Tips for More Effective Facebook Ads

- Try Facebook Power Editor – this is a powerful tool for advertisers with large numbers of ads
- Use split testing – this means comparing slightly different versions of your ad campaign to see which is most successful
- Think about your title – a good title grabs attention and promotes your value proposition. But if you are paying per click, you also want to try and filter people who will click.
- Think about what makes people click 'like'. Normally this is about expressing yourself or about communication
