UW Postgame Notes

UW sophomore receiver Chris Lawson set new career highs with 12 receptions for 155 yards. He now has two consecutive 100-yard receiving games.

Safety Alex McLaughlin scored on a 48-yard interception return, marking the third defensive touchdown of his UW career. Last season, he scored on an interception return vs. Washington State and on a fumble return at UCLA.

UW safety Rylon Dillard-Allen, who intercepted a pass on the Cornhuskers' first possession of the game, has intercepted a pass in three of the last four games.

Husky corner Emmanuel Karnley's first-quarter interception was his first for Washington and the second in his career.

Tyler Robles' 50-yard field goal late in the first half tied a career-high for him. He's now made from 50 yards four times during his college career. His most recent was last season at Southern Miss, playing for Texas State. He's now 4-of-5 from 50-plus in his career.

It was the first 50-plus yarder from a Husky since Grady Gross connected from 51 yards last season vs. Washington State (Sept. 20, 2025).

Washington didn't commit a turnover for the fourth time in nine games this season.

Zaydrius Rainey-Sale set a new career high in tackles with 10 (previous high was eight).

The Husky victory leveled the all-time series with Nebraska at 5-5-1. Washington's last victory in Lincoln was the memorable 36-21 win in 1991, when UW came from a 21-9 deficit to win, en route to a 12-0 season.
