Mountaineers (9-20, 4-12)

West Virginia Hosts TCU on Senior Night

- WVU will recognize six seniors on Wednesday -- Akok Akok, RaeQuan Battle, Jesse Edwards, Kerr Kriisa, Quinn Slazinski and Pat Suemnick, along with managers Conner Anders, Garret Hill and Alex Mergner and student athletic trainer Jacob Pinkerton.
- West Virginia has won nine of its last 10 Senior Night games.
- Against Kansas State last week, RaeQuan Battle (28) and Kerr Kriisa (career-high 25) became the first WVU duo to each score 25+ in a game in more than three years.
- West Virginia is 68-47 in its last 115 games in the month of March.
- The Mountaineers have won 112 of their last 170 conference games at the WVU Coliseum.
- WVU is 609-186 (.778) all-time at the WVU Coliseum and 250-72 at the WVU Coliseum in the last 20 seasons.
- WVU is 262-94 in its last 356 games against unranked teams, including winners of 145 of its last 176 at home.
- West Virginia has two wins over ranked teams this season (No. 3 Kansas and No. 25 Texas).
- WVU's win over No. 3 Kansas was its first win over a Top 5 team since beating No. 4 Baylor in 2020.
- Since Feb. 12, RaeQuan Battle scored 21 points at TCU, 25 points vs. Baylor, 24 points vs. UCF and 28 at K-State.
- Against UC, Jesse Edwards became the first WVU player to have 25 points, 10 rebounds & four blocks in a game.
- Fifth-year senior RaeQuan Battle made his season debut against Radford on Dec. 20. He started and scored 29 points. It was the most points ever scored by a WVU player in his first game as a Mountaineer.
- Battle followed that performance up with another 29-point performance against Toledo and had his first career double-double with 24 points and 10 rebounds against Ohio State. He had 23 points against Kansas.
- Battle was named Big 12 Player of the Week on Dec. 26 and Jan. 2 and was named Big 12 Newcomer of the Week on Dec. 26.
- At Oklahoma State on Jan. 27, it marked the first time West Virginia has had a full roster in any game this season.
- West Virginia has had a full roster in just seven games this season.
- Battle missed the first nine games until second-time transfers were ruled immediately eligible by a federal judge. He was scheduled to make his season debut against UMass and missed due to flu-like symptoms.
- Kerr Kriisa missed the first nine games due to an NCAA suspension for a violation at Arizona.
- Akok Akok missed the first seven games with a medical issue.
- Noah Farrakhan was slated to redshirt and missed the first nine games until the transfer rule was changed in federal court.
- Jesse Edwards fractured his wrist in the UMass games and had surgery on Dec. 20. He returned to practice on Jan. 19 and made his game return at Oklahoma State on Jan. 27, exactly six weeks from the UMass game.
- Before Edwards was injured, he ranked third in rebounding, fourth in field goal percentage, third in blocked shots and third in offensive rebounds in the Big 12.
- Only three WVU players have played in every game this season: Quinn Slazinski, Josiah Harris and Pat Suemnick.
- Josh Eilert recorded his first career victory with a 67-59 win over Missouri State on Nov. 6.
- Josh Eilert is in his first season as a head coach. He has spent the last 17 seasons on the Mountaineer basketball staff. Eilert recorded his first ranked win against No. 25 Texas on Jan. 13.
- The Mountaineers returned four players from last year's team -- senior Patrick Suemnick, juniors Kobe Johnson and Seth Wilson and sophomore Josiah Harris.
- WVU returned 10 percent of its scoring from the 2022-23 team.
- Kerr Kriisa is averaging 4.7 assists per game. He led the Pac-12 in assists the last two seasons.
- Quinn Slazinski recorded a career-high 22 points against Pitt. He has reached double figures in 19 of 29 games.
- Patrick Sumenick has recorded career highs in four games this season. He posted a career-high 20 points to go with six rebounds in the win over No. 3 Kansas on Jan. 20.
- West Virginia is 101-112 in Big 12 Conference regular season games since joining in 2012-13.
- West Virginia has made at least one 3-point field goal in 861 consecutive games.
- The Mountaineers have won 144 of their last 162 games when holding opponents to 69 points or less.
- WVU has won 155 of its last 174 and 211 of its last 240 games when holding opponents to less than 69 points.
- West Virginia is 204-132 since the start of the 2014-15 season.
- WVU has made 11 NCAA appearances in the last 16 seasons, including the Final Four in 2010. The Mountaineers have made 13 NCAA appearances since 2005.
- West Virginia is 13-15 all-time in games played on March 6.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT EILERT

"I am excited and happy for Josh; he has paid his dues and was the perfect choice by Wren Baker to lead the program at this time under challenging circumstances. He has been extremely loyal, spending the entirety of his career working for Coach Huggins. Josh has tremendous experience at the high-major level and outstanding contacts and relationships throughout the sport. Most important, he understands the culture of Mountaineer Basketball, the state of West Virginia, and the Big 12 Conference." Illinois coach Brad Underwood

"I'm truly happy the University decided to hire from within. Josh is more than capable to be the leader of the program and no one will work harder to make Mountaineer Nation proud." Former Mountaineer and Current New York Knicks Player Deuce McBride

"I'm ecstatic for Coach Eilert and his family. Josh is truly one of the great people in the coaching community. He possesses a high-level work ethic and integrity. He is more than prepared and qualified to lead WVU during a challenging transition. His passion for the players he coaches as well as his drive to win will allow him to do very well." Oklahoma State Head Coach Mike Boynton

"Josh has played a big role in WVU's success over the past 15 seasons. His already established relationship with the current roster should pay immediate dividends in helping the WVU program through this transition. I'm sure Mountaineers everywhere will show their support for Josh and this team!" UAB Head Coach Andy Kennedy

"Super excited for Josh Eilert's opportunity. We've been around Josh since the completion of his playing days at K-State. He's been unbelievably loyal, a willing learner, and has waited his turn. He is a tremendous leader, a man of character and we are super excited for him." Massachusetts Head Coach Frank Martin

