WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT

Darian DeVries

"Darian DeVries is an excellent coach who has been a part of winning his entire career. He has an innovative offensive mind and his teams are hard-nosed. I believe the people of West Virginia will embrace his style, and his personality will fit the state like a glove." Fran Fraschilla, ESPN College Basketball Analyst

"Darian DeVries and his family were with us for 12 memorable years at Creighton. Darian has an innovative basketball mind and great enthusiasm for the game. He will work with alumni, fans and staff to represent West Virginia University in a first-class manner." Dana Altman, Oregon Head Coach

"Great hire. He's a great X and O guy. He's a great program builder. He's good without his son. If he comes with his son, he's going to be great for West Virginia. He's the kind of guy I could see staying there for a long time." Jay Wright, CBS Analyst and Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame member

"I could not be more excited for Darian, Ashley, Tucker and Tatum. He's worked extremely hard to earn this opportunity. He's very deserving. The job he did at Drake speaks for itself. None of this surprises me because I fully understand the impact he had on our program, not only for me when he was here but prior to my arrival with coach Altman." Greg McDermott, Creighton Head Coach

"Darian DeVries is a proven leader and basketball coach, and one of the brightest young coaches in the game. He took his experience working under Dana Altman and Greg McDermott to another level as head coach at Drake, and there is no doubt he will be a success at West Virginia. Darian has put his time in and he is the real thing. West Virginia found the right coach in Darian DeVries." Jay Bilas, ESPN

Recap

West Virginia scored the game's first 21 points on the way to an 87-59 season-opening victory over Robert Morris in Darian DeVries' coaching debut for the Mountaineers.

His son, Tucker, tallied the first 8 and finished his night with a game-high 18.

Oklahoma State transfer Javon Small chipped in with 15, UIC transfer Toby Okani scored 13, freshman Jonathan Powell had 11 and fellow freshman KJ Tenner finished with 10.

Amani Hansberry just missed a double-double with 9 points and a game-high 12 rebounds.

West Virginia made 33 of its 60 field goal attempts for 55%, including 14 of 34 from 3-point distance. Six different Mountaineer players made 3s, led by DeVries' four on nine attempts.

DeVries, who engineered six straight 20-win seasons and three NCAA Tournament berths at Drake, is the 23rd coach making his Mountaineer debut and the seventh since the WVU Coliseum opened on Dec. 1, 1970, against Colgate

What the 9,229 here saw was an extremely aggressive defense, some accurate long-range shooting, excellent ball movement and good decision making.

Leading 30-2 with 11:59 left in the first half, West Virginia remained stuck on 30 for the next three minutes until Okani took Small's baseline inbounds pass with one hand and soared above everyone for a thunderous dunk.

WVU answered Robert Morris' 12-2 run with an 11-0 flurry that included 3s by DeVries, Hansberry and Powell, sandwiched between Tenner's runner in the paint.

The only thing slowing West Virginia down was a delay to the second half because of a shot clock malfunction to the basket where the Mountaineers were warming up. Temporary shot clocks were positioned underneath each basket.

The Mountaineers outscored the Colonials 41-33 in a second half in which both teams used most of their players. WVU emptied its bench with 2:48 left and leading 82-56. West Virginia's largest lead was 29 points, 73-44, with 9:01 remaining.

The Colonials shot just 32.4% and turned the ball over 14 times. 10 of those coming in the first half.

Nit pickers will notice Robert Morris' 41-37 advantage on the glass, including 16 offensive rebounds. West Virginia shooting just 58.3% from the free throw line and the Mountaineers' 11 turnovers, many of those unforced.

West Virginia improved to 100-16 overall in season-opening games in its 116th season of basketball. DeVries improved to 7-0 all-time in season-opening contests.

Recap

West Virginia received contributions from all nine players who got into the game in the 75-69 victory over Massachusetts at the WVU Coliseum.

Tucker DeVries' 17 points led a balanced scoring attack that included 16 from forward Amani Hansberry, 12 from guard Javon Small and 10 off the bench from freshman guard Jonathan Powell.

Seven of Powell's points came late in the first half when WVU went on an 8-0 run to lead 45-28 at the break.

But UMass (1-1) used a 1-1-3 zone defense for a portion of the second half that led to a six-minute field goal drought that ended with DeVries' 3 from the wing to give the Mountaineers a 63-52 lead

A Daniel Rivera layup and free throw made it a sevenpoint game with 2:45 left, but Hansberry answered with a close one at the other end and then free throws by DeVries and Hansberry got the lead back to 11.

The game was won at the free throw line where West Virginia made 25 of 29 from the charity stripe while UMass missed seven of its 20 attempts, four of those coming from Jaylen Curry late in the second half.

"We knew what this game was going to be – it was going to be tough; it was going to be physical, and it was going to be hard-fought, and it certainly didn't disappoint," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said afterward. "I thought we did some really good things at times, especially in the first half, but in the second half there were a lot of learning opportunities for us."

The Mountaineers (2-0) shot just 25% after intermission and finished the game 21 of 57 overall for 36.8%. From behind the arc, where West Virginia made 14 in its 28-point win over Robert Morris, it was 8 of 23 for 34.8%.

WVU also turned the ball over eight times in the second half when Massachusetts turned up the pressure.

Every player on the floor for the Mountaineers scored, grabbed at least one rebound and five different players made 3s. WVU had a 36 to 34 advantage on the glass and turned 15 Minutemen turnovers into 22 points.

Other specialty stats in WVU's favor were bench scoring (23 to 8) and fastbreak points (19 to 6), which compensated for UMass' 32 to 24 edge in paint scoring.

Guard Rahsool Diggins led everyone with 19 points, but he made just 5 of his 14 field goal attempts and got 8 of his game-high total in the final 16 seconds when the outcome was already decided.

UMass was making its first appearance in the WVU Coliseum since the 2007 National Invitation Tournament.

An announced crowd of 10,017 watched the game.

Recap

Damian Dunn's 23 points led a balanced Pitt attack in an 86-62 victory over West Virginia at the Petersen Events Center in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Dunn, a Houston transfer, was one of four Panther players to reach double figures. Ishmael Leggett contributed 15, Cameron Cohren scored 13 and Guillermo Diaz Graham added 10 for the Panthers.

