- (1) Salvation, it would say, is free for all, but it's not free for all.
  - i. Like that, air, sunshine, & love, mercy, grace, are all out there, but we have to be open to them. We have to be ready to receive them. We have to be willing to be changed by them.
  - ii. That's not a free gift, really. It's a gift, but a gift that requires something in return.

- (2) Salvation is bestowed <sup>on a basis</sup> in the finished, perfect abiding work of Christ.
  - (a) That's what makes it possible.
  - (b) It's finished. It's done. It's over.

- (3) Salvation is mediated to us through our acceptance of the finished work of Christ.
  - i. How to make possible salvation to all men?
    - all, any, capable / our capacity - faith, hope, charity, mercy
  - ii. He asked, what shall I do?

SPOILING A FINISHED WORK

"But I can't see it," said a certain cabinetmaker to a friend who was trying to show him how the death of Christ completed the work of atonement. At last an inspiration struck his friend, who, lifting a plane, made as though he would plane the top of a beautifully French-polished table that stood near.

"Stop!" cried the cabinetmaker; "don't you see that's finished? You'll simply ruin it if you use that plane on it."

"Why," replied his friend, "that's just what I have been trying to show you about Christ's work of redemption. It was finished when he gave his life for you, and if you try to add to that finished work you can only spoil it. Just accept it as it stands—his life for yours, and you go free."

Like a flash he saw it, and received Jesus Christ into his life as his Saviour. Will you?—"The Reason Why," by R. A. Laidlaw.
