NCAA Impact Award

The NCAA Impact Award — formerly known as Today's Top 10 (2014-25) and previously the NCAA Top Six (1986-94) and NCAA Top Eight (1995-2013) Awards — celebrates the very best of college athletics by honoring senior student-athletes from the prior academic year who exemplify the highest standards of athletic excellence, academic achievement, and service to their campuses and communities. Chosen by the NCAA Honors Committee — composed of leaders from NCAA member schools and conferences, the NCAA Impact Award represents the pinnacle of student-athlete recognition.
