MORGANTOWN, W.Va. - (Oct. 13, 2022)
A good, old-fashioned Big 12 shootout saw West Virginia use a late field goal to defeat No. 23 Baylor 43-40 on a Thursday night in Milan Puskar Stadium.

The scoring got started on WVU's first possession with a 64-yard drive that ended with a 7-yard touchdown run by running back Tony Mathis Jr.

As good as the WVU offense looked on its first drive, it would take a backseat early on to the Baylor offense, which scored the next 17 points. The Bears started the streak with a 40-yard field goal from John Mayers in the quarter and then added two touchdowns to begin the second quarter.

A 1-yard run from Ben Sims capped an 85-yard drive and a 35-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Blake Shapen to Gavin Holmes ended a 70-yard drive.

Trailing 17-7 with 10:52 left in the first half, West Virginia got back on the board at the 4:22 mark of the second quarter, when kicker Casey Legg converted on a 23-yard field goal.

Next, the Mountaineer defense got in on the action as linebacker Jasir Cox scooped up a Baylor fumble and rambled 65 yards to tie the game at 17-17 with 2:41 left in the half.

However, the Baylor offense was in high gear and it took only 1:27 to recapture the lead. Shapen hit Craig Williams for a 39-yard scoring reception, giving the Bears a 24-17 lead at the intermission.

The Mountaineers made the most of the opening possession of the third quarter as quarterback JT Daniels engineered a 75-yard drive and found receiver Kaden Prather for a 24-yard touchdown pass to tie the game at 24-24.

In typical Big 12 fashion, the scoring was far from over, and the shootout was just getting started. Shapen went out with an injury, but the Bear offense never missed a beat with backup quarterback Kyron Drones. Baylor regained the advantage at the 5:21 mark on a 2-yard pass from Drones to Hal Presley.

Before the quarter ended, the Mountaineers struck back on a 19-yard rushing touchdown by Justin Johnson Jr. The score was set up by a 32-yard completion from Daniels to receiver Sam James. The barnburner was tied 31-31 heading to the fourth.

A 74-yard Baylor drive gave the lead back to the Bears, but the PAT was blocked and returned for two points by WVU's Jacolby Spells. Those two points would turn out to be big for the Mountaineers as they now trailed, 37-33.

A key Baylor fumble deep in West Virginia territory was recovered by Cox for his second big play in the game. The fumble led to a 34-yard scoring run from Mathis and a 40-37 WVU lead.

An Aubrey Burks interception with 3:19 left seemed to put WVU in command, but a Daniels interception set up a 44-yard field goal by Mayers to tie the game with 1:33 remaining.

Daniels more than made up for the interception though, directing WVU on a 61-yard drive, resulting in Legg's game-winning, 22-yard field goal.

Mathis finished with 163 yards rushing, Prather added 109 yards receiving and Cox came up with two huge plays on defense. Holmes was outstanding for Baylor with 210 yards receiving on seven catches.

Baylor finished with an impressive 590 yards of offense, while the Mountaineers had 217 on the ground and 283 through the air for 500 yards of total offense.

The victory was West Virginia's first Big 12 win of the season, and the Mountaineers improved to 7-4 all-time versus Baylor, including 6-0 at home.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Oct. 2, 2021) - Texas Tech built up a 17-point halftime lead and then used a last minute field goal to defeat West Virginia, 23-20 at Milan Puskar Stadium.

In front of a Homecoming crowd of 54,090 and on the day that West Virginia University retired the No. 90 of all-time great Darryl Talley, the Mountaineers started slow in the first half, and the Red Raiders took full advantage.

By scoring the game's first 17 points, Texas Tech accounted for 98 more yards than the Mountaineers, ran 17 more plays and kept the ball more than three minutes longer as the WVU defense could not get off the field.

Texas Tech quarterback Henry Colombi was intercepted on the first possession, but made up for it on the second by leading a 10-play, 58-yard scoring drive which resulted in a 7-0 lead at the 4:46 mark of the first quarter.

Before the quarter ended, Texas Tech upped its margin to 14-0, when tailback SaRodorick Thompson scored his second touchdown in the quarter, both coming on 1-yard runs.

With the West Virginia offense still showing no signs of life, a 33-yard field goal by Tech kicker Jonathan Garibay as time expired extended the Red Raider advantage to 17-0 at the break.

The third quarter presented a much different West Virginia team, as the Mountaineers came out firing, erasing the 17-point deficit in the quarter.

First, quarterback Jarrett Doege engineered a 75-yard scoring drive to start the second half, which was highlight by a 40-yard completion to receiver Sam James. Running back Leddie Brown ended the drive with a 4-yard run.

West Virginia's second possession of the half resulted in a 36-yard field goal by kicker Casey Legg. Doege completed passes of 10, 21 and nine yards to get the Mountaineers into Legg's field goal range.

The Mountaineers got three possessions in the third quarter and scored on all three. The third score tied the game at 17-17 as Doege hit Isaiah Esdale for a 14-yard scoring pass. The score was set up by Esdale's 55-yard reception four plays earlier in the drive.