"I'm incredibly excited for Josh to have earned this opportunity to lead our basketball program. Josh is a great basketball mind with a strong work ethic and an ability to unite and connect with people. He is the right person to take on this challenge and knows the importance of Mountaineer basketball to the great state of West Virginia." Jonnie West, Golden State Warriors Director of Basketball Operations

"Josh is one of the most consistent and detailed oriented coaches I have been around. He was a big part of my growth in a difficult time when I transitioned from a player to a graduate assistant. I will be forever thankful for his support." Radford Head Coach Darris Nichols

Series Record

- West Virginia leads the all-time series with TCU, 18-6.
- The two teams met this season on Feb. 12 in Fort Worth with the Horned Frogs coming away with an 81-65 win.
- The Mountaineers are 11-0 against TCU at the WVU Coliseum.
- All six of TCU's wins in the series took place in Fort Worth.
- All but one meeting has been during the Big 12 regular season. WVU defeated TCU in the quarterfinals of the 2016 Big 12 Championship.
- Jamie Dixon is 18-16 all-time against WVU. He was 12-7 while at Pitt and 6-9 at TCU.

WVU Basketball Tradition

- This is the 115th season and 121st year overall for West Virginia basketball, which began in 1903.
- The Mountaineers own a 1,855-1,172 all-time record in intercollegiate basketball competition, ranking the Mountaineers 20th in wins among all Division I schools.
- WVU has earned 31 NCAA berths, 16 NIT trips and one CBI bid since 1941, and has finished in the Top 25 24 times, including an amazing nine straight years from 1955-63.
- In 1958, the Mountaineers finished the regular season ranked No. 1 in both polls and in 1959, West Virginia, led by All-America guard Jerry West, lost in the NCAA finals to California.
- West Virginia has had 13 first team All-Americans, headlined by West, who went on to become one of basketball's all-time greats with the NBA's Los Angeles Lakers.
- Since 2010, Derek Culver was named to the Lute Olson All-American team in 2021, Jevon Carter was named to the John Wooden, Lute Olson and Senior CLASS All-America teams in 2018. Juwan Staten was named to the Lute Olson All-America team in 2015, Da'Sean Butler earned All-America first team honors in 2010 by John Wooden & Basketball Times and Kevin Jones earned All-America honors in 2012 by John Wooden.
- Besides West, some of basketball's biggest names have been affiliated with the Old Gold & Blue, including former Lakers coach and general manager Fred Schaus, former NBA President of Basketball Operations and Naismith Hall of Famer Rod Thorn, former Utah Jazz broadcaster and Curt Gowdy Media Award winner "Hot Rod" Hundley and most recently Naismith Hall of Famer Bob Huggins.
- West Virginia has played in four different home venues: the ROTC Armory (1903-15), The Ark (1916-27), Stansbury Hall (1928-69) and the WVU Coliseum (1970-present). When the WVU Coliseum was closed due to asbestos removal during the 1999-2000 season, WVU played home games in Charleston, Wheeling and Fairmont.

Big 12 Preseason Poll

- West Virginia was predicted ninth out of 14 teams in a vote by the league's head coaches in the preseason poll.
- Fifth-year senior Jesse Edwards was named Preseason All-Big 12 Honorable Mention.
- Last year, the Mountaineers finished eighth with a 7-11 conference mark.

Roster Addition

- Coach Josh Eilert announced the addition of Aden Tagaloa-Nelson to the roster on Jan. 13.
- Tagaloa-Nelson is a freshman from Lexington, Kentucky, who is a safety on the WVU football team.
- He played high school basketball at Woodford County High School.

Against Ranked Teams

- The Iowa State game marked the 369th time in school history WVU played a team in the AP Top 25.
- WVU owns 117 wins against AP-ranked teams.
- Since 1995, the Mountaineers have played 255 nationally ranked teams. WVU has played 369 total games against nationally ranked competition. That means more than 69 percent of the games against the best teams in the country have come during the last 30 seasons.
- WVU has played 206 ranked teams since the start of the 2004-05 season, winning 75 of those games.

Josh Eilert

- Josh Eilert, who is in his 17th season on the Mountaineer basketball staff, was named head men's basketball coach at West Virginia University for an interim period, vice president and director of athletics Wren Baker announced on June 24, 2023.
- Eilert recorded his first career victory on Nov. 6, 2023, a 67-59 win over Missouri State at the WVU Coliseum.
- He garnered his first victory over a ranked team when the Mountaineers downed No. 25 Texas, 76-73 on Jan. 13.
- Since coming to West Virginia in 2007, Eilert has helped the Mountaineers earn 11 NCAA Tournament appearances, including the 2010 Final Four and five NCAA Sweet 16s.
- During his career, Eilert has handled a variety of duties, including directing WVU's wing and post players, on- and off-campus recruiting, on-court scouting, opponent scouting, film preparation, scheduling, coordinated the day-to-day internal operations of the basketball program, travel arrangements, camps, film exchange, fundraising and other special projects. This past season, Eilert moved into a coaching role as an assistant coach and served as an interim assistant coach during the 2016-17 season.
- In 2021, Eilert was named a member of the Top 50 Notable Division I Support Staff by Silver Waves Media.
- Eilert came to WVU win 2007 from Kansas State, where he served as a graduate assistant in 2006-07.
- Eilert played two seasons of basketball at Kansas State from 2002-04 after transferring from Cloud County Community College, where he was a two-year letterman and one-year starter.
- He was named to the Academic All-Big 12 Team as a senior and four times was selected to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll. Eilert was honored at K-State with the Keith Amerson Academic Award in 2004. While at Cloud County, he earned KJCAA Academic All-America honors as a sophomore.
- A native of Osborne, Kansas, Eilert earned his bachelor's degree in marketing from Kansas State in 2004. He earned his master's degree in College Student Personnel/Intercollegiate Athletics from Kansas State in 2007.
- Eilert and his wife, Brandi, have two sons, Brendan and Tristan, and a daughter, Emri.

Up Next

- WVU will close out the regular season at Cincinnati on Saturday at 2 p.m.
- Earlier this season in Morgantown on Jan. 31, WVU came away with a 69-65 victory over the Bearcats.

