Bears Win First National Title for WashU

November 18, 1989

With 3,000 jubilant fans on their feet and a post-match web of silly string blanketing the team, Washington University captured the 1989 NCAA Division III national championship by defeating Ohio Northern University 15-10, 15-9, 15-11 at the WU Field House.

The victory marked the first national title won by a Washington U. team in 104 years of athletic competition.

The Bears, who finished 39-7 on the season, stormed through the two-week national competition with barely a blemish. Playing the opening round of the tournament in St. Joseph, Minn., the Red and Green lost the first game against the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, but rallied to win the next three in succession.

Washington U. advanced to the Final

The Field House explodes in pandemonium after the Bears won their first national title in 1989.

Four by sweeping regional host College of St. Benedict, the sixth-ranked team in Division III.

Washington University was selected to host the Final Four, and the Bears were gracious hosts throughout the week – up until game time.

Washington U. whitewashed No. 3 Juniata College, 3-0, setting up a meeting with Ohio Northern University, who upset Menlo College, 3-1, in the other national semifinal. The Bears swept the Polar Bears in the national title match.

With the win, WU head coach Teri Clemens became the first woman to coach a national champion in NCAA Division III volleyball since the inception of the tournament in 1981.

“When I took over here in 1985, I had set a goal to win a national championship after five years,” Clemens said. “All the hard work that everybody put into the program made it possible for this to happen.”

WashU Rallies to Win Second NCAA Championship

November 23, 1991

Trailing 2-1 to six-time champion University of California-San Diego, Washington U. clawed back from deficits of 11-4 and 12-7 in the fourth game en route to a thrilling 14-16, 15-6, 9-15, 15-13, 15-8 win in front of a Division III-record crowd of 3,423 at the WU Field House.

The title was the Bears’ second in three years. Freshman Anne Quenette paced WU with 23 kills in the match, while senior Joanie Subar added 22 as the Bears avenged a loss to UC-San Diego in the previous year’s final.

The 1991 final had all the makings of a classic from the outset. UC-San Diego ended the regular season ranked No. 1 in the polls, while the Bears were ranked second.

UCSD had not lost a Division III match since October of 1990, when the Tritons fell to Washington U. The Red and Green had built a 22-match home winning streak, dating back to the loss to UC-San Diego in the 1990 title match.

But all the pre-match hype quickly paled by comparison during the two hour and 31 minute marathon. As championship matches go, this one had all the bobs and weaves, knockdowns and comebacks of an Ali-Frazier classic.

Down two games to one, Washington U. rallied to seize the NCAA Division III title in front of a crowd of 3,423 at the WU Field House.

“The crowd wouldn’t let us die,” said a jubilant Teri Clemens, the Division III National Coach of the Year.

A variety of Washington U. team and individual records were set during the championship final. The Bears powered 85 kills and dealt 79 assists to break three-year-old marks. Anne Quenette tied Kathy Bersett and Leslie Catlin in the books by burrowing 32 digs during the match. Lisa Becker matched Diane Stites and Amy Sullivan on the all-time charts by netting six solo blocks.

PERFECTION: 40-0 Bears Become First Undefeated Division III Champs

November 21, 1992

Armed with a record five All-Americans, WU capped a season of perfection by winning its third NCAA Division III championship in four years.

The Bears toppled the University of California-San Diego in the final 15-11, 15-9, 15-7 to finish the season with a 40-0 overall record. The championship, which drew a crowd of 3,024, was held at the WU Field House for an unprecedented fourth straight year.

Senior Lisa Becker led the Bears All-America contingent, garnering NCAA Division III Co-Player of the Year honors. In the end, the Bears amassed a 120-6 record in games played for the season—better than a 95 percent success rate.

With the win, WU extended its overall winning streak to 45-consecutive matches, 64-straight matches against Division III opponents and 40 in a row at the WU Field House.

Game one was a see-saw battle in the early going. The Bears and the Tritons were knotted at 6-6 before a flurry of kills by WU sophomore All-Americans Anne Quenette and Amy Albers helped the Red and Green pull away.

Playing before a crowd of 3,024, Washington U. capped a season of perfection by storming past six-time champion UC-San Diego, 3-0.

Games two and three were simply displays of superior athleticism and confidence. Washington U. played nearly flawless ball and forced the young Tritons into a succession of mistakes.

“I’ve never scheduled an undefeated season, and it was not something I necessarily savored back in September,” Teri Clemens said. “But this is truly a special feeling. Our players thrived on not getting beat. They wouldn’t accept losing a match, a game or even a point.”

With a 3-0 sweep of Juniata College, the Bears hoist the national championship trophy for the third-straight year.

