

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Do states have a responsibility to protect religious minorities? Why or why not?
2. How does the association of colonialism with Christianity reflect on Christians in Pakistan today? Should that association still carry weight? Why or why not?
3. Despite the social stigma that Pakistani Christians carry, many of the country's Muslim elite attended Christian schools. What accounts for that?