Signing Day

- In the November signing period, coach Josh Eilert announced the signing of Carmelo Adkins to the 2024-25 academic year.
- Adkins is a 6-foot-5, 185-pound guard who currently attends Phoenix Prep (PHH Prep) in Phoenix, Arizona.
- He is originally from Lubbock, Texas.
- Last season, he averaged 16 points, six rebounds, three assists and 1.3 steals per game.
- In 2021-22, Adkins averaged 12.3 points, 4.6 rebounds and 3.1 steals per contest.

More Assists

- Last season, WVU made its 31st appearance all-time in the NCAA Tournament, dating back to 1955.
- West Virginia is 136-13 at home against nonconference teams in the last 22 years, and has won 117 of its last 128.
- West Virginia is 198-54 against nonconference teams in regular season games in the last 20 seasons.
- The Mountaineers have been ranked in at least one poll in 11 of the last 16 seasons.

Recap

West Virginia rallied from six points down at halftime to knock off Missouri State 67-59 in Josh Eilert's head coaching debut for the Mountaineers.

After missing 21 straight field goal attempts to finish the first half, it took West Virginia only three minutes to erase Missouri State's lead by making its first six shots of the second half. A Quinn Slazinski 3 gave the Mountaineers a 36-33 lead, and then an Ofri Naveh 3 pushed the lead to 41-38.

A couple of Seth Wilson 3s, plus two baskets by forward Patrick Suemnick coming off the bench, got the lead to eight with 8:58 to play.

Chance Moore, who led all scorers with 24 points, got hot from behind the arc and his fifth 3 of the game reduced West Virginia's lead to 61-59 with 41 seconds left.

Missouri State (0-1) continued with full-court pressure, but WVU broke it easily and Slazinski scored a driving layup. Then, Moore's missed 3 was grabbed by Slazinski, who got the ball down the floor to Josiah Harris for a breakaway dunk.

After Moore's missed free throw, WVU got through more pressure with Naveh flipping a pass down the floor for another Harris dunk to finish the game with an exclamation point.

Slazinski led West Virginia with 18 points while adding seven rebounds; Jesse Edwards contributed 13 points and 13 rebounds and Wilson finished with 11 points, all of them coming in the second half.

WVU (1-0) made 18 of its 31 second-half field goal attempts after missing all but four of their 32 first-half attempts.

WVU began the game on a 15-4 run before going cold after Edwards' layup with 14:07 remaining. The free throw line is what kept West Virginia in it, the Mountaineers connecting on 15-of-18 in the first half and 16-of-20 for the game.

West Virginia never trailed after regaining the lead with 16:34 remaining.

Naveh came off the bench to spell Harris, Suemnick was used to relieve bigs Slazinski and Edwards, while Florida State transfer Jeremiah Bemby was brought in to give Johnson a rest at point guard.

Eilert gave Edwards frequent rests ahead of the media timeouts and occasionally used some zone defense to try and slow down the Bears.

Alston Mason was the only other Missouri State player to reach double figures with 15 points. Missouri State returned three starters from last year's squad that ranked among the top defensive teams in the country.

Overall, the Mountaineers shot 34.9% of to the Bears' 35.4%.

West Virginia is now 99-16 in season openers and 105-10 in home openers.

Recap

Xander Rice's game-high 30 points led Monmouth to a 73-65 victory over West Virginia at the WVU Coliseum.

Monmouth, 1-1, used a 2-3 zone defense to stymie an undermanned Mountaineer team that missed 25 of their 32 attempts from behind the 3-point arc. West Virginia, 1-1, suffered from frigid first-half shooting in its season-opening victory over Missouri State.

This time, it was both halves.

The only West Virginia player making a reasonable amount of his shot attempts was Jesse Edwards, the forward connecting on 6-of-11, but he was double- and triple-teamed whenever he got the basketball close to the goal. His teammates were not nearly as efficient. Josiah Harris was 1-of-12, Quinn Slazinski was 6-of-16, Kobe Johnson was 4-for-11, Seth Wilson was 3-for-11 and Ofri Naveh was 1-for-5 from the floor.

"Our execution offensively wasn't perfect by any means, but it seemed like we were getting pretty good shots and they just weren't falling," West Virginia coach Josh Eilert said. "You don't want to harp on it too much, but we troubled to get that thing over the rim once our legs got a little bit gassed and that has a lot to do with shooting that basketball."

Forward Pat Suemnick did not attempt a shot in four minutes of court time and guard Jeremiah Bemby missed his only field goal try in three minutes of action.

After leading 33-32 at halftime, the game turned early in the second half when the Hawks chose to stay in their 2-3 zone. West Virginia committed only 10 turnovers, but a couple of them were critical in live-ball situations that resulted in easy Monmouth baskets.

Johnson lost the ball while trying to make a spin move to the basket, leading to Rice's transition 3 at the other end. Instead of a two-point deficit or potentially a tie game if West Virginia scores, Monmouth came out of that sequence leading 52-47. Moments later, Slazinski lost possession of the ball after taking it away from Abdi Bashir Jr. and Nikita Konstantynovsky picked it up at the free throw line and took it to the basket for a dunk. That score gave Monmouth a 56-49 lead.

The Hawks' advantage swelled to 13 with 3:59 left and again to 13 with 2:58 to go.

Wilson gave West Virginia some hope when he hit a transition 3 with 41 seconds left to cut Monmouth's lead to 69-65, but Rice answered with two free throws and then Jakari Spence got two more to go down with 19 seconds left.

West Virginia missed 12 of its final 15 field goal attempts.

A crowd of 10,473 was announced for the game.

Recap

SMU rallied from an 11-point halftime deficit to defeat West Virginia 70-58 in the opening game of the Fort Myers Tip-Off at Suncoast Credit Union Arena in Fort Myers, Florida.

The Mustangs (4-1) used 11 players to eventually wear down Mountaineers and outscored them 45-22 after intermission.

“That second half, I worried with the game plan I envisioned them having with their deep rotation, athleticism and the way they get up and down the floor and how we’d manage that late in the game,” West Virginia coach Josh Eilert said. “I thought we had a pretty good first half. We rebounded it well but to be honest, a lot of those shots they were taking were uncontested.