THREE-PEAT!!! Bears Win Third NCAA Title

November 20, 1993

Washington U. etched its name in the NCAA record books once again by winning its third-straight Division III title and fourth crown in five years.

The top-ranked Bears (44-2) swept third-ranked Juniata College 15-9, 15-11, 15-11 in Huntingdon, Pa.—and on the Indians’ home court, no less. Just seven weeks prior to the final, Juniata halted WU’s NCAA all-division winning streak of 59 matches on the same court.

Junior Amy Albers, the NCAA Division III Player of the Year, led the way for WU with 25 kills and a match-high five blocks. The Bears played 34 of their 46 matches away from the friendly confines of the WU Field House.

WU coach Teri Clemens anticipated that the Final Four would not be held in St. Louis for a fifth-straight year. So pulling out the atlas, she crafted a schedule that included stops in several of the most likely locales for the national final.

The prognostication proved successful as the Bears had already played on the home court of each of the other three semifinalists.

“There was no team in the nation more prepared to go into a hostile environment and come away with a win,” said Clemens.

Bears Win Unprecedented Fourth-Straight Championship

December 3, 1994

Washington U. swept the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh 15-10, 15-4, 15-9 in Ithaca, N.Y., for its fourth-straight NCAA Division III title and fifth in the last six years.

The win gave the Bears the first “four-peat” in NCAA women’s volleyball history. Senior Amy Albers, the Division III Player of the Year in 1993 and 1994, notched 17 kills and four blocks.

The No. 12 Titans, who earned giant-slaying “David” comparisons after rallying from 2-0 deficits against fourth-ranked St. Olaf College in the quarterfinals and No. 2 Juniata College in the semifinals, were making their first-ever championship match appearance.

Indeed, the Titans needed one more rock in their slingshot. Falling behind 8-1 in the third game, UW-Oshkosh valiantly fought back to 11-9 before the Bears put the hammer down.

Junior Shelley Swan added 12 kills in the championship, and senior outside hitter

Washington University pulled off the first ‘four-peat’ in NCAA women’s volleyball history with a 3-0 over the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh.

Anne Quenette concluded her three-time All-America career with a nine-kill effort.

Orchestrating the action was sophomore setter Stephanie Habif, who registered the WU single-season record for assists with 1,596.

The Bears dominated statistically, leading the Titans in kills (45-30), hitting percentage (.303-.149), service aces (13-1), and blocks (5-1).

“I’m so happy for our seniors – you never want them to leave crying. What great role models they’ve been for the younger players,” Teri Clemens said. “They’ve helped us build a program as opposed to just a good team.”

Take Five! (Consecutive Titles That Is)

December 2, 1995

The Bears claimed their fifth-straight title with a 15-6, 17-19, 13-15, 15-11, 15-11 come-from-behind win over California Lutheran University in Whitewater, Wis.

With the crown, WU eclipsed the NCAA volleyball record for consecutive titles, previously shared with the 1981-84 UCLA men.

Unlike the team’s last three championships, which amounted to three-game WU walkovers, the 1995 edition was a two and a half hour heart-check.

“It is impossible to compare national championships,” said Teri Clemens. “But this one certainly took the most toll on my heart! Our two seniors, Shelley Swan and Nikki Gitlin, just would not let us lose.”

The Regals led 2-1 before Swan, the Division III Player of the Year, took over for the Bears. The senior recorded a career-best 31 kills, while classmate Nikki Gitlin added 13 kills and a team-high 20 digs. Junior Stephanie Habif registered 83 assists.

In the decisive fifth game, the two teams split the first 10 points. WU scored four of the next five points to open up a three-point lead before Cal Lutheran brought the score back to 10-9.

Emmy Sjogren ripped two kills and Swan followed with another pair to bring the Bears to championship point at 14-9. The Regals scored twice before Swan provided the final blow with her patented slide attack.

Jennifer Martz and Swan were named to the NCAA All-Tournament squad. Joining Swan with career-best kill counts were Martz and Sjogren, who logged 25 and 21 respectively.

The Bears held the upper hand offensively, creating a 99-69 cushion in kills and out-hitting the Regals, .290 to .181.

Washington University overcame a 2-1 deficit to win its fifth-straight

Bears Win Sixth-Straight, Seventh Overall, NCAA Championship

December 7, 1996

WU won the last of its six-consecutive national titles through the early and mid-1990s by defeating Juniata College 15-8, 15-9, 15-7 in Oshkosh, Wis.

The championship was also the Bears' seventh in the last eight years. Sophomore Jennifer Martz led the team with 13 kills in the title match and hit .578 in the Final Four.

Martz earned All-Tournament accolades with senior Stephanie Habif and sophomore Jenny Cafazza. With the win, WU stretched its postseason winning streak to 28 matches.

