

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. In 2017, half of the country's Supreme Court justices were female, and so were two-thirds of its members of parliament. Why is this representation important and has it made a difference in the lives of the country's women?
2. The Akilah Institute prepares students for well-paying jobs and financial independence and teaches gender equality. Apart from any moral imperative, how does a society benefit from gender equity?
3. The Akilah Institute is planning on expanding to other countries. What impact could the expansion and replication of this model have in other societies?