The Red Raiders regained the lead at the 11:46 mark of the fourth quarter, when Garibay connected on a 29-yard field goal, ending a 62-yard drive. Colombi connected on a 46-yard completion to Loic Fouonji to put the visitors in field goal range.

West Virginia bounced back with a 13-play drive that reached the Tech six yard line, but the Mountaineers were not able to get in the end zone and settled for a 28-yard Legg field goal, knotting the score at 20-20 with 4:31 left to play.

With West Virginia unable to get in the end zone on its previous possession, Texas Tech's last drive proved to be the game winner. The big play was a 42-yard completion from Colombi to Kaylon Geiger to get the Red Raiders in field goal range. Garibay's third field goal, this one from 32-yards out, split the uprights with 18 seconds left in the game.

West Virginia finished with 94 yards rushing and 330 passing to total 424 yards of offense. Texas Tech's final numbers stood at 80 yards rushing and 266 passing for 346 total yards.

After losing five straight to West Virginia, the Red Raiders have now won three straight against the Mountaineers, including two-straight in Morgantown.

18 OF THE LAST 20 YEARS

- Dating back to the 2002 Continental Tire Bowl, played in Charlotte, N.C., West Virginia has made 18 bowl appearances in the last 20 years, missing only the 2013 and 2019 seasons.
- The Mountaineers are one of 15 Power 5 schools to accomplish that feat: Georgia (20), Oklahoma (20), Wisconsin (20), Clemson (19), Florida (19), LSU (19), Ohio State (19), Oklahoma State (19), Virginia Tech (19), Alabama (18), Auburn (18), Florida State (18), Iowa (18), Oregon (18) and West Virginia (18).

AVERAGE PER DOWN

- Here's a breakdown of how the 2022 West Virginia offense is operating on first, second, third and fourth down:
- On first down, the Mountaineers have run 204 plays and have gained 1,175 yards for a 5.8 average. On second down, the Mountaineers have run 153 plays for 949 yards and a 6.2 average. On third down, the Mountaineers have run 90 plays for 551 yards and a 6.1 average gain. West Virginia has run 16 plays on fourth down for 99 yards and a 6.2 average.
- WVU's touchdowns have come 10 times on first down (8 rush/2 pass), 13 times on second down (5 rush/8 pass), three times on third down (2 rush/1 pass) and one time on fourth down (1 rush/0 pass).

OFFENSIVE ANALYSIS

- Breaking down the West Virginia offensive numbers for the 2022 season shows that the Mountaineers have run 463 plays, 229 on the ground and 234 through the air.
- The rushing game has totaled 1,148 yards, an average of 5.0 yards per carry and 16 touchdowns. The passing attack has totaled 1,626 yards, 11 touchdowns and an average of 10.8 yards per completion.
- Combine the two and the Mountaineers have turned in 2,774 yards of total offense, 27 touchdowns, an average of 6.0 yards per play and an average of 39.0 points per game.
- Deeper analysis shows that the Mountaineer offense has gained 59 first downs by the run and 81 via the pass. On average, West Virginia has totaled 191.3 yards per game on the ground, 271.0 yards per game passing and 462.3 yards per game of total offense.

AGAINST RANKED TEAMS

- Beginning with a 27-0 loss to Fordham on Oct. 18, 1941, West Virginia has played 167 games against nationally ranked teams. Of those, 51 have been Mountaineer victories.
- Since 1999, WVU has posted 27 victories over ranked teams. The Mountaineers defeated No. 23 Baylor (Coaches Poll) and two ranked opponents in 2021: No. 15 Virginia Tech and No. 22 Iowa State.

WEST VIRGINIA DEFENSE

- WVU's defensive roster includes 14 true freshmen, nine redshirt freshmen, seven sophomores, seven redshirt sophomores, two juniors, two redshirt juniors, one senior, three redshirt seniors and four super seniors

- The Mountaineers' total defensive personnel includes 15 defensive linemen, two bandits, 11 linebackers, three spears, seven cornerbacks, four safeties and five defensive backs

- Ten Mountaineer defenders have made their first career start this season

- Dante Stills has 47.5 career TFLs, which is tied with Grant Wiley's (2000-03) all-time program record

- Together, father Gary Stills (26 from 1996-98) and sons Dante (21.5) and Darius (11.5 from 2017-20) have combined to record 59 sacks at West Virginia

- In all, 28 different players recorded a tackle against Towson on Sept. 17

- West Virginia held Towson to -3 rushing yards and 56 total yards in the first half

- Towson's 180 yards of total offense were the fewest allowed by the Mountaineers since Sept. 11, 2021, vs. LIU (95)

- Against Virginia Tech on Sept. 22, WVU allowed the fewest points to a Power 5 opponent (10) since Nov. 14, 2020, vs. TCU (W 24-6)

- West Virginia allowed just 12 rushing yards in the first half and 35 for the game in the Virginia Tech game

