NBA

Brett Gunning is now in his second season as a member of the Houston Rockets' coaching staff.

Malik Allen played in Milwaukee before signing with the Denver Nuggets prior to 2009-10.

Kyle Lowry was at Villanova often last summer to prepare for his first full season with the Houston Rockets in 2009-10.

Dante Cunningham blocks a shot in NBA summer league action.

Home Court Edge

The Pavilion Villanova, Pa.

Wildcats' last 95 regular season contests in the building dating back to the 2000-01 campaign.

In addition to being the Wildcats' home for basketball, The Pavilion also features the Wildcat men's basketball locker room, a Cinema added in 2002, two additional locker rooms, an indoor five-lane 200-meter track, additional basketball, tennis and/or volleyball courts, a state of the art media room, and one of the East's finest indoor swimming and diving facilities.

Built at a cost of $15 million, the Wildcats opened their new home in

Villanova's on-campus home is the Pavilion, a 6,500 seat venue that has been sold out for the a grand fashion by upending ACC power Maryland 64-62 on February 1, 1986. In 1999-2000 the Wildcats went past the one million mark for total attendance since the building was opened. More than 1.5 million people have passed through the Pavilion's turnstiles in its history.

In the 23 seasons that the Wildcats have competed in The Pavilion, Villanova has compiled a 21-54 (.797) overall record, and a 92-35 (.724) Big East Conference record. VU was a perfect 13-0 in the building during the 2008-09 season.

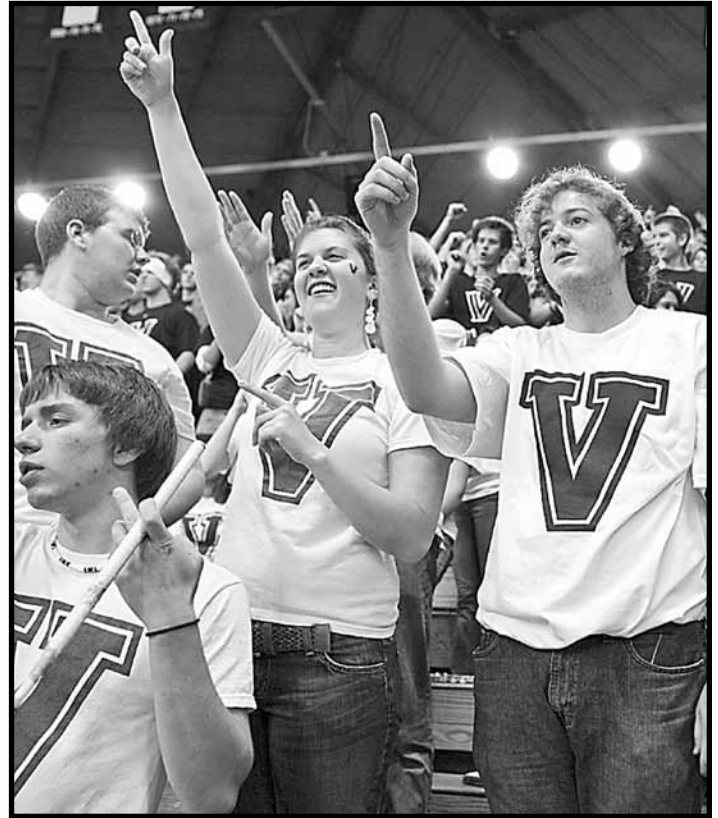

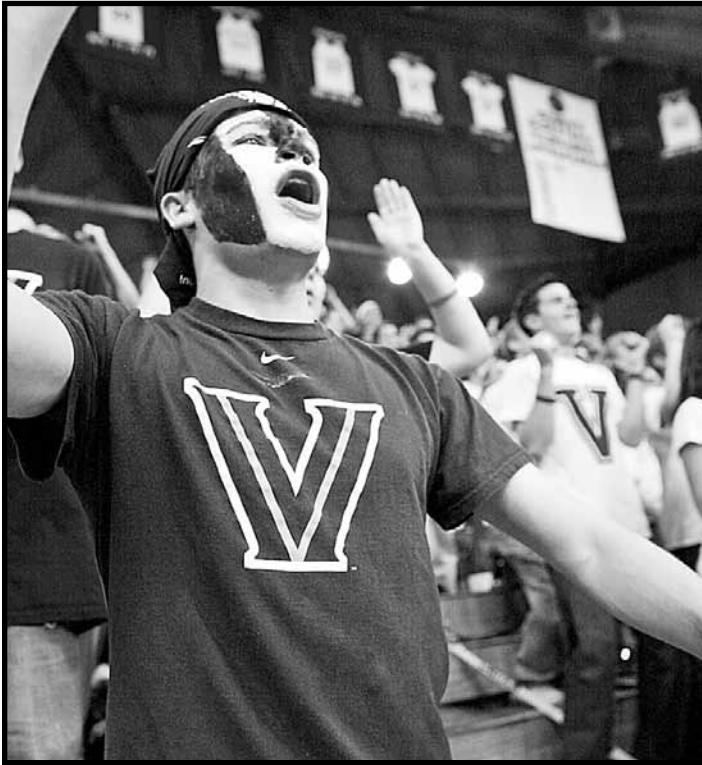

The facility has truly become one of the most exciting in the league, with winning becoming the norm and paid sellouts a common sight. Since the 1994-95 season, Villanova has compiled a mark of 151-22 overall (.873) in the Pavilion, including a record of 68-17 (.800) in the Big East Conference.

Since Feb. 1, 1986, Villanova's on-campus home has been the Pavilion. The Wildcats bring a 28-game winning streak with them into 2009-10 and own an all-time winning percentage of .797 in the building.

Home Court Edge

Wachovia Center Philadelphia, Pa.

The Wachovia Center is Villanova's home away from home and the site of some of the most exciting victories in recent seasons. Last season, Villanova hosted three games in the facility and played two more in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament with an overall record of 4-1 (.800)

The Wildcats drew sellout crowds of more than 20,000 in two of their three home-court appearances in the venue last season. They also attracted a sellout crowd of better than 17,000 on Jan. 28 when they defeated No. 3 Pittsburgh 67-57 in the final college basketball game at the Wachovia Spectrum.

The Wachovia Center is also the home of the NBA's Philadelphia 76ers and the NHL's Philadelphia Flyers, and has hosted the largest hockey and basketball crowds in Pennsylvania history. The Center hosted the NBA Finals in the spring of 2001, the NBA All-Star Game in 2002 and the NCAA Tournament in 2001 and 2006.

The Wachovia Center features 30 concession stands on two separate levels and has 23 ticket windows. The building has a unique oval design which ensures no obstructed views for all 20,456 fans. It is also home to the studios of Comcast Sports Net.

Villanova Basketball Experience

Uniquely Villanova

The bond between the Villanova Men's Basketball program and the community it represents is acknowledged in a series of traditions developed in this decade

Through the Nation's Heartland

At each Pavilion home game, the Wildcats enter the arena before tipoff through the 1,500 seat student section as a sign that they are very much a part of the student population.

Thanks For the Support

Following every Villanova home game, win or lose, the Wildcats appear before the student section as a unit with their fingers in the sign of a "V" to say thanks for bringing energy to the arena.

Farewell Seniors

On Senior Night, the Villanova Basketball seniors meet with their fellow classmates prior to the game to express their appreciation for the four years of passionate cheering on their behalf.
