MATCHUP AT A GLANCE (CONF. RANK)

• The Matchup

William & Mary heads to the 'Music City' to take on Tennessee State on Saturday at Gentry Center. The tip is at 1 p.m. CT and will be streamed on ESPN+. This is the second meeting ever and second in the last two years between the two. W&M beat the Tigers 63-53 in the semifinals of the FIU Thanksgiving Classic in 2023.

• The Opponent

After losing the first four games of the year, Tennessee State grabbed its lone win of the year over North Alabama before dropping a local bout with No. 17 Vanderbilt its last time out. The Tigers are currently third in the OVC in blocks per game at 4.4 and have used their length to also be top-five in their league in steals.

• Last Time Out

The Tribe got into a 11-0 hole on Sunday in the nation's capital, which proved to be the difference, falling to Howard 64-53. W&M battled all afternoon long but the Bison were able to fend off all comeback efforts. The Tribe cut it to a 48-46 game with 8:49 in regulation but the Bison used a 12-2 run to put the game away. Cassidy Geddes led W&M with her first career double-double, posting 17 points and 10 boards.

• Active on the Glass

W&M's effort on the boards was the team's bright spot in the game at Howard. The Tribe outrebounded the Bison 40-32 on Sunday, W&M's first time winning the battle on the glass this season.

• Cass Doubles Down

Cassidy Geddes not only led the Tribe in scoring for the fourth time this season on Sunday, but the junior was impactful as a rebounder from the guard position. Geddes snagged 10 rebounds to go with her 17 points for the first double-double of her career. She joins

Natalie Fox, Alexa Mikeska and Tika Sallman as the four players on the Tribe's roster to have double-doubles in their career.

• Filling it Up

Cassidy Geddes has been off to a strong start through five games of her junior season. The preseason All-CAA Second Team selection has scored 16-plus for the Tribe in four of the first five outings this season. Geddes has also led the team in scoring in all but one of the first five games this season. The next 20-point performance from the Hickory, N.C. native will be the 10th of her career.

• Sultan's of Swat

Through five games the Tribe have been altering shots at a high level. W&M is currently second in the CAA in blocks per game at 4.2. The Green and Gold have logged eight and five blocks in its last two games, the first time the Tribe has had five-plus blocks in back-to-back games since the start of February. The Tribe has never blocked five-plus shots in three straight games under Erin Dickerson Davis.

• Nat on the Glass

After a strong freshman season, Natalie Fox is poised for another solid season in Green and Gold in 2025-26. The LaGrangeville, N.Y. native scored in double figures in the first three games this season, the first time in her career she has scored 10-plus in three straight outings. The sophomore grabbed a career-high 13 boards on Sunday at Howard surpassing her previous watermark of 12. Through five outings Fox leads the team at 7.8 rebounds per game and is second in scoring at 9.2 per game.

• Back for More

No doubt a rarity in this day and age, the Tribe will return all nine of its non-graduating players from a season ago. W&M adds four freshman while picking Kyah Smith, a former Patriot League All-Rookie selection, from Navy and Ice Dos Santos from Odessa College (JUCO) via the transfer portal.

• Block Party

Tika Sallman was effective around the rim in the Tribe's matchup with Old Dominion, collecting a career-high five blocks. The five rejections were the most by a

W&M player since Kayla Beckwith collected five in March of 2024.

• Not Afraid to Switch it Up

Last season Erin Dickerson Davis showed no issues making changes to her starting five and this year has been no different. Through three games in 2025-26 the Tribe has rolled out three different starting lineups, with Marley Long making her first career start against Richmond. Last year W&M used 12 different starting fives throughout the season, including using a brand new combo in last year's CAA title game.

• Ice in Mo's Veins

Monet Dance took her game to a whole different level in the postseason last year. The Roswell, Ga. native averaged 3.9 ppg in the regular season before going off for 14 a game in the CAA and NCAA tournaments. Dance also posted the best 3-point shooting season in program history, shooting a W&M record 43.6% from deep. That stat was aided by her blistering 16-of-21 (76.2%) stretch in the postseason after making just 18 triples in the regular season. She tied the CAA Tournament record with seven treys in the quarterfinals against N.C. A&T on her way to a career-high 27 points. Dance earned CAA All-Tournament Team for her efforts.

• Comeback Kids

W&M's historic run last season didn't come without adversity and deficits along the way. The Tribe trailed top-seed N.C. A&T in the quarterfinals by 12 points in the middle of the third before coming back to force overtime and earn a win. Campbell was the next victim of a W&M comeback in the championship, getting out to a 14-0 lead and again leading by 13 in the third before succumbing to a Tribe offensive bombardment that included a 61.5% shooting effort in the fourth. The Tribe only had won once when trailing at the half in the regular season.

• Tribe on TV

Naturally, last season brought a new-level of national attention to the Tribe program, with W&M playing a program record 12 games on linear television. Additionally, W&M played its first three nationally televised games in program history in 2024-25. The Green and Gold will be on TV a minimum of 10 times this season with 10 home matchups broadcast on MASN.

• Excellence From E

No other coach in William & Mary women's basketball history has had the success that Erin Dickerson Davis has had through three seasons. With the 16 wins last year, Davis became the first Tribe coach to win 15-plus games in each of their first three seasons. The Tribe won 12 conference games in each of her first two years, tying the program record for CAA wins in season. W&M's first win of the season against Barton was Davis's 50th in her head coaching career.

