TEMPE, AZ (Nov. 15, 2025) - Arizona State used a late, fourth-quarter 49-yard field goal to defeat visiting West Virginia 25-23 in front of 54,101 fans at Mountain America Stadium.

After West Virginia stunned the Sun Devils with two fourth-quarter touchdowns, ASU kicker Jesus Gomez came to the rescue with 2:44 left to play. West Virginia's last drive to win the game fell short, and the Sun Devils held on for the win.

The Mountaineers started strong and controlled the first quarter, but only came away with a 3-0 lead on their first drive when Kade Hensley made good on a 29-yard field goal. West Virginia's second drive in the quarter used 5:53 but ended on the ASU 2-yard line with a Sun Devil stop.

First-quarter stats showed West Virginia with 114 total yards to Arizona State's 29, as the Mountaineers ran 23 plays to ASU's nine.

The Sun Devil offense started clicking in the second quarter and outscored WVU 22-7 to take a 22-10 advantage at the half.

ASU quarterback Jeff Sims finished a 94-yard drive with a 6-yard pass to receiver Chamon Metayer to put the Sun Devils on the board at the 10:51 mark.

Sims increased the Arizona State advantage to 15-3 on the next drive with a 19-yard scoring strike to Derek Eusebio. The Sun Devils faked the PAT and Cameron Harpole's pass to Gomez was good for the two-point conversion.

The Mountaineers got their first touchdown of the game in exciting fashion when true freshman quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. connected with receiver Jeff Weimer for a 75-yard touchdown pass just 11 seconds after the Arizona State score.

Leading 15-10, Arizona State upped its advantage to 22-10 at the intermission on Sims' third touchdown pass of the half. The 33-yard completion ended a 69-yard drive with 1:41 left on the clock.

Third-quarter action was scoreless, as the two teams traded drives. After WVU's Greg Genross blocked a Gomez field goal attempt at the 14:07 mark of the fourth quarter, the Mountaineer offense staged an impressive comeback.

Fox closed the deficit to 22-17 by leading a 72-yard drive that ended with a 1-yard score from Curtis Jones Jr. A 26-yard completion to receiver Cam Vaughn and a 17-yard completion to tight end Grayson Barnes were the big plays in the drive.

The Mountaineers got the ball back with 8:06 remaining, and three plays and 73 yards later had the lead again for the first time since early in the game. On third down-and-27, Fox completed a swing pass to running back Cyncir Bowers, who scampered 90 yards to stun the home faithful. WVU's two-point conversion failed, putting the score at 23-22 in favor of the visitors.

Arizona State's winning drive started at the 6:31 mark, and it took eight plays in 3:47 to set up a 49-yard field goal that Gomez converted. WVU's last chance ended with 1:30 on the clock as Fox was intercepted by Keith Abney to preserve the win.

The Mountaineers got 353 yards passing from Fox, who hit on touchdown passes of 75 and 90 yards. Linebacker Reid Carrico topped the defensive effort with eight stops. For the Sun Devils, Sims finished with 207 yards passing and three touchdowns to go with 81 yards rushing. Jordon Crook led the ASU defense with 14 tackles.

Final numbers showed a West Virginia advantage. The Mountaineers passed for 353 yards and rushed for 68 to total 421 total yards. ASU finished with 123 yards on the ground and 207 through the air for 330 total yards.

The win gave Arizona State a 2-1 advantage in the series against West Virginia.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Aug. 30, 2025) -

Rich Rodriguez's second tenure at West Virginia got started on a winning note after a summer of fanfare and excitement.

The Mountaineers responded with a convincing 45-3 win over Robert Morris in front of 57,093 fans dressed in gold at Milan Puskar Stadium.

West Virginia started fast and scored on its first drive of the second Rodriguez era by putting together a 10-play, 83-yard drive in 3:22 that ended with a 10-yard touchdown run from quarterback Nicco Marchiol.

The Mountaineers upped their advantage to 10-0 at the 11:44 mark of the second quarter when kicker Kade Hensley converted a 27-yard field goal.

But turnovers quickly became the topic of conversation as the Mountaineers fumbled four times in the first half and lost three, resulting in unfinished drives and a seven-point lead at the half.

Robert Morris took advantage of one of the fumbles from the home team and converted a 36-yard field goal from Jayson Jenkins to put the halftime score at 10-3 in favor of West Virginia.