- It marked the Hokies' worst rushing performance since 2015

- Additionally, WVU held Virginia Tech to just 88 total yards in the second half

- The Mountaineers also allowed just 11 first-half rushing yards at Texas on Oct. 1

- WVU has limited opponents to under 100 yards rushing in three of six games this season

- Overall, the Mountaineers rank No. 26 nationally and No. 2 in the Big 12 in rushing defense (112.0)

- West Virginia finished with three takeaways against Baylor on Oct. 13, the most in a game since Oct. 23, 2021, at TCU (3)

- The Mountaineers also recorded their second defensive touchdown of the season against the Bears, marking the first time they have had multiple defensive scores in a year since 2017

- West Virginia is tied for No. 7 nationally and No. 1 in the Big 12 in defensive touchdowns (2)

- The Mountaineers are one of 34 schools in the nation with multiple defensive touchdowns this season

- West Virginia has finished in the top 40 nationally in total defense in 2020 and 2021

- WVU has held opponents to fewer than 200 yards passing in two of the last four games

- At least one Mountaineer has finished with 10 or more tackles in 25 of the last 56 games

- The Mountaineers feature five players with at least 20 tackles through six games this season

- Additionally, 11 Mountaineer defenders have at least one tackle for loss this fall

- WVU finished with five sacks in the season opener at Pitt on Sept. 1, the first time reaching that mark since Sept. 18, 2021, against Virginia Tech

- In the Neal Brown era, the Mountaineers have held their opponents to fewer than 300 yards of total offense 13 times, including twice this season

- West Virginia also has held its opponents to fewer than 300 yards passing in 35 of its last 42 games, including 27 of its last 32

- Additionally, WVU has held opponents to under 250 passing yards in 10 of the last 13 games

- Since 2019, WVU has held opposing teams to fewer than 250 yards passing 29 times, fewer than 200 yards 18 times and fewer than 150 yards 10 times

- The Mountaineers have intercepted a pass in 25 of the last 45 games, including nine of the last 16

- West Virginia also has intercepted multiple passes in a game seven times in the Brown era

- WVU has recorded at least eight interceptions in seven consecutive seasons, dating back to 2015

- WVU has forced a turnover in 10 of the last 13 games, as well as 28 of the 41 games of the Brown era

- West Virginia ranks No. 48 nationally and No. 3 in the Big 12 in red-zone defense (.800)

- The Mountaineers also ranks No. 42 nationally in first-down defense, allowing 121 on the year

WEST VIRGINIA SPECIAL TEAMS

- West Virginia's 2022 special teams personnel includes seven kickers/punters and two long snappers

- The Mountaineers are 10-for-10 on field goal tries so far this season

- Returning 2021 Lou Groza Award semifinalist, K Casey Legg has made a field goal of 45 yards or longer in each season from 2019-21. His long is 38 yards so far this season

- Legg has only missed two field goals from inside 40 yards in his career (29-of-31)

- Legg's big night at Virginia Tech on Sept. 22 included a career-high 15 points, tied for No. 4 in single-game school history

- Legg made four field goals at VT, just the ninth time it has been done by a Mountaineer kicker in the last 40 years

- Legg has begun the season with 10 straight made field goals in each of the last two years

- Parker Grothaus joined the Mountaineers this season, following a three-year stint at Florida State, where he was the primary kickoff specialist for the Seminoles

- Fifteen of Grothaus' kickoffs have resulted in touchbacks this season

- Six of Oliver Straw's 16 punts this season have been placed inside the 20

- Over the last four seasons, WVU has punted the ball 184 times, with its opponents only returning 46 of them

- West Virginia has allowed just four yards on punt returns this season

- WVU sits at No. 11 in the nation in punt return defense (2.00)

- CJ Donaldson Jr. blocked a punt at Pitt, marking West Virginia's first since Logan Thimons on Sept. 14, 2019, against NC State

- WVU recorded a blocked extra point return for a defensive score for the first time in school history against Baylor on Oct. 13

- Dante Stills recorded the blocked XP, WVU's first since Rick Sherrod on Sept. 29, 2001, at Maryland, while Jacolby Spells returned it 87 yards for two points, first in school history

- WVU is No. 13 in the nation and No. 1 in the Big 12 in blocked kicks (2)

- West Virginia has recorded three punt returns of at least 10 yards this season, led by WR Preston Fox's 27-yarder against Towson

- Fox's punt return against the Tigers is tied for the longest by a Mountaineer in the Neal Brown era (Isaiah Esdale on Oct. 30, 2021, vs. Iowa State)

AGAINST THE BIG 12

- West Virginia is 54-50 all-time against current members of the Big 12 Conference. WVU is 7-4 vs. Baylor; 6-4 against Iowa State; 10-2 against Kansas; 6-6 vs. Kansas State; 2-10 vs. Oklahoma; 4-9 vs. Oklahoma State; 6-6 vs. Texas; 7-4 vs. TCU and 6-5 vs. Texas Tech.

