The day in Rev 20:1-30

Karl Marx, father of Communism, never dreamed that the country that would embrace Communism first would be Russia. Nor did he ever dream that when Communists seized Russia, they would continue to expand the Russian Empire just as the Czar did.

Karl Marx was the London correspondent for the New York Tribune. He wrote for the paper that Czarist Russia meant to seize the Middle East, then controlled by the decaying Ottoman (Turkish) Empire. He wrote in 1853:

"Let Russia get possession of the Middle East and her strength is increased nearly half. She becomes superior to all the rest of Europe put together."

As Karl Marx warned us to his job, he sounded more and more like the editorial page of our daily newspaper:

"It is all essential facts, Russia has steadily, one after another, gained the eyes, claws to the ignorance, dullness, and consequent inconsistency and cowardice of Western Governments."

The Communists picked up where the Czar left off. When Joseph Stalin divided up the world with Adolf Hitler in the Nazi-Soviet pact of 1939, the Soviet Union - as a secret clause revealed later - staked out the Middle East as its preserve.

3 After world war I the British governed Palestine under mandate.

The Communist Russian thought they saw an opportunity to oust the British and make a Communist ally in a Jewish state formed there. In that troubled area of Arab and Jew, they succeeded in ousting the British, creating a Jewish state, and were the first to recognize the new government both in Russia and in the U. S.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, father of Zionism, was born in Russia.

Moshe Sharett, leader of the Jewish delegation, was born in Russia.

David Ben-Gurion, later first prime-minister of the new nation, was born in Russia.

The Israelis say: "If you don't believe in miracles, you're not a Realist."

The architects of the new nation,
like Ben-Gurion, Sharett, Weizmann, elected a parliament and built a democracy.

To make matters worse, the Jewish little country had the CHUTZPAT (see) to start a movement of religious liberation inside Russia. No sooner had Israeli first Minister - Ambassador to the Soviet Union, Mr. Golda Meir, arrived with her staff in Moscow, than they began to work for religious liberty in the Soviet Union.
Thousands of Jews flooded to the Leningrad synagogue in Moscow to see and to hear Golda Meir and her fellow Israelis.

Explanation of the Cartoon

This cartoon is the expression of the spirit of the rulers of Soviet Russia. Karl Marx started it, Lenin sponsored it, and now it is the duty of every member of the bolshevic party to do what the picture suggests.

The meaning of the title "Bezbozhnik" is "Godless." The line above the picture is: "We have finished with earthly kings; let us do away with the heavenly." The exclamation below "Lord, bless us!"—a blasphemous parody of the familiar Russian invocation upon any new undertaking.

The original of this cartoon was published by the Soviet Government Press in Moscow, and has the full O. K. of the government censor.

A communist is climbing up to heaven to kill those above the clouds, where, besides the devil, Mohammedan Allah, and Jewish Jehovah, are depicted the Father and Jesus with the Holy Ghost on His shoulder. The hatred of the international atheist has not neglected to add a final touch of insult—spectacles on the face of the too old Heavenly Father.

The cartoon is a photographic reproduction of the cover of BEZBOZHNIK—the official organ of the Union of Militant Atheists. According to the Soviet Constitution, revised in 1928, this Union alone enjoys full religious freedom under bolshevic rule. By this same revision Christians lost their right to propagate the Gospel. The purpose of this Union is also to spread their blasphemous atheism and fight against God throughout the world by giving encouragement through international agents to local atheistic movements. Because of this, the problem ceases to be merely Russian—it is a world challenge, especially to Christians.

The battle is the Lord's and not man's, yet it is up to us to show our colors. This is a war not against flesh and blood, but against wicked spirits, and therefore it is to be waged chiefly on the knees.

You understand, dear reader, that the sledge hammer can not hit the Heavenly Ruler—we know the final victory will be His,—but it does fall—and falls heavily—upon those who dare to believe in Him. Many have already been hit once forever. Others cry to us for help. PRAY—is the biggest word in letters from those martyrs in Russia. May the Holy Spirit vivify this appeal to you, for their sufferings—both spiritual and physical, including starvation—are beyond human endurance.

IS COMMUNISM THE ENEMY OF CHRISTIANITY?

Dr. Lawrence Reilly . . . Lutheran Research Society . . . Detroit

THE QUESTION which heads this article hardly seems to require an answer.

Yet all of us probably heard the statement during the war that the attitude of the Communist had changed regarding religion, that the Kremlin no longer maintained a loving attitude toward atheism, and was coming to view religion with tolerance.

Just recently the president of a great Protestant body in the United States, returned from a short visit to Russia and announced that religious liberty exists there, and that the government does not persecute religion.

Only a few months ago a group of leftist Protestant preachers went to Yugoslavia to check on religious freedom in that country. Since I knew the activities of at least one of this group, and that he was a member of the Communist Party in the United States, it did not come as a surprise that these men returned reporting no persecution of religion in that nation dominated by Tito — a Communist puppet dictator.

