

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Are donors responsible for ensuring the proper distribution of aid?
2. What lessons in logistics from this example can be applied to other disaster relief situations?
3. Areas like the low-lying land hit by the typhoon are usually occupied by the poorest in society and are also more vulnerable to the impacts of climate change and natural disasters. How should that inform the global response to climate change?