Pitt shot 48.3% overall, including 10 of 27 from 3-point range, and had a 20-to-8 edge at the free throw line. Pitt was 20 of 26 from the charity stripe compared to 8 of 15 for West Virginia

The Mountaineers struggled shooting the basketball, WVU connecting on just 24 of 62 overall for 38.7% and 6 of 29 from 3-point range for 20.7%.

"It wasn't the way we anticipated this game going," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said afterward. "I thought we had a great week of practice. Our guys were really excited about coming here in a big rivalry game and I thought they were ready.

"Then, we got off to a poor start and we just never recovered," DeVries added.

Pitt, which dominated the glass 45 to 32, led 44-22 at halftime.

The big discrepancy came from the two starting lineups where Pitt outscored West Virginia 70 to 36. Javon Small was the only Mountaineer starter to reach double figures with 12 points, although the senior made just 5 of his 14 field goal attempts.

A bright spot for West Virginia was the play of freshman Jonathan Powell coming off the bench with a team-high 16 points on 6 of 12 shooting. Powell made four of the Mountaineers' six 3s tonight.

Senior center Eduardo Andre contributed 9 points, making all four of his field goal tries, while freshman KJ Tenner added 7 in a reserve role.

Tucker DeVries and Amani Hansberry fouled out for West Virginia while Tenner had four fouls. The Mountaineers committed 22 fouls to Pitt's 14.

"I'm incredibly disappointed," DeVries said. "There is no way to sugarcoat what happened tonight. It's three games in and we're not going to hang on to it forever, but we do need to learn from it and we've got to get some things figured out.'

The game was the 191st Backyard Brawl, which WVU now leads 101-90. The Panthers have won two straight, including taking last year's game in Morgantown 80-63.

Recap

Javon Small's 23 points powered West Virginia to an 86-43 victory over visiting Iona at the WVU Coliseum.

Small made half of his 14 field goal attempts, including 5 of 9 from 3-point distance, grabbed five rebounds and handed out five assists for the Mountaineers.

WVU also got 13 points from Tucker DeVries, 11 from freshman Jonathan Powell (during a four-minute span in the first half), and 10 points and nine rebounds from Amani Hansberry.

The Mountaineers connected on 15 of their 31 3-point attempts and was 29 of 56 overall from the floor for 51.8%

WVU's biggest lead was 44 points with 48 seconds

West Virginia used a 14-2 run during a three-minute stretch in the first half to build a 14-point lead, which quickly swelled to 22 on Small's basket with 6:55 left.

The Mountaineers hit a lull for the next four minutes, missing seven straight jump shots at one point, before Small's layup ended the drought.

Iona (1-4) then got a couple of baskets from Adam Nie Jr. and Kernan Bundy ahead of Dejour Reaves' 3-point try from the corner that got stuck between the rim and the backboard, one of 20 shots missed by the Gaels in the first half.

West Virginia shot well enough early, especially from 3, to force Iona to pull out of its full-court pressure.

Iona, making its first-ever visit to Morgantown, and the Gaels didn't convert their 10th field goal until 30 minutes into the game and finished the night 14 of 59 overall for 23.7%.

James Patterson led Iona with 12 points while Luke Jungers came off the bench to contribute 10. Reaves, lona's leading scorer averaging 15.5 points per game, had a miserable night missing all seven of his field goal tries and failing to score.

Iona turned the ball over 21 times leading to 26 West Virginia points and the Mountaineers also outscored the Gaels 24 to 10 in the paint. WVU was credited with 11 blocked shots, four coming from backup forward Eduardo Andre, and 11 steals, four credited to Small.

"I thought Javon had a terrific game," coach Darian DeVries said. "You go 7 for 14, 5 for 9 from 3, 4 for 5 from the line, five assists, one turnover and four steals. That's a good night. We challenged him a little bit after our last game because we need him to be more aggressive, not just as a scorer but also as a facilitator. '

Iona scored on just 19 of its 70 possessions.

Recap

Just five games into his West Virginia University coaching career, Darian DeVries owns his first signature victory.

His rebuilt Mountaineers, powered by Javon Small's career-high 31 points, outlasted third-ranked Gonzaga 86-78 in overtime in the second game of the Bad Boys Battle For Atlantis at Imperial Arena in Paradise Island, Bahamas.

It was West Virginia's first win over a No. 3-rated team since last year against Kansas in Morgantown, but you must go back five years to find an instance when that has happened away from the Coliseum. That was against second-ranked Ohio State at Rocket Mortgage FieldHouse in Cleveland on Dec. 29, 2019.

It was also WVU's first-ever victory against Gonzaga in six tries, two of those coming in NCAA Tournament play.

Small's game-high tally came on 9 of 18 from the floor, 9 of 11 from the free throw line, and 4 of 10 from behind the arc.

The free throw line is where the game was decided, West Virginia making four more free throws (23) than Gonzaga attempted (19).

Gonzaga (5-1) used the 3-ball to build an eight-point halftime lead, but the Mountaineers made a 12-0 run early in the second half to take a 45-43 lead. Toby Okani began things with a dunk, followed by Small's fastbreak layup and 3.

Amani Hansberry, who began the game by scoring 10 points in rapid-fire succession during a four-minute stretch, added a 3 and Small capped the run with another basket. West Virginia got its lead to five before the Zags rallied.

Gonzaga got eight in a row during a two-minute stretch and led by five with 25 seconds left on Ryan Nembhard's two

But Tucker DeVries banged in a 3 from the top of the key and then turned a midcourt steal into two free throws when he was fouled by Nolan Hickman while attempting a game-tying layup

Following a lengthy break to determine substitutions, Gonzaga was unable to get off a game-winning shot when Khalif Battle lost the ball while trying to score.

Small began the overtime with a layup, and free throws by Okani and Hansberry pushed the lead to four. After Small's layup, Sincere Harris came up with a big defensive rebound and was eventually fouled by Nembhard. Harris made both free throws, giving WVU a two-possession cushion which it extended to eight on Small's free throw and Harris' steal and dunk.

After Braden Huff's putback basket, DeVries iced the victory with a pair of free throws.

West Virginia (4-1) got 19 points and eight rebounds from Hansberry, 16 from DeVries and 10 from Okani.

WVU made 11 of 35 from 3-point range, which compensated for Gonzaga's 30 to 2 advantage in bench points. Louisville.

