

Pr. 4: 20

SUBJECT: Closing The Book

^D
12/70
⑥P

When the great plenty, our cities have turned out their last furnished men, when our merchants have sold every last part,
and dismissed the last hired clerk

when our banks have reached in their last week and paid the last dividend and the judge (the sailor says) & cease for us say and when for a balance, what then?