QUICK HITTERS: Washington leads the Pac-12 in first downs allowed, passing yards allowed, pass efficiency defense, and scoring defense; and is second in total defense ... UW is one of just seven teams that has allowed three or fewer scrimmage plays of 40 or more yards this season ... just two teams (Arizona State, 1; Colorado & Georgia, 2) have allowed fewer ... UW is tied with Georgia and Oregon for fewest 30-plus yard plays allowed, with seven ... Washington is the only team that has yet to allow a pass play of 40 or more yards, and leads the nation in 30-plus-yard pass plays allowed, with three ... Race Porter is currently No. 3 the Pac-12 (7th in NCAA-FBS) with his 47.2-yard punt average, which is 1.6 yards ahead of pace for the UW single-season school record (45.6) ... 44 members of the current UW roster have started at least one game for the Huskies ... 107 of the 124 players on the UW roster are freshmen or sophomores ... 77 are freshmen ... just five true (first-year) freshmen have played this season for the Huskies: DLs Kuao Peihopa and Voi Tunuufi, QB Sam Huard, WR Jabez Tineae, and DB Davon Banks ... JIMMY LAKE

HEAD COACH

SECOND SEASON AT UW

When former Husky head coach Chris Petersen surprised the UW community by announcing that he would step down following the 2019 football season, there was no hesitation as to who best to replace him. In fact, it took nearly no time for Jimmy Lake to be offered the job.

On Dec. 2, 2019, the announcement was made of the change, with Lake taking over the program immediately following Washington's victory in the 2019 Las Vegas Bowl.

In his first season, a tumultuous fall during which the sports world was affected from top to bottom by the worldwide pandemic, the Huskies went 3-1 and won the Pac-12 North Division title. Four Huskies – two each on offense and defense – earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors and the Huskies led the conference in total defense.

While Lake became head coach for the first time in 2020, you'd have been hard-pressed to find a better résumé for an new Husky head coach.

In his six prior seasons at Washington – two as defensive backs coach, two as co-defensive coordinator and the last two as defensive coordinator – Lake has earned a reputation as a teacher, recruiter and tactician, helping the UW become one of the strongest and most consistent defensive teams – and specifically one of the top secondaries – in the nation.

Year after year, the Huskies, who have five or more defensive backs on the field the majority of the time, play aggressive and precise defense and turn out highly-regarded professional prospects.

In 2019, his last as defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach, Lake molded another strong unit despite the loss of nine defensive starters from the previous year. Starting as many as three true freshmen in the secondary, his unit limited opponents to 19.4 points per game. Elijah Molden earned second-team All-America and first-team All-Pac-12, while Myles Bryant was a second-team all-conference pick. Freshman DBs Trent McDuffie and Cameron Williams each earned Freshman All-America.

In 2018, his first year as the UW's defensive coordinator, Lake continued the Huskies' reign as the top defense in the Pac-12 Conference. For the fourth year in a row, Washington led the league in both scoring (15.5 points per game) and total (301.8 yards per game) defense. The Huskies were also second in the conference in rushing defense, passing yards defense and pass efficiency defense.

Washington produced four, first-team All-Pac-12 players on Lake's side of the ball: All-America defensive backs Taylor Rapp and Byron Murphy, All-America linebacker Ben Burr-Kirven and nose tackle Greg Gaines. Burr-Kirven was named the Pat Tillman Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year (second year in a row for the UW) as well as the Pac-12 Scholar-Athlete of the Year for football, while Gaines was the second Husky in a row to win the Morris Trophy, given to the best offensive and defensive linemen in the conference, as voted by opposing players.

Along with Rapp and Murphy, who both earned first-team All-America from at least one outlet each, Rapp also coached three other All-Pac-12 honorees. Bryant was a second-team selection, alongside Molden, who was honored as a special teams player. Senior safety Jojo McIntosh also earned honorable mention All-Pac-12 in 2018.

In 2017, the Huskies led the Pac-12 in both total defense (eighth nationally) and scoring defense (fifth nationally) and were the national leader in fewest yards allowed per completion (9.42), thanks largely to the defensive backs unit coached by Lake. Rapp earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors. Another Husky DB, Zeke Turner, went on to sign with the Arizona Cardinals following the 2017 college season, and earned a spot on the NFL All-Rookie team.