Recap

Louisville rallied from 11 points down in the first half to defeat West Virginia 79-70 in overtime in the semifinals of the Bad Boys Mowers Battle 4 Atlantis at Atlantis Resort Imperial Arena in Paradise Island, Bahamas.

After trailing 28-17 late in the first half, the Cardinals pulled even with 8:06 left on Chucky Hepburn's 3. His basket was part of a 9-0 Louisville run that got the Cardinals' lead to four, 54-50.

Javon Small stopped the run with a jumper in the paint, but Louisville responded with another 5-0 spurt, all five points coming from the free throw line, to build its lead to seven, 59-52, with 4:22 remaining.

West Virginia (4-2) rallied, however.

Toby Okani got a short jumper to go down with 3:59 left, Amani Hansberry added a pair of free throws, Small hit another jumper and Okani's close one gave WVU a 60-59 lead with two minutes left.

The lead went back Louisville on Terrence Edwards Jr.'s jumper and then back to West Virginia 16 seconds later on Small's answer.

Hepburn's free throw with 31 seconds left tied the game at 62, but his second was missed giving West Virginia an opportunity to win the game in regulation.

Unfortunately, the Mountaineers were unable to get off a shot before the shot clock expired and the game went into overtime.

In the extra session, the Cardinals took control of the game when Tucker DeVries picked up his fifth foul attempting to help on Hepburn's drive to the basket. Hepburn converted the layup and added the free throw to give Louisville a 70-67 lead. The margin swelled to five on Kasean Pryor's layup and then to seven after more Hepburn free throws.

Hepburn finished with a career-high 32 on 8 of 12 shooting, including 14 of 17 from the free throw line. Louisville made 24 of its 33 free throws compared to just 9 of 12 for West Virginia, which drops to 4-2 with the loss.

Small led the Mountaineers with 26 points on 10 of 19 shooting. He also had seven rebounds and seven assists one day after scoring 31 against Gonzaga.

Hansberry contributed 19 points and five rebounds, while Okani chipped in with 12.

West Virginia made 26 of its 59 field goal attempts for 44.1%, while Louisville connected on 24 of 57 for 42.1%.

Louisville had a 41 to 34 edge on the glass and outscored West Virginia 21 to 10 in second-chance points. The Cardinals' other significant advantage was their bench scoring where they out-tallied the Mountaineers 16 to 3.

Reyne Smith scored 15 and Pryor finished with 13 for

Recap

West Virginia got 26 points from Tucker DeVries to outlast 24th-ranked Arizona 83-76 in overtime in the third-place game at the Bad Boys Mowers Battle 4 Atlantis at Atlantis Resort Imperial Arena in Paradise Island, Bahamas.

It was the third-straight overtime game for WVU, which outlasted third-ranked Gonzaga two days earlier and then lost to Louisville a day earlier.

It is the first time in school history West Virginia has ever played three consecutive overtime games.

DeVries was virtually unstoppable at times, particularly from behind the 3-point arc where he made 8 of 12, including a couple of just in front of the mid-court line. DeVries had 17 points at halftime to give WVU a 39-37 lead at intermission.

WVU, down backup big Eduaro Andre following his injury vesterday against Louisville and still without Jayden Stone, had to go one player deeper on its bench with senior forward Haris Elezovic getting his first meaningful minutes of the season. Elezovic didn't score, but he did grab two rebounds in seven minutes of action.

The Mountaineers (5-2) appeared to have control of the game with less than four minutes left after Javon Small's two free throws gave them a 63-56 lead, but empty possessions allowed the Wildcats to battle back.

KJ Lewis converted a traditional three-point play to cut West Virginia's lead to four, and then Jaden Bradley's layup made it a two-point game with three minutes remaining.

Toby Okani answered with a corner 3 with 2:06 left, but that was WVU's last field goal during regulation.

Following a West Virginia timeout, Tucker DeVries was unable to get his shot inside the free throw line to go down to win the game.

In overtime, Amani Hansberry got things going with a jumper and then DeVries hit another 3 to give WVU a 71-66 lead. The margin swelled to eight on two Small free throws with 1:32 left and again got to eight on two more Small charities with 27 seconds to go.

WVU won the game despite being out-shot 45.3% to 39.7% and being out-scored 38 to 20 in the paint.

The Mountaineers made up for it with a 24 to 6 advantage in points off turnovers and their 21 assists on 27 made baskets.

Okani contributed a season-high 20 on 7-of-11 shooting, while Small finished with 14.

Hansberry contributed 13 points and 10 rebounds. WVU had a 40 to 39 edge on the glass against the Wildcats.

Recap

West Virginia rallied from a five-point second half deficit to down Georgetown 73-60 in a Big 12-Big East Battle game at the WVU Coliseum.

The Hoyas, leading 30-28 at halftime and 41-36 on Malik Mack's 3-pointer with 14:46 left, got just a Drew Fielder layup over the next six minutes as the Mountaineers went on a 17-2 run to take control of the game.

Javon Small, who scored a game-high 26, began the run with a three-point play, followed by an Eduardo Andre dunk and then two K.J. Tenner free throws tie the game 43.

Consecutive Toby Okani baskets and then 3s from Small and Tucker DeVries built the Mountaineer lead to 10, 53-43. with 9:28 left. Another DeVries basket pushed the lead to 12 before the Hoyas rallied with seven straight.

Small again stopped the run with a jumper, and his biggest shot of the game, a bank-shot 3 with the shot clock winding down, pushed the margin back to 11 with 1:20 to go. Okani put the punctuation mark on tonight's win with a breakaway dunk with a minute remaining.

The Hoyas (7-2) took the lead six minutes into the contest and led for 20:11 of the game.

"In the first half we were just stuck in the mud a little bit and couldn't get much going, but thankfully defensively we were able to keep it fairly tight going into the half," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said.

DeVries contributed 15 points on 5 of 10 shooting, including 13 in the second half. Okani chipped in with 11.

Andre gave West Virginia a big lift coming off the bench in the second half and finished the game with four points, four blocks and three defensive rebounds.

West Virginia (6-2) held its own on the glass against the much bigger Hoyas and actually outboarded them 34 to 33.

Guards Sencire Harris (nine) and DeVries (seven) led the Mountaineers in rebounding.