West Virginia's seven-point lead quickly became 14 as the Mountaineers responded with a 64-yard scoring drive to start the third quarter. Running back Jahiem White's 1-yard scoring run put the Mountaineers up 17-3.

White came back two drives later to score his second touchdown on a 4-yard scamper, putting the score at 24-3. The scoring drive was set up by WVU turning the table on the Colonials by forcing and recovering a fumble from RMU quarterback Zach Tanner.

While the defense continued to keep Robert Morris at bay, the offense closed the game with three fourth-quarter touchdowns.

Marchiol threw his first touchdown pass of the season on a 46-yard completion to receiver Cam Vaughn, who made one of the best over-the-head catches one will see in the college game.

Leading 31-3, the Mountaineers marched 54 yards in four plays to open a 38-3 advantage on running back Cyncir Bowers' 26-yard run. Bowers' rushing accounted for 45 of the 54 yards in the drive.

To close the scoring, true freshman quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. saw his collegiate career get started in exciting fashion, as he broke loose for a 59-yard touchdown run to put the exclamation point on the 42-point victory.

Marchiol was efficient in completing 17-of-20 passes and accounting for 224 yards. White led the potent WVU rushing attack with 94 yards and two scores, while Vaughn had a strong WVU debut with seven catches for 126 yards. Linebacker Chase Wilson led the defense with six tackles.

Ethan Shine paced the Robert Morris ground game with 20 yards, and Tanner completed seven passes against the stingy WVU defense for 70 yards. Patrick McDonnell led the RMU defense with 12 tackles, nine of which were solo.

Despite the turnovers, West Virginia turned in a big offensive day. The Mountaineers finished with 393 yards rushing and 232 passing to total an impressive 625 yards of offense. The Colonials finished with 53 yards on the ground and 70 through the air for 123 yards of total offense.

Unlike his debut at West Virginia in 2001 which was a loss at Boston College, Rodriguez started his second tenure with a victory, giving him 61 all-time at West Virginia and moving him into a tie for second place on the school's all-time win list.

ATHENS, OHIO (Sept. 6, 2025) - A bad day at the office is a good way to describe West Virginia's first road game of the season as the Mountaineers came up on the short end of a 17-10 verdict at Ohio's Peden Stadium.

A sold out crowd of 26,740 anxiously awaited the Mountaineers as many wondered why West Virginia would schedule an away game in the Mid-American Conference. In the end, the Bobcats kept the ball more than 20 minutes longer than the Mountaineers and ran 23 more offensive plays to secure the victory.

West Virginia's day started well as the Mountaineers grabbed a 7-0 first-quarter lead. A 31-yard completion from quarterback Nicco Marchiol to receiver Cam Vaughn set up a 32-yard touchdown run by running back Jahiem White. The drive covered 89 yards in six plays.

Ohio answered before the end of the quarter, converting on a 37-yard field goal from Brack Peacock to end a six-play, 60-yard scoring drive.

Trailing 7-3 after the first quarter, the Bobcats made the second quarter their own by outscoring the Mountaineers 14-0 and taking a 17-7 advantage into the locker room at the half.

Ohio took the lead at the 2:31 mark by taking 6:00 off the clock en route to a 71-yard, 12-play drive that saw running back Sieh Bangura power in from 1 yard out.

After holding the Mountaineers on three plays on the ensuing drive, the Bobcats struck again with what would end up being the winning score. Quarterback Parker Navarro connected with receiver Chase Hendricks for a 31-yard scoring strike, giving the home team the 10-point edge at the break.

The Mountaineers got the first possession of the third quarter and scored their only points of the second half at the 12:30 mark. Marching 51 yards in seven plays, the visitors added a 38-yard field goal from kicker Kade Hensley to cut the deficit to 17-10.

Despite three second-half interceptions from the Mountaineer defense and holding the Bobcats scoreless in the final two quarters, six WVU offensive possessions could not put any additional points on the board, sealing the Bobcat victory.

Injuries also took a toll on the Mountaineers, who lost two of their offensive playmakers early in the contest. White left in the second quarter after averaging 6.7 yards per rush, while receiver Jaden Bray also did not make it past the third quarter after accounting for 69 receiving yards. Linebacker Reid Carrico was also an injury casualty early in the first quarter, forcing adjustments on the WVU defense.