WEST VIRGINIA HEAD COACH NEAL BROWN - FOURTH YEAR

It's a proven fact that you win with people, and no one knows that better than Brown. He has a commitment to investing time and resources in his staff and players, mentoring and preparing them to carry out the mission of Mountaineer Football, not only on the field but off of it as well.

One of the key areas in which his commitment is paying huge dividends is recruiting. Brown has taken a young and depleted roster, established a strong foundation and has it heading in an upward direction toward the future.

In his first three full classes, the average signee star rating has been among the best in the program's history, highlighted by the signing of 12 four-star recruits during that time. The program has landed multiple targets after beating out many high-level schools, and it has landed the top in-state recruits each year in coveted prospects, Zach Frazier, Wyatt Milum and Corbin Page.

The 2021 class had the highest average star rankings (3.25) according to Rivals since the start of the company, and the 2023 class is currently ranked No. 13 nationally, which would be the best in the Internet era.

With the landscape of college football changing more than ever, Brown has had to evaluate and give even more attention to his role as the CEO, overseeing the broad picture, manage all areas of the program and make sure all areas concerning the players and staff are accomplished. This past offseason, Brown showed his investment in his staff by bringing in offensive coordinator Graham Harrell to be more hands-on with the offense and further its development.

Brown continues to support and champion program leadership by the players and-above all-a dedication to the individual student-athlete. His mission is in the development of each player as a complete person, not only on the field, but off, and for each to continuously build themselves and their brand to make a difference in the world after their football career is finished.

One of the first player initiatives that Brown implemented for the team was the 5th Quarter program to assist in the development of the total player, not only on the field, but for life beyond graduation. The pillars of the program are character development, leadership development, real life, social responsibility and career development. With the name, image and likeness legislation enacted in July 2021, Brown did his due diligence in advance to ensure that his players were prepared, no matter how involved the process becomes in the future.

Another component of the 5th Quarter program is the Bridge program. Its goal is to introduce the student-athletes to the college experience when they first enter WVU and give them their final training before they embark into life after graduation.

The 2021 squad finished with six wins and had its share of positives, including earning a bowl bid to the Guaranteed Rate Bowl, its second in a row under Brown. WVU has earned a spot in a bowl game in 18 of the last 20 years and is one of only 15 programs in the nation to accomplish that feat. Running back Leddie Brown rushed for 1,000 yards for the second year in a row and WVU was fourth in the Big 12 in average passing yards per game (247.9). The Mountaineer defense finished No. 5 nationally in red zone defense, No. 18 in the fewest first downs allowed and No. 29 in third-down defense.

The Mountaineers defeated No. 15 Virginia Tech, marking the highest ranked win of the Brown era and also defeated No. 22 Iowa State to tie for the most wins against ranked teams in a season since 2007.

West Virginia had a program-best 24 student-athletes named to the Academic All-Big 12 Teams, safety Sean Mahone was a finalist for the William Campbell Trophy, the academic Heisman, and he earned a spot on the National Football Foundation's Scholar-Athlete Team. Kicker Casey Legg was named a semifinalist for the Lou Groza National Kicking Award and WVU had nine players named to one of three Big 12 postseason all-conference teams by media organizations.

Center Zach Frazier was named to the Walter Camp Football Foundation and American Football Coaches Association's All-America teams and tackle Wyatt Milum was named to three Freshman All-America teams. Defensive lineman Dante Stills was named an All-Big 12 First Team honoree and Frazier earned a spot on the second team.

The 2020 season was a big challenge for Brown, testing his ability, not only as a coach, but as a leader. He was forced to deal with the COVID-19 pandemic since mid-March, which didn't allow for spring practice or offseason workouts and skill instruction, while social unrest was at a high level nationally during the summer.

In September 2020, Brown was named the honorary head coach for the AFCA AllState Good Works Team, honoring him for his commitment to leadership, the Morgantown community and Mountaineer Nation as a whole. In January, he was named to the AFCA's Board of Trustees.

Even though the program constantly was forced to deal with the effects and protocols of COVID-19 during the 2020 season, the Mountaineers stayed the course, finishing the season 6-4 overall and 4-4 in the Big 12. Brown made his first bowl appearance as the coach of West Virginia against Army in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl, winning the game, 24-21.

Five players earned All-America honors, led by Darius Stills, who was the school's first Consensus All-American since 2006 and 12th in school history. Tony Fields II, Tykee Smith and Dante Stills were named to at least one All-America team and freshmen Zach Frazier and Akheem Mesidor were named to Freshman All-America teams. In April, Fields was drafted by the Cleveland Browns and five players signed free agent contracts.

Eight players were named to the All-Big 12 Conference postseason teams, led by first-team honorees, Fields II, also defensive newcomer of the year, Darius Stills, also defensive lineman of the year, and Leddie Brown, first-team running back.

The Mountaineers finished the 2019 season with a 5-7

mark, in what was called a transitional year. WVU finished the regular season winning two of the final three games, at Kansas State and at TCU, and had a 3-3 mark on the road, including a 3-2 road record in the Big 12 Conference.