West Virginia used a 2-3 zone and a combined 20 points from Jesse Edwards and Quinn Slazinski to build a 36-25 halftime lead. But the game turned during a five-minute stretch in the second half when SMU outscored West Virginia 17-5 to take its first lead, 42-41. The Mustangs took the lead for good at the 10-minute mark on Zhuric Phelps’ driving layup.

SMU built its lead to 52-47 at 8:04, then 58-52 at 5:26 and gradually 61-52 on Ricardo Wright’s 3 with 5:04 to go. SMU’s biggest lead was 70-56 just ahead of the game’s final basket by Slazinski’s with 20 seconds remaining.

Phelps led SMU with 17 points and 12 rebounds. Chuck Harris scored 12 and Wright came off the bench to also contributed 12. Keon Ambrose-Hylton added 10.

The Mustangs shot 48.3% overall and 60% (18 of 30) in the second half.

West Virginia (2-2) got a game-high 18 points from Edwards, who made 7 of his 15 field goal attempts and only 4 of 9 from the free throw line. Slazinski was the only other WVU player to reach double figures with 13.

WVU left eight points at the free throw line by connecting on only 13 of its 21 attempts, clearly a byproduct of being tired. In the second half, Eilert was taking timeouts simply to give his players some rest.

The Mountaineers shot 37% from the floor, 31.3% from 3-point distance and committed 15 turnovers leading to 16 SMU points. The Mustangs also had a 19-11 edge in bench scoring.

“We really couldn’t get our defense set because we weren’t getting good looks,” Eilert said. “We were going to control this game on the offensive end by taking care of the ball and getting good shots to get our defense set.”

West Virginia used just seven players with Seth Wilson and Patrick Suemnick coming off the bench. Wilson grabbed eight rebounds in 33 minutes of work from his guard position.

The game was the first-ever meeting between these two schools.

Recap

Undermanned West Virginia’s rally from a 10-point second half deficit fell short as 24th-ranked Virginia held on for a 56-54 victory in the consolation game of the Fort Myers Tip-Off at Suncoast Credit Union Arena in Fort Myers, Florida.

Virginia appeared to be taking control of the game with 13:18 remaining when Andrew Rohde’s put-back basket gave the Cavaliers a 36-26 lead.

But West Virginia, using just seven players, went on a 16-4 run over the next five minutes to take the lead, 42-40, on Kobe Johnson’s 3. Virginia scored the next five, but Quinn Slazinski answered with a 3 to tie the game at 45.

The Mountaineers retook the lead with 1:55 left on Seth Wilson’s 3, and later tied it at 54 on three Slazinski free throws when he was fouled behind the arc by Ryan Dunn.

However, West Virginia was unable to secure the rebound on Dunn’s missed 3, Leon Bond Lii getting the offensive board, and Slazinski fouled Reece Beekman in the act of shooting with two seconds remaining. Beekman made the first of two and his second was rebounded by Dunn, who was fouled by Offri Naveh. Dunn made one of two with 0.4 seconds left for WVU to attempt a miracle shot.

Otherwise, West Virginia (2-3) had its way on the glass, outrebounding Virginia 41-28 for the game, but the Mountaineers struggled on the boards late in the game once 6-foot-11 center Jesse Edwards picked up his fourth foul.

Edwards, who finished with a game-high 17 points and 9 rebounds, missed a couple of critical free throws in the second half when WVU needed points and finished 3 of 6 from the charity stripe.

Slazinski was the only other Mountaineer player to reach double figures with 17. Wilson (9) and Johnson (8) scored all their points in the second half.

West Virginia shot 37.3% (19 of 51) from the floor, 33.3% from 3 (7 of 21) and 62.5% from the free throw line (9 of 13).

Virginia (5-1) got 13 points from Dunn and 12 from Beekman. Poca’s Isaac McKneely contributed 8 on just 2 of 9 shooting. The Cavaliers were slightly better from the floor connecting on 21 of 52 for 40.4%, but were just 4 of 18 from behind the arc.

The Cavaliers capitalized on West Virginia’s 16 turnovers by scoring 18 points off them.

“I’m not really into moral victories even though we were shorthanded and have a lot of challenges,” Eilert said. “That’s not my message to them. We’re going to compete each and every night. We have a very small margin for error so we’ve got to be careful not to lose our heads down the stretch like we did tonight.”

Recap

West Virginia battled back from an 18-point second half deficit before running out of gas in the final three minutes to fall to UMass 87-79 in the Basketball Hall of Fame Classic at MassMutual Center in Springfield, Massachusetts.

The Mountaineers used some torrid 3-point shooting to tie the game on Seth Wilson's 3 with 9:04 left and was trailing 70-69 with 3:14 to go on Pat Suemnick's follow-up basket.

WVU missed its next six shots during a two-minute stretch, which allowed the Minutemen to build their lead back to seven. It got to nine on two Diggins free throws and then to 10 on two more from Diggins at the line with just 48 seconds remaining.

UMass took care of business at the free throw line by making 25 of 32, including 14 of 15 during one stretch late in the game when WVU was fouling to try and get the ball back.

The Mountaineers (4-6) were bolstered by the services of guard Kerr Kriisa, coming off a nine-game suspension to begin the season, and guard Noah Farrakhan, who became eligible because of a U.S. District Court ruling earlier in the week that suspended the NCAA's transfer waiver rule, but WVU's key import was unable to go.

That's guard RaeQuan Battle, who did not dress for the game because he has been battling flu-like symptoms.

Kriisa gave WVU a big lift with a game-high 20 points while Farrakhan contributed 15 in 18 minutes of action coming off the bench, but that wasn't enough to slow down UMass' inside tandem of Josh Cohen and Matt Cross, who combined to score 32 points and grab 20 rebounds.

The Minutemen completely dominated the glass, particularly once West Virginia's Jesse Edwards went to the bench for a good portion of the second half because a hand injury. He did return briefly but scored a season-low two points on 1-of-7 shooting while grabbing just three rebounds.

UMass had a 47 to 32 edge in rebounding and outscored West Virginia 36 to 24 in the paint. In building its 15-point halftime lead, Massachusetts had a 19 to 0 advantage in fastbreak points.