Despite playing less than two quarters, White finished with 40 yards rushing, while Marchiol ended with 178 yards passing. WVU's defense was led by Fred Perry with 10 tackles, two tackles for loss, one sack and two pass breakups.

Ohio got a nice performance from Navarro. Despite the three interceptions, the veteran finished with 247 yards passing and 87 rushing to lead the offense. Hendricks was Navarro's favorite target hauling in eight catches for 121 yards. DJ Walker, Jack Fries and Michael Molnar contributed seven tackles each in Ohio's defensive effort.

Final numbers showed West Virginia with 72 yards rushing and 178 passing for 250 yards of offense. The homestanding Bobcats rushed for 182 yards and added 247 passing to finish with 429 total yards.

Ohio's win broke a four-game WVU winning streak in the series as the two teams ended the day with 1-1 records after two games.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 13, 2025) - The 108th edition of the "Backyard Brawl" continued to show the sports world why it is one the best rivalries in college football.

For the second straight year, the winner erased a 10-point fourth-quarter deficit, and this time it was West Virginia that fought back to claim a 31-24 victory in overtime.

A crowd of 62,108 was on hand at Milan Puskar Stadium and once again the "Backyard Brawl" did not disappoint. Momentum swings throughout the game entertained the sold-out stadium as well as an ESPN national audience.

After both teams missed field goals in the first quarter, West Virginia struck first with 11:51 left in the second on a 12-yard touchdown run from running back Tye Edwards.

The Panthers got on the board with 1:37 left before halftime, when kicker Trey Butkowski made good on a 23-yard kick, putting the score at 7-3 in favor of the Mountaineers at the break.

West Virginia started the third quarter strong, using a 56-yard pass completion from true freshman quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. to receiver Justin Smith-Brown to set up a 1-yard plunge from Edwards, giving WVU a 14-3 lead.

Pitt answered with a 75-yard drive in just five plays. After a 67-yard completion, quarterback Eli Holstein scored on a 1-yard run and then converted a two-point conversion, trimming the WVU lead to 14-11.

Two straight interceptions by Fox, who was in relief of starter Nicco Marchiol, led to the Panthers taking their first lead of the game. Credit the WVU defense for keeping the Mountaineers in the game as the unit held the Panthers to field goals after both turnovers.

Leading 17-14, Pitt took command at the 9:23 mark of the fourth. With a struggling Mountaineer offense trying to find its rhythm, Holstein connected with Raphael Williams on a 14-yard touchdown pass, giving the Panthers a 24-14 advantage.

However, Marchiol re-entered the game and ignited the WVU offense. A 72-yard drive resulted in a 21-yard field goal by Kade Hensley. After the defense forced a Pitt punt, Marchiol had 2:47 to tie the game, and he engineered a 13-play, 87-yard drive that ended with a 2-yard pass to tight end Grayson Barnes to force overtime.

Overtime saw the Mountaineers use eight plays to set up Edwards for his third touchdown in the game. After Edwards converted on a key fourth-down carry, his 1-yard run gave the advantage back to the Mountaineers at 31-24.

Just as it did so many times in regulation, the WVU defense came up big in overtime. Four plays from scrimmage resulted in a loss of 10 yards for Pitt and the Mountaineers claimed the come-from-behind win.

To go along with his three touchdowns, Edwards rushed for 141 yards. Marchiol added veteran leadership and accounted for 192 yards passing, while the Mountaineer defense held the Pitt rushing attack to just 46 total yards.

Overall, West Virginia finished with 174 yards on the ground and 260 in the air for 434 yards. Along with Pitt's 46 yards on the ground, the Panthers added 303 yards passing from Holstein to end with 349 offensive yards.

The rivalry will take a three-year break before resuming in 2029. In the current four-game block, the home team won every game as each team went 2-2 over the four-year stretch.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS (Sept. 20, 2025) - The 2025 Big 12 Conference opener did not go as planned as Kansas jumped out to an early 10-0 lead and never looked back in defeating West Virginia 41-10 before a crowd of 40,320 at David Booth Kansas Memorial Stadium.

Despite totaling some solid offensive numbers by the game's end, the West Virginia offense could never get rolling. Kansas used nearly eight minutes more possession time to wear down the Mountaineer defense, outscoring WVU, 21-7, in the second half.