WVU outscored Georgetown 28 to 22 in the paint and had a 19 to 12 edge on points off turnovers. Other specialty stats in West Virginia's favor were fastbreak points, 14 to 4, and bench points, 9 to 8.

Georgetown got 17 from Jayden Epps and 13 from leading scorer Thomas Sorber, who played a good portion of the second half with four fouls.

West Virginia finished the game out-shooting Georgetown 45.6% to 37.9%, and also had a 12 to 7 advantage in free throws.

A crowd of 11,522 watched the contest.

Recap

West Virginia advanced its record to 7-2 with a commanding 79-45 victory over North Carolina Central at the WVU Coliseum.

Freshman Jonathan Powell led three double-figure Mountaineer scorers with a season-high 17 points 12 of those coming from 3-point distance on 4-of-11 shooting.

Joseph Yesufu chipped in with a season-high 14, including 11 during a nine-minute stretch in the first half.

Senior guard Javon Small contributed 12.

West Virginia was without starting guard Tucker DeVries, sidelined indefinitely with an upper body injury. The announcement of DeVries' injury was made before this game.

"I wasn't sure what to expect and we had two days to prepare a few different lineups, and a lot of guys were in different spots tonight," coach Darian DeVries said. "Then, you play a team that switches defenses almost every possession throwing everything at you, so having some organization for every single defense was a little bit of a challenge.'

Eduardo Andre got the starting nod in place of DeVries and scored 3 points with eight rebounds. Freshman K.J. Tenner began the second half for Andre and tallied 9 for the contest.

"I liked the fact that K.J. was getting into the paint and we needed that," DeVries explained. "It was just a matchup thing. Like I told Eduardo, it had nothing to do with his performance by any means, we just needed four perimeter guys out there to help break the press and also to just match up better on the defensive end for what they were running."

Amani Hansberry pulled down a game-high 12 rebounds to help give the Mountaineers a 45 to 28 advantage on the glass.

All 10 West Virginia players who got into the game scored, including 9 from senior guard Jake Auer in just four minutes of court time

WVU got 51 points from its bench and had a 19 to 7 advantage in points off turnovers.

"What I did like is we got 21 assists on 28 (field goals) and that says something about the way the guys played tonight. They really shared it, really moved it and made that extra pass," DeVries said.

Defensive-oriented North Carolina Central of the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference, making its first-ever Coliseum appearance, made just 16 of its 48 field goal attempts for 33.3%.

Isaac Parson was the only Eagle to reach double figures with 16 points. Leading scorer Po'Boigh King, averaging 17.4 points per game, was 0 for 7 from the floor and finished with 5 points

Recap

West Virginia used 27 points, six rebounds and six assists from senior guard Javon Small to defeat Bethune-Cookman 84-61 at the WVU Coliseum.

The Mountaineers had a balanced scoring attack with four players reaching double figures. Amani Hansberry tallied 16, Jonathan Powell contributed 14 and Sencire Harris added a season-high 12.

West Virginia, which led by as many as 20 points in the first half, saw its lead trimmed to six four minutes into the second half. But the Mountaineers scored seven in a row to push it back to 13 and kept the margin above double digits for the remainder of the game.

"We were able to build up a pretty good lead in the first half and then there was a long stretch from that point on until late in the second half when we couldn't quite find our rhythm," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said.

WVU didn't grab its first offensive rebound until Hansberry hauled down a Harris missed with 14:34 left in the second half and was out-boarded by the Wildcats, 39 to 35.

The Mountaineers (8-2) made 17 free throws in a row until Hansberry missed his second attempt with 3:28 left.

West Virginia finished the game connecting on 20 of 22 from the charity stripe.

After shooting 51.7% in the first half, the Mountaineers cooled off after intermission and ended the game making 27 of 58 field goal attempts for 46.6%.

WVU was outscored 32 to 30 in the paint and 13 to 9 off

"We fouled a little too much and the game got a little choppy because there was a lot of free throws and there was no flow to it and it was hard for us to get going," DeVries said. "We've got to play with more discipline and keep our hands back."

West Virginia did convert 10 of its 26 attempts from 3-point distance, Powell leading the way with four. Small made two and one each came from Hansberry, Toby Okani, Joseph Yesufu and Jake Auer.

It was the second game without second-leading scorer Tucker DeVries, who is nursing an undisclosed upper body injury. Powell got his first career start in place of DeVries.

"I thought the last five minutes we really dug in defensively, the talk was a little better and we got some transition baskets to really extend it and feel more comfortable, " DeVries said.

Bravon Freeman led Bethune-Cookman with 14 points An announced crowd of 9,651 attended the game.

Recap

West Virginia concluded its four-game homestand with a 67-46 victory over Mercyhurst at the WVU Coliseum.

Javon Small scored a game-high 19 points, including the 1,000th point of his collegiate career.

Eduardo Andre came off the bench to score a season-high 14 points while Toby Okani got his first double-double of the season with 13 points and a season-high 12 rebounds.

West Virginia, now 9-2 and equaling its win total from last season, limited the Lakers of the Northeast Conference to just 28.3% shooting for the game. Mercyhurst missed 38 of its 53 field goal attempts and turned the ball over 16 times.

"Like I told the guys, the nonconference portion is now over, and they did their job in terms of putting themselves in position and now they get ready for Big 12 play, " West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said. "Overall, this game was a little ugly at times, but I thought defensively in the second half we got it cranked up and get out into transition a little bit more to pull away.

After WVU led 35-22 at halftime, the Lakers went on an 8-0 run to reduced the Mountaineers' lead to eight, 38-30, with 14:46 left. Small finally snapped its nearly six-minute field goal drought with a layup, two of 16 straight points West Virginia scored to build its lead up to 24 points.

Starting center Amani Hansberry also checked out 18 seconds into the game with what appeared to be an ankle injury. He spent the game sitting on the bench with an ice bag on his foot, but DeVries indicated afterward it was nothing serious

With Hansberry out, Harris Elezovich got some extended playing time and finished with four points, five rebounds and an assist in 15 minutes.

"(Hansberry's injury) took away a little bit of our depth and our ability to throw it inside," DeVries explained. "But I thought Haris came in and gave us some really good minutes and Eduardo took an extended role, so that was good."

Freshman Jonathan Powell, getting his second start in DeVries' place, made two 3s and finished the game with six points.