Five of Brown's players were named to All-Big 12 postseason teams, and Colton McKivitz was named the Big 12's Co-Offensive Lineman of the Year. McKivitz earned spots on two All-America teams - Walter Camp Football Foundation's Second Team and the Associated Press' Third Team, and Tykee Smith was named a freshman All-American by the Football Writers Association of America. McKivitz played in the Reese's Senior Bowl and was selected in the fifth-round of the NFL Draft by the San Francisco 49ers.

Brown, one of six FBS coaches to win 10 or more games in 2016, 2017 and 2018, was named WVU's 35th head football coach on Jan. 5, 2019.

He spent the previous four years as the head coach at Troy University (2015-18), compiling a 35-16 record, including 3-0 in bowl games. In his final three seasons, the Trojans posted a 31-8 record (.795), tying for the highest winning percentage nationally among non-Power 5 schools.

Before Brown left after the 2018 season, Troy had won 17 of its last 20 games and 22 of its last 26 games. After directing the Trojans to the 2017 Sun Belt Conference Championship, Brown was honored as the league's coach of the year.

During his highly successful tenure at Troy, Brown's signature wins included a 24-21 victory in 2017 at then-No. 22 ranked LSU in Baton Rouge, which snapped the Tigers' 49-game non-conference home winning streak and a 24-19 win at Nebraska on Sept. 15, 2018. Also impressive was his team's narrow 30-24 loss at eventual 2016 national champion Clemson.

In 2018, Troy finished 10-3, including a victory over Buffalo in the Dollar General Bowl in Mobile, Alabama. The Trojans finished 7-1 in conference play and won five of their last six games.

The 2017 campaign featured an 11-win season for Troy, including a win over North Texas in the New Orleans Bowl. The Trojans once again finished with a 7-1 conference mark, earning Brown his first conference championship. Troy finished the season with the 27th most votes in the final Amway Coaches Poll, marking the highest final ranking by a Sun Belt Conference squad in league history.

Troy faced seven bowl teams and posted a 6-1 mark in those games. Additionally, the Trojans played three conference or conference division champions – Boise State (Mountain West), Akron (MAC/East) and North Texas (C-USA West).

Troy finished 10-3 in 2016, including a 6-2 mark in the Sun Belt and a victory over Ohio University in the Dollar General Bowl. The Trojans became the first Sun Belt Conference school to ever open a season with eight wins in its first nine games, and they became the first league school to appear in a major top 25 poll, checking in at No. 25 in the Associated Press' Nov. 13 poll. Additionally, Brown's 2016 squad tied for the best turnaround in the country (6 wins).

Prior to Brown's first season at Troy in 2015, he spent two years (2013-14) as the offensive coordinator under Mark Stoops at Kentucky. The Wildcats posted more than 440 yards of total offense in three Southeastern Conference games in 2014, its highest total since 2001.

The Wildcats totaled 380 yards or more of total offense in their first three SEC games in 2014, marking the first time a UK team had done so since 1998. Kentucky scored 21 offensive touchdowns in SEC play in 2014.

He also spent three years at Texas Tech (2010-12) as the offensive coordinator after his first stint at Troy as an assistant coach from 2006-09.

As Texas Tech's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach, the Red Raiders ranked in the nation's top-seven teams in passing offense, top 15 in total offense and top 25 in scoring offense, having increased production in all three categories each year since 2010. TTU finished the 2012 season second nationally in passing with 355.9 yards per game, 13th in total offense at 495.4 yards per game and 20th in scoring with 37.5 points per game.

The 2012 campaign was an expansion of the success from 2011, when Texas Tech ranked 13th nationally in total offense at 470.6 yards per game.

At Troy, Brown was the inside receivers coach the first two years (2006-07) with the Trojans before transitioning to offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 2008-09. Troy won four Sun Belt Conference titles and appeared in three bowl games during Brown's initial tenure.

He began his coaching career with one-year stints at UMass (2003), Sacred Heart (2004) and Delaware (2005).

Brown was a wide receiver at Kentucky for three years (1998-2000) before finishing his career at UMass in 2001-02. He was a member of two bowl teams with the Wildcats and was named to the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

While at UMass, he was an Atlantic 10 All-Academic honoree and an NCAA Division I-AA Athletic Directors' Academic All-Star team selection.

Brown graduated from UMass with a bachelor's degree in business management in 2002 and earned his master's degree in business administration in 2005.

Born in Louisville, Kentucky, Brown grew up in Bardstown, Kentucky, before moving to Danville, Kentucky, where he was an all-state wide receiver at Boyle County High School, finishing his career as the No. 2 receiver in state history.

Brown, and his wife, Brooke, have two daughters, Adalyn and Anslee, and a son, Dax.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (Sept. 1, 2022) - The game hadn't been played in 11 years, but the 105th edition of the "Backyard Brawl" turned out to be an instant classic that entertained the college football world.