It didn't take long for the Jayhawks to set the tone as quarterback Jalon Daniels conducted a 50-yard scoring drive in just four plays on the team's first possession. Daniels connected with receiver Levi Wentz for a 41-yard scoring strike three minutes into the game for a 7-0 advantage.

The lead stayed at seven points until the second quarter, when kicker Laith Marjan kicked the first of his two field goals. His 42-yarder gave Kansas a 10-0 lead with 10:25 remaining in the half.

The Mountaineers got on the board at the 3:43 mark, when kicker Kade Hensley's field goal attempt was good from 26 yards. The drive covered 49 yards in nine plays and cut the WVU deficit to 10-3.

But Kansas answered the score with two of its own before the half ended to take a 20-3 lead.

Daniels completed a 39-yard touchdown pass to Leshon Williams before leading a 38-yard drive to set up a Marjan 44-yard field goal. It was Daniels' 28-yard rush on 3rd-and-10 that kept the drive alive in the closing seconds.

As much as West Virginia needed a big turnaround, the third quarter spelled doom for the Mountaineers, as the Jayhawks outscored the visitors 14-0.

Emmanuel Henderson took the quarter's opening kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown, giving Kansas a 27-3 advantage. The Jayhawks added another Daniels touchdown pass at the 6:43 mark as his 7-yard toss to Boden Groen ended a 12-play, 7:00 possession for the Jayhawks.

The Mountaineers scored their only touchdown in the game at the 14:31 mark of the fourth, when backup quarterback Jaylen Henderson rushed in from 13 yards. Henderson also added runs of 7, 8, 12 and 32 yards in the 95-yard drive.

However, Kansas again answered the WVU score and ended the game's scoring at the 12:52 mark with a 62-yard run from Williams to put the home team up 41-10.

Daniels finished the game with 69 yards rushing and 138 passing, but his mobility in the pocket, along with three touchdown passes caused the most damage for the Mountaineers. Williams rushed for 129 yards and collected a rushing and receiving touchdown in the victory.

Henderson's short stint in the game proved to be enough to lead the Mountaineers in rushing with 79 yards. Nicco Marchiol collected 126 yards passing, while four WVU defenders finished with four tackles each.

As lopsided as the game was, you could not tell by the final statistics turned in by the two teams. West Virginia rushed for 182 yards and passed for 142 to total 324 yards. Kansas collected 242 yards on the ground and 146 passing for 388 total yards. Special teams were the difference as the Jayhawks got help in a big way with 199 return yards.

Despite the loss, West Virginia has won nine of the last 11 meetings against Kansas and now leads the overall series by an 11-3 count.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 27, 2025) - Utah visited Morgantown for the first time and left with a convincing 48-14 victory in front of 53,965 fans at Milan Puskar Stadium.

The two teams had met twice previously on a neutral field with Utah winning both contests. This was the first Big 12 Conference meeting between the two teams and one the Mountaineers would soon like to forget.

With starting quarterback Nicco Marchiol out with a foot injury, Jaylen Henderson got his first start in a West Virginia uniform, and the visiting Utes were not too friendly.

The Mountaineers were unable to sustain drives in the first half and totaled only 95 yards after two quarters of play. The passing game totaled 22 yards as the Utah defense continued to put its offense in good position. Utah ran 45 plays to West Virginia's 22 in the first half.

Utah took a 14-0 lead after one quarter of play, scoring on both of its possessions in the quarter. Tight end JJ Buchanan caught a 7-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Devon Dampier to get the scoring started, ending a 12-play, 73-yard drive.

On its next drive, the Utes marched 65 yards in 11 plays and scored on Dampier's 7-yard touchdown run. Despite having only two drives, Utah controlled the ball more than nine minutes, which set the tone for the rest of the game.

Two more touchdowns by the visitors in the second quarter gave them a 28-0 advantage at halftime. A 32-yard strike by Dampier to receiver Ryan Davis, followed by a 15-play, 94-yard possession, ending with another Dampier touchdown pass, put the Utes completely in control.

The Utes took the opening drive of the third quarter 63 yards to extend their lead to 35-0 when Dampier connected with Wayshawn Parker for an 11-yard touchdown reception.