The Mountaineers outscored the Lakers 30 to 16 in the paint and had a 29 to 19 edge in bench scoring.

"When you are kind of struggling a little bit offensively you need to have defense so you can hang around, and then when you get the chance to break it open you can do that, " DeVries said.

A crowd of 10,777 attended the game

Recap

Javon Small's free throw with 1.8 seconds left lifted West Virginia to a 62-61 upset victory over seventh-ranked Kansas at Allen Fieldhouse.

It was the Mountaineers' first-ever triumph in 12 tries at Kansas, and snapped KU's 33-game winning streak in conference openers.

The last time the Jayhawks dropped a league lidlifter was on Ian 8 1991 when it lost 88-82 to Oklahoma while the two teams were members of the Big Eight Conference.

The victory was unlikely in several different ways. One. West Virginia was without two key starters, guard Tucker DeVries and forward Amani Hansberry, and the team had issues with its charter flight and did not arrive in Lawrence until early Tuesday morning. Furthermore, the hotel at which the team was staying in Lawrence lost power briefly, adding more disruptions to the trip.

Despite the obstacles, DeVries' gritty team came out and held the Jayhawks scoreless for the first five and a half minutes of the game and led by as many as 15 points in the first half.

The advantage swelled to 18 on Jonathan Powell's 3 and Eduardo Andre's layup to begin the second half, before Kansas began chipping away.

KU got it to 12 on Dajuan Harris Jr.'s 3 with 14:40 to go. The margin fell to single digits on Flory Bidunga's layup with 8:09 remaining. He got another one to go down a minute later. and the margin was reduced to two on Zeke Mayo's free throws.

Freshman KJ Tenner ended Kansas' 10-0 run with a jumper, and former Jayhawk Joseph Yesufu followed with a huge 3 with five minutes remaining to get the WVU lead back out to seven.

Mayo and Small exchanged baskets and eventually the Jayhawks tied the game on Mayo's conventional three-point play with 15 seconds left.

The game came down to Bidunga fouling Small and Small making the second free throw after missing the first.

The senior quard scored West Virginia's final seven points and finished with 13 to go with 11 rebounds and six assists.

Andre, a senior center getting his second start of the season, tallied a season-high 15 points on 7 of 9 shooting. He also grabbed six rebounds and blocked four shots in 34 minutes of action.

Powell, also making another start, contributed 11, including 3 of 8 from 3-point range.

WVU, which led the entire game, assisted on 18 of its 26 field goals, while Kansas assisted on just 10 of its 19 field goals.

The victory will go down as one of the great road triumphs in school annals, possibly approaching WVU's 77-70 win over fifth-ranked Kentucky in Memorial Coliseum on Dec. 20, 1957.

Recap

Senior Javon Small recorded a double-double against his former team to lead the West Virginia University men's basketball team to a 69-50 victory over Oklahoma State before a crowd of 11,753 at the WVU Coliseum.

Small recorded his second double-double in as many games with 24 points and 11 rebounds against the Cowboys, the school he played for in 2023-24.

Small was complemented by freshman Jonathan Powell, who recorded 17 points on five 3-point field goals, and Eduardo Andre, who posted seven points, 10 rebounds and four assists. Sencire Harris (nine points), Amani Hansberry (six points), Toby Okani (five points) and Joseph Yesufu (one point) rounded out WVU's scoring.

The Mountaineers jumped on Oklahoma State early in the first half and cruised to a 46-19 halftime lead, holding the Cowboys to 25% shooting in the first half. Oklahoma State finished the game shooting 33.3% from the field, 14.3% from 3-point range and 55% from the free throw line.

West Virginia shot 41.8% from the field and made 11 3-point field goals. The Mountaineers outrebounded the Cowbovs, 40-38.

"I thought defensively the guys were terrific. We're really locked in," DeVries said. "We took a lot of their driving angles away and did a nice job there and then we were able to get steals, offensive or defensive rebounds and get out in transition

The Mountaineers led by as many as 28 points with 18:26 remaining in the game. For the second consecutive Big 12 Conference game, the Mountaineers never trailed in the contest.

With the win, West Virginia improves to 11-2 overall and 2-0 in the Big 12 Conference. WVU is 2-0 in league play for the first time since the 2017-18 season. Oklahoma State falls to 8-5 overall and 0-2 in the Big 12.

Recap

Arizona shot 51% to defeat 21st-ranked West Virginia 75-56 at the WVU Coliseum in snowy Morgantown.

It was Arizona's fifth straight victory and boosts its Big 12 record to 3-0 with wins over TCU and Cincinnati

Former starter KJ Lewis came off the bench to lead three double-figure scorers with 21. The sophomore guard was 9-of-13 from the floor in just 26 minutes of court time.

Jaden Bradley contributed 15 and Anthony Dell'Orso added 10 for the Wildcats

Arizona's bench outscored West Virginia's 34 to 10 and the Wildcats also had a 36 to 22 edge in the paint.

"We weren't our usual selves, especially defensively," Mountaineer coach Darian DeVries said afterward. "I didn't think we were quite as connected as we have been, and I thought Arizona did a good job of exploiting some of our pickand-roll defensive things that gave us some issues. It's certainly something we've got to clean up and get better at as we move forward "

Arizona took control of the game with seven minutes to go in the first half and never relinquished its lead. The advantage got to 13 in the first half, and then to 15 early in the second half before WVU went on a 13-3 run to cut the deficit to five, 48-43

Lewis answered with a pair of free throws and then later his layup started an 11-0 run during a three-minute stretch to put the game away.

Arizona made 31 of its 61 field goal attempts, including 7 of 20 from behind the 3-point arc. West Virginia, meanwhile, connected on just 21 of its 58 field goal attempts for 36.2%

"The ball got stuck a little bit at times and I thought we were a little too anxious trying to go get it on our own," DeVries said. "When there were opportunities when we did get it and had a few open looks that didn't go in, but that's basketball.

"I thought Arizona did a nice job. They bumped us off our spots and got us out in spaces where we weren't as comfortable," DeVries added.

Javon Small was the only WVU player to reach double digits

Arizona's victory avenges an 83-76 nonconference loss to the Mountaineers in the Bahamas back on Nov. 29.