In 2016, Lake helped coach a Husky defense that once again topped all Pac-12 defenses as the Dawgs went 12-2 and earned a trip to the College Football Playoff. The Dawgs led the conference in both total defense (316.9 yards per game, 12th in the nation) and scoring defense (17.7 points per game, eighth) in the nation, while also leading all FBS schools in turnover margin (1.29 per game) and takeaways (33). Washington was also first in the conference in first downs allowed and third down conversion defense, while finishing second in red zone defense, rushing defense and sacks.

The UW secondary helped the Dawgs lead the conference and finish eighth in the country in interceptions. Budda Baker and Sidney Jones both earned first-team All-Pac-12 while Kevin King earned honorable mention. Baker, who earned a trip to the Pro Bowl as a rookie with the Arizona Cardinals in 2017, was a consensus All-America pick while Jones was a scout.com first-team All-America and a second-team selection from the Football Writers and Sports Illustrated. Additionally, Rapp was the Pac-12's defensive freshman of the year, the MVP of the Pac-12 Championship Game and a freshman All-America.

In 2015, the Husky defense led the Pac-12 in scoring defense, total defense and red-zone defense and finished second in both pass efficiency defense and rushing defense. Two Husky sophomores Baker and Jones, both earned first-team All-Pac-12. Jones led the conference in passes defended and was in the top five in interceptions, fumbles forced and fumbles recovered.

In his first season at the UW as a member of Petersen's 2014 staff, Lake took on the challenge of coaching a secondary that frequently included three true freshmen and a true sophomore in the four starting spots. In the end, he helped Baker earn freshman All-America honors while helping the UW to a No. 9 national ranking in turnover margin and a top-40 marking scoring defense.

Lake joined Petersen's staff from Boise State where he was in charge of the secondary and was the defensive pass game coordinator in 2012 and 2013.

In 2013, the Broncos ranked second in the Mountain West in points allowed (24.8) and interceptions (16), third in total defense (413.4) and pass efficiency defense (129.7) and fourth in sacks (30). They also tied for the conference low allowing just 17 touchdown passes.

Lake mentored sophomore cornerback Donte Deayon, who earned 2013 second-team All-Conference honors after finishing second in the league with six interceptions and fourth with 15 passes defended.

In his debut season with the Broncos in 2012, Lake led a secondary that was fifth nationally in both pass defense (169.5) and pass efficiency defense (101.4). The team also ranked eighth nationally in scoring defense (15.8) and 12th nationally in total defense (315.6). The Broncos also picked off 18 passes to tie for the 12th-most nationally.

Three of his four starting defensive backs earned All-Mountain West honors following the season, including first-team selection Jamar Taylor at cornerback. Cornerback Jerrell Gavins was named second-team all-league, and safety Jeremy Ioane was honorable mention.

Taylor went on to become the second-highest drafted cornerback in school history, taken in the second round of the 2013 NFL Draft - No. 54 overall - by the Miami Dolphins.

Before joining Boise State, Lake worked in the National Football League. He spent 2010-11 as defensive backs coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and 2008 as DB coach for the Detroit Lions. He also served as the assistant defensive backs coach for Tampa Bay from 2006-07.

While with the Buccaneers, Lake's defensive backs finished seventh in the NFL in pass defense in 2012, a group that was anchored by five-time Pro Bowl selection Ronde Barber.

Prior to coaching in the professional ranks, Lake coached the secondary at Montana State in 2005. The Bobcats' defense finished the season ranked No. 1 in the Big Sky Conference, and his secondary allowed a conference-low 165.6 passing yards per game. Also on the Montana State staff in 2005 was UW defensive coordinator Pete Kwiatkowski.

Lake spent one season coaching defensive backs at Washington in 2004 under Keith Gilbertson. That Huskies' secondary helped the team rank first in the Pacific-10 Conference and 17th-nationally in pass defense.

From 2000-03, Lake coached the secondary at his alma mater Eastern Washington.

Lake was honorable mention All-Big Sky as a strong safety and was also an academic all-conference selection. He graduated with a business administration degree in 2000.

Lake was born in Walnut Creek, Calif., but moved around as a child thanks to his father's service in the U.S. Air Force. He also lived in Turkey and the Philippines, among others, before completing high school in Spokane, Wash., at North Central High. He and wife, Michele, are the parents of three children: Jimmy, Jr., Faith and Bronson.