West Virginia changed quarterbacks at the half and finally got on the board at the 7:28 mark of the third quarter. Khalil Wilkins was now in charge of the offense, and he finished a 75-yard drive with a 39-yard touchdown pass to receiver Cam Vaughn to put the score at 35-7.

Even with a big lead, Utah did not take its foot off the gas and added a 33-yard field goal from kicker Dillon Curtis, for a 38-7 margin heading to the fourth.

Another 10-point quarter by the visitors saw Curtis add another 33-yard field goal before Utah's final points came on backup quarterback Byrd Ficklen's 2-yard completion to Bryce Duke, finishing a 75-yard drive.

In between the two Utah scores, West Virginia added its second touchdown, as a 68-yard run from receiver Jarod Bowie set up a 1-yard rush from Diore Hubbard. Wilkins led both WVU scoring drives in the second half.

Davis turned in a 107-yard receiving day for the Utes, while Dampier completed 21-of-26 passes for 237 yards and four touchdowns. With Dampier's rushing touchdown, he accounted for five scores.

Final statistics showed Utah with 242 yards rushing and 290 passing for 532 yards of total offense. The Utes never punted in the game. West Virginia had a better second half offensively and finished with 261 yards rushing and 85 passing for 346 total yards. The Utes racked up 33 first downs to WVU's 14 and controlled the ball nearly 10 minutes more than the Mountaineers.

With the win, Utah is now 3-0 all-time against West Virginia and 1-0 in Big 12 play.

PROVO, UTAH. (Oct. 3, 2025) - A short-handed West Virginia team, coping with injuries, found the going difficult in Provo as BYU unleashed a strong offensive attack to defeat the Mountaineers 38-24.

A sellout crowd of 63,917 and a Friday night ESPN audience watched the Cougars take a 14-0 first-quarter lead and never look back.

After BYU drove 57 yards and missed a field goal, the Cougars intercepted third string WVU quarterback Khalil Wilkins and returned the errant pass 49 yards to set up the game's first score. Parker Kingston's 1-yard rush gave the Cougars 7-0 with 9:14 left in the first quarter.

On BYU's next drive, Kingston got in on the action again with his 54-yard touchdown reception from quarterback Bear Bachmeier, giving the home team a 14-0 advantage heading to the second quarter.

The Mountaineers used a 23-yard run from fourth-string quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. to set up a 45-yard Kade Hensley field goal at the 14:15 mark of the second quarter.

However, BYU answered with 5:17 left in the first half by using an 85-yard completion to receiver Chase Roberts before a 4-yard run from running back LJ Martin.

Trailing 21-3, West Virginia's Fred Perry forced and recovered a BYU fumble. The big play by the defense set up Diore Hubbard's 3-yard touchdown run, putting the score at 21-10 with 1:50.

Plenty of time remained for the Cougars, who promptly marched 73 yards in nine plays and grabbed a 28-10 halftime lead, with Bachmeier's 2-yard run.

BYU started the third quarter with a 15-play drive that took 7:59 off the clock and ended with a 37-yard Will Ferrin field goal for a 31-10 advantage.

The Mountaineers got on the board in the second half with 32 seconds left in the third quarter. Perry forced his second fumble in the game, this one recovered by linebacker Ben Cutter, setting up a 6-yard scoring run from Wilkins.

Leading 31-17 heading to the fourth quarter, BYU closed its side of the scoring with 8:50 remaining in the contest. Using 6:42 off the clock, BYU's 12-play drive ended with Martin's second touchdown run in the game, giving the Cougars a 38-17 lead.

West Virginia added a late score with 1:13 left as Fox connected with receiver Cam Vaughn on a 29-yard touchdown reception, putting the final score at 38-24.

While Wilkins and Fox took snaps at quarterback, it was Wilkins who finished with a team leading 89 rushing yards on 23 carries. He also passed for 81 yards, while Fox threw for 54 yards and a score. Perry and Chase Wilson led the WVU defense with 21 combined tackles. Perry forced two fumbles, while Wilson had an interception that he returned 19 yards.

BYU got 351 yards passing from Bachmeier, who had 100-yard receivers in Roberts (161) and Kingston (111). Martin led all rushers with 90 yards, while Faletau Satuala led the Cougar defense with eight stops, including one tackle for loss.