This week was the Mountaineers' first appearance in the Associated Press Top 25 since Dec. 26, 2022.

West Virginia, which saw its seven-game winning streak come to an end, tallied a season-low 56 points.

Recap

West Virginia got a game-high 26 points from the Big 12's leading scorer Javon Small, but it was Joseph Yesufu's 18 points coming off the bench that really made the difference in the Mountaineers' 78-70 victory over Colorado at the CU Events Center in Boulder, Colorado.

Yesufu's 18 points came on 6 of 9 shooting, including 4 of 5 from the free throw line, with a pair of 3-pointers.

It was West Virginia's first ever visit to the CU Events Center, some 1,481 miles from Morgantown, West Virginia, and 5,430 feet above sea level.

"It was a strange game," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said afterward. "I thought the first half we had a nice half. It was perfect, but we kind of controlled the half and were able to create some turnovers and got a little ball movement.

"I thought they did a nice job in the second half. They got us a little stagnant with their switching and we kind of settled a little bit, and as the game went on, we got a little fatigued as well " DeVries said

Small (17) and Yesufu (13) combined to score 30 of West Virginia's 38 second-half points after the Mountaineers led 40-29 at halftime. Except for 18 seconds, West Virginia led for the entire game, but it got a little hairy in the second half when the Mountaineers got into foul trouble and the Colorado altitude began to wear down an undermanned WVU team

Small came out on fire in the second half, knocking downs 3s at 18:43, 18:02 and 17:28 to give the Mountaineers their biggest lead of the game, 49-35.

But Colorado clawed back into it by getting to the free

The Buffs shot 28 free throws after intermission, making 24, and as a result, West Virginia lost two of its key players to fouls - Sincere Harris with 5:28 left and then Eduardo Andre with 1:30 to go.

That meant WVU had to finish the game with 6-foot-8 Toby Okani and 6-foot-6 Amani Hansberry the two tallest players on the floor.

It was Yesufu who came up with two critical big baskets, the first a driving layup right before Andre fouled out and then another with 1:23 left to keep it a two-possession game.

Yesufu and Small got the lead back to 10 with free throws, and then Hansberry iced it with two more charities with 18 seconds left.

"I thought Joe had a huge second half for us," DeVries said. "He's done a great job of continuing to keep himself ready and waiting for that opportunity and we needed his speed and his ability to get to the rim in the second half."

Recap

No. 10-ranked Houston extended its nation's-best home winning streak to 32 games with a 70-54 victory over West Virginia at the Fertitta Center in Houston, Texas.

The Cougars got a season-high 22 points from J'Wan Roberts and 18 from L.J. Cryer.

"(Roberts) makes it tough because we did double him one time in the first half and they hit a three, but our game plan going into it was to play him one on one and he made us pay for it," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said afterward. "He puts you in a really tough spot because he is such a good passer. "

Roberts made 10 of his 13 field goal attempts while Cryer connected on half of his 10 three-point field goal tries.

Amani Hansberry came off the bench to tally 16 points, including 12 in a row during one stretch in the second half, while Javon Small contributed 13.

Small scored nine straight points in the first half and West Virginia was trailing by three points with 10 minutes to go. But the Cougars used a 9-0 spurt to push their lead to 12 and led 40-27 at halftime.

West Virginia scored eight straight to begin the second half, and had the deficit down to three, 51-48, with 12:36 to go when it went ice cold.

"In the second half, we came out much more aggressive and did some better things defensively, which led to some better offense as well," DeVries said. "Then Amani gave us a spark in the second half, but every time we got back in there it seemed like it was a big turnover from us that didn't give us a shot to even get a ball up at the rim."

Houston held the Mountaineers scoreless for a six-minute stretch and the Cougars responded with a 14-0 run to put the game away.

The Cougars made 11 of 26 from behind the three-point arc and turned West Virginia's 12 turnovers into 25 points. Houston also outscored West Virginia 24 to 16 in the paint and outrebounded the Mountaineers 30 to 23.

West Virginia shot 44.2% from the floor, connecting on 19 of 43, while Houston shot 49% by making 25 of its 51 field goal attempts

Emanuel Sharp contributed 14 points for the Cougars. The loss was West Virginia's first against a nationally ranked team after three victories.

"I thought the way the game played out, we did a lot of really good things at times, and we knew going into it that turnovers were going to be the biggest key," DeVries said. "We only had 12 turnovers, which is a couple more than you would like, but all of them it seemed like resulted in points.

Recap

Javon Small tallied a game-high 27 points, including 12 in a row late in the game, to lead West Virginia to a 64-57 victory over second-ranked lowa State at the WVU Coliseum.

"This was one of those games you just never knew which way it was going to go," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said afterward. "It came down to the wire, and fortunately, we were able to make enough plays to finish that thing and come out on top."

West Virginia needed a little Coliseum magic against an Iowa State team that was a one-point loss against top-ranked Auburn removed from being undefeated, and it got it from the 14,444 in the building this evening to celebrate Jerry West

West Virginia University recognized the late West's family during a halftime celebration that included the announcement that no Mountaineer player in any sport will ever wear West's jersey No. 44 again, similar to what Major League Baseball did with Jackie Robinson's No. 42

The three-time NBA Hall of Famer died last June 12 in Los Angeles

Iowa State missed its first 13 triples before Jones finally got one to go down early in the second half; it ended the day 1 of 17 from behind the arc. Meanwhile, West Virginia was successful on 9-of-27, including 4-of-8 from Amani Hansberry. All 12 of Hansberry's points came from behind the arc.

Small's stat line was very Wooden Award-like with 27 points, seven rebounds, five assists and four steals against the No. 2 -rated team in the country.

"What an incredible player he is and continues to be," DeVries said of Small. "Down the stretch he just kind of willed

It was West Virginia's fourth victory against ranked teams so far this year.

His conventional three-point play with 1:39 remaining built the Mountaineers' lead to four 53-49, and then a defensive stop led to two more Small free throws 20 seconds

The big basket came with 42 seconds left when Small lined up and knocked down a 3 to give West Virginia an eightpoint lead. The senior guard punctuated the performance with a breakaway dunk with 21 seconds left, much to the delight of a raucous and enthusiastic student crowd.

Recap

Arizona State used a balanced scoring effort to knock off 23rd-ranked West Virginia 65-57 at the WVU Coliseum.

