

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Why is it important to get the input of the community being served in the design process?
2. How are environmental and health issues tied together by cookstoves?
3. StoveTeam has since set up factories across Central America and Mexico, each owned by a local entrepreneur. Why is it important for the stoves to be produced locally and owned by locals?