seven years in his initial campaign that fall.

The team came up just short of a third-straight Horizon League Championship appearance in 2021, falling in the postseason semifinals. Three members of the squad were named First-Team All-Horizon League with Logan Farrington, Paolo Gratton, and Jake Kelderman all repeating as first-team honorees. The Panthers finished first in the league in assists-per-game (2.0), a total that ranked 35th in the NCAA, while also placing 28th in the NCAA in shots-per-game (14.8).

Kelderman led the team to a championship in the unprecedented 2020 campaign, taking the Panthers back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2013. The team rose to the occasion during the adversity-filled spring campaign, winning each of its final three regular-season matches to reach the postseason as the No. 4 seed. From there, the squad topped No. 2 UIC on the road, 2-1, and then knocked off nationally-ranked Northern Kentucky in the title game on its home field. The Panthers topped the Norse - ranked #22 at the time - by a final score of 1-0 to punch their ticket to the NCAA Tournament. Three players were named National Soccer Coaches Association of America All-Region, with the team finishing 8-5 overall.

He led a strong finish to the 2019 campaign for the Panthers, posting a 6-1-4 record from Oct. 1 on, while closing the season on an eight-game unbeaten streak (5-0-3), which included a 1-1 draw in the Horizon League Tournament Championship before falling in heartbreaking fashion in a penalty-kick shootout. The squad went 10-6-4 overall, with two players earning first-team all-league honors as well as six players with postseason accolades in total. The defense was tops in the Horizon League, posting a conference-best 1.00 goals-against average as well as eight shutouts.

The team came oh-so-close to a return to the Horizon League Tournament championship game in 2018, taking No. 18 Wright State to overtime on the road before falling in a penalty-kick shootout in the semifinals after a 1-1 draw. That capped a 9-7-3 campaign, which included a victory over Ohio State as well as a 2-0-1 mark against in-state schools (2-1 over Marquette/1-0 over Green Bay/1-1 against Wisconsin), helping keep the "Milwaukee Cup" and "Chancellor's Cup" on Milwaukee's campus.

The 2017 campaign finished at 10-5-4, the third year in a row the squad posted a higher victory total. The Panthers led the Horizon League in goals (31), assists (29) and points (91) and were second in goals-against average (0.943) on defense. The team spent nearly a month in the regional rankings and also won six conference games in a row for the first time since 2002.

He directed one of the youngest teams in the nation in 2015 - the Panthers had 14 freshmen and 21 total underclassmen on the roster - to mark the third-youngest team in the country. They competed each and every contest, with all but one of their losses on the year coming in a one-goal game and four going to overtime. That upward trend continued in 2016, as the team went 5-3-1 in league play and advanced to the semifinals of the Horizon League Tournament. Again, all but one loss on the season was a one-goal setback, with the Panthers spending time in the NSCAA regional rankings over the course of the campaign.

He enjoyed great success in 2013, guiding his team to a 15-3-2 record during the campaign, capped by the ninth NCAA Tournament appearance in program history. A 2013 WSA College Coach of the Year nominee, his turnaround of the program has been steady. The 15 victories in 2013 marked the most for UWM since 2003. They have also been very tough to beat at Engelmann Stadium under his watch, posting a 48-22-12 mark in that span.

Milwaukee got off to a fast start in 2014, going 3-1 through four games to earn a regional ranking before injuries took their toll. The team was prolific on both sides of the ball in 2013. The offense led the Horizon League in nearly all categories, finishing 13th in scoring and 16th in total goals at the NCAA Division I level. It was just as good on defense, setting a school record with a 0.63 goals against average - breaking the mark of 0.67 set in 2002 - in ranking seventh in the NCAA in team GAA and 11th with its 10 shutouts.

The team got off to the second-best start in program history in 2013, posting a 9-0-1 record in the first 10 games before an overtime loss ended the streak. That stretch helped the Panthers earn their first national ranking since 2003, peaking at third in the region and 24th in the NSCAA (National Soccer Coaches Association of America) poll the week of Oct. 7.

He directed the team to an impressive 6-1 record at Engelmann Stadium his first season and helped the squad earn a spot in the NSCAA Regional Poll for the first time since 2005. Four players earned Horizon League postseason honors - the highest number in six years - as the team finished 8-8-2 overall.

Kelderman came to Milwaukee from Green Bay, where he spent the 2011 season as the head coach of the Phoenix. Prior to his time in Green Bay, Kelderman served four seasons as an assistant coach in MLS and two stints as an assistant coach at George Mason. He also played four seasons in MLS and a total of nine seasons in pro soccer.

A Neenah native, Kelderman was a two-time state champion and the Wisconsin Gatorade Player of the Year in 1986 at Neenah High School while playing for his father, Harry. He actually won championships as a player at the high school, college and professional levels and was inducted into the Wisconsin State Soccer Association Hall of Fame in March 2010.

Kelderman's coaching career is highlighted by four seasons as the top assistant for two different teams in MLS. He worked with the Kansas City Wizards from 2007-09 and then spent the 2010 season with D.C. United. His time at George Mason included an NCAA Tournament appearance and top-25 ranking in 2005 and a second stint at the school before becoming the head coach at Green Bay.

Kelderman has also served as the technical director at Vienna Youth Soccer Club (2003-06) and Curt Onalfo Soccer, Inc. (2001-06), as the head coach and trainer with D.C. United Super Y-League U17 team (2004-06) and as the head coach of the Wisconsin Rebels (2000).