Playing in front of a Thursday night, ESPN national audience and 70,622 in attendance at Acrisure Stadium - the largest crowd ever for a Pittsburgh sporting event - Pitt capitalized on a late West Virginia miscue for a 38-31 victory.

The Panthers opened the scoring with 6:48 left in the first quarter, when kicker Ben Sauls converted a 42-yard field goal. The Pitt lead held until the 12:45 mark of the second quarter when West Virginia quarterback JT Daniels connected with receiver Bryce Ford-Wheaton on a 10-yard touchdown pass. The 75-yard scoring drive was highlighted by a 44-yard run from freshman running back CJ Donaldson.

The 7-3 Mountaineer lead held until the 3:17 mark of the half when the Panthers went up 10-7 on Rodney Hammond Jr.'s 4-yard run. However, West Virginia made the most of the last possession of the half and used the final 3:17. A 13-play, 75-yard drive ended with a 24-yard field goal from kicker Casey Legg and tied the game at 10-10 after two quarters of play.

The Panthers had the first possession of the third quarter and were forced to punt, which was blocked by Donaldson and returned by teammate Hershey McLaurin to the Pitt 5-yard line. Donaldson took it from there as his 5-yard run gave the Mountaineers a 17-10 advantage early in the third.

The game was starting to live up to its nickname as the two teams traded scoring punches the rest of the way. Pitt tied the game at 17-17 with 5:51 left in the third on a Daniel Carter 1-yard rush that was set up by a 64-yard completion from Kedon Slovis to Jared Wayne.

The Panthers regained the lead with 4:42 left in the third when Hammond broke loose for a 49-yard run followed by his 11-yard scoring run, giving Pitt a 24-17 advantage heading to the fourth quarter.

A Donaldson 20-yard run was a key play in West Virginia's nine-play, 75-yard scoring drive. The score tied the game at 24-24 early in the fourth as Daniels hit Ford-Wheaton for a 16-yard scoring toss.

The Mountaineers took a 31-24 lead with 10:37 left in the game. Donaldson once again set up the scoring drive with a 39-yard scamper before Daniels powered in from 1-yard away.

WVU seemed to have the advantage, but couldn't control the clock. The Panthers tied the game at 31-31 with 3:41 left on a Slovis 24-yard touchdown pass to Israel Abanikanda. Pitt then grabbed the victory on WVU's next possession, when Daniels' pass went through the hands of Ford-Wheaton and Pitt's M.J. Devonshire returned the interception 56 yards for the victory.

West Virginia finished the game with 190 yards rushing and 214 yards passing for 404 yards of offense. The Panthers rushed for 76 yards and gained 308 through the air for 384 total yards.

Individual leaders for West Virginia were Donaldson with 125 yards rushing on seven carries and Ford-Wheaton with 97 yards receiving and two touchdowns. Pitt got 308 yards passing from Slovis and two scores from Hammond Jr. to pace the Panther offense.

The Pitt win broke a three-game losing streak to WVU, and the Panthers now lead the overall series by a 62-40-3 count.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 10, 2022)
- Kansas overcame three, 14-point deficits to win for the first time in Morgantown by a 55-42 margin in overtime.

West Virginia started fast. Just four plays into the game, quarterback JT Daniels connected on a 59-yard touchdown pass to receiver Sam James. The Mountaineers took a two-score advantage with 5:03 left in the first quarter on a 1-yard run from CJ Donaldson.

Kansas got on the board in the second quarter as Mason Fairchild caught a 10-yard scoring pass from Jalon Daniels. The Mountaineers answered with a 67-yard touchdown from Daniels to receiver Bryce Ford-Wheaton for a 21-7 WVU lead at the 13:15 mark of the second quarter.

The Jayhawks bounced back with a 6-yard scoring run from Devin Neal, closing the deficit to 21-14. The Mountaineers took their third 14-point advantage with 3:11 left in the half, when Ford-Wheaton hauled in a 5-yard touchdown pass from Daniels. However, Kansas made the most of the final drive before intermission as Neal's 17-yard reception put the score at 28-21 in WVU's favor at the half.

Kansas took the first possession of the third quarter 75 yards to tie the game at 28-28 on Daniel Hishaw's 3-yard run. Counting the drive before halftime, the Jayhawks went on a 21-0 run to grab a 35-28 lead with 4:00 left in the third quarter.

Neal's 2-yard run capped the three-touchdown spurt and took advantage of a muffed punt by the Mountaineers that changed the momentum of the game.

West Virginia ended the Jayhawk scoring run with 12:58 remaining on Casey Legg's 27-yard field goal. But Kansas regained the momentum at the 10:59 mark on a 30-yard touchdown run from Hishaw for a commanding 42-31 lead.

Suddenly, West Virginia found itself down by 11 points with under 11:00 to go and used a 64-yard drive to add a 28-yard field goal from Legg. The scoring drive, however, took 6:55 off the clock and gave Kansas the ball with 4:04 left in the game.

Kansas was forced to punt on fourth-and-1 with 2:17 left, and Daniels took over from there, leading the Mountaineers on a 12-play drive capped by a 1-yard run from Donaldson. West Virginia's two-point conversion from Daniels to Ford-Wheaton was good, and the Mountaineers erased the deficit to force overtime.