Washington University needed just 90 minutes to defeat Juniata College, making it the second time in four years that WU defeated Juniata for the championship.

Sophomore middle blocker Martz led the Bears in the championship match with 13 kills. Martz, who hit .578 in the Final Four, was named to the six-player all-tournament team with senior setter Habif and sophomore outside hitter Cafazza.

Cafazza added eight kills on .333 hitting against Juniata in the championship, while senior outside hitter Emmy Sjogren had six kills and seven digs in her final collegiate match.

"It feels like we started over and it is our only national championship," Teri Clemens said. "Our success is the result of how we train and play every day."

Washington University concluded its unprecedented run of six-straight national championships with a 3-0 victory over Juniata College.

RETURN TO THE TOP: Bears Capture Eighth NCAA Crown

December 6, 2003

Before the season commenced, fifth-year head coach Rich Luenemann made a bold preseason prediction: "I believe we're going to win the national championship," he said in early August at a preseason team party.

Fast-forward to Dec. 6—41 matches later—and, sure enough, Luenemann proved to be a man of his word. With a 30-26, 32-30, 30-22 sweep of New York University, the coach won his first national championship and gave Washington U. (38-3) a Division III-record eighth title.

Senior Amy Brand ended the match with one of her six blocks; she also added 11 kills. Seniors Katie Quinn and Cindy McPeak and sophomore Kara Liefer were named to the All-Tournament Team.

"Obviously I was elated," head coach Rich Luenemann said. "It was a feeling of intense satisfaction that you get when all the pieces fit perfectly together. This team enjoyed incredible chemistry and unbelievable senior leadership."

Those three seniors – Brand, McPeak and Quinn – helped lead the Bears to a 145-16 record, four University Athletic Association championships, four NCAA Tournament appearances, three Final Fours and the 2003 National Championship during their four years on the Danforth Campus.

McPeak was named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament Team and finished the season with 315 kills, 52 service aces and 105 total blocks.

The Bears won their eighth national title in 2003.

WashU Edges Wisconsin-Whitewater to Capture Ninth Championship

November 17, 2007

Washington University won the 2007 NCAA Division III Championship with a 3-2 (30-25, 23-20, 30-22, 28-30, 15-13) win over the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater in Bloomington, Ill. The title was the Division III leading ninth in school history.

The title match was WU's third since winning it all in 2003, but the first time in four years the Bears were able to reach the pinnacle of Division III volleyball. Head coach Rich Lueneemann, who won his 900th match as a collegiate head coach earlier in the NCAA Tournament, won the second NCAA title of his career.

Senior outside hitter Haleigh Spencer and junior setter Audra Janak were named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament Team. Junior Alli Alberts was named the 2007 NCAA Championship Most Outstanding Player.

Washington University ended the year on a six-match winning streak, with its last loss coming to Emory University, 3-2, in the University Athletic Association (UAA) championship on Nov. 3. The loss to Emory served as a catalyst for the Bears, who won the title as the Midwest Region's No. 2 seed. More improbable, in the final three rounds of postseason play, WU beat a team it had lost to earlier in the season, including Emory, 3-1, in the quarterfinals on Nov. 8.

"We didn't hit our peak, until the regional championship game against Carthage," Spencer said after winning the championship game in November. "Since the loss to Emory two weeks ago, we were a completely different team. I don't know if people know how hard we worked for this all season; we started from scratch. This is everything that we have worked for, for all four years, since day one."

A 3-1 victory over rival Juniata College resulted in the Bears' 10th national championship.

PERFECT 10!!!

WashU Tops Juniata 3-1

November 21, 2009

Washington University defeated No. 1 Juniata College, 3-1 (18-25, 26-24, 25-17, 25-21) to capture the 2009 NCAA Division III National Championship on Nov. 21, at the DeCarlo Varsity Center in University Heights, Ohio. In the process, Washington University increases its NCAA-record national championship total to 10, and the Bears capture the NCAA title for the first time since 2007.

Sophomore middle hitter Lauren Budde was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 2009 NCAA Championship, as she led the Bears with 15 kills and five total blocks in the victory over Juniata. The six-rotation middle hitter was also second on the team with 21 digs. Sophomore outside hitter Kristen Thomas and freshman libero Kelly Pang joined Budde on the All-Tournament Team.

It was the third national title for WU head coach Rich Lueneemann, who also led his team to the pinnacle of Division III volleyball in 2003 and 2007. It marked the sixth time Lueneemann guided a team to the national championship match, and he improves to 3-3 all-time in national title contests and 43-8 in all NCAA Tournament competition.

"From the time that you see us step out on the court, with the intensity and the emotion and the focus that we have, this is easily one of the greatest success stories I have ever been a part of," Lueneemann said.