Final numbers showed the Cougars with 165 yards rushing and 351 passing to total an impressive 516 yards of offense. West Virginia rushed for 156 yards and its two quarterbacks combined for 135 yards passing, giving the Mountaineers 291 yards of offense.

The win was BYU's first in the short series against West Virginia. The Mountaineers are now 2-1 all-time vs. the Cougars and 0-1 in Provo.

ORLANDO, Fla. (Oct. 18, 2025) - UCF defeated West Virginia for the first time in five tries as the Knights broke through with a 45-13 win at Acrisure Bounce House.

Dealing with a vast array of injuries and their fourth starting quarterback in four games, the short-handed Mountaineers were no match for the home team as UCF struck first and often.

The big play in the running and passing games got the day started for UCF. The Knights' first play from scrimmage was a 39-yard run, and they followed that five plays later with a 40-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Tayven Jackson to receiver Chris Domercant. Just 1:45 into their first possession of the game, the Knights drove 93 yards, taking a quick 7-0 advantage.

UCF upped the lead at the 4:54 mark of the first quarter when Domercant got behind the Mountaineer defense again and scored on a 34-yard reception from Jackson.

West Virginia was shut out in the opening quarter but got on the scoreboard early in the second. Entering the game for starting quarterback Scotty Fox Jr., Khalil Wilkins took advantage of a key fourth-down stop by the WVU defense to engineer a five-play, 39-yard drive that saw him score on a 6-yard run.

Despite missing a field goal to end the half, West Virginia survived the big-play attack from UCF and trailed only 14-7 at the half.

Any hopes the Mountaineers had in gaining their first road win of the 2025 season quickly ended in the third quarter. UCF put up 21 points to take a commanding 35-7 lead.

The Knights had the first possession of the third and marched 92 yards, ending with a 12-yard run from tailback Jaden Nixon, marking UCF's second scoring drive of 90-plus yards in the game.

West Virginia's first possession of the third quarter ended in disaster, when Wilkins fumbled after being sacked, and linebacker Keli Lawson scooped the loose ball and rumbled 32 yards for the score.

Leading 28-7, the home team closed the scoring in the third quarter, when Nixon broke free for an 83-yard touchdown run, giving the Knights, not only a 35-7 advantage, but scoring drives of 97, 92 and 83 yards.

The fourth quarter was more of the same. A Noe Ruelas 51-yard field goal came before UCF closed its part of the scoring with an 10-play, 72-yard drive that saw backup quarterback Davi Belfort rush for a 10-yard touchdown.

West Virginia added a late score, capitalizing on Jordan Walker's 31-yard interception return to set up a 1-yard score from running back Diore Hubbard. Adding to West Virginia's frustrations, the extra point attempt was missed to put the final score of 45-13 in the record books.

UCF got 116 yards rushing from Nixon and 89 yards receiving from Domercant, but the big story for the Knight offense was the 277 yards passing from Jackson. Linebacker Cole Kozlowski led the defense with 11 tackles.

The Mountaineers didn't have much in the way of offense, but defensive back Jason Chambers collected a 24-yard interception return, and Walker led the Mountaineers in tackles with seven to go with his 31-yard interception return.

Final numbers showed West Virginia with 131 yards rushing and 79 passing to total 210 yards. UCF totaled 255 yards on the ground and 323 passing for an impressive 578 yards of offense.

The win improved UCF to 4-3 on the year, while West Virginia dropped to 2-5.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Oct. 25, 2025) - TCU visited Morgantown on Homecoming weekend and defeated West Virginia 23-17 in front of a crowd of 54,110 at Milan Puskar Stadium.

The Horned Frogs jumped out to a 10-0 first-quarter lead and held off a late Mountaineer rally for the Big 12 Conference road victory.

TCU kicker Nate McCashland got the scoring started on the first drive with a 31-yard field goal. Taking advantage of a short field, the Horned Frogs marched only 31 yards to take a lead they would never relinquish.

Before the quarter ended, running back Trent Battle gave the Horned Frogs a 10-0 advantage with his 1-yard scoring run. The drive covered 48 yards in 3:12.

Second-quarter action saw West Virginia's offense find its rhythm as the Mountaineers got on the scoreboard at the 11:50 mark. True freshman quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to tight end Grayson Barnes, cutting the Horned Frog lead to 10-7. WVU took advantage of a 23-yard Horned Frog punt to forge ahead 35 yards for the score.