A roughing the passer penalty in overtime extended the Jayhawks' drive, and they made the most of a new set of downs. Daniels hit Quentin Skinner for a 4-yard scoring toss, forcing WVU to score a touchdown. The game ended when Jayhawk Cobee Bryant intercepted Daniels on third down, giving Kansas the Big 12 victory.

Daniels was special for West Virginia, throwing for 355 yards and three scores. Ford-Wheaton was equally as special with 152 yards receiving and two touchdowns.

Kansas turned in a balanced attack with 200 yards rushing and 219 passing for 419 yards of offense. Daniels accounted for 309 yards of total offense in the victory, while Rich Miller and Kenny Logan combined for 22 tackles.

West Virginia finished with 146 yards on the ground and 355 in the air for 501 yards of total offense.

The Kansas victory broke an eight-game losing streak to the Mountaineers.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 17, 2022) - West Virginia got its first win of the 2022 season with a convincing, 65-7 victory over the Towson Tigers at Milan Puskar Stadium.

Nearly 80 players saw action in the contest, West Virginia was able to provide valuable game reps and experience to reserve players, which should pay dividends as the season progresses.

The Mountaineers never punted in the contest and placed two running backs in the 100-yard rushing category.

First-quarter action saw the Mountaineers take a 21-7 lead after a touchdown pass from starting quarterback JT Daniels to receiver Kaden Prather. A Tony Mathis Jr. 3-yard run and a big, 82-yard run from CJ Donaldson Jr. provided the other points in the quarter for the Mountaineers.

However, after West Virginia's first touchdown in the opening quarter, Towson kick returner D'Ago Hunter tied the game with a 96-yard kickoff return. That play and Hunter's special teams' performance proved to be a bright spot in the game for the visitors. Hunter finished the day with eight kickoff returns for 227 yards, an average of 28.3 yards per return.

While the WVU special team units worked to contain Hunter, the Mountaineer defense had a bounce-back game, holding the Tigers to -3 first-half rushing yards and 59 passing for 56 yards of total offense after two quarters of play.

Taking a 21-7 lead into the second quarter, West Virginia's 24 points in that stanza put the game away and allowed coach Neal Brown the second-half luxury of getting more players in the game. WVU's 24 points came from a 26-yard Casey Legg field goal, two more touchdown runs from Donaldson and a 2-yard burst from tailback Mathis.

The Mountaineers totaled 415 yards and possessed the ball 11 more minutes than Towson.

West Virginia played all four of its talented quarterbacks in the contest and all four got in on the scoring action. Garrett Greene's 11-yard touchdown run capped an 84-yard drive and was the only points scored in the third quarter, giving the Mountaineers a 51-7 advantage.

Quarterbacks Will Crowder and Nicco Marchiol took over in the fourth quarter. Crowder passed for 57 yards, including a 5-yard scoring strike to Jeremiah Aaron, while true freshman Marchiol accounted for 32 yards passing and a 26-yard touchdown throw to Preston Fox.

West Virginia's defense was equally as impressive in the second half, as the Tigers finished with 82 yards rushing and 98 passing for 180 yards of total offense. With many players able to step in and see playing time, redshirt freshman linebacker Caden Biser led the Mountaineers with six tackles, followed by redshirt freshman safety Davis Mallinger with five tackles and a sack.

Mathis led all rushers with 104 yards to go with his two scores. Donaldson added 101 yards rushing and topped everyone with three touchdowns.

The Mountaineers finished with 316 yards on the ground and 308 yards passing among their four quarterbacks to total 624 yards of offense. WVU scored on all 10 of its possessions totaling nine touchdowns and one field goal.

The win improved West Virginia to 2-0 all-time vs. Towson and 23-0 against FCS opponents.

BLACKSBURG, Va. (Sept. 22, 2022) - Earning its first win in Blacksburg since 2002, West Virginia recorded a convincing, 33-10 victory over Virginia Tech in front of a sellout crowd of 65,632 fans and an ESPN Thursday night, national-television audience.

The Mountaineers put together a balanced offensive attack, while holding Virginia Tech to just 35 yards rushing. Kicker Casey Legg was an offensive weapon for the Mountaineers, as he converted on four field goals and accounted for 15 points in the contest.

Legg's first field goal started the scoring as he converted on a 23-yarder with 3:19 left in the first quarter. The three points capped off an impressive, 92-yard drive by the Mountaineers in 14 plays.

The Hokies took their first and only lead in the game at the 14:52 mark of the second quarter. Quarterback Grant Wells connected with Kaleb Smith for a 28-yard touchdown reception and a 7-3 lead.

The Mountaineers answered the score with Legg's second field goal at the 1:50 mark. The 35-yard kick cut WVU's deficit to 7-6.

