

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Historically, Antakya is a city of tolerance, as we saw in a story broadcast in 2013. How have events since then changed the longstanding tradition of peace in this community?
2. How might Syrian President Assad's identity as an Alawite affect the loyalty of Alawite communities both in Syria and Turkey?