COACHING STAFF: Washington's second season under head coach Jimmy Lake features a staff that returns nearly entirely in tact from 2020, with just one change among the 10 full-time assistants, though several titles have changed as well. Bob Gregory, who has been on the UW staff since 2014, has been promoted to defensive coordinator ahead of the 2021 season. He will continue to also oversee the inside linebackers. Running backs coach Keith Bhonapha is also entering his eighth season on the UW staff, and has added special teams coordinator to his title in 2021. UW alum Ikaika Malloe, who lettered as a Husky from 1993 to 1996 and once worked as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, is back for his sixth season, including his second as co-defensive coordinator. He joined the staff after the 2015 season, coming to Seattle from Utah State, and has also moved from coaching the defensive line to outside linebackers. Fifth-year offensive line coach Scott Huff spent the previous 11 seasons at Boise State, his alma mater. Former USC safety Will Harris, in his fourth year on the UW staff, was elevated to defensive backs coach with Lake moving to head coach in 2020. Back for a third season at the UW is wide receivers coach Junior Adams, who came to Seattle after two seasons as offensive coordinator at Western Kentucky. Two other second-year coaches are tight ends coach Derham Cato and assistant defensive backs coach Terrence Brown. Cato, a former coordinator at Davidson, spent the previous four years as an offensive analyst at UW. Brown is a Stanford alum who spent the 2018 and 2019 at Vanderbilt, and was a graduate assistant at Washington from 2015 through 2017. The newest full-time staff member is defensive line coach Rip Rowan, who had been a defensive quality control coach for the Huskies since 2019. On Nov. 7, offensive quality control analyst Payton McCollum was named quarterbacks coach. Two of four UW graduate assistant coaches are returners to their position: Daniel Segal (offense) and Jon Rowe (offense). They're joined by new GAs Austin Taylor (offense) and Jaylen Johnson (defense), a former UW defensive lineman.

HUSKIES vs. DEVILS HISTORY: Arizona State leads the all-time series against the Huskies, 19-17. At one point, the UW led the series 15-8, but ASU has had the better of it in recent years, winning 11 of the last 13.

The two teams haven't met since 2018, a 27-20 Husky win at Husky Stadium in both teams' fourth game of the season. Husky QB Jake Browning was an efficient 15-for-22 for 202 yards and three touchdowns, while the UW defense held ASU to 268 yards of total offense.

In 2017 in Tempe, the Devils handed the Huskies a 13-7 loss, but the season before that in Seattle, Washington beat Arizona State, 44-18, in the UW's final home game of the season, breaking the Sun Devils' 10-game win streak in the series.

Washington first met the Devils in 1975. That '75 game marked the only time that the two teams ever played one another prior to the Sun Devils joining the Pac-10 Conference before the 1978 season. The Huskies lost that first-ever meeting at Tempe in 1975, 35-12, but routed the 12th-ranked Devils in the next matchup, winning 41-7 at Husky Stadium in 1978.

Some of the Huskies' most memorable games in modern history have come vs. ASU. In the 1995 season-opener, tailback Rashaan Shehee hit receiver Fred Coleman with a 30-yard TD pass late in the fourth quarter to give Washington a 23-20 win. The following year at Tempe, Washington trailed 42-21 before backup QB Brock Huard came on to lead the Huskies to three fourth-quarter TDs, but Robert Nycz kicked a 38-yard field goal with 0:02 left to win, 45-42.

In 1998 at Sun Devil Stadium, the Huskies pulled off the "Miracle in the Desert" as Huard hit tight end Reggie Davis with a 63-yard pass on fourth-and-17 with 0:28 left in the game to pull out a 42-38 Washington win. In 2001, the Huskies capped a seven-minute, 12-second drive with a 30-yard field goal with no time remaining to edge the Devils, 33-31.

TEAM NOTES

EXPERIENCE AND YOUTH: Thanks in part to the extended eligibility that resulted from the pandemic, Washington's 2021 roster is remarkable for both its youth and its experience, all at once. Washington returns 10 starters on offense and eight on defense, along with returning "starters" at kicker (both FG/PAT and kickoff), punter, holder and long snapper. Those numbers are all higher than average. What's more, the roster includes 17 individuals who have started at least one game on offense, and 13 on defense. All totaled, those 29 players (one of them, Alex Cook, has started on offense and defense) have started 212 games (129 on offense, 83 on defense).