Robert Davis Jr. came off the bench to score 18 and Diggins finished with 15 for the Minutemen.

Kriisa's line in his WVU regular season debut was 20 points on 6-of-16 shooting with seven assists, two rebounds and three turnovers in 36 minutes of action.

Farrakhan was 7-of-11 from the floor for his 15 points, while handing out four assists before fouling out.

Forward Quinn Slazinski added 20 and forward Josiah Harris came off the bench to tally 10 after attending graduation earlier in the day. Harris is just 19 years old and will now begin work on his master's degree.

Recap

Daquan Smith's basket with 1.5 seconds left lifted Radford to a 66-65 come-from-behind victory over West Virginia in non-conference action at the WVU Coliseum.

The Mountaineers, playing without starting center Jesse Edwards and struggling to rebound the basketball, appeared to be in control of the game with three minutes left and leading 63-58. But three straight misses, two RaeQuan Battle and another by Noah Farrakhan, opened the door for the Highlanders to rally.

After Battle's second miss, Kenyon Giles answered with a 3 at the other end.

Misses by Farrakhan, Giles, Battle and then Radford's Bryan Antoine kept the score stuck at 63-61 when Eilert called timeout with 1:29. What came out of it was Farrakhan's difficult turnaround basket with 1:18 remaining to give the Mountaineers a 65-61 lead.

Smith took the ball to the basket and scored a layup with 56 seconds left.

West Virginia got a great look when Kerr Kriisa found Patrick Suemnick near the basket, but the forward was unable to get shot falling away from the rim to go down.

Antoine was fouled at the other end by Suemnick driving to the basket but was only able to get the first of two free throws to go down. Battle was fouled rebounding Antoine's miss, went to the free throw line to shoot a one-and-one, and watched his attempt roll off the rim with nine seconds left. Chandler Turner grabbed the rebound, got the ball to Smith on the wing and after mishandling the ball, he was able to regain control and get his shot to fall with 0.6 seconds showing on the clock.

Officials added nine-tenths of a second, but all WVU could get was a long 3-point try from Battle that missed everything.

The ending spoiled a 29-point season debut by Battle, whose transfer waiver denial required him to sit out the first nine games of the season. A stomach virus before the loss at Massachusetts delayed his debut another five days.

The Montana State transfer made 9-of-22 from the floor, 1-of-8 from 3, and 10-of-13 from the free throw line in his first WVU appearance.

Farrakhan, an Eastern Michigan transfer who made his season debut last Saturday with 15 points, followed that up with 16 points tonight.

The other seven players who got into the game for West Virginia contributed a combined 20 points on 9-of-29 shooting.

WVU was outrebounded 46-38 and missed six of its 17 free throw attempts, three of those coming in the second half.

Recap

West Virginia took Ohio State to overtime, but the Buckeyes made enough plays down the stretch to hold on for a 78-75 victory over the Mountaineers at Rocket Mortgage FieldHouse in Cleveland, Ohio, as part of the Legends of Basketball Showcase triple-header.

The nightcap appeared headed toward a Buckeye rout when Ohio State took an early 24-10 lead, but WVU switched to a 2-3 zone defense and outscored the Buckeyes 16-4 over the final eight minutes of the first half to trail 28-26 at intermission.

The Buckeyes (11-2) outscored WVU 12-4 during a four-minute stretch to begin the second half, pushing their lead back to 10, 40-30, but the Mountaineers kept hanging around.

A Josiah Harris three-point play reduced Ohio State's lead to four, 42-38, with 13:10 left and then Noah Farrakhan's turnaround jumper two minutes later made it a two-point game.

Ohio State answered with five quick points and then Scotty Middleton's 3 gave the Buckeyes an eight-point lead, 50-42, with 9:38 to go.

West Virginia fought back once more, the Mountaineers getting a pair of baskets from Farrakhan and a 3 from RaeQuan Battle to keep it a one-possession game.

The Buckeyes got their lead back to nine, 58-49, with 6:59 remaining yet couldn't close the door. Patrick Suemnick's three-point play and then a pair of Suemnick baskets 45 seconds apart tied the game at 65 with 29 seconds remaining.

Ohio State called timeout with 18 seconds left to draw up a game-winning shot, but Roddy Gayle Jr.'s turnaround jumper in the paint came up short.

The extra session saw Ohio State use the 3-ball to build its lead. Jamison Battle began overtime with a 3 from the wing, Gayle added another triple and Bruce Thornton hit a third with 2:03 left to push Ohio State's margin back to six, 77-71.

RaeQuan Battle's two free throws reduced the lead to four, and then he came up with a steal and a dunk to make it a one-possession game with 50 seconds left.

From here, neither team could cash in at the free throw line. Ohio State's Evan Mahaffey missed a pair with 20 seconds left and then Thornton opted to foul Kerr Kriisa with 12 seconds remaining and the Buckeyes leading by three.

Kriisa missed the front end of the one-and-one, Jamison Battle grabbed the rebound and Ohio State was able to run out the clock.

Ohio State made just 2-of-15 from behind the arc in the first half before discovering its shooting stroke after intermission. The Buckeyes hit 9-of-19 for the remainder of the game to finish 11-of-34 overall.

West Virginia could only make one of its 22 triples.

Recap

Third-ranked Houston got 20 points from Baylor transfer LJ Cryer and used a suffocating defense to defeat West Virginia 89-55 at the Fertitta Center in Houston, Texas.

It was Houston's first-ever Big 12 game.
Ja'Vier Francis contributed 13 points and Jamal Shead handed out 11 assists for the Cougars.

"The way they play it's not a good matchup for us, by any means," West Virginia coach Josh Eilert said. "You look at the rebounding and we ended up 40-34, which is better than I thought it would be, but they just made shots."

Houston jumped on West Virginia early and got a double-digit lead at the 10-minute mark of the first half on Cryer's pullup jumper. Then, the Cougars used an 11-2 run over the next five minutes to build a 36-15 lead with 4:23 remaining in the first half.

The Cougars got it to 27 on Cryer's 3-point jumper with 35 seconds until intermission. Houston's biggest lead of the game was 39 points with 12:05 left in the game.

