

From the WECAN Office

Melissa Lyons

We are pleased to announce the publication of Giving Love-Bringing Joy! by Wilma Ellersiek, translated by Kundry Willwerth. WECAN's publications team, Lydia Roberson and Susan Howard, are working to bring out the first three volumes in the new Gateways series: The Young Child in the World Today, Working with the Angels: The Young Child and the Spiritual World, and The Developing Child: The Child from Birth to Seven. We are also working on The Little Series, study material for the festivals and inner life of the early childhood educator collected by Dr. Helmut von Kuegelgen. Spiritual Insights, Working with the Dead and Michaelmas are the first volumes in the series. We will send out announcements as these publications become available.

We are also working on a web site <www.waldorfearlychildhood.org> that will feature job listings. If you would like to advertise a position, please send your announcement to the WECAN Office, including a short description of the position, starting date, etc. We also maintain a Calendar of Events on the site. You are welcome to send in events to be posted; there is a limit of five postings per month, so preference will be given to workshops and events intended for a wide audience.

We have copies of updated Sources of Supplies, Directories of Waldorf Early Childhood Programs in North America, and the Early Childhood Bibliography available through our office. Also available is the WECAN Survey report on the Older Child in the Kindergarten by Ruth Ker. Contact us at 845-352-1690 or <info@waldorfearlychildhood.org>.