All that said, the UW roster includes just six players in their final year of available eligibility: P Race Porter, OLB Ryan Bowman, QB Patrick O'Brien, C Luke Wattenberg, and TBs Sean McGrew and Kamari Pleasant. Of the 126 players on the current roster, 78 are listed as freshmen (56) or redshirt freshmen (22), while 31 more are sophomores. That means that 109 of 126 players (86.5 percent) have three or more years of eligibility remaining, entering the 2021 season. The roster includes just 11 juniors, five seniors and one grad transfer.

OPPONENTS 35-AND-UNDER: Washington hasn't allowed an opponent to score more than 35 points in a game since a 44-30 loss at UCLA in 2014. That's a streak of 84 games in a row that the Huskies' opponent has failed to score more than 35. In that 84-game stretch, Husky foes have scored 30 or more just 13 times (of those 13, five were exactly 30 points) and have been held to 14 or fewer points 32 times. In that same span of 84 games, the UW has scored more than 35 points on 31 occasions. No other team in the FBS has a current streak longer than 43 games (San Diego State).

DEFENSE vs. BIG PLAYS: Last year (albeit in only four games), Washington's defense allowed just one play from scrimmage for more than 40 yards, tied for fewest in the nation. In 2019, the Huskies gave up just seven such plays of 40 or more yards, the eighth-lowest total (tied) in FBS. The median for 40-plus yard plays allowed in 2019 was 14. Also in 2019, the Huskies allowed just two plays over 50 yards, the third-lowest (tied) total (the median was seven). The year before, the Huskies gave up just ONE scrimmage play of 40 or more yards all season. No other FBS team allowed fewer than four and 102 teams allowed 10 or more that year. In 2017, the UW also led the nation with fewest 40-yard scrimmage plays allowed (3) and were second in fewest 30-yard plays (14). They were tied for 5th and 2nd, respectively, in 2016. Washington has allowed three plays longer than 40 yards in nine games during the 2021 season. Only three FBS team has allowed fewer (Arizona State, 1; Georgia & Colorado, 2).

THE PAC-12: Prior to the 2011 season, the Pac-10 Conference added Utah and Colorado to expand to the Pac-12. Washington, which along with California is one of two schools who have been in the conference since its founding in 1915, plays in the Pac-12 North, along with the other three Northwest schools (Oregon, OSU, WSU) and Stanford and Cal. Under the current system, each school plays all five division rivals, plus four of six teams in the other division each season. The first two seasons, the Huskies did not face UCLA or Arizona State. In 2013 and 14, the Huskies didn't play Utah or USC. In 2015 in 2016, neither UCLA nor Colorado were on the UW schedule, while the Huskies didn't face USC and Arizona in 2017 or 2018. The 2019 season marked the start of a new cycle, moving the rotation back to where it started. Therefore, the Huskies 2019 and 2020 scheduled did not include UCLA and Arizona State. In 2021 and 2022, Washington will not play USC and Utah.

HUSKY STADIUM RENOVATION: Husky Stadium underwent a major renovation over from Nov., 2011, through Aug., 2013, as the entire lower bowl and south upper deck were demolished and replaced. The new facility features a new, state-of-the-art football operations center (weight room, training room, locker room, meeting rooms, coaches' offices) in the west end, much more premium seating options and a new playing surface. Husky Stadium had featured a track up until 2011, so seats that were once far from the field, particularly in the west end, are much closer to the action. UW is 43-15 at home since the re-opening of Husky Stadium.

ALASKA AIRLINES FIELD AT HUSKY STADIUM: The Oregon game on Nov. 5, 2011, marked the final game in Husky Stadium prior to major renovations that were completed in summer, 2013. The Huskies re-opened their home field with a 38-6 win over then-No. 19 Boise State on Aug. 31, 2013. The 2021 season marks the 101st season of play in Husky Stadium. Original construction on the facility was completed in 1920 when Washington played one game in the new campus facility. UW's all-time record in Husky Stadium stands at 399-184-21 (.678).
