WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT

Darian DeVries

"Darian DeVries is an excellent coach who has been a part of winning his entire career. He has an innovative offensive mind and his teams are hard-nosed. I believe the people of West Virginia will embrace his style, and his personality will fit the state like a glove." Fran Fraschilla, ESPN College Basketball Analyst

"Darian DeVries and his family were with us for 12 memorable years at Creighton. Darian has an innovative basketball mind and great enthusiasm for the game. He will work with alumni, fans and staff to represent West Virginia University in a first-class manner." Dana Altman, Oregon Head Coach

"Great hire. He's a great X and O guy. He's a great program builder. He's good without his son. If he comes with his son, he's going to be great for West Virginia. He's the kind of guy I could see staying there for a long time." Jay Wright, CBS Analyst and Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame member

"I could not be more excited for Darian, Ashley, Tucker and Tatum. He's worked extremely hard to earn this opportunity. He's very deserving. The job he did at Drake speaks for itself. None of this surprises me because I fully understand the impact he had on our program, not only for me when he was here but prior to my arrival with coach Altman." Greg McDermott, Creighton Head Coach

"Darian DeVries is a proven leader and basketball coach, and one of the brightest young coaches in the game. He took his experience working under Dana Altman and Greg McDermott to another level as head coach at Drake, and there is no doubt he will be a success at West Virginia. Darian has put his time in and he is the real thing. West Virginia found the right coach in Darian DeVries." Jay Bilas, ESPN

Recap

Vasean Allette scored 22 points and Noah Reynolds added 20 to lead TCU to a 65-60 victory over West Virginia at Schollmaier Arena in Fort Worth, Texas.

The Horned Frogs, one of the worst free throw shooting teams in the country, took advantage of a big free throw disparity to turn a 12-point first half deficit into their second straight home victory.

Shooting just 63.3% from the charity stripe, TCU made 20 of 23 compared to only two of five for the Mountaineers, whose 18 fouls were twice as many as the nine called on the Frogs.

"We've got to play without fouling," West Virginia coach Darian DeVries said.

WVU went cold toward the latter part of the first half after Toby Okani's dunk gave it a 25-13 lead with 6:08 remaining. TCU used a 15-4 run to finish the first half trailing 29-28 and then scored the first seven points of the second half before Eduardo Andre's dunk finally ended the cold spell.

"We started the game off, and I thought defensively we were terrific for the first 15 minutes," DeVries said. "I told them going into the four-minute timeout that they worked their tails off to get this lead, don't let them crawl back into it. We had some silly turnovers, gave up a few easy buckets and now you are up one at the end of the half instead of 10, 12 or 13."

TCU's biggest lead was 11, 54-43, with 7:56 remaining when Javon Small caught fire and scored eight straight points to get it back to a one-point game, 54-53.

Jonathan Powell's 3 with 3:53 left tied it at 56, and then Small's steal and layup knotted the score at 58 with 1:29 to go.

Allette answered with a layup and a free throw when he was fouled by KJ Tenner.

Small was unable to get his long step-back jumper to go down, Micah Robinson was unsuccessful at the other end, but Allette grabbed the offensive rebound and scored with nine seconds left to make it a two-possession game.

Allette added two free throws with three seconds left and then TCU conceded Joe Yesufu's layup ahead of the horn.

"Once we got our defense going again, I thought we were pretty good," DeVries said. "We got better ball movement, Javon got going a little bit and Joe made a couple of 3s when we became the aggressor, but we were unable to finish it off."

Small finished with 20, getting equal point distribution in both halves. He finished eight of 19 from the floor and was four of 10 from 3-point range.

Yesufu contributed 11 and Andre added 10 for the Mountaineers.
