

Support the Bears

Directly impact the WashU student-athlete experience.

“Being a student-athlete at an academically challenging university like WashU requires immense dedication and passion, but the experience has given me more than I could’ve ever imagined. Every practice, every game, and every day I’m surrounded by teammates, coaches, and staff who put their all into helping me succeed on the field, in the classroom, and in my future career. Attending WashU without playing a sport would still have been a great opportunity, but playing a sport as well has rewarded me with better leadership skills, the fulfillment of working with a diverse team, and other experiences you can’t find anywhere else.” - Shawn Yates, Class of 2024, Football
