The numbers more than speak for themselves.

Beginning with an overtime victory over Wayne State on Jan. 13, 2006 and ending over a year later, the Winona State men's basketball team did not lose a game. After that victory over Wayne State, the Warriors rolled to 21 more wins in a row to close the 2005-06 season, culminating in the school's first National Championship. The winning continued during the next season, with Winona State claiming a 35-0 record entering their second consecutive title matchup. While the Warriors would fall that day to Barton, NC, the list of accomplishments they left in their wake are staggering.

Winona State can claim a national title during The Streak. They also earned two Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference regular season championships, as well as a pair of NSIC Tournament Championships. The 35 wins the 2006-07 team earned are the most in a single season in any level of college basketball.

Head coach Mike Leaf earned national coach of the year honors after the 2005-06 season and claimed NSIC coaching honors twice. Six players earned all-conference first team accolades while John Smith and Jonte' Flowers were first-team All-Americans. Smith was named Division II's National Player of the Year for the 2006-07 season.

The Warriors were tested in their run, but came to play every night, never allowing an opponent to get the best of them. The team survived five overtime games and won by three points on three different occasions.

But mostly they dominated. Winona State's average margin of victory was 18 points.
