

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Are there potential ethical problems with a for-profit school model being used as the primary education system for a resource-poor country?
2. What are the pros and cons of the school-in-a-box approach? Does one outweigh the other?
3. Minister Werner says he knows there are risks to scaling the system up to the entire country, but says the government has a moral obligation to take drastic measures. Do you agree that the government has such a moral obligation?