

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Environmental experts say that cleaning India's air will take new regulations and a societal shift toward cleaner fuels. Does that seem likely to happen to you? Why or why not?
2. Air filters are available, but they're expensive and only work in homes with ventilation systems. What equity issues are brought to the surface by this problem?
3. What models from elsewhere in the world where pollution has been cleaned up might be applied in Delhi and other Indian cities? What are the challenges involved?