West Virginia's RaeQuan Battle, who came into the game averaging 27.3 points in the three games he's played, was 1-of-9 from the floor and finished with just 4 points. Forward Pat Suemnick led the Mountaineers with 12 points on 6-of-8 shooting coming off the bench.

Suemnick also grabbed five rebounds.
No other WVU player reached double figures.

Recap

West Virginia got a career-high 16 points from Patrick Suemnick to knock off 25th-ranked Texas 76-73 at the WVU Coliseum.

Suemnick, who recently got into the starting lineup, made 5 of his 7 field goal attempts, including a couple of pretty one-handed reverse dunks; made 6 of 12 from the free throw line and grabbed six rebounds.

Kerr Kriisa and RaeQuan Battle contributed 14 each, while Quinn Slazinski added 13 coming off the bench.

The outcome of the game was determined at the free throw line where West Virginia got 20 more attempts than the Longhorns. Texas was over the foul limit with 11:34 left in the game and WVU cashed in, making 11 of its final 15 free throws.

Texas (12-4, 1-2) turned the ball over 22 times and despite having a significant size advantage over West Virginia, was outrebounded by one, 32-31.

Kriisa's 3-point shooting in the first half kept West Virginia in the game, but forward Akok Akok hit perhaps the biggest 3 from near the Mountaineer bench to give WVU a 52-46 lead with 10:05 left.

Akok also recorded a big block when Max Abmas tried to score close to the basket and then recorded a dunk at the other end with 45.2 seconds left to give WVU a 70-65 lead.

West Virginia's biggest lead was 11, 59-48, with 5:45 remaining on a pair of Slazinski free throws.

After the Abmas 3 and Texas' 30-second timeout, West Virginia broke full-court pressure leading to two Slazinski free throws. Abmas made two free throws at the other end with 14 seconds left, and once again, WVU got through pressure leading to a pair of Battle free throws one second later.

Abmas, trying to maneuver into position to try another 3, dribbled the ball off his foot at midcourt and into the arms of Slazinski, who was fouled by Abmas with nine seconds left. Slazinski made the first of two and Abmas ended the game with his seventh 3.

Texas was only able to get four minutes out of starting center Kadin Shedrick, who has been dealing with back spasms.

Disu chipped in with 18 points on 7-of-12 shooting before he fouled out with 2:16 remaining.

The Longhorns shot just 45.3% for the game and was outscored 25 to 9 by West Virginia's bench.

The Mountaineers shot 53% in the second half and 44.7% overall for the game.

Recap

No. 15 Oklahoma used a dominant inside performance in the second half to defeat West Virginia 77-63 at the Lloyd Noble Center in Norman, Oklahoma.

The Sooners scored 40 points in the paint, 24 of those in the second half.

Oklahoma controlled the glass, 33 to 19, and limited West Virginia to just three field goals over the first six minutes of the second half to take control of the game.

OU's lead swelled to 11 on John Hugley IV's two free throws, and then to 15 on Rivaldo Soares' 3-pointer with 10:51 remaining.

The Sooners' biggest lead was 19 points with 7:52 left and never dipped below 12.

"The things that stand out most to me are fast-break points and second-chance points, not to mention the rebounds," West Virginia coach Josh Eilert said. "We didn't rebound it whatsoever. We credited the win against Texas and the way we approached the game in terms of everyone's got one and take away all those second-chance points."

Forward Jalon Moore led all scorers with 16 points on 7-of-11 shooting. The Georgia Tech transfer grabbed five rebounds, assisted on two baskets and made two of his three free throw attempts.

Soares and guard Javian McCollum contributed 13 points each while sophomore guard Otega Oweh finished with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

Oklahoma shot 63.6% in the second half (14 of 24) primarily because of its decision to get the ball close to the basket. In the first half, the Sooners shot just 37.9% with seven of those misses coming from behind the 3-point arc.

Oklahoma scored on 36 of its 70 offensive possessions in a game with just three lead changes and two ties.

West Virginia's last lead was 18-16 with 6:16 left in the first half.

Guard Noah Farrakhan led the Mountaineers with 14 points on 6 of 11 shooting. RaeQuan Battle added 12 but struggled from the field by connecting on only 4 of his 13 shot attempts.

Quinn Slazinski was the only other WVU player to reach double figures with 10.

The Mountaineers made 21 of their 46 field goal attempts for 45.7%, including 7 of 23 from 3-point range for 30.4%, and turned the ball over 16 times leading to 16 OU points.

"We weren't there tonight. We were a step slow," Eilert said. "Our minds were a step slow. Our bodies were a step slow and we didn't get any 50-50 balls."

Recap

UCF made twice as many free throws as West Virginia attempted to defeat the Mountaineers 72-59 at Addition Financial Arena in Orlando, Florida.

The Knights converted just one more field goal than the Mountaineers (22 to 21) but made a steady march to the foul line where they cashed in. UCF hit 21 of 25, compared to just 6 of 10 for WVU in a game that saw guard RaeQuan Battle's night end with 10:52 left when he was called for a double technical foul and was ejected from the game.

Battle, West Virginia's leading scorer, finished with just 5 points on 2 of 6 shooting.

No starter scored more than Kerr Kriisa's 9 points and Josiah Harris came off the bench to score a career-high 15 points on five 3-point field goals to lead WVU. He also added a team-high eight rebounds.

UCF, which led by as many as 21 points near the midway point of the second half, never trailed after starting the game on an 8-0 run.

The Knights outscored West Virginia 26 to 16 in the paint, 24 to 6 in fastbreak points and 18 to 5 off turnovers. UCF had a 45 to 34 advantage on the glass, made 10 steals, forced 11 turnovers and limited West Virginia to just 36.2% shooting, the Mountaineers connecting on just 21 of their 58 field goal attempts.

Forward Patrick Suemnick, coming off a career-high 20 points in the win against No. 3 Kansas, failed to score tonight by missing all six of his field goal attempts before fouling out late in the game.

Jaylin Sellers paced UCF with 18 points, Ibrahim Diallo contributed 14 points and a game-high 12 rebounds while Antwann Jones finished with 13.