The Horned Frogs answered West Virginia's touchdown with one of their own on the ensuing drive. Quarterback Josh Hoover engineered a 70-yard drive in 11 plays that ended with a 4-yard scoring toss to receiver Eric McAlister.

Leading 17-7, TCU grabbed a 20-7 advantage at the half on McCashland's second field goal in the game. His 22-yard attempt ended a 53-yard drive by the visitors and closed the first-half scoring.

West Virginia scored the only points in the third quarter on its second drive. Using a 29-yard completion to receiver Cam Vaughn, the Mountaineers moved 60 yards in 10 plays and got a 28-yard field goal from kicker Kade Hensley, cutting their deficit to 20-10 heading to the fourth.

The Mountaineers outscored the Horned Frogs 7-3 in the final quarter, but their failed onside kick enabled the visitors to hold on for the win.

McCashland's third field goal put TCU up 23-10 with 4:48 remaining, but West Virginia answered with a 75-yard scoring drive in 1:33. Fox connected with receiver Jeff Weimer for the 28-yard touchdown reception.

WVU attempted an onside kick with 3:14 left to play, but a TCU recovery and a much-needed first down enabled the Horned Frogs to run out the clock for the win.

Fox gave a strong performance, passing for 301 yards on 28 completions. Linebacker Reid Carrico and defensive back Derek Carter Jr. led a solid defensive effort with seven tackles each.

Aside from McCashland's three field goals and two PATs, TCU got 247 yards passing from Hoover and nine catches for 124 yards from McAlister. Kaleb Elarms-Orr and Bud Clark combined for 29 tackles in leading the Horned Frog defensive effort.

Final numbers showed a close statistical game and one that West Virginia could have won. While the Mountaineers passed for an impressive 301 yards, the lack of a running game (41 yards) hampered the offense as WVU finished with 342 total yards. TCU finished with 343 total yards, gaining 247 through the air and 96 on the ground.

After West Virginia won four straight in the series, the Horned Frogs have bounced back to take two of the last three games. The win gave TCU a 4-3 lead in Morgantown, and the highly competitive Big 12 series now stands at 8-6 in favor of West Virginia.

HOUSTON, TEXAS (Nov. 1, 2025) - Rich Rodriguez got his first road win of his second stint at West Virginia, and the Mountaineers defeated a ranked team on the road for the first time since 2018 with a 45-35 win at No. 22/22 Houston.

The win gave Rodriguez his first Big 12 Conference victory and broke a five-game losing streak.

West Virginia fans are accustomed to seeing a Rodriguez team run the football and that's what the Mountaineers did to the tune of 246 yards.

West Virginia never trailed and had answers when Houston gained momentum and tied the game at halftime. The Mountaineers started fast and scored 17 points off Houston turnovers to secure the road win.

West Virginia's opening possession took 4:29 off the board as true freshman quarterback Scotty Fox Jr. took the drive's 12th play 6 yards for an early 7-0 Mountaineer lead.

Later in the quarter, the Mountaineers went up 14-0 after driving 89 yards in 10 plays. Running back Cyncir Bowers scampered in from 21 yards out at the 4:03 mark.

Houston got on the board before the end of the quarter, when quarterback Connor Weigman connected with tight end Tanner Koziol for a 3-yard score with 58 seconds left.

Second-quarter action started the back-and-forth scoring between the two teams that dominated the final 45 minutes of action.

West Virginia recovered a Weigman fumble and got a touchdown, when Fox hit receiver Cam Vaughn for a 24-yard strike.

With the Mountaineers up 21-7, the Cougars controlled the rest of the second quarter by scoring two touchdowns to even the game at 21-21 at the half. Weigman rushed in from 1 yard out before connecting with Amare Thomas for a 9-yard touchdown pass at the 3:03 mark.

The start of the third quarter was a crucial time for West Virginia as its 14-point lead had evaporated and Houston got the ball first. However, the Mountaineer defense stopped Houston's first drive on a Derek Carter Jr. interception and converted the turnover into a 50-yard field goal by kicker Kade Hensley.

Trailing, Houston embarked on a drive to take the lead, but Mountaineer defensive back Jordan Scruggs stepped in front of a Weigman pass and returned it 80 yards for a touchdown and a 31-21 Mountaineer advantage.