However, thanks to a strong defensive stand, the Mountaineers were not done and got the ball back with 1:01 left in the half. Quarterback JT Daniels made the most of the final minute as he led a 70-yard drive in just six plays and ended it with a 24-yard touchdown pass to receiver Sam James. The score gave West Virginia a 13-7 halftime lead, which was critical, since the Hokies had the first possession of the third quarter.

The West Virginia defense came up big again, holding the Hokies to just three plays on the opening second-half drive. The Mountaineer offense took it from there, embarking on a 14-play, 79-yard drive that ate 6:31 off the clock. The Mountaineers got three points out of the possession as Legg converted from 25 yards away, giving the visitors a 16-7 lead.

Virginia Tech scored its only points of the second half on its next possession. Kicker Will Ross got in on the field goal parade with a 44-yarder, cutting the West Virginia lead to 16-10 at the 4:19 mark of the third quarter.

West Virginia made it a two-score game again early in the fourth, as running back Justin Johnson Jr. scored from 6-yards out for a 23-10 advantage.

After the WVU defense forced another Hokie punt, Legg converted on field goal number four with a 38-yarder at the 10:16 mark.

Capping off its strong performance, the Mountaineer defense closed out the game's scoring, when defensive back Jacoby Spells intercepted Wells and returned it 27 yards for a touchdown and a 33-10 Mountaineer victory.

Daniels was solid with 203 yards passing, and true freshman CJ Donaldson Jr. impressed once again with 106 yards rushing. Linebacker Lee Kpogba led the defense with six tackles.

Wells and Smith turned in the top performances for Tech. Wells had 193 yards passing with 70 of those yards coming from Smith receptions.

Final numbers showed West Virginia with a strong 218 yards rushing and 203 passing to total 421 yards of offense. Virginia Tech came away with 35 yards on the ground and 193 passing for 228 total yards.

The victory gave the Mountaineers two wins in a row against Virginia Tech, and West Virginia now lead the series by a 30-23-1 count. The WVU victory also keeps the Black Diamond Trophy in Morgantown for the foreseeable future with no more games remaining in the current series contract.

AUSTIN, TEXAS. (Oct. 1, 2022) - Texas scored the game's first 28 points and coasted to a 38-20 victory over West Virginia in front of 100,740 fans at Darrell K Royal - Texas Memorial Stadium.

At one point in the first half, the Longhorns scored a touchdown on four straight possessions to take control of the game. Backup quarterback Hudson Card accounted for three touchdowns and 303 yards passing to lead the Longhorn attack.

With West Virginia unable to score on its first two possessions, Texas got the scoring started on its second possession with a seven-play, 60-yard drive. Card connected with Xavier Worthy for a 15-yard touchdown pass and a 7-0 Texas lead.

Texas took advantage of the West Virginia secondary for a good portion of the game, and that was the case on its second touchdown. A trick play from Card to Worthy resulted in Worthy's 33-yard touchdown pass to Ja'Tavion Sanders to give the Longhorns a 14-0 advantage heading to the second quarter.

Texas used passes of 22 and 24 yards to set up its third score as tailback Bijan Robinson scored on a 1-yard run. The drive covered 71 yards in only six plays.

On its fourth straight scoring drive, Texas went to the air again and used a 45-yard completion from Card to Worthy, and Card's 13-yard touchdown pass to Sanders gave UT a 28-0 advantage at the 4:17 mark of the second quarter.

West Virginia managed to get on the board just before halftime with a 13-play, 83-yard drive. Receiver Bryce Ford-Wheaton accounted for 40 yards on the drive, while fellow receiver Sam James added a 21-yard reception. Quarterback JT Daniels ended the drive with an 8-yard touchdown reception to Kaden Prather, putting the halftime score at 28-7 in favor of the Longhorns.

Texas started the third quarter much like it ended the first half, by doing damage to the Mountaineer defense through the passing game.

A five-play, 70-yard drive took only 1:51 off the clock and ended with Card's third passing touchdown in the game. Worthy hauled in a 44-yard bomb for his second score, giving the Longhorns a commanding, 35-7 margin.

With no further scoring in the third quarter, the Mountaineers did outscore the Longhorns, 13-3, in the fourth quarter, but the game was long out of reach.

The Mountaineers used a 7:31 drive to earn their second score, when running back Tony Mathis Jr. ran in from 1-yard away.

Texas' final points came with 10:22 left to play as kicker Bert Auburn converted a 45-yard field goal, putting the score at 38-14. West Virginia closed the scoring with 4:25 left on a 4-yard touchdown run by Justin Johnson Jr. capping off a 14-play, 75-yard drive.

Bright spots for Texas aside from Card's performance were the 101 yards rushing from Robinson and 119 yards receiving from Worthy. Jaylan Ford and Jerrin Thompson combined for 24 stops.

Daniels finished with 253 yards passing, with 93 yards going to Ford-Wheaton on eight catches and 86 yards to James on seven receptions.

Texas won the statistical battle with 110 yards rushing and 336 passing for 446 yards of offense. Final numbers for West Virginia showed 61 yards on the ground and 253 through the air for 314 total offensive yards.