“You look back at the UMass game and you look back at the Houston game, I worry so much about freedom of movement and we’re not the biggest, strongest dudes on the block and that’s the type of game (UCF) plays,” Eilert said. “If you don’t have a lot of freedom of movement and you can’t go downhill on people when they’re hip checking you and steering you, it’s a hard game to create advantages.

“They played downhill, and we were going side-to-side and that was probably the difference in the game,” Eilert added.

Jesse Edwards, who dressed for last week’s game against Kansas but did not see the court, was dressed again as he tries to come back from a wrist injury. Edwards missed his ninth straight game since fracturing his wrist in the Massachusetts loss on Dec. 16.

Recap

Oklahoma State outscored West Virginia 6-0 over the game's 53 seconds to defeat the Mountaineers 70-66 at Gallagher-Iba Arena in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

West Virginia was leading the Cowboys 64-62 with 2:26 to go on a Jesse Edwards free throw. Edwards was seeing his first game action since injuring his wrist in the UMass loss back on Dec. 16.

After Edwards' free throw, OSU tied the game on Brandon Garrison's free throws with 1:27 remaining. Akok Akok was fouled by Javon Small 15 seconds later and made two free throws to put West Virginia back in the lead, 66-64, but Small answered with a big 3 to put the Cowboys ahead 67-66.

Recap

Fousseny Traore got an emergency start at center and responded with a season-high 24 points in leading 22nd-ranked BYU to an 86-73 victory over West Virginia at the WVU Coliseum.

BYU's regular starting center, Aly Khalifa, did not make the trip to Morgantown because of illness.

The Cougars overcame some cold first-half shooting to connect on 54.8% of their field goal attempts in the second half, including 8-of-19 from behind the arc.

West Virginia coach Josh Eilert points to BYU's 19 second-chance points off nine offensive rebounds as a deciding factor in the game.

"They do a good enough job in the half court and to get those extra 3s were a killer," he said. "When you combine second-chance and fastbreak scoring, that's 27 points right there and those are easy buckets."

After seeing its 17-point lead whittled down to six, 67-61, BYU got a Richie Saunders bank-shot 3 ahead of the shot clock to push the Cougars' lead back to nine. Another 3 by Trevin Knell answered two RaeQuan Battle free throws to make it an eight-point lead.

More triples by Jaxon Robinson and Dallin Hall pushed the margin back to 14 with 1:27 remaining.

"Those were demoralizing shots and credit to them because they went in," Eilert said.

Overall, BYU was 32 of 66 from the floor for 48.5% and 13 of 36 from 3 for 36.1%. The Cougars came into the game averaging more than 12 3-pointers per game.

Spencer Johnson contributed 15 points and Robinson tallied 12 for the Cougars.

Traore, at 6-foot-6 and 240 pounds, was giving up five inches to West Virginia's starting center Jesse Edwards and two inches to backup Patrick Suemnick. Traore drew a couple of early fouls on Edwards to send him to the bench and then began working on the others.

He was 10 of 15 from the floor, 4 of 4 from the free throw line and grabbed nine rebounds.

BYU assisted on 19 of its 32 field goals and turned the ball over just eight times.

West Virginia, which had its three-game home winning streak snapped, got a season-high 23 points from guard Kerr Kriisa, who made 8 of his 14 field goal attempts including half of his 10 3-point tries.

Edwards scored 16 on 7-of-9 shooting while Battle finished with 14.

Recap

Dylan Disu's 27 points led Texas to a 94-58 victory over West Virginia at the Moody Center in Austin, Texas.

Disu was one of five Longhorn players to reach double figures in the 36-point victory. Max Abmas and Tyrese Hunter contributed 19 each, Chendall Weaver scored 13 and Dillon Mitchell added 12 for Texas.

The Longhorns began the game with impressive offensive efficiency and ended the game making 36 of their 70 field goal attempts for 51.4%. In the first half, they made 65.7% of their field goal attempts, including 7-of-7 from Disu.

After the game was tied 7-7, Texas scored 20 of the game's next 24 points to build a 16-point lead. A Disu 3 got the lead to 20 and it eventually got to 27 with 1:15 left in the half on Abmas' 3.

UT assisted on 28 of its 36 field goal attempts and turned West Virginia's 15 turnovers into 29 points.

"That's the game right there," West Virginia coach Josh Eilert said. "They were 100% the aggressor and they took it to us. It was a physical game and when teams are really physical with us, we struggle. We struggled against UMass. We struggled against Houston's physicality and I don't know how we correct that, but 100% that was their game plan."

From behind the 3-point arc, Texas made 15 of 32 with Disu accounted for seven of those. Abmas made five and Hunter with three.

West Virginia shot 38.2% overall, but just 29% in the second half when Eilert removed his starters and played his backups when the game got out of hand.

Center Jesse Edwards scored 17 points, making 7-of-9 from the floor, while grabbing a game-high nine rebounds. Guards Noah Farrakhan scored 11 and RaeQuan Battle added 10 for the Mountaineers.

This game was very similar to last year's 34-point loss in the Moody Center when Rodney Terry's Longhorns made better than 50% of their 3-point attempts and scored 94 points.

West Virginia defeated Texas 76-73 in Morgantown in January.

A paid attendance of 10,073 watched these two teams play each other for the final time during the regular season in Austin. Texas is leaving the Big 12 for the SEC next season.

Recap

Six different Baylor players reached double figures to defeat West Virginia 94-81 at the WVU Coliseum.

The 12th-ranked Bears shot 54% from the floor and took advantage of a Mountaineer defense that has given up 86, 94 and 81 points in their last three losses to BYU, Texas and TCU.

Baylor scored on 63.1% of its 65 offensive possessions, turned 14 Mountaineer turnovers into 20 points and made 12 from behind the 3-point arc.

The Bears' largest lead was 22, 71-49, with 10:51 left in the game.

“The easiest shot in basketball is a step-in shot and when they are getting them in second-chance opportunities, or just kicking it out, every coach knows those are the shots that you work on while growing up are those step-in shots coming right back at you,” West Virginia coach Josh Eilert said. “We’ve got to clean up our defensive rebounding and limit them to one shot.”