Freshman forward Jayden Quaintance led the Sun Devils with 15 points and 12 rebounds.

Basheer Jihad added 15, BJ Freeman tallied 14 and Adam Miller contributed 10 for Arizona State.

"They have multiple guys that can come at you and put you in some tough spots," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said. "Our defense has been really good, and when our offense was struggling, we had opportunities to crawl back into the game with our defense and really for the first time all year we weren't able to get stops at the times we needed to.'

WVU connected on just 18 of its 58 field goal attempts for 31% and went nearly eight minutes before making its first basket of the second half. All six West Virginia points prior to that were Javon Small free throws before Eduardo Andre's layup with 12:52 remaining.

ASU led by as many as 13 points and never trailed after intermission.

Arizona State scored 36 of its 65 points in the paint and totally dominated the glass. The Sun Devils outrebounded the Mountaineers 46 to 28 and at one point midway through the second half, WVU's only two boards were credited as team rebounds.

Fourteen of ASU's rebounds came on the offensive glass.

West Virginia, in a difficult portion of its schedule playing its fifth game in nine days, including a two-game western swing to Colorado and Houston, really struggled from behind the 3-point arc.

The Mountaineers (13-5, 4-3) connected on just 4 of their 28 threes with leading scorer Small missing all eight of his attempts

"They did a nice job on him," DeVries said. "They kept the ball in front of them and when we had possessions, there were not enough of them where we got good movement to be able to get some (good scoring) opportunities."

Small got 10 of his team-high 14 points from the free throw line. Freshman Jonathan Powell was the only other Mountaineer to reach double figures with 12.

Nearly half (28) of the team's 57 points came off Arizona State's 15 turnovers. Otherwise, it was struggle for WVU to

"At the end of the day, we settled too much. We didn't get enough action on the backside to create confusion and that's the result we ended up with," DeVries noted.

Recap

Kansas State scored 19 of the game's first 21 points and never looked back in defeating West Virginia 73-60 at Bramlage Coliseum in Manhattan, Kansas.

Dug McDaniel's 15 points led a balance Wildcat offense that included 14 from David N'Guessan, 12 from Max Jones, 11 from Coleman Hawkins and 10 off the bench from C.J. Jones.

"We didn't bring the tenacity like I thought we would," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said afterward. "I thought we had a couple of good days of practice after the (Arizona State) loss. We were incredibly focused and we came out flat in those first five minutes and never really recovered."

West Virginia got a game-high 22 points from Javon Small, but all of them were hard-earned points in 38 minutes of action. Small made seven of his 16 field goal attempts, including three of six from 3, oftentimes with two and sometimes three players on him.

West Virginia struggled to make its 3s, connecting on only four of 21 for 19%.

Other than Small, Amani Hansberry was the only West Virginia player to make a three, the forward finishing one-of-six from behind the arc.

Kansas State's largest lead was 26 points at 42-16 right before the end of the first half.

The Mountaineers were much better in the second half, outscoring K-State 42-31, but the opening half's margin was too big to overcome.

"The last 20 minutes we really competed and played the way we need to play if we're going to be successful," DeVries said. "I'm certainly proud of the guys for that, but trying to dig your way out of a 24-point hole at the half is tough."

For the game, the Wildcats shot 47.3% from the floor and scored on 55.7% of their offense possessions. Meanwhile, the Mountaineers scored on just 43.1% of their 65 offensive possessions.

Toby Okani chipped in with 13 and Sencire Harris finished with 12 points for West Virginia. Only five of the 10 players who got on the floor scored for the Mountaineers.

Recap

West Virginia's second half rally came up short in a 63-49 loss to sixth-ranked Houston at the WVU Coliseum.

The Cougars, winners of 13 straight games, had a comfortable 39-19 halftime lead, but West Virginia scored the first 11 points of the second half and was trailing 49-44 with 6:59 remaining and Jonathan Powell at the free throw line to shoot a one-and-one.

The freshman missed, unfortunately, and at the other end of the floor LJ Cryer was fouled by Joseph Yesufu on his shot attempt that Toby Okani was called for goal tending. Cryer made the free throw, pushing the lead back to eight, and then it quickly grew back to 11 on Milos Uzan's second-chance 3 after J'Wan Roberts grabbed one of his four offensive rebounds.

Subsequent missed free throws by Amani Hansberry and Sencire Harris enabled Houston to get its lead back to 15.

"When you are down 20 to a team like Houston, that's incredibly difficult to come back from," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said afterward.

WVU ended up outscoring Houston 30-24 in the second half after the Cougars had built up their big first-half advantage

"That second half was us," DeVries said. "It's the same guys. Nobody has left the team, or we've added a new guy, but when we've won the games, we've won because they played at that level. It's getting after it and playing as hard as you can and disrupting on defense.

"As a coach, you hope we've got that back in the second half, but these last few first halves, we have come out not playing that way," DeVries added.

The Mountaineers dug themselves a 13-3 hole to begin the Houston (17-3, 9-0) got 17 points from West Virginia slayer Cryer, who is now 6-0 against the Mountaineers with 122 points going back to his Baylor days. The senior guard made half of his 12 field goal attempts and was three-for-three from the free throw line tonight.

Joseph Tugler contributed 12 points and seven rebounds while Uzan finished with 10.

J'Wan Roberts, who scored a game-high 22 points the first time these two teams met in Houston earlier in the month, was held to just five.

Yesufu was West Virginia's leading scorer with nine points.
Javon Small was held to eight. He wasn't able to get off his first shot attempt until 11:07 remaining in the first half.

Okani and Hansberry also tallied eight for the Mountaineers
As it did the first time these two teams played, Houston controlled the glass by out-rebounding West Virginia 34 to 19
- 13 of those on the offensive end which led to a 16-to-three advantage in second-chance points.

Recap

Javon Small scored a game-high 19 points and Joseph Yesufu contributed 16 points off the bench to lead West Virginia to a 63-50 victory at Cincinnati at Fifth Third Arena.

West Virginia, sporting its 1959 Jerry West era throwback uniforms used in its 64-57 victory over lowa State, snapped its three-game losing streak and now shows three league road victories at Kansas, Colorado and Cincinnati. WVU's Big 12 road record was 2-25 over the prior three seasons combined.