Still it is a fact that hundreds of Yugoslav Christian leaders, as well as others, have been murdered in cold blood or given prison sentences at hard labor.

It is a mistaken idea, resulting from false propaganda, that the Communist attitude has changed, that Soviet leaders no longer are hostile toward Christianity.

Communism Always Atheistic

Communism, in the sense that we understand the word today, was anti-religious when it began to function in Russia. The Communists were in the minority in Russia when they took over by force and bloodshed, about thirty years ago. They were able to do this because professed Christian people were fast asleep. May we take this historical experience as a warning for our day!

Communism has been opposed to religion all through its history. The main reason why the Marxists oppose Christianity is not so much because the old church in Russia was corrupt, but rather that religion prevents them from realizing their economic and political aims.

True Christianity instills into the hearts of those born again in the blood of Jesus Christ, the idea of getting along with people. It enables them to bear hardships with the help of the Holy Spirit, and promises eternal life because of Christ's merits.

True Christians do not make good revolutionaries or good Communists. The Communist wants everyone to be dissatisfied with his position in life. He plants in the mind of the employer, suspicion for the employee. Communism thrives on hate and deception. It prospers when it produces discord.

Communists must therefore do away with all religion, if they wish to control people in sufficient numbers to enforce their slavery upon the masses. That is why they always try to undermine religion, and why they will always continue to do so.

Reds Slaughter Christians

When they gain the upper hand in a country, and think the rest of the world cannot see what is being done behind an "iron curtain," they slaughter Christian preachers, teachers and laymen. This is not a review of events in the dark ages. This is not something from the history of Nero in the first century. This murder of Christians is going on at the very hour when you are reading these words. It is very simple to document these statements with facts and instances.

Sometimes the "party line" changes, to suit certain conditions.

This cartoon, circulated on orders from Moscow, satirized the miracle at Cana, where our Lord changed water into wine. The following statement in Russian script appears beneath the drawing: "The very first and wickedest moonshiner is named Jesus Christ." Jewish objection to pork inspired the presence of a pig, with the other food, on the table.

14 . . . Defender .

Thus it happened, during the early part of World War II, when Russia needed lend-lease from the United States, that the Communist Party made an appearance of reviving religion in the Soviet Union.

Persecution of religion goes on today, as in the past.

Just last year Stalin's government issued a special brochure to Communist young people in the form of Ten Red Commandments, strengthening the forces of atheism and helping to nullify religion in the minds of the young.

Communists Hate Religion

This year of 1948 marks the centennial celebration of the writing of the Communist Manifesto by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels. In 1848 these Socialists wrote the Communist Manifesto as a blueprint to bring about world revolution.

They stated that within a hundred years, world Communism would be so widespread that it could easily be said that the entire earth had embraced its program. They have never been nearer to the realization of their dreams, than at this moment. The reds now have control of much of the world. Their poison has infiltrated the thinking of uncounted multitudes.

The Communist Manifesto is the bible of all Communists everywhere in the world. On page 23, it states:

"Communism abolishes eternal truths, it abolishes all religion, and all morality."

Nicolai Lenin, the man who put Marxism into practice in Russia, and whose mummy is enclosed in a glass coffin on Red Square at Moscow, wrote a book giving the party line on the subject of religion. On page 5 of this book, he writes:

"Atheism is an integral part of Marxism. Consequently, a class-conscious

AFTER DEVOTING the last few years to serving Baptist pastorates, Rev. Lantz is now returning to the inter-denominational evangelistic field. His messages are fundamental, prophetic, constructive and soul-winning. He is a fearless crusader for righteousness. His addresses on the signs of the times, communism and related themes draw record crowds . . . Slate for coming fall and winter now being arranged. Mail may be addressed to him at P. O. BOX 61 . . . ERIE, KANSAS.

Marxist Party must carry on propaganda in favor of atheism."

On page 14 of this same book, "Religion," Lenin writes: "We must combat religion. This is the A.B.C. of all materialism, and consequently of Marxism. Hence, down with religion. Long live atheism! The dissemination of atheist views is our chief task."

Think of that! The man who put Communism into practice in Russia and who is the great authority on practical Marxism, says that the dissemination of atheist views is the CHIEF TASK!

Again we quote this apostle of Marxism, Nicolai Lenin: "Religion must be abolished. The best country is a godless country. If religion will pass out quietly, our attitude will be one of benevolent tolerance. But if it resists, we will hasten its exit by violence proportionate to its resistance."

(Congressional Record, Volume 77, pages 1539-1540.)

Stalin Suppresses Clergy

Dictator Joseph Stalin is quoted in the Communist "Worker's Voice" published in Chicago as saying:

"The Party cannot be neutral towards religion and does conduct anti-religious propaganda against all and every religious prejudice. Have we suppressed the reactionary clergy? Yes, we have. The unfortunate thing is that it has not been completely liquidated."