West Virginia (8-17, 3-9) rallied late to cut Baylor's lead to nine, 89-80, on RaeQuan Battle's 3, but the Bears took care of things at the free throw line. Baylor's final 15 points of the game came at the line; the last field goal was Ja'Kobe Walter's 3 with 6:21 to go.

Walter led the Bears with 23 points, although he missed 11 of his 17 field goal tries. Jayden Nunn made 7 of 11 and finished with 20, RayJ Dennis added 18 on 4-of-8 shooting and 7-foot center Yves Missi made all five of his field goal attempts and ended with 13.

Jaylen Bridges and Josh Ojiamwuna scored 10 each.

West Virginia got a game-high 25 points from Battle before he fouled out with 25 seconds to go. Battle was 8 of 16 from the floor and hit 4 of 8 from behind the 3-point arc. Jesse Edwards contributed 21 points on 8 of 10 shooting and nearly missed a double-double with nine rebounds. However, he only played 24 minutes tonight because of early foul trouble.

Overall, the Mountaineers shot 53.6%, making 30 of their 56 field goal attempts.

Baylor was 22 of 30 from the free throw line to West

Virginia's 19 of 27.

Baylor led 42-34 at halftime.

An announced paid crowd of 12,558 attended the game.

The Bears have now won six in a row over the Mountaineers since West Virginia's last victory here against them on March 7, 2020, before COVID ended the season.

Baylor is 8-4 in this building and owns a 17-8 advantage in the overall series.

“We’ve got to control what we can control, and we can’t wait to fight, we’ve got to have that sense of urgency every single four-minute segment like our hair is on fire,” Eilert said.

Recap

West Virginia's second-half comeback ran out of gas in overtime. The Wildcats outscored the Mountaineers 15-11 in the extra session to claim a 94-90 victory and avoid an epic second half collapse at Bramlage Coliseum in Manhattan, Kansas.

Leading by 25 points with 13:04 remaining, the Wildcats went ice cold and the Mountaineers scored 33 of 41 points over the next 11 minutes to tie the game at 74 on Quinn Slazinski's baseline jumper with 2:54 showing on the clock.

A missed Tylor Perry jumper opened the door for Kerr Kriisa to bang a 3 and give West Virginia its first lead, 77-74, since RaeQuan Battle scored the game's opening basket. Two Kriisa free throws pushed the lead to four, 79-75, with 1:02 left, and the Mountaineers had an opportunity to make it a four-point lead again with 24 seconds left when Jesse Edwards was fouled trying to follow Slazinski's missed 3.

But Edwards missed both free throws and Kriisa fouled Perry at the other end where he made both with 15 seconds to go.

Kriisa's try to win the game was off the mark as the horn sounded.

In overtime, Edwards made the first free throw to give West Virginia a brief one-point lead, but Perry quickly unknotted it with a 3 and then Edwards' night was finished when he fouled David N'Guessan after missing a layup.

Kriisa missed his next two 3s, helping K-State build its lead to six, 87-81, with 1:59 remaining. Battle snapped the field goal drought with a 3, and then made another one to get the margin back to one with 35 seconds left.

Perry hit two free throws at the other end to put K-State ahead by three, and the Wildcats opted to foul and put the Mountaineers on the free throw line to avoid a game-tying 3. Kriisa made both, but Perry was fouled once again four seconds later and he made two more free throws.

WVU had a chance to tie it with five seconds remaining, but Battle was off target with his 3 and Slazinski couldn't come up with the offensive rebound when replay review showed that the ball went out of bounds off him.

A Cam Carter free throw one second later iced the game for Kansas State, which is now 7-0 in overtime games this year and 12-0 in two seasons under coach Jerome Tang.

Battle's 28 and Kriisa's career-high 25 led the Mountaineers. Forward Pat Suemnick added 10 points and four rebounds coming off the bench to spell Edwards, who struggled on the floor making just 1 of 9 and also at the free throw line where he was 3 of 9.

The Wildcats swept the season series, having won 81-67 in Morgantown back on Jan. 9.

Recap

Texas Tech overcame an early 16-point deficit to defeat West Virginia 81-70 at the WVU Coliseum.

The Red Raiders won their 20th game of the season by dominating a second half that saw them outscore the Mountaineers 42-25. After intermission, the Red Raiders, now 20-8 and 9-7, scored on 18 of their 32 offensive possessions, converting 16 of their 28 field goal attempts, including seven-of-15 from 3-point distance.

West Virginia, which began the game leading 20-4, did a 180 in the second half by scoring on just 12 of its 31 possessions as a result of taking poor shots.

When Jesse Edwards was able to get the ball near the basket, he scored. Overall, he made eight of his 10 field goal attempts and added two free throws for a team-high 18 points, but there were too many instances when the Mountaineers either took ill-advised shots, turned the ball over or failed to get open whenever Edwards had the ball and was double- and triple-teamed.

"We made some really hard shots early and sometimes that's fool's gold," West Virginia coach Josh Eilert said. "When those difficult shots go in early you think you can live off that, and you can't live on it."

There were also a couple of instances when Edwards got the ball late in the game and Texas Tech chose to foul him. He has made 15 of his last 30 free throw attempts and finished converting just two of five from the line.

Texas Tech erased West Virginia's 45-39 halftime lead within the first three minutes of the second half and eventually wrestled control of the game during a two-minute stretch around the six-minute mark on free throws by Chance McMillian, a Pop Isaacs layup and Darrion Williams' second-chance jumper.

Back-to-back triples by Williams and McMillian, the second coming with 1:42 left to put Tech ahead by 12, put the game out of reach.

Texas Tech, playing without 7-foot center Warren Washington, got exceptional play from its backcourt, including a game-high 21 points from former Mountaineer guard Joe Toussaint, who was making his return to the Coliseum.

Toussaint finished nine-of-17 from the floor, handed out seven assists and made three steals.

RaeQuan Battle scored 15 and Kriisa added 10 for a WVU team that shot better than 50% from the floor (25 of 49) and still lost. That also happened in the Mountaineers' 13-point home defeat to Baylor back on Feb. 17 when they connected on 27 of their 51 field goal tries for 52.9%. WVU began the game making eight of its first 11 triples before cooling off and ending nine of 22.