Kelderman guided Green Bay to an 11-7-1 record in 2011, making him just the third coach in Phoenix history to have 11 wins or more in his first season at the helm. Kelderman also helped Tony Walls to Horizon League Player of the Year honors and played a major role in helping Walls become the first player in Phoenix history to sign a professional contract with an MLS team.

Kelderman's professional playing career lasted nine seasons. He spent a total of four seasons with three teams in MLS, winning back-to-back championships while playing for D.C. United in 1996 and 1997. He then moved on to play for the Miami Fusion in 1998 and the New England Revolution in 1999. His pro career also included time with Milwaukee Rampage (1993-95, 2000) and Milwaukee Wave (2000-01) as well as stints with the St. Louis Ambush, Tampa Bay Terror, Buffalo Blizzard and Baltimore Blast.

Kelderman was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference performer at the University of Virginia and helped the Cavaliers win the national championship in 1989. He closed out his career in the top-10 in both career points and assists in Virginia's record books. Kelderman also played on the Under-17 United States National Team in the U17 Youth World Cup in 1985.

Greg Rosenthal was named the assistant coach for the Milwaukee men's soccer team in early April of 2022.

Rosenthal is a familiar name to the MKE program, having played four years for the Panthers from 2007 to 2010. He made 70 starts in 73 career games in his time at Milwaukee, while also becoming just the second player in program history to serve as a team captain for three years of his career.

"I am extremely excited about the addition of Greg to our staff and program," head coach Kris Kelderman said. "He is someone I have known for quite some time and am very confident is a great fit for this role. He checked all the boxes for the ideal candidate when searching for a new assistant coach. The success he's experienced as a former Panther and as a professional player will greatly benefit our student-athletes in their development and also in our winning culture. Greg has a thorough knowledge of the soccer scene in the Midwest region, due to both him being a Minnesota native as well as coaching both collegiately and in youth soccer here in our home state. He is a high-character individual and will be a great role model for our guys. We welcome Greg once again to the Panther Family!"

Rosenthal most recently served as the Competitions Administrator for the Wisconsin Youth Soccer Association, a position he held since 2018. In the position, Rosenthal was responsible for overseeing the administration of the Southeast Classic League, Southwest Classic League, Northwest Classic League, and Presidents Cup. He also managed the yearly budget for all competitions and helped lead the growth of soccer in the state of Wisconsin for the U.S. Youth Members.

Rosenthal spent 2017-2018 as an assistant with the Marian University men's program, leading player recruitment as well as playing a major role in training sessions. He gained additional coaching experience with Ole Football Academy (2014) and Exodus Team Wellington (2015) in New Zealand as well as with Bavarian United's 17U-19U teams from 2017 to present. Included in his time coaching with Team Wellington was serving as the assistant for the OFC Champions League campaign in 2015.

As a player for the Panthers, Rosenthal capped his career by being named First-Team All-Horizon League following his senior campaign in 2010. He scored two goals and had two assists on the season, including the tying goal against No. 22 Michigan State in the closing minutes. He started all 19 games for the Panthers in 2010, playing all but a handful of minutes against Northern Illinois Nov. 4 – when he came out against the Huskies, it brought to an end an impressive streak of 31-straight games where he played every minute. Rosenthal also began his career by earning Horizon League All-Newcomer honors as a freshman.

He signed professionally to play with Gamla Upsala SK in Sweden after his collegiate career came to a close. That was followed by time as a pro with Valsra Syrianska IK (2013), Western Suburbs SC (2014), and Exodus Team Wellington (2014-15).

Agustin Rey joined the staff of Kris Kelderman as an assistant coach in the fall of 2016.

Rey wrapped up his playing career at Milwaukee in 2015, starting all 18 games as a senior in posting career highs in all categories. He posted a 1.07 goals-against average, 52 saves and three shut-outs, finishing seventh in the Horizon League in both GAA and saves per game.

Rey posted his first career shutout with a pair of saves in 106 minutes of action against Oakland Sept. 19. He finished the season strong, recording shutouts in two of his final three starts - had clean sheets against Cleveland State Oct. 24, Western Illinois Oct. 27 and for the initial 77 minutes of the season finale against Northern Kentucky Nov. 6 - allowing just two goals over the final 450-plus minutes.

Aaron Haselhorst was named the Assistant Athletic Director of Sports Medicine for the Milwaukee Panthers in the spring of 2019. Haselhorst came to Milwaukee after being the Assistant Athletic Trainer at Creighton University since 2015.

Haselhorst had been at Creighton since February of 2015 as an assistant athletic trainer, with his primary sport coverage coming with men's soccer program as well as both golf teams.

Prior to his time at Creighton, he served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at Eastern Illinois University from 2006-08, covering a wide variety of the sport programs. He then joined the staff on a full-time basis as an assistant athletic trainer at EIU for four years before transitioning into the head athletic trainer role for his final two-plus years on campus.

He has additional experience as a member of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Medical Staff (2015/2018) and with the College World Series Medical Staff (2015-18). In addition, during the summer and fall of 2007, he completed an internship with the New England Patriots.

Originally from Norfolk, Nebraska, Haselhorst earned his Bachelor of Science degree with an Emphasis in Athletic Training from the University of Nebraska at Omaha in 2006 and his Master of Science Degree from Eastern Illinois.
