FACES IN THE STREET

Where the nearest suburb and the city proper meet

My window-sill is level with the faces in the street

Drifting past, drifting past,
To the beat of weary feet,
While I sorrow for the owners of
those faces in the street.

And cause I have to sorrow, in a
land so young and fair,
To see upon those faces stamped the
marks of want and care.

I look in vain for traces of the fresh and fair and sweet
PRISON

In pallid, sunken faces that are drifting through the street.

Sinking down, sinking down
To a drum's dull distant beat In dens of vice and horror that are hidden from the street.

I wonder would the agony of
affluent men endure
Were all their windows level
with the faces of the poor?

Ah! you at ease in your, your seats in turn shall beat

When God demands a reason for the sorrows of the street.

The wrong things in the God things
and the God things that we meet In the filthy lanes and alley of the cruel, heartless street.

I left the dreadful corner where
the steps are now still,
and sought another window
overlooking hill and hill.
But when the night came dreary
with the driving rain and sleet,
They haunted me - the shadows
of those faces on the street
passing by, passing by passing by with restless feet
In that pent track, living death -
the city's cruel street.

SHELLEY

OZYMANDIAS

I met a traveler from an antique land

Who said: Two vast and trunkless legs of stone
stand in the desert. Near them,
on the sand,

Half sunk, a shattered visage
lies, whose frown

and wrinkled lip, and sneer of
cold command,

Tell that its sculptor well
those passions read

which yet survive, stamped on these lifeless things.

And on the pedestal these words
appear:

'My name is Ozymandias,
King of Kings;

Look at my works, ye mighty,
and despair!"

Nothing else remains. Round
the decay

of that colossal wreck,
boundless and bare,

The lone and level sands
stretch far away.

GOD SPEAKS TO AMERICA

BETHLEHEM

I. THE LORD GOD THE GOD OF THE NATIONS

Government, judgment, is his house. The nations are weighed.
 what has become of the pride, power, vanity & indignity?
 where are the beautiful cities of the ancient world?

Churches, too, have to grow. where the narrow churches, roads? how wide a path...

We should learn from Russia.

1. The bridge too long with bridges beneath the sky. No security out of heaven.
 Our greatest bridge leads to nothing? some financial institution?
 want to touch?
 Our government across night?
 The great Babylon you have broken & a little...
 Our yes, nation, a baby yes, a few years no.

2. The walls of the gods great here
 But they give & undergo pain.

Inevitably, is worth judgment. whether Babylon or America's or Islam Communism.

But if they repented they lived. whether yes. Highest we should or should make good.

HISTORY'S NO. 1 IMPERATIVE

after the last war: the explosion, invention, technological innovations,
the cities, and thought were one people.

Our social awakening

Not enough to be smart, clever, even cultured, educated, to read & writing upon the wall, a brilliant man.
England, to attend upon a noble lady America, before night, by night, need a first course to read, to know, thought.

Our first need, begin all else: morality by traditional, judicious, upright

We do not realize how initially close the touches are today between

- the fatherless - good man, bad?
- my little girl goes ... she's there up or away to school. Good man, bad?
- you see, the wife ... good girl, or bad?
- when you lie in bed ...
- for justice, indignation. The nation is on the way. Good people, working ... our morality, respect, pleasure, must not be up with us technology.

This is history's imperative: "must"

shall we fight, or back? What is the matter with us? Why do we not get it?

- 14. I shall remain good.
- I shall stay good.
- I shall the way before him.