"This one feels a lot better," Darian DeVries said afterward. WVU also ended its recent trend of slow starts by building a 40-25 halftime lead, while also shooting much better from 3-point range, thanks to Yesufu going four-for-four and Small making four-of-seven.

Overall, West Virginia made half of its 18 triples and finished the game 49% overall from the floor.

The Bearcats were 11-of-12 from the line, compared to just 17-of-54 from the floor. Most of the misses came from Day Day Thomas (10), Jizzle James (eight) and Simas Lukosius (six).

"I thought defensively, the guys came out with a good focus," DeVries said. "We put a lot of stress on starting the game off better because we had dug ourselves such big holes that by the time we came out of it, it was too much."

West Virginia's biggest lead was 22 points with 7:47 left on Yesufu's wing 3.

Cincinnati switched to full-court pressure while WVU was content to run clock, resulting in the Bearcats scoring eight straight points before Toby Okani's dunk ended the run.

A Yesufu runner, a Dillon Mitchell jumper and Rayvon Griffith's 3 were the only baskets made by both teams during the game's final 4:24.

The Mountaineers turned 14 Bearcat turnovers into 20 points and outscored them 30 to 22 in the paint.

Cincinnati had four field goal droughts in the first half lasting nearly three minutes each, including the last 3:55 when all it could get were free throws from Lukosius and Josh Reed.

"That's a hard game plan to execute sometimes because you've got a guard coming down hill and they love to throw lobs. Obviously the bigs did a really good job of not giving that up, but then the guards of not getting (beaten) was the biggest key to it all," DeVries explained. "They had to get back in front so our bigs did not have to stay quite as long (to help) and get put into indecision of do I help, or do I go back to the big?"

Amani Hansberry grabbed 11 rebounds for the Mountaineers while Mitchell finished with 10 boards for the Rearcats

Recap

Vasean Allette scored 22 points and Noah Reynolds added 20 to lead TCU to a 65-60 victory over West Virginia at Schollmaier Arena in Fort Worth, Texas.

The Horned Frogs, one of the worst free throw shooting teams in the country, took advantage of a big free throw disparity to turn a 12-point first half deficit into their second straight home victory.

Shooting just 63.3% from the charity stripe, TCU made 20 of 23 compared to only two of five for the Mountaineers, whose 18 fouls were twice as many as the nine called on the Frogs.

"We've got to play without fouling," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said

WVU went cold toward the latter part of the first half after Toby Okani's dunk gave it a 25-13 lead with 6:08 remaining. TCU used a 15-4 run to finish the first half trailing 29-28 and then scored the first seven points of the second half before Eduardo Andre's dunk finally ended the cold spell.

"We started the game off, and I thought defensively we were terrific for the first 15 minutes," DeVries said. "I told them going into the four-minute timeout that they worked their tails off to get this lead, don't let them crawl back into it. We had some silly turnovers, gave up a few easy buckets and now you are up one at the end of the half instead of 10, 12 or TCU's biggest lead was 11, 54-43, with 7:56 remaining when Javon Small caught fire and scored eight straight points to get it back to a one-point game, 54-53.

Jonathan Powell's 3 with 3:53 left tied it at 56, and then Small's steal and layup knotted the score at 58 with 1:29 to go.

Allette answered with a layup and a free throw when he was fouled by KJ Tenner.

Small was unable to get his long step-back jumper to go down, Micah Robinson was unsuccessful at the other end, but Allette grabbed the offensive rebound and scored with nine seconds left to make it a two-possession game.

Allette added two free throws with three seconds left and then TCU conceded Joe Yesufu's layup ahead of the horn.

"Once we got our defense going again, I thought we were pretty good," DeVries said. "We got better ball movement, Javon got going a little bit and Joe made a couple of 3s when we became the aggressor, but we were unable to finish it off."

Small finished with 20, getting equal point distribution in both halves. He finished eight of 19 from the floor and was four of 10 from 3-point range.

Yesufu contributed 11 and Andre added 10 for the Mountaineers.

Largest lead - UTAH by 6 1st-17:35, WVU by 14 2nd-12:38.
UTAH led for 05:04. WVU led for 30:37. Game was tied for 04:15.

The supporting cast came through for West Virginia in its 72-61 victory over Utah at the WVU Coliseum.

With the Utes focusing their attention on the Big 12's leading scorer, Javon Small, teammate Amani Hansberry scored a game-high 17 points, Joseph Yesufu came off the bench to contribute 14 and freshman Jonathan Powell tallied 11.

Small finished with 14 points and handed out eight assists, but the senior attempted just five shots while getting nine of his 14 at the free throw line. If not for Small's perfect free throw shooting, however, West Virginia would have been much worse from the charity stripe. The rest of the team made only four of 14, including two of 10 in the second half.

West Virginia (15-8) took control of the game late in the first half following Mason Madsen's 3-pointer that pulled the Utes to within two, 29-27, with 2:59 to go.

Yesufu got a pair of baskets and then Toby Okani made the play of the game by blocking 7-foot-1 center Lawson Lovering's dunk attempt and then hitting a 3 from the corner at the other end.

That put the Mountaineers ahead 36-27 at the half.

West Virginia had its biggest lead of the game, 14, on Powell's 3 with 12:38 to go, but the Utes wouldn't go away. A Keanu Hawes layup made it a six-point game, 56-50, and the margin was whittled to five after five straight points by Jake

Powell answered with a big 3 from straight away that bounced off the rim and settled down through the basket with 2:33 left. That put WVU ahead 67-59.

Two Small free throws got the margin back to 10 with 1:50 left and then layups by Yesufu and Powell punctuated an 8-2 spurt to end the game.

West Virginia held its own on the glass against the much taller Utes, who had a slim 35-to-33 rebounding advantage for the game.

Dawes grabbed a game-high 11 boards while leading Utah in scoring with 14 points.

Leading scorer Gabe Madsen was held eight points below his season average and finished with seven.

Overall, Utah made 23 of its 56 field goal attempts for 41.1% and scored on just 28 of its 61 offensive possessions tonight. The Utes were just eight of 19 on layup attempts.

Wahlin finished with 10 for Utah.

West Virginia connected on 25 of its 52 field goal attempts for 48.1% and was successful on 51.6% of its 62 offensive possessions.

The victory was the first in seven tries against Utah.