A brief paragraph from an official United States Government Report, Number 2290, reads on page 52, as follows:

"The Communist Party and Soviet government have done everything in their power since 1917 to mock, destroy and outlaw religion. Churches have been pulled down, or turned into clubs; religious shrines despoiled, burial grounds desecrated; and the clergy persecuted and slain. The denial of religious liberty and the wiping out of all religions are an important part of the Communist program."

Now let me call your attention to another statement from Communist sources to help us answer our question. This is from "The A.B.C. of Communism," by Bucharin and Preobraschensky. It is short, so note the contents carefully:

"Religion and Communism are incompatible both theoretically and practically."

Here we have Communists telling us that it is no use . . . Communism and religion are incompatible in every way. With this we agree! We wish that the false teachers and preachers in Church who say otherwise would also agree.

Red Torture In Spain

During the Spanish Civil War of 1936 the world witnessed an attempt of Communists, politely known as the Loyalists and in whose defense such books and movies as "For Whom the Bell Tolls" were prepared, to seize power in Spain.

James A. Despard

On the evening of April 14, 1865 a bullet was fired into the brain of America's great President, Abraham Lincoln. The nation was tremendously shocked and aroused to a frenzy. A great mob took possession of the streets of New York. The New York Herald, a newspaper, has been repeatedly and critically criticized. Suddenly a shout went up from the mob: "To the World!" Instantly, the maddened people became an uncontrollable body surging toward The World building. Just then a strong young man mounted an elevation and waved a small flag in an endeavor to still the fury. His small voice shouted: "Another telegram from Washington." Every body stopped, & every eye turned to the telegram. Then the strong young man lifted his up solemnly to heaven and his deep, deep strong tones said: "Fellow citizens! Ours is darkness as round about him! [6:11:2] His foulness as dark waters & deep the dark of my ship [18:11]
Justice & judgment on the substitution of his throne.
[77:2, 88:12] May a truth shall go before his face. [77:2, 88:12] Fellow citizens! His receipt and the joy at Washington still lives!"

One present at that scene wrote: "The crowd stood rigidly to the ground with awe, gazing at the mysterious water as though it were the secret of the joy in that hour." The tumult of the mob subsided, a great noise, speaking a message from the West, and killed a night assassin. James A. Despard, was the young man who, at that moment, danger, before his nose about the storm. He had stayed the night but upon first detection, & death.

Karl Marx: "Religion is the opiate of the people."

(3) When Calvin Coolidge, President, wrote to the effect that in society, good and institutions were based upon the teaching of the gospel, provoked an article and cartoon in Opinion. The article: "They know well the more they give the heavier stuff to the masses they less they will demand earthly things."

The cartoon: President Coolidge standing on a Bill between the words of which he is reading a work program.

Lewis: The difference between so-called purified religion and crude religion is the same as between a blue devil and a red hot one, that and more.

Stalin: [discusses himself, unity - gospel of unity, unity] "We carry on and shall continue to carry on, propaganda against religious prejudice [meaning all religion]. The party cannot be neutral toward religion. The party stands for science and religion runs counter to all science."

Constitution U.S.A.: Guarantees the right to practice the faith (their religious liberty) but denies the right to propagate it. No S.S. just, etc.

Winston Churchill: "Lewis was the grand repudiator. He repudiated everything. He repudiated God, King, country, morals, treaties, debts, rents, interest, the laws and customs of centuries, all contracts written and implied, the whole structure of human society. In the end he repudiated himself."

A widely circulated communist slogan:

The whole world at last is beginning to see

The blight of the world is Jesus!

Like sunshine at morning, free thought has shown me,

The blight of the world is Jesus!

Keep off the blight or blighted you'll be,

Blighted for life by credulity.

Once I believed but now I can see,

The blight of the world is Jesus.

78 years ago the Russian Rev. agitator, BAKUNIN, said:

"Comrades, I come to announce to you a new gospel. The old world must be destroyed and replaced by a new one. The Lie must be strangled out and give way to Truth. The first Lie is God; the second Lie is Right. When you have freed your minds from the fear of a God and from that child's respect for the fiction of Right, then all the remaining chains that bind you and which are called civilization, property, marriage, morality and justice, will snap asunder like threads. Our first work must be destruction and annihilation of everything as it now exists; if but an atom of this old world remains, the new will never be created."

Death of Lenin, with bloody struggle between Trotsky and the triumvirate Stalin, Kamenov and Zinoviev (you)

Trotsky, killed, wounded, murdered with pick axe in bed, in Mexico.

Zinoviev: "We will grapple with the Lord God in due season. We will vanquish Him in the highest heavens, and when we He seeks refuge, and we will subdue Him forever."

However, on August 23, 1936 Zinoviev with his companion Kamenov were vanquished by the bullets of Josef Stalin, former subduer. Stalin never hesitated to liquidate any who might challenge him.
