*ECAC Games, # ECAC Quarterfinal Series,
 % ECAC Semifinals, $ ECAC Championship,
 & NCAA Quarters, @ NCAA Frozen Four

In a season full of firsts, bests and unique accomplishments, the No. 5 seed Yale Women's Hockey Team (26-8-1) made its initial appearance in an NCAA Tournament a memorable one, winning the quarterfinal at Hamilton, N.Y., last Saturday to earn a trip to the 2022 Frozen Four. The best squad in the 44-year history of the program has its greatest challenge of the season with a 7 p.m. national semifinal this Friday against No. 1 Ohio State (30-6-0) at Pegula Ice Arena in University Park, Pa.

FROZEN FOUR

It's East vs. West (or Midwest) in both semifinals at Penn State with two from the WCHA, one from ECAC Hockey and another from Hockey East. The 3:30 p.m. Friday game pits No. 3 Northeastern (31-4-2), the 2021 NCAA runner-up, against five-time national champion Minnesota-Duluth (26-11-1). The winners play Sunday at 4 p.m. The semifinals air live on ESPN+, while the finale is on ESPNU.

BULLDOGS

The Bulldogs, who have a program-best 26-8-1 record and were second in the ECAC standings, are coming off a 2-1 OT win in the March 12 NCAA Quarterfinal at Colgate. Senior forward Tess Dettling's put-back (14th of year) from the low slot 2:05 into the extra frame was the difference. Rookie blueliner Vita Poniatovskaia had the other Yale tally, while senior Gianna Meloni made 28 saves and added to her program record for wins (16) in a season. Sophomore Elle Hartje set up the first goal and now has a school-record 35 assists and 51 points, the second highest total for a Bulldog. Junior forward Claire Dalton picked up a helper on the winner and moved to within one assist of the school career record.

YALE FUN FACTS

Worldly: Yale has seven countries, including the US and Canada, on its roster. Austria, Germany, Russia, Slovenia and Sweden are the others.

Class of 2022: The seniors went from 18 wins (8th and 9th place finishes) combined over their first two seasons to 43 wins (5th, 2nd) over last two seasons (not years).

Youth Impact: Yale had eight first-year skaters (26 goals) and one rookie goalie (10 wins) on the line sheet in the NCAA Quarters.

High-Scoring Class: The juniors have the most goals with 54, led by Emma Seitz (14), Claire Dalton (13), Charlotte Welch (13) and Rebecca Vanstone (12).

BUCKEYES

Ohio State, which brings an eight-game win streak to the Frozen Four, won the WCHA Championship by beating Minnesota, 3-2 in OT and then going two extra frames in a 4-3 NCAA Quarterfinal victory over Quinnipiac. The Buckeyes, who outshoot opponents on average this year 42-21, had an astonishing 77-22 advantage on the Bobcats last Saturday. They have the most prolific offense in the nation with a 4.72 goal average, 170 goals and a .370 power play. They are not too shabby at the other end, ranking fifth in Division I for scoring defense (1.53).

Mark Bolding, Susan Cavanagh Head Coach of Yale Hockey

Mark Bolding was named Yale's Susan Cavanagh Head Coach for Women's Ice Hockey in April of 2019, and his first year with the Bulldogs was a memorable one. However, his second season was by far the best in the history of the program, and he was named 2021-22 ECAC Coach of the Year while leading the team to the Frozen Four. Bolding is the first Yale coach to lead a women's team to any NCAA "final four" event.

The 2019-20 team set a program record for wins with 17, including a school-best six consecutive, while the team totals for assists (2nd), points (3rd) and goals (4th) all made the record book. That 17-15-0 team made the ECAC Hockey Tournament after finishing fifth with a school-record 13 conference wins. The Elis took their playoff series at Harvard to three games before falling in triple overtime in the finale.

His 2021-22 squad broke the school record for wins (25), ECAC wins (16), shut-outs (10), goals (120), shorthanded goals (9) and more, while finishing second (Yale best) in the standings. The Elis have been ranked among the top 10 most of the season in both the Pairwise and national polls. His second Yale team won the program's first conference semifinal, hosted the ECAC Championship Weekend for the first time and its first NCAA appearance.

Bolding took over as the 11th head coach in Yale Women's Ice Hockey history after building a Division III national powerhouse at his alma mater, Norwich University, which captured national championships in 2011 and 2018.

During his tenure at Norwich, he experienced record-setting success and compiled a 266-68-22 (.778) overall record. He guided the Cadets to the NCAA Division III national semifinals seven times and won nine New England Hockey Conference (NEHC) titles.

Bolding became the seventh coach in NCAA Division III history to reach the 200-win milestone. He was named the American Hockey Coaches' Association (AHCA) National Coach of the Year three straight seasons (2010, 11, 12) and won a fourth time in 2018.

In addition to the team success, Bolding coached 52 NEHC All-Conference Players, 25 All-New England Hockey Writers All-Stars and 17 AHCA All-Americans. In 2012, Norwich forward Julie Fortier was the school's first recipient of the Laura Hurd AHCA Women's Ice Hockey Division III Player of the Year.

Bolding served two stints as an assistant coach for the Norwich men's hockey team under Mike McShane. During the 1999-2000 season, Bolding helped the Norwich men win their first national championship with a dramatic 2-1 win over Wisconsin-Superior.

A native of Red Deer, Alberta, Bolding was a standout defenseman during his collegiate playing days at Norwich, serving as the team captain for three of his four seasons. Bolding finished his NU career with 94 points. His 73 assists put him alongside the all-time career assist leaders at the school. In 2005, Bolding was inducted into the Norwich University Athletic Hall of Fame.

Bolding resides in New Haven with his wife, Kari, and their five children: Christian, Corinne, Dayne, Kylee and Makenna.