Houston countered the interception with an 8-yard touchdown pass to Thomas putting the score at 31-28 heading to the fourth.

However, West Virginia outscored the Cougars 14-7 in the final 15 minutes. Fox turned in a 34-yard run on fourth down for one score, then connected with receiver Jeff Weimer for a 53-yard completion on fourth down to set up an 11-yard run from Diore Hubbard for a 45-28 WVU advantage with 7:09 left.

Even though the Cougars added a 27-yard touchdown pass to Thomas just 45 seconds later, West Virginia gained key first downs late to secure the win.

Accounting for three touchdowns, Fox passed for 157 yards and rushed for 65, while Hubbard turned in his first 100-yard rushing performance as a Mountaineer with 108 yards.

Weigman passed for 309 yards and four scores with three of them to Thomas who finished with 99 yards receiving.

WVU finished with 403 total yards and Houston with 400 as the series between the two schools is now tied at 1-1 with both games being played in Houston.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Nov. 8, 2025) -

Colorado visited Morgantown for the first time since 2009 and came up on the short end of a 29-22 score at Milan Puskar Stadium.

West Virginia's win gave the Mountaineers a 2-1 lead in the overall series as the two teams met for the first time in Big 12 Conference play.

The game was a battle of true freshman quarterbacks. Colorado's Julian Lewis finished the day with 299 yards passing and two touchdowns, while West Virginia's Scotty Fox Jr. threw for 202 yards and one score.

Despite Colorado's edge in the passing game, it was West Virginia's running game that propelled the Mountaineers to victory as they rushed for 116 more yards than the visitors.

West Virginia started the scoring when Israel Boyce blocked a punt that went out of the end zone for a safety. The Mountaineers extended their lead to 9-0 with just 19 seconds left in the first quarter. Linebacker Curtis Jones Jr., putting a stint in as a running back, powered his way to a 2-yard touchdown run.

The Buffaloes started their scoring in the second quarter when kicker Alejandro Mata kicked the first of his three field goals at the 6:02 mark.

A scoring frenzy took over the final minutes of the first half. West Virginia used a 75-yard drive to take a 16-3 lead as Fox connected with tight end Ryan Ward. The score was set up by a 69-yard completion from Fox to running back Diore Hubbard.

The Buffaloes answered with completions of 24 and 22 yards before Lewis connected with Joseph Williams for a 9-yard scoring toss. But the Buffs left West Virginia too much time, and the Mountaineers made the most of the final 45 seconds, taking a 19-9 halftime lead when kicker Kade Hensley added a 41-yard field goal to close the first half.

At the 7:19 mark of the third quarter, defensive back John Slaughter intercepted a Fox pass and returned it 22 yards to set up the Buffs' next score. Lewis found Omerion Miller for a 23-yard touchdown pass, cutting the West Virginia advantage to 19-16.

A 15-play Mountaineer drive ended with a 37-yard Hensley field goal, extending WVU's lead to 22-16 heading to the fourth.

Each time Colorado got close, the Mountaineers answered. The Buffs added a Mata field goal with 14:51 to play, again pulling within three at 22-19, but Jones showed up big for WVU when the game counted.

His second touchdown came as he pushed his way in from 4 yards out, giving the Mountaineers a 29-19 lead. The Mountaineer defense held the Buffaloes to a 38-yard field goal with 1:15 remaining, putting the final score at 29-22 in favor of the home team.

Aside from Fox, West Virginia got two field goals from Hensley and the workhorse of the day went to Hubbard who combined 64 yards rushing with 94 yards receiving for 158 all-purpose yards. Darrian Lewis, Ben Bogle and Fred Perry each finished with seven tackles to lead the defense.

For Colorado, along with Lewis's strong day, Miller caught six passes for 131 yards and one score to pace the Buffs offense. Jeremiah Brown topped all defensive efforts with 11 tackles for the visitors.

Final numbers showed WVU with 167 yards rushing and 202 passing for 369 total yards. The evenly matched game saw Colorado counter with 51 yards rushing and 299 passing for 350 total yards. Perhaps the most impressive numbers came from the WVU defense, which recorded 15 tackles for loss, seven sacks and two forced fumbles in the victory.