• Closing the Deal

Under Erin Dickerson Davis the Tribe is 36-11 when leading at halftime.

• 60 is the Magic Number

60 points is a key number for W&M. The Tribe is 24-9 under Erin Dickerson Davis when holding teams below 60. While team's have had a mixed bag of success scoring in the 60s vs. W&M, opponents are 40-5 against them when scoring 70+ since 2020-21. Offensively, the Tribe is 46-16 when scoring over 60 and 4-34 when held below 60 under Davis.

• A Historic Look Back

The 2024-25 season is one that will not be forgotten by Tribe fans far and wide, with W&M going on a magical run as the No. 9 seed to win the CAA Championship over Campbell. W&M became the lowest seed to ever make the CAA title game let alone win the championship. The Tribe went on to beat High Point in the NCAA Tournament First Four, 69-63, before bowing out to No. 1 seed Texas in the first round in Austin, 105-61. The Tribe finished the season 16-19, 8-10 CAA.

• Finally Dancing

Prior to the CAA championship game, William & Mary was the lone original DI member eligible for the first postseason in 1938 to have never made an NCAA Tournament in men's or women's basketball. The Tribe's triumph over High Point in the First Four was naturally the school's first ever NCAA Tournament win in basketball.

Erin Dickerson Davis heads into her fourth season at William & Mary following a monumental 2024-25 campaign that saw the Tribe win its first CAA title in basketball in school history. She was named the sixth Division I head coach in Tribe women's basketball history on April 12, 2022. W&M announced in August of 2024 a contract extension for Davis through the 2029 season.

The 2024-25 season will not be forgotten by W&M alumni and fans, near and far, as the Tribe won its first CAA title in school history under Davis' guidance. The championship ended W&M's drought as the only original Division I member to have never made an NCAA Tournament appearance in men's or women's basketball. After an 11-18 regular season Davis and the Tribe entered the CAA tournament as the No. 9 seed and became the lowest seed to ever make the CAA title game, let alone win it. W&M beat Campbell 66-63 in the final to achieve history, knocking off top-seed N.C. A&T along the way in the quarterfinals, the program's first ever win over the No. 1 seed in postseason play.

The magical run for Davis and the Tribe didn't stop there, beating High Point in the NCAA First Four in Austin, Texas for the school's first ever NCAA Tournament win. The victory also made Davis' bunch the first team with a below .500 record to win an NCAA Tournament game. The 2024-25 squad also posted the most assists and field goals made in program history under her leadership.

National attention came with the historic run as the Tribe played its first three nationally televised games in program history, while also playing a program-record 12 games on linear television throughout the season. Bella Nascimento earned CAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player honors and was an All-CAA Second Team selection under Davis' tutelage. Davis became the first coach in program history to have won 15-plus games in each of her first three seasons.

Davis' second season in Williamsburg, 2023-24, was highlighted by numerous records, culminating in another 12-6 record in the CAA, matching the program record for league wins for the second season in a row. Finishing fifth in the conference, it was the first time in program history that the Green and Gold won 10-plus conference games in back-to-back campaigns. The Tribe's 8-3 start in CAA play was the best conference start in program history through 11 games, and the squad's six conference road wins also tied the most in program history. Davis personally put her name in the W&M record books in 2023-24 season, becoming the fastest head coach to 20 conference wins (29 games) in program history, and the fastest to 30 career wins (53 games) in 95 years.

In 2022-23, Davis led William & Mary to 18 wins – the most by a first-year head coach in program history. Additionally, the 12 CAA wins by the Tribe matched the record for most in a single-season. Under Davis, the Green and Gold finished the regular season fourth in the league and advanced to the program's sixth conference semifinal. The team finished first in the CAA at the free throw line, shooting 78.6%, and was second in 3-point field goals made per game at 7.3.

Before arriving in Williamsburg, Davis served as the Associate Head Coach at Wake Forest University where she helped lead the Demon Deacons to a pair of postseason appearances, highlighted by the program's first NCAA Tournament berth in 30 seasons.

Davis joined the Wake Forest staff in 2020 as an assistant coach and was promoted to associate head coach in 2021. During her time with the Demon Deacons, she recruited and coached three All-Atlantic Coast Conference selections.

Prior to Wake Forest, Davis was assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Georgetown University from 2017-20.

At Georgetown, she recruited and coached four All-Big East selections, one Defensive Player of the Year and one Most Improved Player of the Year. She helped the program sign a 2018 recruiting class that ranked first in the Big East.

Davis also held coaching positions at Towson University from 2015-17 (associate head coach/recruiting coordinator); Illinois State University from 2013-15 (assistant coach/recruiting coordinator); La Salle University from 2010-13 (assistant coach) and at Furman University from 2009-10 (assistant coach).

In 2021, The Athletic named Davis one of 22 assistant women's basketball coaches ready to lead their own program. She was also named a 2017 Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) Thirty Under 30 honoree.

Davis has a master's degree in sports industry management from Georgetown University and a bachelor's degree in learning and organizational change from Northwestern University. While at Northwestern, she was a four-year scholarship athlete and letter winner in women's basketball. She was team captain for all four years.

A Chicago native, Davis and her husband, Thomas, are the parents of daughter, Lyla.
